POETRY.

The following lines to a young Mother are from the pen of Charles Sprague Esq.

Young mother! what can feeble friendship say
To sooth the anguish of this mournful day?
They they alone, whose hearts like thine have bled;
Know how the living sorrow for the dead.
Each tutor'd voice that seeks such grief to cheer,
Strikes cold upon the weeping parents ear;
I've felt it all—alas! too well I know
How vain all earthly power to hush thy wo!
God cheer thee, childless mother! tis not given,
For man to ward the blow that falls from Heaven.

I've felt it all—as thou art feeling now,
Like thee, with stricken heart and aching brow,
I've sat and watched by dying beauty's bed,
And burning tears of hopeless anguish shed;
I've gazed upon the sweet but pallid face,
And vainly tried some comfort there to trace;
I've listened to the short and struggling breath;
I've seen the cherub eye grow dim in death;
Like thee, I've veiled my head in speechless gloom,
And laid my first-born in the silent tomb.

The following beautiful lines by the editor of the Louisville Journal, who is now from his home, we copy from that paper:

TO AN ABSENT WIFE.

'Tis morn—the sea breeze seems to bring
Joy, health and freshness on its wing—
Bright flowers, to me all strange and new,
Are glittering in the early dew—
And perfumes rise from every grove,
As incense to the clouds that move
Like spirits o'er yon welkin clear—
But I am sad—thou art not here.

'Tis noon—a calm unbroken sleep
Is on the blue waves of the deep—
A soft haze, like a fairy dream,
Is floating over wood and stream;
And many a broad magnolia flower,
Within its shadowy woodland bower,
Is gleaming like a lovely star—
But I am sad—thou art afar.

'Tis eve—on earth the sunset skies
Are painting their own Eden dyes—
The stars come down, and trembling glow
Like blossoms in the waves below;
And, like some unseen sprite, the breeze
Seems lingering 'mid these orange trees,
Breathing its music round the spot—
But I am sad—I see thee not.

'Tis midnight—with a soothing spell,
The far tones of the ocean swell,
Soft as a mother's cadence mild
Low bending o'er her sleeping child—
And on each wandering breeze are heard
The rich notes of the mocking bird,
In many a wild and wondrous lay—
But I am sad—thou art away.

I sink in dreams—low, sweet, and clear,
Thy own dear voice is in my ear—
Around my neck thy tresses twine—
Thy own loved hand is clasped in mine—
Thy own soft lip to mine is pressed—
Thy head is pillowed on my breast—
Oh! I have all my heart holds dear—
And I am happy—thou art here.

OILOXI, May 31, 1846. G. D P.

IDLE WORDS.

"My God!" the beauty oft exclaimed,
With deep impassioned tone—
But not in humble prayer she named
The High and Holy One!

'Twas not upon the bended knee,
With soul upraised to heaven
Pleading with heartfelt agony,
That she might be forgiven.

'Twas not in heavenly strains to raise
To the great Source of good
Her daily offering of praise,—
Her song of gratitude.

But in the gay and thoughtless crowd,
And in the festive hall,
'Mid scenes of mirth and mockery loud,
She named the Lord of All.

She called upon that awful name,
When laughter loudest rang—
Or when the flush of triumph came—
Or disappointment's pang!

The idlest thing that flattery knew,
The most unmeaning jest
From those sweet lips profanely drew
Names of the Holiest!

I thought—how sweet that voice would be,
Breathing this prayer to heaven—
"My God, I worship only thee;
O, be my sins forgiven!"

Those who are afflicted with worms will rejoice to learn that a sovereign remedy has been discovered for this pernicious affliction, Hemsley's Worm Destroying Syrup, has recently been introduced into this city, & has already met with unexampled success. Empyricism and quackery seems to fall before it, and its efficacy alone constitutes its chief recommendation. Such a remedy has long been needed in this city, and we are well assured that thousands of lives have already been saved by it. We have been shown a certificate by a gentleman from New Town (a village in Fairfield County, Connecticut,) signed indiscriminately by a large number of the citizens, heads of families, that have used the Syrup, and speak from their own experience of its intrinsic value.

The well-known celebrity in Europe and this Country, of Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, has induced the subscriber to commence the re publication of this fashionable London Monthly.

It is a matter of surprise that the Re-publication of this Work was not commenced some years since. On looking over some of the late numbers, we find them filled with Stories and Poetry, and Narratives, the most of which fall but little behind those published in the Edinburgh Work, and many surpass even the emanations from the Giant intellects of the contributors to the great Northern Magazine. The best writers of the day contribute to its pages.

It has now been published seventeen years in London, and has a circulation exceeding 70,000 copies through England, Scotland, Ireland, and the continent of Europe. It is translated into several of the continental languages —it being the only instance of an English Magazine receiving that compliment.

The publication will commence in October next, and will be continued monthly.

The publication price of the above wark, in London, is six dollars.

WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

THE great remedy for Consumption, & the best medeeine known to Man for Asthma of every stage, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Influenza, Coughs, Colds, Bleeding of the Lungs, Shortness of Breath, pains and weakness in the side, breast, &c. and all other diseases of the PULMONARY ORGANS.

A very important disease over which this "Balsam" exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a DISEASED LIVER In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when Mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the Liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected PERMANENT CURES after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

Besides its astonishing efficacy in the diseases above mentioned, we also find it a very effectual remedy in ASTHMA, a complaint in which it has been extensively used with decided success, even in cases of years standing.

It not only emanates from a regular Physician, but has also been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. It is not my intention, therefore, either to cloak it in mistery, or in any way deceive the public by overrating its virtues; on the contrary, I shall simply endeavour to give a brief statement of its usefulness, and flatter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most incredulous, that Consumption may and "Can be Cured," if this medicine be resorted to in time.

Opinions of a regular Physician.

Exeter, Me. Sept, 30, 1845.

This certifies that I have recommended the use of WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for diseases of the Lungs, for two years past and many bottles to my knowledge have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results. In two cases where it was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure. E BOYEN, Physician, at Exeter Corner.

NO QUACKERY! NO DECEPTION!

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine, are, in every respect, TRUE.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS & IMITATIONS.

The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry in all the diseases for which it is recommended, during many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large & increasing demand for it. This fact has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam

Be careful and get the genuine DR. WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. None genuine unless signed by I BUTTS. Address all orders to SETH W. FOWLE, Boston Mass.
