POETRY.

For the Easton Gazette.

A Reverie.

"The sudden images of vanished things
"That o'er the spirit flash, we know not why."

'Tis sad, but sweet, in pensive hour
To rove through Fancy's rich domain,
While memory's wand, with magic power
Recalls each absent face again!

The looks, the words, as things of nought
Unnoted 'midst life's daily course
To all of life's distinctness wrought,
Come o'er the soul with mastering force.

The dead—the holy dead, once more
Seem, called by some mysterious spell
To leave the Spirit's distant shore,
One fleeting moment here to dwell!

And as the forms on earth so dear
Stand thus revealed to Fancy's eye,
Doth not the dream dispel our fear,
And whisper of the bliss—to die!

To die!—to join that happy band—
To live in their bright world above!—
They go—I see the beck'ning hand—
It calls me to their home of love.

Oh! ever thus, ye holy dead!
In twilight visions seem to live,
Seem with familiar step to tread,
Familiar looks receive, and give.

'Twill thus be sweet, in pensive hour
To rove through Fancy's rich domain,
While memory's wand, with magic power
Recalls each absent face again!

IOTA.

From the Balt. American.

The following lines are from the pen of a member of the Baltimore Bar:

Winter.

At the gentle feet of Spring
Lo! the monarch Winter, dying!
Dies he "every inch a "King,"
By his side his sceptre lying;—

A spar of frost, that hath been quarried
From the ice-bergs round the pole;
Which, from frigid zone to torrid,
Was his symbol of control.

From the blackness of the cloud
Genii of the storms have wove him,
With their icy hands, a shroud,
Which they softly spread above him.

How sublime and stern his fall!
No coward fears in death have found him!
Cæsar in the Capitol
With his mantle wrapp'd around him.

See! he lies all stark and bare!
No servile hand his brow caressing;
No driveling priest or dotard there,
To pronounce his ban or blessing.

Yet, are there friends who mourn for him!
Tearful skies are bending o'er us;
Tempests sounds his requiem,
And Ocean lends its mighty chorus.

Baltimore, March 3d, 1845. R.

From the Farmers' Cabinet.

FARMERS' BOYS AND WINTER EVENINGS.

All know that it is by little & little that the bird builds its nest and the bee her cell.—Industry and perseverance will accomplish in time far more than the unreflecting are apt to suspect. Farmers' boys, for instance who would spend a couple of hours these long winter evenings in some useful books, would accomplish in three or four months would surprise one who is accustomed to loittering away these quiet portions of the day without employment. Sixty hours in the month, saved from evenings which might otherwise have been spent, would amount, in the course of a long winter, to as much time, as would enable a lad to accomplish as much as would several week's schooling. And the boy who will thus perseveringly attend to his own improvement, may rely upon it that his increased intelligence will not only add to respectability, but he will be all the better fitted for the active and responsible duties of life, towards which he is often impatiently looking.

In selecting books for reading, we say to farmers' boys reject such as are founded on fiction, and choose those only which deal with instructive facts—as on natural history, voyages, travels and biographies, ancient and modern history—that of your own country in preference to all others.—You will worse than waste your time by devoting it to fictitious reading—which though sometimes unobjectionable in its tendency is quite of a contrary character and seldom indeed really useful. As some writer has observed, you should be as particular in the choice of your books as in the choice of your friends. If you early contract a habit of devoting your leisure hours to useful reading, you will find the taste to 'grow with your growth and strengthen with your strength'—and you will become improved by the exercise of the mental powers, as your bodies are by action.

If the young could but justly appreciate the inestimable value of knowledge; the power it has over ignorance—the influence it has in securing virtue, respectability, and even worldly thrift—they never would spend in frivolous amusement or waste in idleness, a single hour of winter evening, which they might devote to profitable study or reading.

Where there is no opportunity for farmers' sons to get books from libraries, their parents should by all means purchase them, if possibly within their power. Even one or two good books each winter, would be of great advantage to them—and indeed, this number would be better than too many—as they would be likely to derive more profit from becoming well acquainted with the contents of a few than from a superficial perusal of many.—Once interested in reading or study, progress is certain, and profit ultimately sure.

"Knowledge is power'—it is pleasure, it is wealth. He who to a pure heart unites an enlightened mind possesses a treasure compared with which the costliest diamond is meaner than common dust. Farmers' sons, we are addressing you in particular, improve whatever opportunities you have to inform your minds, be assured that when you shall have become young men, your influence and standing in society will depend a vast deal upon the extent of your knowledge. A man is in one important respect, superior to another inasmuch as he is more intelligent than another—and ignorance must always pay tribute to knowledge. Store it then in youth—for remember the truthful aphorism of Goldsmith. 'The boy is father to the man.'

War—The following advice was given by Dr. Benjamin Rush an eminent American physician and philanthropist, who died about thirty years ago:

"In order to impress more deeply the minds of the citizens of the United States with the blessings of peace, by contrasting them with the evils of war let the following inscription be painted on the sign which is placed over the door of the war-office at Washington, namely:

An office for butchering the human species.
A widow-and-orphan making office.
A broken bone-making office.
A wood-leg making office.
An office for creating public and private vices.
An office for creating public debt.
An office for creating famine.
An office for creating pestilential diseases.
An office for creating poverty, and for the destruction of liberty and national happiness.

In the lobby, let there be painted representations of the common instruments of death; also, human skulls, broken bones, hospitals crowded with sick and wounded soldiers, vilages on fire, ships sinking on the ocean, rivers dyed with blood, and extensive plains without a tree or fence, or any other object but the ruins of deserted farm houses.

Above this group of woful figures let the following words be inserted in red characters; to represent human blood:

'NATIONAL GLORY!'"

Qualifications for a Senator.—A Washington letter gives this sketch of one of the United States Senators from Georgia:

"Mr. Colquit is not only an able legislator, but a sound lawyer, and a good preacher. He is a man of decided talent, energetic, persevering, and industrious.—He is said to have made, in one day, two stump speeches, preached two sermons, argued a case in Court, and joined a couple in the holy bands of wedlock! He also possesses, according to his friends, another very eminent qualification for a Senator of the United States. To use the language of the authority referred to, "he can thrash any other man wrapped up in the same quantity of skin!"

WISTER'S BALSAM OF

WILD CHERRY,

The great remedy for Consumption, & the best medecine known to Man for Asthma of every stage, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Influenza, Coughs, Colds, Bleeding of the Lungs, Shortness of Breath, pains and weakness in the side, breast, &c and all other diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

A very important disease over which this "Balsam" exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a Diseased Liver. In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when Mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the Liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected Permanent Cures after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

Besides its astonishing efficacy in the diseases above mentioned, we also find it a very effectual remedy in Asthma, a complaint in which it has been exclusively used with decided success, even in cases of years standing.

It not only emanates from a regular Physician, but has also been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. It is not my intention, therefore, either to cloak it in mistery, or in any way deceive the public by overrating its virtues, on the contrary, I shall simply endeavour to give a brief statement of its usefulness, and flatter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most incredulous that Consumption may and 'Can be Cured,' if this medicine be resorted to in time.

Opinions of a regular Physician.

Exeter, Me. Sept, 30, 1845.

This certifies that I have recommended the use of Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry for diseases of the Lungs, for two years past and many bottles to my knowledge have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results. In two cases where it was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure. E BOYEN, Physician.
at Exeter Corner.

NO QUACKERY! NO DECEPTION!

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine, are, in every respect, TRUE. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS & IMITATIONS.

The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry in all the diseases for which it is recommended, during many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large & increasing demand for it. This fact has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam

Be careful and get the genuine DR. WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. None genuine unless signed by I Butts. Address all orders to Seth W. Fowle, Boston Mass.

Pott's Mill.

THIS will serve to inform the customers of Pott's Mill, that the late Millers family who were afflicted with the Small Pox, have all recovered, washed out and moved off, & the house well cleansed and white-washed inside and out, and of course no kind of danger can be apprehended by persons visiting the mill. The mill is now kept by Mr. Francis E. Russum, a very competent man—the Mill being in first rate order with one of the best Smut Machines in the county, and a plentiful supply of water will give dispatch and a good turn out, particularly in the manufacture of Wheat.

THE NATIONAL PRESS,

A JOURNAL FOR HOME;

A REPOSITORY OF LETTERS; A RECORD OF ART; A MIRROR OF PASSING EVENTS.

To be puolished every Saturday, at 2 Dollars a Year, in advance.

GEO. P. MORRIS, Editor & Proprietor.

A number of the most eminent literary persons of this country, have proposed to the undersigned to publish, under the above title,

A REFINED AND VALUABLE NEWSPAPER,

Upon a plan combining the highest resources of National talent with the best elements of extensive popularity, and at so trifling an annual cost, as will place it within the convenient reach of all classes of society.

The control and management of this publication will form the exclusive and undivided attention of the Editor—whose long experience, ample facilities and practised care, will be exerted to select, unite and harmonise the various skill which is willing to seek development under his direction. The scope, design and character of this paper will differ from those of any journals heretofore established, while it will comprehend all that they contain of importance to the community. The contents will be fitted to engage the attention of the man of business, and be a source of elegant instruction and entertainment to the domestic fireside and family circle.

The leading characteristics of this paper will be as follows:

1. Early and Copious Intelligence of all interesting occurrences in Literature, Society & Art, both at home and abroad.

2 A Foreign Correspondence of tried popularity and acknowledged merit has been engaged, and will be commenced with the first number.

3. Productions in fiction, romance and historical narrative; Sketches of the taste and manner of the time; Essay, after the manner of the Tattler and Spectator, on subjects connected with social interests; biographical notices and anecdotes, literary and professional; bon mots, epigrams and elegant trifles of every kind; the rumors of the day and the comments that flout upon the conversation of the hour—materials of this kind will form the ordinary staple of the work.

4 The department of Criticism will exhibit a discriminating and popular survey of the Literary Productions of the day. There will be a thorough and careful chronicle of every thing of value accomplished in Painting and Sculpture, and a candid and patriotic estimate of the National productions in comparison with other countries. Such exposition of the character and special excellencies of what is exhibited in Music will be constantly given as may lead to the more intelligent enjoyment of that most imaginative and delicate branch of the Fine Arts.

5. No original papers will appear, but those of obvious and decided merit; and the selections (which will commonly be from the foreign journals the least known in this country) will be made with the utmost attention and care.

The predominant design of the Editor is to add to the Republic of Letters a Weekly Journal, distinctly and decidedly national in tone and features, and at the same time, to avoid all connection with mere party politics. The National Press will, in brief, combine the striking and novel attractions of the newspaper, with the more abiding interest of the higher class of periodicals. It will be printed in the folio form, on large and superior paper, on a new and clear type obtained expressly for the purpose, and will be in its whole arrangement and details, a favorable specimen of the best typographical skill of the country. In addition to these, and as one of its most valuable peculiarities, it will be, in reference to the diversity of talent will that be employed upon it, the cheapest paper in the United States.

TERMS—Two dollars a year, or three copies for five dollars, invariably in advance.

It will be sent by mail to all parts of the United States, and to the British Provinces, done up in strong wrappers, with the utmost punctuality and despatch.

Postmasters are requested to act as agents, receive subscriptions, and make remittances.

The first number will be issued on Saturday, the fourteenth of February next.

That a probable estimate may be formed of the number of copies that will be required, subscribers would oblige the Editor by sending in their names at as early a period as possible.

Newspapers and periodical agents & newsmen supplied on liberal terms. Burgess Stringer, & Co. 222 Broadway, wholesale agents.

Subscriptions orders, remittances, and all communications, to be addressed, post paid to

PROSPECTUS.

The Western Continent,

A weekly newspaper of Literature and Art independent in Politics, just in Criticism.

Edited by PARK BENJAMIN,

Late editor of the New World, and W. S. Thompson, late editor of the Augusta Mirror, and author of "Major Jones' Courtship," "Chronicles of Pineville," &c.

The favorable auspices under which this journal is commenced, and the warm encouragement with which it has been welcomed in all parts of the country, are positive assurances of its success. The fullest arrangements have been made to carry it on with spirit, energy and effect. Editors, whose reputations are established, have been permanently engaged; the most able and popular writers have been enlisted; the abundent treasures of European literature will be brought hither and profusely lavished—indeed the whole world of letters, wherever genius flourishes and learning spreads, will be put under contribution to give strength, beauty and variety to "The Western Continent."

It presents a weekly compend of news, culled with care from every foreign and domestic source, and a digest of all kinds of information, literary, scientific, political, religious—interesting alike to the scholar and the man of business.

It is devoted to Southern and Western interests, not as opposed to those of the North and East, but as consonant with right and justice—interests bestowed by the Constitution, and indispensable to the maintenance of the Union of the States. It seeks to subdue sectional jealousies, cherish sentiments of amity, expand the affections as well as the intellect of men, and build upon the neutral ground of letters, a new temple to Concord, where all parties may meet and be brothers. Conciliation is it aim; Truth its guide.

It shall be worthy of its name—"The Western Continent," our country, our whole country, new states and old states, new territories and old territories, ours by position, ours by occupation,—however ours, if ours be right—shall be contended for, defended and maintained, according to an humble ability, but with a fearless spirit.

A great deal more than this might be said; but "brevity is the soul of wit" and much can be expressed in a few words.—We shall promise little and perform much. Try us reader and judge for yourself.—Without another thought on the subject, pray forward the very insignificant sum of two dollars—it could not be better expended—and your name & address directed to

HEMSLEY'S VEGETABLE TONIC,

PREPARED BY
R. F. HEMSLEY,

PHARMACEUTIST,—Easton Md.

NO MEDICINE has acquired in so short a time so deserved a popularity; and none is prepared to present so honorable an array of certificates from the Faculty of Medicine and private individuals throughout the State as Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic. In moderate doses, regularly taken, this medicine is a sure preventive of Fever & Ague and Bilious Fever, while it affords in most instances a permanent cure when employed for the removal of these diseases. In all cases of general debility arising from old age, protracted illness, or uniform delicacy and feebleness of constitution it is without question one of the most agreeable and efficient tonics ever offered to the public. Let all who are afflicted apply to this remedy with the full expectation of perfect relief. It promises nothing which it is not competent to perform; and must in a very short time be the remedy preferred to all others in the various forms of Fever and Ague and in cases of general debility Full directions for using it will accompany each bottle.

Certificates.

The undersigned, Physicians of Baltimore, having been made acquainted with the ingredients composing "Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic," have no hesitation in saying that the compound, it properly used, cannot fail to conduce greatly to the accomplishment of the object proposed in its employment; and do therefore cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted public.

The preparation made by Mr. Hemsley, Apothecary, Easton, Maryland, and known as "Hemsley's Vegetable Tonic," is in my opinion the best article ever offered to the public for the radical cure of that distressing affection, Intermittent Fever. This composition forms a pleasant bitters, and furnishes a most desirable tonic in cases of constitutional debility resulting from natural infirmity or the ravages of disease. I have recommended this medicine extensively in my practice and have always found it to answer the desired purpose.
Chris C Cox, A. M. M D.

Mr. R. F. Hemsley Sir:—This is to certify that for a long time I labored under the debilitating influence of that dreadful disease, Ague & Fever, and had recourse to many remedies recommended to me by Physicians and others, all of which proved unavailing. I heard of your celebrated 'Vegetable Tonic,' of which I procured two bottles, and before I had taken it all I was entirely restored, and have not since felt any symptoms of its return. It has accomplished more in my case than all other remedies put together, and I most cheerfully recommend it to all those persons who may be laboring under this most wretched disease.
