POETRY.

PARTING SONG.

BY ELIZA COOK.

Come let us part with lightsome heart,
Nor breathe one chiding sigh,
To think that wings of rainbow plume
So soon should learn to fly.
We scarcely like the chimes to strike
That tell of Pleasure's flight;
But Friendship's chain, when severed thus,
Is sure to reunite.
Then why not we as merry be,
Though this song be the last,
Believing other hours will come
As bright as those just past?

The wild-bird's song is loud and long,
But the sweetest and the best;
Is whistled as he leaves the bough
To seek his lonely rest.
The sun's rich ray shines through the day,
But flashes deeper still
While darting forth his farewell ray
Behind the western hill.
Then why not we as merry be,
In this our parting strain:
For like the bird and sun, will come
With joy and warmth again.

The moments fled, like violets dead,
Shall never lose their power.
For grateful perfume ever marks
The Memory's withered flower.
The sailor's lay, in peaceful bay,
With gladsome mirth rings out:
But when the heavy anchor's weighed,
He gives as blithe a shout.
Then why not we as merry be,
In this our parting strain;
And trust, as gallant sailors do,
To make the port again!

LOVE UNSOUGHT.

BY EMMA C. EMBURY,

They tell me that I must not love,
That thou wilt spurn the free
And unbought tenderness that gives
Its hidden wealth to thee;

It may be so: I heed it not,
Nor would I change my blissful lot,
When thus I am allowed to make,
My heart a bankrupt for thy sake.

They tell me when the fleeting charm
Of novelty is o'er,
Thou'lt turn away with careless brow,
And think of me no more;

It may be so: enough for me
If sunny skies still smile o'er thee,
Or I can trace, when thou art far,
Thy pathway like a distant star.

GENTLE WORDS.

BY C. D. STEWART.

A young rose in the Summer time
Is beautiful to me
And glorious the many stars
That glimmer on the Sea;
But Gentle Words and loving hearts
And hands to clasp my own,
Are better than the brightest flowers
Or stars that ever shone!

The Sun may warm the Grass of life
The Dew the drooping Flower,
And eyes grow bright that watch the light
Of Autumn's opening hour—
But words that breathe of tenderness,
And smiles we know are true,
Are warmer than the Summer time,
And brighter than the Dew.

It is not much the World can give,
With all its subtle art,
And Gold or Gems are not the things
To satisfy the Heart!
But oh! if those who cluster 'round
The altar and the hearth,
Have gentle words and loving smiles,
How beautiful is Earth!

The effect of War.—Not the least singular effect of a state of war is that which is produced by it on the eye sight. The last war made many persons blind who were very sharp sighted before. It has also a singular effect in producing lameness, spraining arms, and, indeed, of causing all sorts of ailments in those who before never "had a day's sickness." We see, by the New Orleans Picayune, of the 9th inst., from which we copy the following, that it is producing its usual results there:

UNACCOUNTABLE.—We don't know when we have seen so may people carrying their arms in slings as we did yesterday. Can it be that the drafting had anything to do with it?

Here is another case of the wavering courage produced by it:

DESERTERS.—A couple of men who had enlisted for Texas, and received their bounty and month's pay, were yesterday afternoon brought to the Second Municipality Police Office as deserters. They were kept some time, and then marched off for the Barracks to a pretty lively tune.

Revenue Cutters.—There were thirteen Revenue Cutters in service during the past winter. They spoke and boarded 1264 vessels; they relieved and assisted 89 other vessels; and sailed an aggregation distance of 26,354 miles. The "Union" states that on Saturday last the following Cutters were ordered to repair forthwith to the seat of war:

Steamers Spencer, McLane, and Legare; schooners Ewing, Woodbury, Morris, and Forward,—with an aggregate force of two hundred and fifty-men and thirty-five guns, of from thirty-two to twelve pound calibre.

We have no doubt that these vessels will be of very great service in the war with Mexico, by reason of their light draft of water. We hope that Congress will speedily carry out the proposed measure of uniting the Revenue and Post office navies with the Navy proper, thus placing the entire naval establishment of the country under one head.

WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

THE great remedy for Consumption, & the best medecine known to Man for Asthma of every stage, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Influenza, Coughs, Colds, Bleeding of the Lungs, Shortness of Breath, pains and weakness in the side, breast, &c and all other diseases of the PULMONARY ORGANS.

A very important disease over which this "Balsam" exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a DISEASED LIVER In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when Mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the Liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected PERMANENT CURES after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

Besides its astonishing efficacy in the diseases above mentioned, we also find it a very effectual remedy in ASTHMA, a complaint in which it has been extensively used with decided success, even in cases of years standing.

It not only emanates from a regular Physician, but has also been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. It is not my intention, therefore, either to cloak it in mistery, or in any way deceive the public by overrating its virtues, on the contrary I shall simply endeavour to give a brief statement of its usefulness, and flatter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most incredulous that Consumption may and 'Can be Cured,' if this medicine be resorted to in time.

Opinions of a regular Physician.

Exeter, Me. Sept, 30, 1845.

This certifies that I have recommended the use of WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for diseases of the Lungs, for two years past and many bottles to my knowledge have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results. In two cases where it was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure. E BOYEN, Physician. at Exeter Corner.

NO QUACKERY! NO DECEPTION!

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine, are, in every respect, TRUE. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS & IMITATIONS.

The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry in all the diseases for which it is recommended, curing many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large & increasing demand for it. This fact has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam Be careful and get the genuine DR. WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. None genuine unless signed by I BUTTS. Address all orders to SETH W. FOWLE, Boston Mass.
