Pursuant to public notice the Whigs of Talbot county assembled at the Court House, on Tuesday the 29th ult. for the purpose of appointing delegates from this county to a proposed Convention at Barren Creek Springs, to nominate a Whig candidate for Congress from this district.—The meeting, though smaller than usual, shewed that the Whigs of Talbot had the fire of 1844 still burning in them. The great funeral obsequies, in memory of Gen. Jackson the following day, prevented many from attending, as they did not wish to lose two days in succession.

The meeting was organized by calling Col. NICHOLAS GOLDSBOROUGH to the Chair, and appointing WILLIAM TOWNSEND, Secretary.

On motion of Samuel Hambleton, Jr. —Resolved, That this meeting proceed to select four delegates, one from each election district of the county, to represent Talbot Co. in the proposed Convention at Barren Creek Springs, on Wednesday the 27th August next, to select a Whig candidate for Congress for the district composed of Worcester, Somerset, Dorchester and Talbot counties.

On motion of A. M. Goldsborough,—

Resolved, That the chair appoint a Committee of Five from each election district to nominate to the meeting four suitable persons agreeably to the first resolution to represent the county.

Whereupon the chair appointed for district

No. 1.—Edwd. N. Hambleton, Wm. C. Mackey, H. H. Goldsborough, Thomas C. Nicols, A. M. Goldsborough.

No. 2.—John Harrington, James M. Seth, G. A. Skinner, Francis Wrightson, Edward Willey.

No. 3.—Col. John Stevens, W. A. D. Bayne, W. B. Smyth, James G. Thomas, J. H. Harris.

No. 4.—George Dudley, George W. Scott, Henry Lowe, James Fitz Jarrell, John W. Catrup.

Who having retired, reported the names of the following gentlemen,

For District, No. 1.—A. M. Goldsborough.
No. 2.—Gustavus A. Skinner.
No. 3.—John H. Harris.
No. 4.—James Fitz Jarrell.

who were unanimously adopted by the meeting.

Resolved further, That this meeting now stand adjourned to TUESDAY the 19th of August next, at half past 2 o'clock, P. M. when it will assemble again, for the purpose of nominating Three candidates for the General Assembly from Talbot county, Two County Commissioners, for District No. 1, and a candidate for Sheriff.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the officers and published in the Easton Gazette.

N. GOLDSBOROUGH, Chairman.
WM. TOWNSEND, Sect'ry.

WHIG MEETING.

The Whigs of Talbot will meet on Tuesday 19th August, at half past 2 o'clock, P. M. at the Court House, to select three candidates for the General Assembly of Maryland for Talbot county; two Commissioners, from District No. 1, and a candidate for Sheriff.

Committee.

August 2, 1845.

It will be seen from the proceedings of the Whig meeting on Tuesday last, that the time of holding the proposed Convention at Barren Creek Springs, has been changed from the 20th to the 27th August. This change has been made by our friends below, by agreement, and Talbot acceeded at once to it. The day of assembling therefore, for the Convention, is Wednesday 27th August, at 12 o'clock, M.

The Funeral ceremonies in honour of the memory of Gen. Jackson, were had in this town on Wednesday last. We have no tact or talent for description of such things, and must content ourselves simply with saying, that the music from the Band was the best we have ever heard here, being Volandt's celebrated company from Baltimore—That the procession was a large and imposing one. The "Guards," under Capt. Sherwood, wore a soldierly appearance and filled handsomely their appropriate position—The "Odd Fellows" attracted general attention and challenged admiration. The whole procession was headed by the experienced Chief Marshal Genl. Tilghman, who with his staff, in their sable geer, exhibited a gloomy appearance, and with the assistant marshals performed their respective duties most admirably. After marching through the principal streets, the whole line, in good order, was lodged in the Methodist Episcopal Church, where a most chaste and beautiful Oration was delivered by P. F. Thomas, Esq. commemorative of the worth and patriotism of the deceased hero. Prayer from the Rev. Mr. Storks and benediction by Rev. Mr. Southerland, together with a Requiem, written for the occasion, completed the ceremonies at the Church.

From the Church, the procession again moved through West and Washington streets to Harrison street, where it was dismissed. The whole passed off without accident or injury to any one. Such exhibitions, being the united tribute of both the great political parties, to deceased patriotism, are gratifying in the extreme.—They shew that there are times, at least, when the ferocity of party can be subdued; and further that the charge of universal ingratitude against Republics is not always well founded.

☞NOMINATIONS.—The Whigs of Dorchester county have nominated the following ticket.

For Sheriff—Kendall M. Jacobs.

For Delegates to the Assembly—William Frazier, James Smith, John F. Eccleston, Dr. John F. Boone.

For Commissioners—Samuel Meekins, Barzilla Slacum.

☞The Whigs of Caroline county have made the following nominations:

For the House of Delegates—Thomas Wheeler, George W. Harrington, Joseph Pearson.

For Sheriff—William Delahay.

Albert Constable, of Cecil, has been nominated by the Locofocos as a candidate for Congress in the fifth congressional district.

AGRICULTURAL.—The Delaware Journal announces that the Hon. Jonathan Roberts, of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Joseph E. Muse, of Maryland, will deliver addresses before the Agricultural Society of New Castle county, at its annual exhibition in September next.

Another Race for the Championship of the Turf.—The Spirit of this morning publishes a letter from Mr. Kirkman, the owner of Peytona, offering to match the big mare against Fashion for $10,000 a side, half forfeit—the race to come off over the Union Course, on the first Monday of October next, subject to postponement by the Judges on account of the state of the weather or the track. If desirable, adds Mr. K., the match will be made for a larger sum, but I only bet my own money.

Should the owner of Fashion consent, therefore, again to place the services of his unrivalled mare at the disposal of her friends, we shall have another and deciding contest for the Championship of the Turf, and the mooted point as to the superiority of these two noble animals will be conclusively settled.

Mr. Kirkman also proposes, in case the great match is made, to run Jeannetau against the Colonel three mile heats for five thousand dollars, and Liatunah against Stanley Eclipse, two mile heats, for two thousand dollars, half forfeit, both races to come off over the same course, at some convenient day, either before or after the great contest, as may be agreed upon.

These particular horses are selected for the challenge in consequence of their great reputation, Mr. Kirkman, like a true sportsmans as he is, always flying high; but in case they are not to be had, he will make the matches against any thing at the North. Though three of the best horses of the north—the Colonel, Dunvegan and Maria Peytona—have been sold to Canada, there are plenty more where they came from, and we think Mr. Kirkman will find a speedy response to all three of his banters.

The fall meeting at the time honored Union Course promises to exceed in interest any of its predecessors of late years, and the Spirit says that the purses—which will be duly advertised—will be commensurate with the occasion.—N. Y. Gaz.

ELECTIONS IN AUGUST.—The elections take place in seven States next month as follows:

N. Carolina, Aug.	7, Legislature and 9 M. C.
Tennessee,	7, Gov. Leg'e. and 11
Kentucky,	4, Legislature and 10
Indiana,	4, Legislature and 10
Alabama,	4, Legislature and 7
Illinois,	4, Legislature.
Missouri,	4, Legislature.

These will complete the elections for the 27th Congress, in all the States except Maryland (6) which votes in October, and Mississippi (4) in November the States of Maine, New Hampshire & Massachusetts have one member of Congress each to elect to supply vacancies in the Delegations.

On the political complexion of the Tennessee Legislature depends the choice of a Senator of the United States.

CHARLES B. CALVERT, Esq., of Prince George's County, having been named in the Marlboro' Gazette as a candidate for Congress from that district, declines in a note to the Editor of that paper, to be a competitor for that honor. At the close of his note Mr. Calvert says:

I avail myself of the opportunity to return to my late constituents my thanks for the repeated manifestations of their confidence and esteem, and to entreat them as well as the Whigs of the whole district, not to suffer themselves to be divided by any personal or sectional considerations, but to unite heartily and zealously on the nominee of the convention, and thereby make this the banner district of the State. Such a course will evince our determination to arrest, if possible, the evil consequences that must result from a continuation of the destructive policy of the party now in power, and will aid greatly in stimulating the Whigs of the Union to do their duty, by making another effort, in 1848, to place at the head of the nation their great leader HENRY CLAY.

We have already stated that our brother editor, the Rev. Mr. Brownlow, has accepted the nomination of the Whigs, of the First Congressional District of Tennessee, as their candidate for Congress. He has issued a very long address in which, among others, he uses up his opponent Mr. Johnson. We have room this morning for only the concluding portion of his address:

"FELLOW CITIZENS: I protest against the issue which Mr. Johnson has made. He makes the issue one of bravery or cowardice. And he complains, as I am told, that I will not meet him in public gatherings and fight him. It is not a contest between us, as to who will fight, and who will not: his fighting propensities is one thing, and his votes in Congress, and his political principles is another. I have denounced him for his falsehoods and villainies, as he deserves to be denounced, and I will take nothing back, ☞He KNOWS WHERE TO FIND ME!☜ And if I am that dastardly wretch he would have the public believe I am, he is the less excusable for not inflicting that chastisement upon me, he believes I so richly merit. He believes I will run from a pistol or a club. Now I venture to assert that there are not ten Whigs in this entire District, who will vote for me, after I run from Mr. Johnson; no matter what sort of a weapon he may advance upon me with. By simply chasing me once in the streets of Jonesboro', then he can drive me from the track—settle the contest for ever—and disgrace me in the eyes of my own friends. Why not DO instead of TALK? As he said to Mr. Campbell, so I say to him: let us not trouble the public with our personal matters: they can be settled between ourselves.

But, fellow-citizens, I recollect in the play of Cato, when he called his little Senate together at Utica, just as Cæsar was marching on the city, the fury and impetuous zeal of Sempronius led him to exclaim —"My voice is still for war!" So says my competitor. But I modestly reply, as did Lucius—"My thoughts, I must confess, are turned on peace!" The sequel was Sempronius deserted to Cæsar the next night, and Lucius remained with Cato, and fought it out like a man! This same Sempronius whispered to Cato to beware of Lucius—that he was a TRAITOR!

I shall shortly address another circular to the voters of this district, and till then, I remain, very respectfully,

Fellow citizens, your ob't. servant,
WILLIAM G. BROWNLOW.

July 16th, 1845.

Death of a Remarkable Hermit in West Jersey.—The following notice of the life and death of an English gentleman named Richard Bicford Holge, aged about 35 years is copied from the Camden Mail:

"This gentleman recently came into the neighborhood to settle, where had purchased a small farm. He was an Englishman, by birth, and was evidently a man of education, who had mingled with good society. He had no family lived entirely alone with the exception of his dog & shunned all intercourse with those near him. On Friday last he was taken sick, and to the offer of a neighbor to minister to his wants; he returned a most decided negative. He peremptorily rejected all proffered aid, and insisted upon paying for any and every little act of kindness! During Friday he made out to reach his next neighbor's house, with a note which he wished conveyed to a farmer a mile or two distant, with whom he had been much less reserved. This farmer came to his assistance, and called in Dr. Cooper on Sunday. The Dr. found Mr. H. in the cellar of his house, upon some straw, laboring under much mental excitement, and a monomania that he was pursued by individuals from England, who were at the time infusing deadly gases into the surrounding atmosphere with intent to destroy him! In other respects he appeared to be sane, conversing with the Dr. in a connected and intelligent manner. The Dr. did not think him in imminent danger, although quite a sick man, and left him intending to call the next day. In the evening, about 7 o'clock he died! the friend he had sent for, and his wife being alone present.

Thus dying so suddenly, a stranger, away from relatives and friends, it was deemed advisable to hold an inquest upon the body. Accordingly, the Coroner, Mr. Porter. called a jury at the house on Monday morning, who decided that deceased died from natural causes. The Coroner also took possession of deceased's personal property, which consisted of a collection of choice and valuable books, an extensive and elegant wardrobe, a considerable sum of ready money, together with various articles of ornament and personal comfort, indicative of a degree of intelligence and refinement totally at variance with his late coarse and anchoristic habits of life. His house was destitute of a bed, bedstead, and almost every other article of the commonest necessity! His farm, on which he has lived since March, is bearing a luxuriant crop of weeds, he having neither horse or cow, spade or hoe: and refusing all applications either for its cultivation or improvement! He stated, before his decease, that he had neither relative or friend in this country. He came originally from Devonshire, and has a brother and two sisters in England.

BANKS OF TREAD AVON,
1st August, 1845.

The Hon. Ashbel Smith, who arrived here on Monday in the steamer Great Western from England, will take his departure for Texas in the course of a few days.—We learn that he has accomplished the objects of his mission. One of these, and the principal one, was to prepare the way for closing the relations of Texas with European powers, in a respectful and becoming manner. These relations had been of the most friendly character, and the government of England and France especially, had manifested a cordial interest in the welfare of the young Republic. Now, when they see that annexation is the will of the Texan people fairly expressed, they abandon all further attempt at interference. And this, still further, may be relied on, that they have and will exert themselves to restrain Mexico from the infatuation of making war upon the United States, which would only serve to complicate affairs, without the possibility of preventing annexation. Mr. Smith expresses his opinion decidedly, that there will be no war, not even with Mexico.—N. Y. Jour. Com.

The N. Y. Sun says that rumors of war with Mexico have reached that city, and that the Mexican Congress have authorized hostile measures against the United States.

Potato Blight.—The Massachusetts Spy states that the blight, which caused such destruction to the potato crop last year, has thus early commenced its ravages the present season.

Alexandria Canal. The locks of the Alexandria Canal, which open to the city of Alexandria, D. C., the trade of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, were opened on Saturday last, when seven or eight Canal boats mostly loaded with coal, passed from the canal to the river, and afterwards passed down to Alexandria.

Dismal Swamp.—The Norfolk Herald says:—"The Dismal Swamp is again on fire, and the smoke from it during the night raises a cloud over the Southern horizon which looks like a promise of rain—but the rising sun soon dissipates it, and pours down his beams hotter than ever.

PRICES CURRENT.

BALTIMORE, July 28, P. M.

GRAIN.—Supplies of Wheat arrived freely and prices have a downward tendency owing to the inability of the mills to do as much work as usual. We quote reds at 80a83 cents for good to prime—an occasional lot of very prime bringing 84 or 85 cents—and 70a80 cents for ordinary to good. We quote white Wheats at 85a90 cents for ordinary to good, and 90a95 cents for prime.
