EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, MD.

Saturday Morning, March, 14.

☞Mr. V. B. PALMER is our authorized agent to receive subscriptions and advertisements for the "Easton Gazette," in the cities of Baltimore, Philadelphia & N. York

Beat this who can—old Chapel forever.

We call the attention of our Farmers and Gardeners to the beautiful sample of early Irish Potatoes left at our office by Mr. J. B. Firbanks, on Tuesday last—the growth of 1846. We hear a great deal about the progression of Agriculture—but seeing is believing as the old proverb says, and if we may infer from our breakfast of yesterday—these Potatoes taste quite as well as they look.—Inspectors of Agriculture what are you about.

The Resumption Bill.—We regret to hear a rumor, that Mr. Johnson's resolutions naming the first of April 1847, as the day for resuming the payment of interest on the public debt, which passed the House of Delegates on Tuesday, was not passed by the Senate.

The Bill for abolishing imprisonment for debt failed in the same body.

THE REFORM QUESTION—Rejection of the Bill.—The following are the yeas and nays, by which it will be seen that the bill was rejected by a tie vote.

YEAS—Messrs. Morris, Murray, Franklin, Carroll, Ware, Bowen, Hall, Thomas, Bowdle, Orem, Matlit, Hollyday, Orr, Pennington, Biser, Lowe, Boieler Zollinger, Hoover, Stephenson, Street, Johns, Hanson, Stansbury, Banghman, Vansant, Cox, McLane, Smith of Washington, Crampton, Cushwa, Patterson of Montgomery, Dorsey, Schley, Patterson of Allegany, Swann, Ege, Shellman, Holmes, 39.

NAYS—Messrs. Waters, speaker, Combs, Dunkinson, Jones, Smyth of Kent, Rasin, Strong, Johnson, Hance, Kent of Calvert, Reeder, Carpinter, Fergusson, Parsons, Gibbons, Turner, Eccleston, Boone, Frazier, Smith of D., Bowie, Clagett, Stephen, Duckett, Kemp, Dunbracco, Landing, Dennis, Selby, Purnell, Pearson, Harrington, Tittle, Dellinger, Holland, Allnutt of Montg., Wampler, Cook, Hook—39.

The Frederick Contested Seat.

The Senate have at last concluded the question of the contested seat, having passed a resolution declaring the seat of the Senator from Frederick county to be vacant, and directing the President to issue a warrant of election to be held at the regular election next October, to fill the same.

The Oregon Debate.—On Monday next, Mr. Calhoun will address the U. S. Senate on the Oregon question.

The Washington Correspondent of the Baltimore American says:

Mr. PEARCE, of Md. made a brief but very handsome and appropriate speech upon the occasion of introducing a well drawn memorial from citizens of Queen Ann's county, Maryland, in favor of settling the Oregon question by compromise and arbitration.

TEXAS.—The Legislature of this new State assembled at Austin on the 20th ult., and was organized by the election of Gen. Burleson as President of the Senate, and Mr. Crump as speaker of the House of Representatives. On counting the vote for Governor, it appeared that Gen. Henderson had received 8,910 votes, and Dr: Miller 1,672.

DEATH OF MAJOR THOMAS STOCKTON, GOVERNOR OF DELAWARE.—It becomes our melancholy duty to record the death of the Governor of Delaware, Major Thomas Stockton, who suddenly expired last evening, whilst sitting in a chair in the office of the Clerk of the Orphan's Court.—His health has been invariably good; we saw him in our city but a few days since; and it may be supposed the sad news was as unexpected, as it will be deeply regretted. It is useless to attempt to eulogise his character; noble, generous, and high-minded, he won the esteem and respect of all who knew him; brave, patriotic, and gallant, he early enlisted in the service of his country, and distinguished himself as a soldier, who knew no danger when battling for the cause of justice and liberty. Elected by the free suffrages of his fellow-citizens to the first place in the Commonwealth, he has nobly discharged his duty, and conferred dignity and honor upon the office.

Govenor Stockton's sudden death has spread a gloom over our community; his high station gave him public eminence, and his patriotic services and goodness of heart won for him great respect and love.

According to the Constitution, the Speaker of the Senate, Dr. Joseph Maull, of Milton, is ex-officio Governor of Delaware.

Judge THOMAS KELL, died at his residence in Baltimore on Saturday, at the advanced age of seventy-five.

Gen. JOHN P. VAN NESS, died at Washinton, D. C., on Saturday, in the 77th year of his age.

THE PRICES OF GRAIN in the United States have undergone little or no variation since the intelligence arrived of SIR ROBERT PEEL's proposed changes in the British tariff and corn laws. But on the Continent of Europe the case is otherwise. At Hamburgh by the last advices wheat had advanced one to two shillings per quarter; rye was in great demand; "large transactoins," says the circular, "have taken place on the spot and from outports, at fully two shillings per quarter advance." Barley & oats were also at enhanced prices. At Rotterdam, Antwerp and Odessa, similar improvements in the prices of grain had taken place. Upon the receipt of the English news at Antwerp, wheat advanced three shillings per quarter.

It is from these and other adjoining sources that the British market is supplied with grain whenever importations are called for. The ports in Holland are great depots for Baltic wheat, which remains thus stored up awaiting favorable changes in the operation of the sliding scale and ready for any contingency which may procure access to the English market.

In the event of a scarcity on the Continent of Europe, as well as in Great Britain, the abrogation of the corn laws would doubtless give admission to American grain in considerable quantities. But that would have followed if the sliding scale system had been continued. In general, we should contend at a great disadvantage with the Baltic and Black Sea producers, who are not only nearer the British market, and therefore more able to avail themselves of every opportunity as it may offer, but who have also another advantage in the low rates of agricultural labour. Lord ASHBURTON, in a late speech on the corn law question, declared that Great Britain could not expect supplies of grain from the United States; and "we could not have a better proof of this," said his Lordship, "than the fact that at this moment American corn "could come here, through Canada, at a "duty of four shillings; and yet, if the returns were examined, it would be found "that nine-tenths of the foriegn corn in England was from the Baltic though the duty on corn from its shores was FIFTEEN "SHILLINGS a quarter. This was entirely "owing to the low price of labor in the north of Europe."—Balt. Amer.

For the Easton Gazette.

Fragment of a letter (not sent) to a young Lady—published here to meet the eye of One who will never see it elsewhere—who will never dream it meant for her and will certainly misunderstand or misapply its allusion.—Guess Ladies!

I hope— * * * * * * * * *
For dazzling beauty, in its power,
Eclipses oft a sweeter flower:
And foolish men in myriads vie
To catch the glance of beauty's eye;
Whilst modest worth in beam as bright,
Is left to live neglected quite.
So goes the world:—but as for me
I venture here to disagree.
I love not half so well the flower
Of brightest bloom in beauty's bower,
Whose hues attract the vulgar gaze
And millions love and myriads praise,
As that sweet bud, with modest mien,
Which hides its cheek to blush unseen
And shrinking from the world above
With violets sips the dew of love.
I know a rose—I shan't tell where
A budding rose that one would wear
Forever in his bosom-love
To nestle there when wild-winds rove,
But from the proud old parent-stem
One sighs to steal the brightest gem.
But who can tell—but after all
Its bloom would fade—its fair leaves fall
If from that parent-stem 'twas torn
To be upon a stranger worn?
And who would from his bosom bear
The bud that love had cherished there?
And where's the heart that would not sigh
To see the flowret droop and die?—
Yet still perchance the bonnie flower
Transplanted to a milder bower,
With change of soil, would soon assume
A vigor new and fairer bloom:
Or, grafted on a stem more young
Than that from which its beauty sprung,
Would bloom and spread a full-blown rose,
And richer virtues then disclose;
And on its teeming branches bear
A score of flowrets just as fair.
And still the parent stalk would grow
Unshaken by the severing blow;
For, though at first it seemed forlorn
And bled from whence the bud was torn,
A sunny hour would all repair
And gentler buds would cluster there —
So that young flow'r before alone
A host of flowrets thus would own;
And that old trunk, which only bore
A single fondling there before,
Upon his bosom now would bring
A hundred fav'rites for the spring
And, hiding his old form among
Their rosy smiles, again be young.

Then let me Miss inquire of you,—
If blessing from the deed ensue,
Should I not seek if nothing more
That rose of which I spoke before,
E'en though the thought would flash across,
My gain must be the parent's loss?

Lo! there the bud is blushing still
And left alone it likely will
For now the parent loves it so
He'll half refuse to let it go.—
With more than pity, must I own.
I see it blush and pine alone:
For I know where a stem is seen,
A youthful stem of modest mien
And flowerless too—which well would bear
To have this flowret grafted there.

And now to have the matter tried
I leave thee * * to decide
Believing thou wilt quickly say
'Tis best to take the rose away
And graft it in the bosom-core
Of one who'll guard and love it more.

THE PATRIARCH.

Easton Md., March 9th 1846.

Consulting a Doctor by Telegraph.—We do not remember to have heard of a patient consulting a physictan by telegraph before yesterday. Early in the forenoon yesterday, a gentleman stepped in to the telegraph office at Buffalo and desired to have Dr. Stephens, who resides and practises in this village, called into the office here, as he wished to have a conversation with him. Mr. Boughton immediately called in the doctor. The gentleman at Buffalo said his wife was ill, and desired that Dr. S. should prescribe for her. The doctor did not exactly feel his patient's pulse or look at her tongue, as is usually the way with physicians, but obtained a full and accurate statement of her symptoms, condition, &c., and immediately made the proper prescriptions. It is to be presumed the patient is doing well, as the doctor was to have been consulted again in the afternoon, did not the prescriptions made in the morning have the desired effect.

The Costlebar Telegraph, (an Irish paper) puts forward prominently the subjoined statement:

"It affords us great pleasure to be enabled to announce, on undoubted authority, that the Government have purchased 1,000 tons of American corn, to be landed at the different ports of Ireland. This supply of food, will in part compensate for the deficiency occasioned by the rot in the potatoes. This is a judicious precaution on the part of government; but we are at a loss to know how the numerous poor who will be bereft of provisions, and without money to purchase, will be fed. The only mode that suggests itself to us, is employment at the hands of the Government or the landlords.

Death of the "Fakir of Ava."—We, learn with regret that Mr. Rahab Marchall, well known throughout the country, as the "Fakir of Ava," died at Louisville on Thursday last, of dropsy in the chest.

A LIFE PRESERVED!—The following positive testimony in favor of WISTAR'S BALSAM, has been received by the agent in this city.

Jordan N. Y., April 15, 1845.

"In the winter of 1841 and '2 I was troubled with hoarseness & dry hacking cough produced no doubt by change of climate, having previously spent some time at the South and possessing weak lungs and a rather delicate constitution. In February I was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs, which continued until I had not sufficient strength of voice to speak loud in three months. Through medical treatment and care I partially recovered during the summer, but on the return of winter was attacked again with cough, chills, fever, night sweats. Physicians said they could do no more for me, as I was rapidly sinking with consumption. Fortunately my friends procured the BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, thinking it might relieve me for a time, and with the blessing of kind Providence, it entirely restored me to health, which I may have continued to enjoy until the present time, without any symptom of my former disease, with the exception of being a little more liable to cold from damp air and sudden changes of weather.

Electro-Magnectic Notice.

HAVING purchased an Electro-Magnectic apparatus in Baltimore, I take this method of notifying my friends & the public of the fact. This apparatus is the invention of a Mr. Sherwood of New York—the greatest adept and stickler for Electricity and Magnetism in our country. The instrument is extremely simple and its influences can be graduated to an almost imperceptible impression. Touching its remedial virtues, I know nothing experimentally; but feeling anxious to test its reputed merits, I have not hesitated to purchase one, in order that my patients, and the community at large may have an opportunity to try its efficacy. The charge for a battery will be made very moderate. To Mr. E. Dawson—whom I sent to Baltimore for the purpose of being practically instructed in the use of the machine, and who will operate in my absence—the following declaration was cheerfully given by the distinguished Gideon B. Smith, M. D.

S. M. JENKINS, M. D.

BALTIMORE, March 9th 1846.

Mr. DAWSON:—I have been using Sherwood's Electro Magnectic machine for a year or two past and have no hesitation in saying that it is the best apparatus I have ever used. I have used several others, and know of none anything to be compared to Sherwood's.

Electro Galvanic Battery.

THE Subscriber having purchased the right of the county to COAD'S Patent Galvanic Battery, for medical purposes is prepared to operate upon such persons as may desire it, at his residence in Easton, every day between the hours of 9½ and 1 A. M and 2½ and 5 P. M.

In a coming paper will be published certificates from the highest medical authority in regard to its efficiency as a remedial agent in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Epilepsy, functional disorder of the Liver and Spleen, Dyspepsia, Head-ache, Tooth ache, chronic Blindness & Deafness &c. &c., as well as in a large class of the most distressing affections to which females are subject. The great value of Coad's instrument over every other known, is it's faculty of controlling perfectly the electric fluid and communicating this wonderful agent without the slightest pain, and so gradually as to render it's application to the most delicate organs of both children and adults entirely safe.

As the number of applications is already large and increasing, it has become necessary to adopt the following rules, from which no deviation will be made.

1. All cases submitted for relief will be required to be brought to the operating room, unless disqualified by sickness or debility from leaving home, when they will be waited upon.

2. As the object is to afford relief to the afflicted the fees will be moderate, and expected to be paid after each operation.

CHRIS C COX, M D.

CERTIFICATES.

We have in our possession the strongest commendatory notices of Coad's Battery, from Professor's Horner, Jackson, Gibson, Mutter, Pancoast, Mitchell, Dunglison, Gubard &c. &c. of Philadelphia: besides a large number of certificates from distinguished private individuals who have either witnessed or experienced its beneficial effects: these will be shown to any who may desire to inspect them. Mr Coad has published a work recently, containing the favorable opinions of the most respectable part of the Press & letters of the strongest commendation from many who have been restored from the most distressing maladies by the timely application of his excellent Galvanic Battery. We insert but one which will be read with interest.

TO THE AFFLICTED.

About two years ago, in consequence of exposure to cold, whilst travelling, I was seized with paralysis of the right cheek; my eye on that side was completely turned outward, my countenance was distorted, the natural heat was gone, and I had no sense of feeling. It was impossible for me to stand upon my feet without support, in consequence of a giddiness in my head. I immediately called on my physician, who ordered bleeding, purging, low diet, caustic issues to the back of the neck, &c. with very little benefit. In a little time my right side became partially paralysed from head to foot, and my left completely. My body and arms felt as if corded, and a sensation of pain all over.—My fingers felt benummed and extremely weak, so much so, that I was unable to button my clothes. My lower extremities from the junction of the lumber vertebræ to the toes, felt as if corded tight, causing acute pain when walking. When I lay down in bed, I was compelled to remain in the same position all night, not being able to turn myself. After consulting a number of physicians in New York without any benefit, I came on to this city in hopes of obtaining relief; and; after consulting some of the most respectable physicians, was told I must remain thankful for the state I was in, that is, that my life was spared, for it was impossible for me to be ever better, as my nerves were destroyed in my brain.

Soon after this, I applied to Mr. Coad of this city, who commenced to operate on me with his patented Electro Galvanic apparatus. These operations were continued once a day for about three months, and have produced the most astonishing and salutary effect; the pain is quite gone; my strength and activity restored; my health is perfectly good: the only difficulty I have remaining is in walking, and that is now greatly improving, and through the blessing of God, will be enable to resume my duties as a Clergyman, on my return to New York.

Mr. Coad's valuable apparatus has opened a new era in the medicial science, nervous and other diseases on which the usual treatment has no good effect, are now perfectly cured by this gentleman's operations.

During my time of going to his office, he cured Mrs. Jones, a very old lady, of the tic douloureux, Mr. C. Heydrick, whose left arm was palsied, and some others, who stated that they had been abandoned by their physicians as incurable.

I consider it my duty to state simply these important facts to the public, and particularly to the afflicted, to some of whom it might be highly interesting to have correct information respecting these cures, and the means by which they are effected.
