The Lonely Heart.

Oh! ask me not of by-gone years:
Bid, if thou canst, their shades depart,
'Tis they that bring these bitter tears;—
I bore not then a lonely heart.

It seemed as though no care could then
Its sadness to my dreams impart:
Say, canst thou call those dreams again?—
I bore not then a lonely heart.

I heard them speak of loved ones gone,
But could not feel the spoiler's dart:
I grieved,—but grieved not then, alone;—
I bore not then a lonely heart.

Marvel not thou, that I am changed,
Nor share in mirth my wonted part;
E'en from myself I seem estranged,
For now I bear a lonely heart.

The years are fled when joys were mine
I fondly thought would ne'er depart;
Then blame not that I thus repine,
For now I bear a lonely heart.

They bid me seek to lull the pain
Amidst the stores of human art:
While memory lives, the search is vain,
For now I bear a lonely heart.

Believe not thou, relief can come
From earth, when life's best joys depart,
'Tis Heaven—'tis Heaven—the loved ones' home,
Must fill ev'n here the lonely heart.

Not in Want of a Wife.

Oh why will you bother me Kate,
With your smiles and good humor so sly,
With your songs and your innocent prate,
And the eloquent glance of your eye?
I'm weary of being in love—
It has long been the plague of my life,
By all the bright planets above,
I want neither sweetheart nor wife.

I tremble to sit by your side—
I'm fearful of hearing you sing,
I have the experiment tried,
And by jove its a dangerous thing!
Alas! that I ever should more
Be ensnared by a beauty and belle,
My heart ever wounded and sore,
Will never find time to get well.

The Leaf-fall of the Year.

I NEVER loved the fading,
I still shrink from the dead:
I woo'd the blithe and vernal—
From the stern and sad I fled.
But the young and gay have left me
To mate with the worn and sere;
And 'tis this that makes me welcome
The leaf-fall of the year!

Hail! hail! declining autumn!
Like thine my pleasures die;
My summer hues have vanished,
My winter time draws nigh.
I wander with heart blighted,
Akin to all that's drear;
And 'tis this that makes me welcome
The leaf-fall of the year!

Love's sweet spring time hath fleeted—
Hope's promised hours have flown;
My every joy has vanished,
And left despair alone!
I've lived to mourn their falsehood,
The treasured and the dear;
And 'tis this that makes me welcome
The leaf-fall of the year.

From the Boston Courier.

The two Windmills—A fable.

BY S. G. GOODRICH.

Two neighbors living on a hill,
Had each—and side by side—a mill,
The one was Jones—a thrifty wight—
Whose mill in every wind went right,
The storm and tempest vainly spent
Their rage upon it—round it went!
E'ven when the summer breeze was light,
The whirling wings performed their flight—
And hence a village saying rose—
"As sure as Jones's mill it goes!"

Not so with neighbor Smith's—close by—
Full half the time it would not ply—
Save, only when the wind was west,
Still as a post it stood at rest.
By every tempest it was battered,
By every thunder-gust 'twas shattered,
Through many a rent the rain did filter,
And fair or foul, 'twas out of kilter,
And thus the saying came at last—
"Smith's mill is made for folks that fast."

Now can you read this riddle right?
Two mills are standing on a height—
One whirling brisk what'er the weather
The other idle, weeks together!

Come gentle reader, lend thine ear,
And thou the simple truth shalt hear;
And mark! for here the moral lurks—
Smith held to faith but not to works—
While Jones believed in both—and so
By faith and practice made it go!
Smith prayed and sent in his bill,
Expecting heaven to tend his mill,
And grumbled much, when'er he found
That wheels ungreased would not go round,
Not so with Jones—for though as prayerful,
To grease his wheels he e'er was careful—
And healed with ready stitch each rent,
That ruthless time or tempest sent—
And thus, by works, his faith expressed:
Good neighbor Jones by Heaven was blessed.

A REPOSITORY OF LETTERS; A RECORD OF ART; A MIRROR OF PASSING EVENTS.

To be published every Saturday, at 2 Dollars a Year, in advance.

GEO. P. MORRIS, Editor & Proprietor.

A number of the most eminent literary persons of this country, have proposed to the undersigned to publish, under the above title,

A REFINED AND VALUABLE NEWS-PAPER,

Upon a plan combining the highest resources of National talent with the best elements of extensive popularity, and at so trifling an annual cost as will place it within the convenient reach of all classes of society.

The control and management of this publication will form the exclusive and undivided attention of the Editor—whose long experience, ample facilities and practised care, will be exerted to select, unite and harmonise the various skill which is willing to seek development under his direction. The scope, design and character of this paper will differ from those of any journals heretofore established. while it will comprehend all that they contain of importance to the community. The contents will be fitted to engage the attention of the man of business, and be a source of elegant instruction and entertainment to the domestic fireside and family circle.

The leading characteristics of this paper will be as follows:

1. Early and Copious Intelligence of all interesting occurrences in Literature, Society & Art, both at home and abroad.

2. A Foreign Correspondence of tried popularity and acknowledged merit has been engaged, and will be commenced with the first number.

3. Productions in fiction, romance and historical narrative; Sketches of the taste and manner of the time; Essay, after the manner of the Tattler and Spectator, on subjects connected with social interests; biographical notices and anecdotes, literary and professional; bon mots, epigrams and elegant trifles of every kind; the rumors of the day and the comments that float upon the conversation of the hour—materials of this kind will form the ordinary staple of the work.

4. The department of Criticism will exhibit a discriminating and popular survey of the Literary Productions of the day. There will be a thorough and careful chronicle of every thing of value accomplished in Painting and Sculpture and a candid and patriotic estimate of the National productions in comparison with other countries Such exposition of the character and special excellencies of what is exhibited in Music will be constantly given as may lead to the more intelligent enjoyment of that most imaginative and delicate branch of the Fine Arts.

5. No original papers will appear, but those of obvious and decided merit; and the selections (which will commonly be from the foreign journals the least known in this country) will be made with the utmost attention and care.

The predominant design of the Editor is to add to the Republic of Letters a Weekly Journal, distinctly and decidedly national, in tone and features, and at the same time, to avoid all connection with mere party politics. THE NATIONAL PRESS will, in brief, combine the striking and novel attractions of the newspaper, with the more abiding interest of the higher class of periodicals It will be printed in the folio form, on large and superior paper on a new and clear type obtained expressly for the purpose, and will be in its whole arrangement and details, a favorable specimen of the best typographical skill of the country. In addition to these, and as one of its most valuable peculiarities, it will be, in reference to the diversity of talent will that be employed upon it, the cheapest paper in the United States.

TERMS—Two dollars a year, or three copies for five dollars, invariably in advance.

It will be sent by mail to all parts of the United States, and to the British Provinces, done up in strong wrappers, with the utmost punctuality and despatch.

Postmasters are requested to act as agents, receive subscriptions, and make remittances.

The first number will be issued on SATURDAY, the fourteenth of February next.

The favorable aus[illegible] which this journal is commence[illegible] warm encouragement with wh[illegible]as been welcomed in all parts of th[illegible]untry, are positive assurances of its success. The fullest arrangements have been made to carry it on with spirit, energy and effect. Editors, whose reputations are established, have been permanently engaged; the most able and popular writers have been enlisted; the abundent treasures of European literature will be brought hither and profusely lavished—indeed the whole world of letters, wherever genius flourishes and learning spreads, will be put under contribution to give strength, beauty and variety to "The Western Continent."

It presents a weekly compend of news, culled with care from every foreign and domestic source, and a digest of all kinds of information, literary, scientific, political, religious—interesting alike to the scholar and the man of business.

It is devoted to Southern and Western interests, not as opposed to those of the North and East, but as consonant with right and justice—interests bestowed by the Constitution, and indispensable to the mantenance of the Union of the States. It seeks to subdue sectional jealousies, cherish sentiments of amity, expand the affections as well as the intellect of men, and build upon the neutral ground of letters, a new temple to Concord, where all parties may meet and be brothers. Conciliation is it aim; Truth its guide.

It shall be worthy of its name—"THE WESTERN CONTINENT," our country, our whole country, new states and old states, new territories and old territories, ours by position, ours by occupation,—however ours, if ours be right—shall be contended for, defended and maintained, according to an humble ability, but with a fearless spirit.

A great deal more than this might be said; but "brevity is the soul of wit" and much can be expressed in a few words.—We shall promise little and perform much. PROSPECTUS.

LEGISLATIVE REPUBLICAN.

IT is our purpose to resume this winter, the issue of the "LEGISLATIVE REPUBLICAN." From the even balance of power in the House, from the talent, on both sides, of which it is composed; and from the many important matters which will be brought to their consideration, the approaching session will be peculiarly interesting and exciting, and the Proceedings of the Legislature,—and particularly the views of its different Members expressed upon the floor, will doubtless be eagerly sought after by the people of the several counties. With a view to gratify this demand of the public, and to give our readers a full account of the Proceedings of the Legislature, and sketches of the Debates arising upon every Question of any importance, we propose issuing a semi-weekly.—This system which has been pursued by us alone for some winters past, and at considerable expense, has found favor with the public, and will, we hope procure for us a large extra subscription for the winter's issue. The Reports of Debates, as heretofore published by us, have never yet given ground of complaint for unfairness, or partiality; on the contrary, their faithfulness has elicited thanks and gratulation from nearly every speaker, even of the party to which our Editorial columns are opposed. We design to continue to give full, fair and impartial sketches of the discussions as they occur,—uninfluenced by any view or opinion of our own on the subject of Debate, and giving preference to the speakers of no party.

With this pledge to the general public, and the low price at which the paper will be issued, it is hoped that the "Legislative Republican," will find [illegible] way to every corner of the State.

HEMSLEY'S VEGETABLE TONIC,

PREPARED BY

R. F. HEMSLEY,

PHARMACEUTIST,—Easton Md.

NO MEDICINE has acquired in so short a time so deserved a popularity; and none is prepared to present so honorable an array of certificates from the FACULTY OF MEDICINE and private individuals throughout the State as Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic In moderate doses, regularly taken, this medicine is a sure preventive of Fever & Ague and Bilious Fever, while it affords in most instances a permanent cure when employed for the removal of these diseases In all cases of general debility arising from old age, protracted illness, or uniform delicacy and feebleness of constitution it is without question one of the most agreeable and efficient tonics ever offered to the public. Let all who are afflicted apply to this remedy with the full expectation of perfect relief It promises nothing which it is not competent to perform; and must in a very short time be the remedy preferred to all others in the various forms of Fever and Ague and in cases of general debility Full directions for using it will accompany each bottle.

Certificates.

The undersigned, Physicians of Baltimore, having been made acquainted with the ingredients composing "Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic," have no hesitation in saying that the compound, if properly used, cannot fail to conduce greatly to the accomplishment of the object proposed in its employment; and do therefore cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted public.

The preparation made by Mr. Hemsley, Apothecary, Easton, Maryland, and known as "Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic," is in my opinion the best article ever offered to the public for the radical cure of that distressing affection, Intermittent Fever. This composition forms a pleasant bitters, and furnishes a most desirable tonic in cases of constitutional debility resulting from natural infirmity or the ravages of disease I have recommended this medicine extensively in my practice and have always found it to answer the desired purpose.

CHRIS C COX, A. M. M. D.

Mr R. F. Hemsley Sir:—This is to certify that for a long time I labored under the debilitating influence of that dreadful disease, Ague & Fever, and had recourse to many remedies recommended to me by Physicians and others, all of which proved unavailing. I heard of your celebrated Vegetable Tonic,' of which I procured two bottles, and before I had taken it all I was entirely restored, and have not since felt any symptoms of its return. It has accomplished more in my case than all other remedies put together, and I most cheerfully recommend it to all those persons who may be laboring under this most wretched disease.

HEMSLEY'S WORM DESTROYING SYRUP.

Prepared by R. F. Hemsley,

CHEMIST & PHARMACEUTIST, Easton Md.

WHEN we consider the great number of children who die annually in our county by worms it becomes important that the public should be in possession of some Medicine for their removal, which will combine safety and efficiency in its employment, this desideratum is afforded by the 'Worm Destroying Syrup.' It is not my wish nor is it my design to throw around this preparation the unmeaning & extravagant eulogiums with which such medicines are usually ushured into notice, I only desire for it a fair & judicious trial to secure its full approbation. The large and increasing sale of this article is the best proof of the value and estimation in which it is held by numerous & respectable families. The presence of worms may generally with readiness be detected by the following.

SYMPTOMS.

Variable appetite—foul tongue—feted breath—full hard and tense belly—dull heavy expression of the Countenance—a bluish streak under the eye—itching at the nose—puffiness of the upper lip—disordered and irregular bowels—starting and screaming in sleep—grinding of teeth—pain in the bowels & frequently drowsiness or convulsions, attended by slow fever.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Being acquainted with the general and successful use of Mr R. F. Hemsley's Worm Destroying Syrup I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a valuable remedy for the expulsion of worms.

I CONCUR IN THE ABOVE,

I have for the last two years used with success Mr. R. F Hemsley's 'Worm Destroying Syrup' Indeed I look upon it as a specific in those cases, and knowing its composition feel no hesitation in recommending it where worms exist.

WM. H THOMAS, M. D,
Easton March 23d 1844

Having examined MR. R F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and being conversant with its general and successful employment in Easton and the vicinity, I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the alimentary canal.

CHRIS. C. COX, M. D.
Easton March 7 1844

There is no anthelmintic preparation from the use of which I have seen better results than from MR R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' having been made acquainted with its composition I can confidently recommend it. not only as a vermafuge but as a gentle tonic suitable in those cases of debility occurring in consequence of the presence of worms in the stomach and bowels.

A. M WHITE, M. D.
Talbot county March 26th 1844

FROM DR. W. HEMSLEY.

Having prescribed the 'Worm Destroying Syrup' with success in my neighbourhood I can confidently recommend it as superior to any other preparation offered to the public.

I have tried in a desperate case of worms Mr. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and it proved immediately efficacious, this case had baffled the skill of Physicians previously, and the disease must soon have killed the servant. I feel it my duty to give this certificate in favour of the valuable medicine.
