POETRY.

For the Easton Gazette.

Battle Song.

Arm for the battle field!
Arm for the fray!
Grasp the bright bla'e of war—
Arm—and away!
Gather in rank and file,
True hearts and strong—
Forward!—let earth and sky
Ring with your song!

Come from the mountain top—
Come from the vale—
Come where the rally shout,
Swells on the gale;
Come from the hearth you love—
Husband—and wife—
Buckle your scabbards on,
Arm for the strife!

Lo!—Palo Alto grows,
Red with the slain,
Lo—waves our banner
On Resaca's plain!
Where the invadors come
Armed to the shock,
Back sweep their armies
Like waves from the rock!

Bear ye then gallantly—
March to the field!
Spartan like conquer,
Or home on your shield!
Think on your noble sires—
Nerve for the fight—
Victory faileth not,
Freedom or right!

Arm for the Battle field!
Arm for the fray!
Grasp the bright blade of war,
Arm—and away!
Gather in rank and file,
True hearts and strong—
Forward!—let earth and sky
Ring with your song!

Easton, June 2, 1846.

TO THE UNSATISFIED.

Why thus longing, why forever sighing,
For the far-off, unattained and dim;
While the beautiful, all around thee lying,
Offers up its low, perpetual hymn!

Wouldst thou listen to its gentle teaching,
All thy restless yearning it would still;
Leaf, and flower, and laden bee are preaching,
Thine own sphere, though humble, first to fill.

Poor, indeed, thou must be, if around thee
Thou no ray of light and joy canst throw,
If no silken cord of love hath bound thee
To some little world through weal & wo!

If no dear eyes thy fond love can brighten—
No fond voices answer to thine own;
If no brother's sorrow thou canst lighten,
By daily sympathy and gentle tone.

Not by deeds that win the world's applauses,
Not by works that give the world renown,
Not by martyrdom, or vaunted crosses,
Canst thou win and wear the immortal crown.

Daily struggling, though unloved and lonely,
Every day a rich reward will give;
Thou wilt find by hearty striving only,
And truely loving, thou canst truly live.

Dost thou revel in the rosy morning,
When all nature hails the Lord of light,
And his smiles the mountain tops adorning,
Robes yon fragrant field in radiance bright!

Other hands may grasp the fields & forest,
Proud proprietors in pomp may shine;
But with fervent love if thou adorest,
Thou art wealthier—all the world is thine.

Yet if through earth's wide domains thou rovest,
Sighing that they are not thine alone,
Not those fair fields, but thyself thou lovest,
And their beauty and thy wealth are gone.

Nature wears the color of the spirit;
Sweetly to her worshipper she sings;
All the glow, the grace she does inherit,
Round her trusting child she fondly flings.

Most Excellent!—A correspondent of the Tuscaloosa Monitor gives several instances in which noted passages in Shakspeare's writings have been incorrectly rendered in the modernized editions. One of his corrections make the original so consonant with the fashion of the present time that we doubt not the fellow has hit upon the real meaning of the immortal delineator of human nature. The passage referred to is this:

"That man that hath a tongue, I say is no man,
If with his tongue, he cannot win a woman,

The writer contends that Shakspeare really wrote it thus:

"That man that hath the tin, I say is no man,
If with his tin he cannot win a woman."

To show how the error crept in, he goes back to the ancient orthography: which would have given the passage thus,

"Yt manne yt hath ye tinne, I say is no manne,
Giffe wythe hys tynne, he cannot wynne a womanne."

There is really truth in the passage as corrected; and inasmuch as Shakspeare undoubtedly understood human nature in all its developments, the Monitor man must be right in interpretation. Every day's events show that he can't be any thing else Macon Repub.

WISTER'S BALSAM OF

WILD CHERRY,

THE great remedy for Consumption, & the best medecine known to Man for Asthma of every stage, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Influenza, Coughs, Colds, Bleeding of the Lungs, Shortness of Breath, pains and weakness in the side, breast, &c and all other diseases of the PULMONARY ORGANS.

A very important disease over which this "Balsam" exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a DISEASED LIVER. In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when Mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the Liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected PERMANENT CURES after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

Besides its astonishing efficacy in the diseases above mentioned, we also find it a very effectual remedy in ASTHMA, a complaint in which it has been extensively used with decided success, even in cases of years standing.

It not only emanates from a regular Physician, but has also been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. It is not my intention, therefore, either to cloak it in mistery, or in any way deceive the public by overrating its virtues; on the contrary, I shall simply endeavour to give a brief statement of its usefulness, and flatter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most incredulous, that Consumption may and "Can be Cured," if this medicine be resorted to in time.

Opinions of a regular Physician.

Exeter, Me. Sept. 30, 1845.

This certifies that I have recommended the use of WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for diseases of the Lungs, for two years past and many bottles to my knowledge have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results. In two cases where it was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure. E BOYEN, Physician, at Exeter Corner.

NO QUACKERY! NO DECEPTION!

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine, are, in every respect, TRUE.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS & IMITATIONS.

The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry in all the diseases for which it is recommended, curing many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large & increasing demand for it. This fact has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam.

Be careful and get the genuine DR. WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. None genuine unless signed by I BUTTS. Address all orders to SETH W. FOWLE, Boston Mass.
