POETRY.

Our Departed Friends.

It is a beautiful thought that when our friends die, they are not wholly absent from us in this world, but that they sometimes linger about their old accustomed haunts, and the companions they still love here.—This consoling idea is finely dwelt upon in the following stanzas, quoted from the Portsmouth Journal:

Forget not The Dead, who have loved who have left us;
Who bend o'er us now from their bright homes above;
But believe, never doubt, that the God who bereft us,
Permits them to mingle with friends they still love.
Repeat their fond words, and their noble deeds cherish,
Speak pleasantly of them who left us in tears—
From our lips their dear names other joys should not perish,
While Time bears our feet through the valley of years.

Dear friends of our Youth! can we cease to remember
The last look of life, and the low-whispered prayer?—
Oh, cold be our hearts, as the ice of December,
When Love's tablets record no remembrances there.
Then forget not The Dead, who are evermore nigh us,
Still floating sometimes to our dream-haunted bed,—
In the loneliest hour, in the crowd they are by us,
Forget not The Dead! oh Forget not The Dead!

MY AUNT.

BY O. W. HOLMES.

'My aunt! my dear unmarried aunt!
Long years have o'er her flown,
Yet still she strains the arching clasp
That binds her virgin zone;
I know it hurts her—though she looks
As cheerful as she can;
Her waist is ampler than her life,
For life is but a span.

'My aunt, my poor deluded aunt!
Her hair is almost gray;
Why will she train that winter curl
In such a spring-like way?
How can she lay her glasses down,
And say she reads so well,
When through a double convex lens
She just makes out to spell?

'Her father—grandpapa! forgive
This erring lip its smiles—
Vowed she would make the finest girl
Within a hundred miles.
He sent her to a stylish school,
'T was in her thirteenth June;
And with her, as the rules required,
'Two towels and a spoon.'

'They braced my aunt against a board,
To make her straight and tall;
They laced her up, they starved her down,
To make her light and small;
They pinched her feet, they singed her hair,
They screwed it up with pins;
O never mortals suffered more
In penance for her sins.

'So, when my precious aunt was done,
My grandsire brought her back;
(By daylight, lest some rabid youth
Might follow on the track;)
Ah!' said my grand sire, as he shook
Some powder in his pan,
What could this lovely creature do
Against a desperate man!

'Alas! nor chariot, nor barouche,
Nor bandit cavalcade,
Tore from the trembling father's arms
His all-accomplished maid.
For her how happy; had it been!
And Heaven had spared to me
To see one sad, ungathered rose
On my ancestral tree.'

The Scriptures.

BY SIR WILLIAM JONES.

Before thy mystic altar, heav'nly truth,
I kneel in manhood, as I knelt in youth.
Thus let me kneel, till this dull form decay:
And life's last shade be brightened by thy ray:
Then shall my soul, now lost in clouds below,
Soar without bound, without consuming glow.

An Economical Article.—A traveling correspondent of the N. Y. Mirror, writing from the neighborhood of Pork-opolis, tells the following story which he had from a Kentuckian, but which he allows others to believe or not, as they please:

"We were speaking of the economy in using lard oil. He stated, that as he was riding through one of the business streets of Cincinnati a few weeks since, about eleven o'clock in the morning, he noticed that all the shops were closed, and even the shutters of the windows were fastened; yet persons were constantly going in and out. He could not account for it, but determined to inform himself on the subject; so he dismounted and entered a store.—There he saw lamps burning brightly all about him, and men and women "laying off" goods, as though it was an every day affair. All was yet a mystery to him—he could hardly believe his own senses, but mustering resolution, he enquired of a salesman, why they kept their shutters closed and used lamps? "And," continued the Kentuckian, addressing me, as he leaned forward and patted the neck of 'Rob,' (the name of the noble animal which he rode) "Stranger, what do you reckon the fellow said? Why sir, he said that it was his opinion that I had lived to a poor purpose, if I had not yet discovered that lard oil was cheaper than daylight.

THE NATIONAL PRESS,

A JOURNAL FOR HOME;

A REPOSITORY OF LETTERS; A RECORD OF ART; A MIRROR OF PASSING EVENTS

To be published every Saturday, at 2 Dollars a Year, in advance.

GEO. P. MORRIS, Editor & Proprietor.

A number of the most eminent literary persons of this country, have proposed to the undersigned to publish, under the above title,

A REFINED AND VALUABLE NEWSPAPER,

Upon a plan combining the highest resources of National talent with the best elements of extensive popularity, and at so trifling an annual cost, as will place it within the convenient reach of all classes of society.

The control and management of this publication will form the exclusive and undivided attention of the Editor—whose long experience, ample facilities and practised care, will be exerted to select, unite and harmonise the various skill which is willing to seek development under his direction. The scope, design and character of this paper will differ from those of any journals heretofore established while it will comprehend all that they contain of importance to the community. The contents will be fitted to engage the attention of the man of business, and be a source of elegant instruction and entertainment to the domestic fireside and family circle.

The leading characteristics of this paper will be as follows:

1 Early and Copious Intelligence of all interesting occurrences in Literature, Society & Art, both at home and abroad.

2 A Foreign Correspondence of tried popularity and acknowledged merit has been engaged, and will be commenced with the first number.

3 Productions in fiction, romance and historical narrative; Sketches of the taste and manner of the time; Essay, after the manner of the Tattler and Spectator, on subjects connected with social interests; biographical notices and anecdotes, literary and professional; bon mots, epigrams and elegant trifles of every kind; the rumors of the day and the comments that float upon the conversation of the hour—materials of this kind will form the ordinary staple of the work.

4 The department of Criticism will exhibit a discriminating and popular survey of the Literary Productions of the day. There will be a thorough and careful chronicle of every thing of value accomplished in Painting and Sculpture and a candid and patriotic estimate of the National productions in comparison with other countries. Such exposition of the character and special excellencies of what is exhibited in Music will be constantly given as may lead to the more intelligent enjoyment of that most imaginative and delicate branch of the Fine Arts.

5 No original papers will appear, but those of obvious and decided merit; and the selections (which will commonly be from the foreign journals the least known in this country) will be made with the utmost attention and care.

The predominant design of the Editor is to add to the Republic of Letters a Weekly Journal, distinctly and decidedly national in tone and features, and at the same time, to avoid all connection with mere party politics. THE NATIONAL PRESS will, in brief, combine the striking and novel attractions of the newspaper, with the more abiding interest of the higher class of periodicals. It will be printed in the folio form, on large and superior paper, on a new and clear type obtained expressly for the purpose, and will be in its whole arrangement and details, a favorable specimen of the best typographical skill of the country. In addition to these, and as one of its most valuable peculiarities, it will be, in reference to the diversity of talent will that be employed upon it, the cheapest paper in the United States.

TERMS—Two dollars a year, or three copies for five dollars, invariably in advance.

It will be sent by mail to all parts of the United States, and to the British Provinces, done up in strong wrappers, with the utmost punctuality and despatch.

Postmasters are requested to act as agents, receive subscriptions, and make remittances.

The first number will be issued on SATURDAY, the fourteenth of February next.

That a probable estimate may be formed of the number of copies that will be required, subscribers would oblige the Editor by sending in their names at as early a period as possible.

Newspapers and periodical agents & newsmen supplied on liberal terms. Burgess, Stringer, & Co. 222 Broadway, wholesale agents.

Subscriptions orders, remittances, and all communications, to be addressed, post paid to

PROSPECTUS.

The Western Continent,

A weekly newspaper of Literature and Art independent in Politics, just in Criticism.

Edited by PARK BENJAMIN,

Late editor of the New World, and W. S. THOMPSON, late editor of the Augusta Mirror, and author of "Major Jones' Courtship," "Chronicles of Pineville," &c.

The favorable auspices under which this journal is commenced, and the warm encouragement with which it has been welcomed in all parts of the country, are positive assurances of its success. The fullest arrangements have been made to carry it on with spirit, energy and effect. Editors, whose reputations are established, have been permanently engaged; the most able and popular writers have been enlisted; the abundent treasures of European literature will be brought hither and profusely lavished—indeed the whole world of letters, wherever genius flourishes and learning spreads, will be put under contribution to give strength, beauty and variety to "The Western Continent."

It presents a weekly compend of news, culled with care from every foreign and domestic source, and a digest of all kinds of information, literary, scientific, political, religious—interesting alike to the scholar and the man of business.

It is devoted to Southern and Western interests, not as opposed to those of the North and East, but as consonant with right and justice—interests bestowed by the Constitution, and indispensable to the maintenance of the Union of the States. It seeks to subdue sectional jealousies, cherish sentiments of amity, expand the affections as well as the intellect of men, and build upon the neutral ground of letters, a new temple to Concord, where all parties may meet and be brothers. Conciliation is it aim; Truth its guide.

It shall be worthy of its name—"THE WESTERN CONTINENT," our country, our whole country, new states and old states, new territories and old territories, ours by position, ours by occupation,—however ours, if ours be right—shall be contended for, defended and maintained, according to an humble ability, but with a fearless spirit.

A great deal more than this might be said; but "brevity is the soul of wit" and much can be expressed in a few words.—We shall promise little and perform much. Try us reader and judge for yourself.—Without another thought on the subject, pray forward the very insignificant sum of two dollars—it could not be better expended—and your name & address directed to

HEMSLEY'S VEGETABLE

TONIC,

PREPARED BY

R. F. HEMSLEY,

PHARMACEUTIST,—Easton Md.

NO MEDICINE has acquired in so short a time so deserved a popularity; and none is prepared to present so honorable an array of certificates from the FACULTY OF MEDICINE and private individuals throughout the State as Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic In moderate doses, regularly taken, this medicine is a sure preventive of Fever & Ague and Bilious Fever, while it affords in most instances a permanent cure when employed for the removal of these diseases In all cases of general debility arising from old age, protracted illness, or uniform delicacy and feebleness of constitution, it is without question one of the most agreeable and efficient tonics ever offered to the public. Let all who are afflicted apply to this remedy with the full expectation of perfect relief It promises nothing which it is not competent to perform; and must in a very short time be the remedy preferred to all others in the various forms of Fever and Ague and in cases of general debility. Full directions for using it will accompany each bottle.

Certificates.

The undersigned, Physicians of Baltimore, having been made acquainted with the ingredients composing "Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic," have no hesitation in saying that the compound, if properly used, cannot fail to conduce greatly to the accomplishment of the object proposed in its employment; and do therefore cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted public.

The preparation made by Mr. Hemsley, Apothecary, Easton, Maryland, and known as "Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic," is in my opinion the best article ever offered to the public for the radical cure of that distressing affection, Intermittent Fever. This composition forms a pleasant bitters, and furnishes a most desirable tonic in cases of constitutional debility resulting from natural infirmity or the ravages of disease I have recommended this medicine extensively in my practice and have always found it to answer the desired purpose.

CHRIS C COX, A. M M D.

Mr R. F. Hemsley Sir:—This is to certify that for a long time I labored under the debilitating influence of that dreadful disease, Ague & Fever, and had recourse to many remedies recommended to me by Physicians and others, all of which proved unavailing. I heard of your celebrated 'Vegetable Tonic,' of which I procured two bottles, and before I had taken it all I was entirely restored, and have not since felt any symptoms of its return. It has accomplished more in my case than all other remedies put together, and I most cheerfully recommend it to all those persons who may be laboring under this most wretched disease.

HEMSLEY'S WORM DESTROYING SYRUP.

Prepared by R. F. Hemsley,

CHEMIST & PHARMACEUTIST, Easton Md.

WHEN we consider the great number of children who die annually in our county by worms it becomes important that the public should be in possession of some Medicine for their removal, which will combine safety and efficiency in its employment, this desideratum is afforded by the 'Worm Destroying Syrup.' It is not my wish, nor is it my design to throw around this preparation the unmeaning & extravagant eulogiums with which such medicines are usually ushured into notice, I only desire for it a fair & judicious trial to secure its full approbation. The large and increasing sale of this article is the best proof of the value and estimation in which it is held by numerous & respectable families. The presence of worms may generally with readiness be detected by the following.

SYMPTOMS.

Variable appetite—foul tongue—fetid breath—full hard and tense belly—dull heavy expression of the Countenance—a bluish streak under the eye—itching at the nose—puffiness of the upper lip—disordered and irregular bowels—starting and screaming in sleep—grinding of teeth—pain in the bowels & frequently drowsiness or convulsions, attended by slow fever.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Being acquainted with the general and successful use of Mr R F. Hemsley's Worm Destroying Syrup I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a valuable remedy for the expulsion of worms.

TRIST. THOMAS, M. D.

I CONCUR IN THE ABOVE,
JAS. A. MUSE, M. D,

Easton March 20 1844

I have for the last two years used with success Mr. R. F Hemsley's 'Worm Destroying Syrup' Indeed I look upon it as a specific in those cases, and knowing its composition feel no hesitation in recommending it where worms exist.

WM. H THOMAS, M. D,

Easton March 23d 1844

Having examined MR. R F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and being conversant with its general and successful employment in Easton and the vicinity, I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the alimentary canal.

CHRIS. C. COX, M. D.

Easton March 7 1844

There is no authelmimtic preparation from the use of which I have seen better results than from MR R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' having been made acquainted with its composition I can confidently recommend it, not only as a vermafuge but as a gentle tonic suitable in those cases of debility occurring in consequence of the presence of worms in the stomach and bowels.

A. M WHITE, M. D.

Talbot county March 26th 1844

From DR. W. HEMSLEY.

Having prescribed the 'Worm Destroying Syrup' with success in my neighbourhood I can confidently recommend it as superior to any other preparation offered to the public.

I have tried in a desperate case of worms Mr. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and it proved immediately efficacious, this case had baffled the skill of Physicians previously, and the disease must soon have killed the servant. I feel it my duty to give this certificate in favour of the valuable medicine.
