For the Gazette.

MR. GRAHAM:—Justice to ourselves compels us to notice a communication over the signature of "WM. H. TILGHMAN," which appeared in your paper of the 27th ultimo, headed "seeing is believing," in which we are charged with deception in advertising "prime seed wheat, and selling trash."

We deem it unnecessary to make any protracted comments upon the article, as we cannot believe the publication was made with any intention to injure our character as merchants, but without suitable reflection. The following certificate will show the character of the Etrurian wheat sold by us. We also send you letters from Col. John Tilghman and James T. Earle, Esq., which can be deposited in your office for the inspection of such as are curious to inform themselves correctly in the matter.

Very respectfully,
Your ob't serv'ts,
BORDLEY & COX,
Commission Merchants.

Baltimore, 29th Oct., 1845.

We the undersigned, have purchased and sowed the Etrurian wheat, sold by Messrs. Bordley & Cox, commission merchants of Baltimore, and in justice to those gentlemen feel ourselves bound to state, after careful examination, that it fully sustains, as far as we have been able to judge, the character given it. It is equal to any and far superior to most of the seed wheat we have examined this season. There could have been no deception practiced upon us nor on any other purchaser of this wheat, a large and fair sample being constantly in their counting room open to the scrutiny of every one, and even were the grain defective, any reflection affecting the character and standing of these gentlemen per this rule would be certainty gratuitous and unjust. They were the mere agents for the sale of it—chosen by Mr. Gollecoffer, the grower. We have seen no such parcel of this wheat as was described by Mr. Wm. H. Tilghman in the Easton Gazette, and sincerely regret that he could have allowed himself to make comments upon his statements so obviously injurious and unjust to the firm of Bordley & Cox. The standing and character of these gentlemen, in their private, social and business relations, require no certificate from us—they are unimpeachable.

Trial of Ex-Governor Thomas.—The Georgetown Advocate says: "The indictment for libel against ex-Governor Thomas is expected to be tried during the second week of next month at Washington. The curiosity-mongers anticipate a rich treat on the occasion.

A Murder in Somerset County, Md.—The Princess Anne Herald, states that an inquest was held over the deceased remains of Mr. Lazarus Maddox, at his residence near Dublin, Somerset county, Md., on Friday last. The jury in attendance sat but a short time, when they returned the following verdict, viz:—"The deceased came to his death by blows inflicted by his wife and son." The latter (George Maddox) was immediately arrested and lodged in the county jail to await his trial.

APPOINTMENT.—We are happy to announce, says the Washington Union, that Mr. William J. Brown, a representative in the last Congress from Indiana, has been appointed Second Assistant Postmaster General, in place of Wm. Medill, Esq., of Ohio, now Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

THE CANAL.—There has probably never been a season at which the trade on the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, is brisker or more steady than at present. Immense quantities of Flour, Grain and other kinds of produce have been collected in our town and are now ready for transportation to the District Cities. This we understand too, is the case at the other points along the line of the Canal. Within the last week or two, an unusually large number of boats has passed down the Canal. In view of the heavy trade being done on this work, while yet in an unfinished state, may not anticipations of the brightest and most sanguine character be more than realized, after its completion to Cumberland. Since the company have contracted for the completion of the work, every "division," from Dam No. 6 to Cumberland, has been sublet, and active and untiring exertions are now being made to secure its speedy completion. It is with the deepest feelings of satisfaction, that we congratulate every friend of the canal upon this highly flattering prospects. Thus will the Canal be completed without being the source of any additional expense to the State of Maryland; and it may ultimately be the means of lifting from her shoulders the heavey weight of taxation under which she now unavailingly groans. Praise should be at least a part of the meed of the worthy and enterprising President of his energy and perseverence. Neither should the remainder of the Company be neglected or forgotten, for the ability with which they managed the important affairs committed to their charge, and the fortunate and happy issue at which they have brought them.

Sandwich Island Man of War.—A new schooner, called the Kamahamaha III, arrived at Boston on Saturday from Baltimore, and is to be converted into a man-of-war for the King of the Hawaiian Islands.

Extract from the Paris Correspondence of the London Times:—

"Washington Irving's arrival at Bourdeux from Madrid was announced some days ago, and it was said that he was entrusted with a special mission to the Government of France. Up to this time, however, he has not arrived in Paris. Mr. King, the American minister in this country, has returned to Paris and resumed his duties after having travelled for a few weeks in Switzerland and Italy.

The Robbery of Mr. Rowley—The rogue caught at last.—Information came to hand this evening that the person suspected of having robbed Mr. Rowley, of Wrentham, of $27,000, has been arrested in Havana, and that steps have been taken for the delivery of the accused over to the authorities here, to answer for the offence. This will doubtless prove very gratifying intelligence to Mr. Rowley, as well as the steamboat company.—N. Y. Herald

ELEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE UNION DORCAS SOCIETY.

The Board of Officers of the Union Dorcas Society respectfully present their Annual Report. Eleven years have passed since the organization of the above society, and we present our grateful thanks to Almighty God for allowing us the privilege of alleviating the sorrows and supplying the wants of our suffering fellow creatures. During the present year our Committees have visited and assisted, as far as their limited means would allow, all the poor, within their knowledge, whom they thought required assistance. In November, nine persons were visited and assisted, three of whom were sick. In December, ten, all indisposed—several very sick. In January, ten, three sick. In February, eleven, three sick On the 25th of this month our aged and much loved pensioner, Mrs. Dwiggins, exchanged a world of sorrow and affliction for one of perpetual joy and happiness. We think it due to her memory that we pause and dwell a few moments upon her character as a Christian. She was a pensioner on this society for more than five years, and it was the universal testimony of all who visited her, that she was "an Israelite indeed in whom there appeared no guile." Through all her poverty and affliction she adorned her Christian profession by bearing the fruits of the Holy Spirit in rich abundance For meekness, humility, gratitude and cheerful resignation to all the dispensations of Divine Providence, we think she has left but few equals and no superiors. She lived to a good old age, being in her eighty-ninth year, when she died, and like a ripe shock of corn, was gathered into the garner of her Lord and Master, where she will be safely housed until the resurrection morn shall break in full splendor upon her delighted vision, never more to be obscured by the trials and sufferings of a probationary state. "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like hers."

In March, ten persons were visited and assisted—three sick, one died. In April, seven—one sick. In May, six—one sick. In June, six—one sick. In July, six—one very sick. In August, six—one very sick. In September, seven—two sick, one very sick. In October, nine—three sick, one died.

The Treasurer reports belance in the Treasury, Nov. 8, 1841,	$7 61¼
Received from annual subscribers,	29 50

Remaining in the Treasury,	$24 17

Received donations in wood, groceries, mercandize, &c.,—amount not known.

The Board present their thanks to the Juvenile Whigs of Easton for a donation of "two dollars and fifty cents." This speaks well for you, young whigs, and is well worthy of imitation. May you ever continue to remember the poor, and always be willing to give part of your substance toward supplying their wants. You are young now, and the most of you enjoy health and are surrounded by kind friends. Should it please God to deprive you of these blessings, may their place be supplied by "Him who sticketh closer than a brother."

Though the amount remaining in the Treasury is small, yet it is much larger than it has been for several years, in consequence of the health of our town. The most of our pensioners have been more or less indisposed during the present season, but only one or two have been ill. We could have spent much more, but were fearful the sick would probably have to suffer for nurses, medicine, &c.

The piercing wind and the withering leaves remind us that winter will soon be here. Many of us anticipate much pleasure during this social season. Though cold without we have both food & raiment and friends around us. When the mantle of winter covers the earth and the shrill blast whistles over the land, how sad must that heart feel who has not wherewith to procure the common necessaries of life. Perhaps they are not alone, but others may be dependent upon them for their support. Parents what would be your feelings were your children crying for bread and you had none to give them? Children if you were poor and had aged parents who looked to you for support, would you not be grateful to those who would assist you in relieving their wants? Among our Pensioners are Parents and Children in destitute circumstances. Feel for them as you would wish others to feel for you in like circumstances, and we are sure you will give according to your ability.

The most of our Pensioners are aged and afflicted females. When young they probably never thought they would be dependent upon public charity for their support. The thought that we shall be left alone in our old age, without friends or the means of procuring the comforts necessary to our situation, is enough to sadden the merriest heart.

We ought not only to consider it a duty but a privilege to give to the poor. Is it not a pleasure to be able to lessen the sorrows of those around us? The poor are the Lord's. Are not all things His? When carrying bread to the hungry and clothing to the naked, are we notacting as His ministers and agents? Be liberal. We are dependent upon your bounty for the means of supplying the wants of the poor during the approaching winter. We return our thanks to our friends for aiding and hope others (who have never before assisted us) will do likewise; and know by happy experience "that it is more blessed to give than to receive."

THE RULING PASSION STRONG IN DEATH.—When Malherbe was dying, he reprimanded his nurse for making use of a solecism in her language; and when his confessor represented to him the felicities of a future state, in low and trite expressions, the dying critic interrupted him—"Hold your tongue," he said, "your wretched style only makes me out of conceit with them."

Hats for men were invented at Paris by a Swiss in 1401. They were first manufactured in London by Spaniards in 1510. Before that time, both men and women in England commonly wore closely knit woollen caps.

SACK.—This is a kind of sweet wine brought chiefly from the Medeira Islands, and from Palma, one of the Canaries. The former is called Madeira Sec: the latter, which is the richer and better of the two, is called Canary or Palm Sec. The name sack is a corruption of the French word sec, which signifies dry; these wines being made from half-dried grapes. The sack of Shakspeare is believed to be what is now called Sherry; indeed Falstaff himself calls it SHERRIS SACK. It has been conjectured, however, that the name sack may be derived from a common practice of the Spaniards, of putting their sweet wines into sacks made of goat-skins, and thus transporting them from one place to another.

The nearest approach to modern Newspapers is to be found in the acta diurna of Julius Cæsar, which was a record of the daily proceedings of the Senate and people of Rome, drawn up in regular form and published by order of that Emperor.

APOLLO BELVIDERE.—This is a statue of Apollo, found about the end of the 15th century, among the ruins of the ancient city of Antium. It was purchased by Pope Julius II., who placed it in the Belvidere of the Vatican, whence it takes its name. It was conveyed to Paris by Napoleon; but on his downfall it was restored to the Vatican.

ASSASSINS.—These were originally a military and religious order formed in Persia about the middle of the eleventh century. They derived their name from their immoderate use of Haschischah (heubane,) which produced an excitement amounting to fury. They were subject to a prince or master, at whose order they committed the most cruel murders.

The term is now used to signify a treacherous murderer.

There are in Italy three remarkable leaning towers or campaniles, viz: the Garisendi tower, at Bologna, 147 feet high, and 8 feet 8 inches out of the perpendicular; the Asinelli tower, in the same city, 327 feet high, and 3 feet 8 inches out of the perpendicular; and the tower of Pisa, the most remarkable of all: it is 151 feet high, and overhangs 12 feet 9 inches.

Post-offices were first established in England in 1635, during the reign of Charles I.; and the penny-post for the conveyance of letters and small parcels throughout London and its suburbs, was first projected by private enterprise in 1683.

Canister tobacco, or, as it should be written, Canaster tobacco, derives its name from the rush masket or canaster in which tobacco is packed in Spanish America

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7, 1845.

THE NEWS AND THE MARKETS.

The effect of the news by the Caledonia caused a considerable advance in the Baltimore flour and grain market yesterday, though prices are by no means settled. On Wednesday, after the receipt of the news, sales of Howard street flour to the extent of 2500 to 3000 bbls. were made—a portion of it in the morning at $5.18 to $5.25—and subsequently, after the New York mail arrived, at $5.50 per bbl, at which latter price sales to the extent of about 400 bbls. were made yesterday morning. Some are asking more, but most are willing to take $5.50. The market was not quite so stiff as it was on Wednesday, and buyers were less disposed to operate.

The receipt price is unsettled. Sales to the extent of about 2000 bbls. City Mills were made on Wednesday, at $5 50, and small operations yesterday morning at the same price; some holders, however, are asking more. An advance has taken place in wheat. Sales yesterday of good to prime Maryland red at 115 to 120 cents, ordinary to good 112 a 116 cents; white wheat, for family flour, 120 to 128 cents. Receipts are about equal to the demand. Corn has somewhat advanced and is in better demand. Sales were made yesterday morning of old white Maryland at 60 a 61 cents and of yellow do. at 61 cents.

At New York, on Wednesday, the flour market opened heavily, for Western at 6.25, and some sales were made at that. But later in the day sales were made at $6,12 1-2. Georgetown, Alexandria and Richmond Country at $6,12 1-2. 7000 bushels Southern corn sold at 68a70 cents weight; 5000 bushels do. Northern, 70 a 72 cents weight. 5000 bushels Genesee wheat, for export, on terms not made public. $1,25 a $1,30 is asked for lots unsold.

At Philadelphia, on Wednesday, flour showed a further improvement, and sales were made of 1800 bbls. at $5.75 for ordinary, and $5.87 1-2 for good brands; the market closed firm, some holders refusing these rates. Wheat has also advanced; several lots Pennsylvania red brought 120a 123 cents; and one mixed with white 125 cents; choice white 130 cents.

$50 REWARD.

Runaway from the subscriber on Tuesday the 21st inst., negro girl MARY JANE ADAMS. Said negro is 20 years old, a dark mulatto, about five feet one or two inches high, thick set, and well formed, a very bushy head, thick lips, the under lip protruding, rather likely, and pleasant when spoken to.

She took with her a variety of clothing, among which a large black and white blanket shawl. 'Tis very likely she may have gone to Baltimore in the Steam-boat Osiris, the morning she left from St. Michaels, as she has acquaintances in Baltimore, who no doubt would aid her escape.

I will give twenty five dollars for her if taken in this county and lodged in the jail at Easton; or fifty dollars if taken out of the county, and secured so that I get her.
