POETRY.

The Empty Cradle.

BY MRS. HANNAH F. GOULD.

She sits by the cradle with sadness and sighing,
And holds the small shoe that her fair infant wore;
Her black ribboned bonnet beside her is lying,
And dark are her feet from the path they've come o'er;
For she has been out where the light breeze was sweeping
The drops from the flowers which the night had been weeping
Around the fresh grave where her loved one was sleeping
So soundly its mother could awake it no more?

'Twas there she sped forth when the morn yet was blushing
With rose tints and saffron the mild Orient sky:
And there was she bowed, whilst the hot tears were gushing,
To shower the cold clods, from her wo-clouded eye,
She whispered—she called—but her child did not hear her;
Her lips to its bed she brought nearer and nearer;
Then life, with all else, oh, she felt it were dearer
Her darling to clasp but a moment—and die!

For this was the hour when, in beauty awaking,
Her babe had been wont her glad soul to illume;
And now her worn heart strings were bleeding and breaking,
The glory of morn wrapt her spirit in gloom?
And death and the grave seemed their suppliants spurning,
When back, in despair, to her chamber returning,
All drooping and lorn and with fond bosom yearning,
She sought from the cradle what lay in the tomb.

But drear is its void—and its coldness how chilling!
With soft infant breathings it soothes not her ear,
'Tis grief's bitter essence all round it distilling;
Her cherub is gone and death's loneliness here.
Oh! keen, keen the anguish the now childless mother
Retires in her babe's empty cradle to smother;
And, known to her soul and its God but none other,
The weight of her wo and the price of her tear.

Wintry Sunshine.

BY MISS STRICKLAND.

The beams that gild the cloudless skies,
And light the laughing hours of May,
With all their glories less I prize,
Than that oblique and struggling ray
Whose milder influence kindly tries
To cheer and warm a wintry day,
And through dark clouds and drifting snows
A transitory brightness throws.

For oh! that friendly radiance seems,
Like Hope's sweet smile midst woe appearing
As we through Fortune's adverse streams
A wayward course are steering;
Or glimpses caught of Joy in dreams,
Grief's troubled slumbers cheering,
When o'er life's ills and faded flowers
Returns the light of youthful hours.

Not all the splendors, passing fair,
That hover o'er the paths of gladness,
Can with that lonely beam compare
That breaks the chilling gloom of sadness,
When Fate's stern strife and torturing care
Have wrung the tortured heart to madness,
And Friendship's pure and lovely ray,
Sheds sunshine on our wintry day.

O Name Him Not.

COMPOSED BY AUSTIN PHILLIPS.

O name him not—unless it be
In terms I may not blush to hear:
O name him not—though false to me,
Forget not he was once so dear.
Remember former happy days,
When none could breathe a dearer name,
And if you can no longer praise,
Be silent, and forbear to blame.

He may be all that you have heard;
If proved, 'twere folly to defend:
But pause, ere you believe one word
Against the honour of a friend.
How many seem in haste to tell
What friends can never wish to know!
I answer—once I knew him well,
And then, at least, it was not so.

Recognition.—"How d'ye do, Mr. Jones—how d'ye do?" said a young swell yesterday, with more head than brians, to an old glossy-faced gentleman, who stood behind a pair of gold mounted specs, and whose locomotion was assisted by a gold headed bamboo cane.

"Excuse me, my good sir—excuse me," said the old man in a falsetto voice—"but you have the advantage of me."

"My name is Kid, sir—Kid," said whiskerando—"you remember Thomas Kid—Tommy, you used to call him—don't you?"

"Bless my soul, yes and so I do," said the old man—"I remember little Tommy Kid sure enough; and how do you do now, Mr. Goat?"

"Kid, sir, Kid, not Goat," said Thomas peevishly.

"Ah, true, you were a kid then, Tommy," said the old gentleman, "but I perceive by the quantity of hair on your chin, that you have since become a goat!"

Tommy stroked his beard with his fingers, and went off without bidding Mr. Jones "good bye."

AN ASTONISHING CASE.—The New York Globe relates the following:

On Monday afternoon, as a drove of cattle was passing up the Bowery, a bull terrier jumped from the top of a stage on which he was chained, in front of the Theatre, broke his chain in the fall to the ground, dashed into the herd, and seized a young steer by the nose. The affrighted bullock, smarting with pain, went off at full speed up the Bowery, with the dog clinging to his nose and all the time swinging clear the ground. The steer would stop occasionally, and endeavor to rid himself of the ugly jewel in his snout, by dashing it on the ground, and against the walls, the posts, & the trees in his course, but still the unterrified dog held his grip, & would not be shaken off nor beaten off.—The bullock kept on straight up the Bowery with his head and tail high above the altitude of the heads and tails of 'the common herd," until he was arrested at Vauxhall Garden by some men, who thought he had carried the joke—we should say the dog—far enough, and who set about liberating the poor beast from the misery he seemed to be in, when to their utter astonishment they ascertained that the dog was dead! The bullock, in his tremendous efforts to knock him off, had beaten the breath out of him, and though it is not known at what particular part of the dog resigned his spirit,' yet it is certain that he did not relinquish the hold he first took in front of the Theatre, even after he had ceased to exist, but hung to the nose of the steer, a lifeless mass of bone and muscle, until he was taken off as aforesaid.—We do not believe that a parallel case can be found in the whole history of the canine race. We understand that this dog was raised by a Mr. Kelly, of the Sixth Ward who has more than once refused two hundred dollars for him. He was a sporting dog, and trained to fighting in 'the ring.'

The Marriage Question.—It is generally known, we presume, that the long contested question in the Presbyterian Church, whether a man may or may not take to wife his deceased wife's sister, came up on the case of a clergyman named McQueen, in North Carolina, who had formed such a union. The Presbytery of Fayetteville suspended him, and he appealed to the General Assembly. That body sent the case back to the Presbytery to be reconsidered, with a recomendation that the sentence of suspension be reversed.

Recently the Presbytery has acted upon the case by the adoption of a resolution, adverting to the novelty and difficulty of the point in dispute and respectfully referring the case again to the General Assembly for final adjudication.

A substitute for this—declining to reverse the suspension and affirming the principle on which it was pronounced—was proposed, but failed of adoption by a vote of 14 to 17.— N. Y. Courier.

It is important to all invalids to know that castor oil may be most easily taken mingled with orange juice—a little sugar being added to the juice, if the orange be not ripe and sweet. The difference between this and any other mode of taking this valuable medicine is surprising.

WISTER'S BALSAM OF

WILD CHERRY,

THE great remedy for Consumption, & the best medicine known to Man for Asthma of every stage. Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Influenza, Coughs, Colds, Bleeding of the Lungs, Shortness of Breath, pains and weakness in the side, breast &c and all other diseases of the PULMONARY ORGANS.

A very important disease over which this "Balsam" exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a DISEASED LIVER. In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when Mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the Liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected PERMANENT CURES after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

Besides its astonishing efficacy in the diseases above mentioned, we also find it a very effectual remedy in ASTHMA, a complaint in which it has been extensively used with decided success, even in cases of years standing.

It not only emanates from a regular Physician, but has also been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. It is not my intention, therefore, either to cloak it in mistery, or in any way deceive the public by overrating its virtues, on the contrary, I shall simply endeavour to give a brief statement of its usefulness, and flatter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most incredulous that Consumption may and "Can be Cured," if this medicine be resorted to in time.

Opinions of a regular Physician.

Exeter, Me. Sept. 30, 1845

This certifies that I have recommended the use of WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for diseases of the Lungs for two years past and many bottles to my knowledge have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results. In two cases where it was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure. E BOYEN, Physician.

NO QUACKERY! NO DECEPTION!

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine, are, in every respect TRUE

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS & IMITATIONS.

The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry in all the diseases for which it is recommended, curing many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large & increasing demand for it. This fact has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam

Be careful and get the genuine DR. WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. None genuine unless signed by I BUTTS. Address all orders to SETH W. FOWLE, Boston Mass.

Pott's Mill.

THIS will serve to inform the customers of Pott's Mill, that the late Millers family who were afflicted with the Small Pox, have all recovered, washed out and moved off, & the house well cleansed and white-washed inside and out, and of course no kind of danger can be apprehended by persons visiting the mill. The mill is now kept by Mr. Francis E. Russum, a very competent man—the Mill being in first rate order with one of the best Smut Machines in the county, and a plentiful supply of water will give dispatch and a good turn out, particularly in the manufacture of Wheat.

THE NATIONAL PRESS,

A JOURNAL FOR HOME;

A REPOSITORY OF LETTERS; A RECORD OF ART; A MIRROR OF PASSING EVENTS

To be published every Saturday, at 2 Dollars a Year, in advance.

GEO. P. MORRIS, Editor & Proprietor.

A number of the most eminent literary persons of this country, have proposed to the undersigned to publish, under the above title,

A REFINED AND VALUABLE NEWSPAPER,

Upon a plan combining the highest resources of National talent with the best elements of extensive popularity, and at so trifling an annual cost, as will place it within the convenient reach of all classes of society.

The control and management of this publication will form the exclusive and undivided attention of the Editor—whose long experience, ample facilities and practised care, will be exerted to select, unite and harmonise the various skill which is willing to seek development under his direction. The scope, design and character of this paper will differ from those of any journals heretofore established, while it will comprehend all that they contain of importance to the community. The contents will be fitted to engage the attention of the man of business, and be a source of elegant instruction and entertainment to the domestic fireside and family circle.

The leading characteristics of this paper will be as follows:

1 Early and Copious Intelligence of all interesting occurrences in Literature, Society & Art, both at home and abroad.

2 A Foreign Correspondence of tried popularity and acknowledged merit has been engaged, and will be commenced with the first number.

3. Productions in fiction, romance and historical narrative; Sketches of the taste and manner of the time; Essay, after the manner of the Tattler and Spectator, on subjects connected with social interests; biographical notices and anecdotes, literary and professional; bon mots, epigrams and elegant trifles of every kind: the rumors of the day and the comments that float upon the conversation of the hour—materials of this kind will form the ordinary staple of the work.

4 The department of Criticism will exhibit a discriminating and popular survey of the Literary Productions of the day. There will be a thorough and careful chronicle of every thing of value accomplished in Painting and Sculpture and a candid and patriotic estimate of the National productions in comparison with other countries. Such exposition of the character and special excellencies of what is exhibited in Music will be constantly given as may lead to the more intelligent enjoyment of that most imaginative and delicate branch of the Fine Arts.

5. No original papers will appear, but those of obvious and decided merit; and the selections (which will commonly be from the foreign journals the least known in this country) will be made with the utmost attention and care.

The predominant design of the Editor is to add to the Republic of Letters a Weekly Journal, distinctly and decidedly national in tone and features, and at the same time, to avoid all connection with mere party politics. THE NATIONAL PRESS will, in brief, combine the striking and novel attractions of the newspaper, with the more abiding interest of the higher class of periodicals. It will be printed, in the folio form, on large and superior paper, on a new and clear type obtained expressly for the purpose, and will be in its whole arrangement and details, a favorable specimen of the best typographical skill of the country. In addition to these, and as one of its most valuable peculiarities, it will be, in reference to the diversity of talent will that be employed upon it, the cheapest paper in the United States.

TERMS—Two dollars a year, or three copies for five dollars, invariably in advance.

It will be sent by mail to all parts of the United States, and to the British Provinces, done up in strong wrappers, with the utmost punctuality and despatch.

Postmasters are requested to act as agents, receive subscriptions, and make remittances.

The first number will be issued on SATURDAY, the fourteenth of February next.

That a probable estimate may be formed of the number of copies that will be required, subscribers would oblige the Editor by sending in their names at as early a period as possible.

Newspapers and periodical agents & newsmen supplied on liberal terms. Burgess Stringer, & Co. 222 Broadway, wholesale agents.

Subscriptions orders, remittances, and all communications, to be addressed, post paid to

PROSPECTUS.

The Western Continent,

A weekly newspaper of Literature and Art independent in Politics, just in Criticism.

Edited by PARK BENJAMIN,

Late editor of the New World, and W. S. THOMPSON, late editor of the Augusta Mirror, and author of "Major Jones' Courtship," "Chronicles of Pineville," &c.

The favorable auspices under which this journal is commenced, and the warm encouragement with which it has been welcomed in all parts of the country, are positive assurances of its success. The fullest arrangements have been made to carry it on with spirit, energy and effect. Editors, whose reputations are established, have been permanently engaged; the most able and popular writers have been enlisted; the abundent treasures of European literature will be brought hither and profusely lavished—indeed the whole world of letters, wherever genius flourishes and learning spreads, will be put under contribution to give strength, beauty and variety to "The Western Continent."

It presents a weekly compend of news, culled with care from every foreign and domestic source, and a digest of all kinds of information, literary, scientific, political, religious—interesting alike to the scholar and the man of business.

It is devoted to Southern and Western interests, not as opposed to those of the North and East, but as consonant with right and justice—interests bestowed by the Constitution, and indispensable to the maintenance of the Union of the States. It seeks to subdue sectional jealousies, cherish sentiments of amity, expand the affections as well as the intellect of men, and build upon the neutral ground of letters, a new temple to Concord, where all parties may meet and be brothers. Conciliation is it aim; Truth its guide.

It shall be worthy of its name—"THE WESTERN CONTINENT," our country, our whole country, new states and old states, new territories and old territories, ours by position, ours by occupation,—however ours, if ours be right—shall be contended for, defended and maintained, according to an humble ability, but with a fearless spirit.

A great deal more than this might be said; but "brevity is the soul of wit" and much can be expressed in a few words.—We shall promise little and perform much. Try us reader and judge for yourself.—Without another thought on the subject, pray forward the very insignificant sum of two dollars—it could not be better expended—and your name & address directed to

HEMSLEY'S VEGETABLE

TONIC,

PREPARED BY

R. F. HEMSLEY,

PHARMACEUTIST,—Easton Md.

NO MEDICINE has a quired in so short a time so deserved a popularity; and none is prepared to present so honorable an array of certificates from the FACULTY OF MEDICINE and private individuals throughout the State as Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic. In moderate doses, regularly taken, this medicine is a sure preventive of Fever & Ague and Bilious Fever, while it affords in most instances a permanent cure when employed for the removal of these diseases. In all cases of general debility arising from old age, protracted illness, or uniform delicacy and feebleness of constitution it is without question one of the most agreeable and efficient tonics ever offered to the public. Let all who are afflicted apply to this remedy with the full expectation of perfect relief. It promises nothing which it is not competent to perform; and must in a very short time be the remedy preferred to all others in the various forms of Fever and Ague and in cases of general debility. Full directions for using it will accompany each bottle.

Certificates.

The undersigned, Physicians of Baltimore, having been made acquainted with the ingredients composing "Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic," have no hesitation in saying that the compound, if properly used, cannot fail to conduce greatly to the accomplishment of the object proposed in its employment; and do therefore cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted public.

The preparation made by Mr. Hemsley, Apothecary, Easton, Maryland, and known as "Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic," is in my opinion the best article ever offered to the public for the radical cure of that distressing affection, Intermittent Fever. This composition forms a pleasant bitters, and furnishes a most desirable tonic in cases of constitutional debility resulting from natural infirmity or the ravages of disease. I have recommended this medicine extensively in my practice and have always found it to answer the desired purpose.

CHRIS C COX, A. M M D.

Mr R. F Hemsley Sir:—This is to certify that for a long time I labored under the debilitating influence of that dreadful disease, Ague & Fever, and had recourse to many remedies recommended to me by Physicians and others, all of which proved unavailing. I heard of your celebrated Vegetable Tonic,' of which I procured two bottles, and before I had taken it all I was entirely restored, and have not since felt any symptoms of its return. It has accomplished more in my case than all other remedies put together, and I most cheerfully recommend it to all those persons who may be laboring under this most wretched disease.
