POETRY.

POETRY BY JOHN Q. ADAMS.

Miss ELLEN M. COCKEY, of John and Thomas Forest, Baltimore County, presented to Mr. ADAMS, a few weeks ago, a pair of knit gloves. In acknowledging their reception the "old man eloquent" penned the following lines:

Who shall say that public life
Is nothing but discordant strife?
And he whose heart is tuned to love,
Tender and gentle as the dove,
Must whet his talons, night and day,
For conflicts with the birds of prey?

This world is fashioned, Lady fair!
Of Joy and Sorrow, Ease and Care,
Of sudden changes, small and great;
Of upward and of downward fate:
And whoso bends his mood to trace,
The annals of man's fallen race,
May sigh to find that nature's plan
Is ruthless war from man to man.
But nature cruel, to be kind,
Not to war only man consigned;
But gave him woman on the spot
To mingle pleasure in his lot.
That if with man war cannot cease,
With women reigns eternal peace.

Fair lady, I have lived on earth
Nigh fourscore Summers from my birth;
And half the sorrows I have felt
Have by my brother man been dealt;
And all the ills I have endured
By man inflicted, woman cured.
The glove from man to man thou know'st,
Of fierce defiance is the boast;
And cast in anger on the floor,
To mortal combat shows the door.
But gloves from woman's gentle hand,
Of cordial Friendship bear the wand;
And in return a single glove
Betokens emblematic Love.

Thy gift fair Ellen then I take,
And cherish for the giver's sake;
And while they shelter from the storm
My hands, the Heart alike shall warm;
And speed for thee to God above,
The fervid prayer of faithful love.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

OLD FRIENDS.

BY MRS. CRAWFORD.

Old friends! old friends! the dear old friends
That time has swept away!
Ah! who can make the heart amends
For the friends of life's young day?
Oh! they were the fixed stars of love,
That never left their sphere,
The beacon lights that shone above,
Our life's dark paths to cheer.
Old Friends! Old Friends!

Old friends! old friends! can we forget
Those days of golden prime,
When round our father's hearth we met,
And our merry voices' chime
Made the old hall ring to the roof with joy,
As we sang the songs of yore,
Or danced to the strains of the harper boy,
On the bright old oaken floor?
Old Friends! Old Friends!

Old friends! old friends! as time rolls on,
We miss them more and more;
Those halls are dark where once they shone,
And closed the friendly door;
While colder seems the stranger's eye,
As we pass on earth's dull way,
And think, with memory's tender sigh,
Of the friends of life's young day.
Old Friends! Old Friends!

SLEEP.

BY THOMAS ROSCOE.

Sweet death of each day's weary laden life!
Balm of hurt minds—care's nurse—heart-soothing sleep!
Soft o'er the mourner's couch thy calm watch keep.
No sigh—no murmur wake past thoughts of strife;
Nor Hope's fond dream with troubled visions rife
Breathe o'er the folded lids thy still dews steep;
No memory's scenes again to live—to weep—
The conscious bosom bare to fate's sharp knife.
Oh, blest forgetfulness! thy votary's prayer
In hour of fiercest pangs to thee ascends,
Thee the wish'd haven of his heart's despair,
His genius of the stormy deep that sends
His shatter'd bark swift through life's seas of care
To that far shore where his strange voyage ends.

Kill or Cure.—"Tom a word with you." "Be quick then, for I'm in hurry. What did you give your sick horse t'other day?" "A pint o' turpentine." John hurries home and administers the same dose to a favorite hunter, which, strange to say, drops off defunct in half an hour. His opinion of his friend Tom's verterinary ability is somewhat staggered. He meets him next day. "Well, Tom!" "Well John, what is it?" "I gave my horse a pint o'turpentine, and it killed him as dead as Julius Caesar." 'So't did mine."

Ladies at Work.—Whenever (said Dr. Johnson,) chance brings within my observation, a knot of young ladies busy at their needles, I consider myself as in a school of virtue, and though I have no extraordinar skill in plain work or embroidery, I look upon their operations with as much satisfaction as their governess, because I regard them as providing a sanctuary against the most dangerous ensnarers of the soul, by the enabling them to exclude idleness, her attendant train of passions, fancies, chimeras, fears, sorrows and desires.

From the N. York Sunday Atlas.

Those who are afflicted with worms will rejoice to learn that a sovereign remedy has been discovered for this pernicious affliction, Hemsley's Worm Destroying Syrup, has recently been introduced into this city, & has already met with unexampled success. Empyricism and quackery seems to fall before it, and its efficacy alone constitutes its chief recommendation. Such a remedy has long been needed in this city, and we are well assured that thousands of lives have already been saved by it. We have been shown a certificate by a gentleman from New Town (a village in Fairfield County, Connecticut,) signed indiscriminately by a large number of the citizens heads of families, that have used the Syrup, and speak from their own experience of its intrinsic value.

The American Farmer.

The 2d volume of the new series of this journal will commence on the 1st of July, 1846, and the subsequent numbers will be issued on the first of each month as usual. The very extended circulation which the FARMER has attained since its publication in its present form, (being a large octavo, of 32 pages each No.) is a gratifying evidence that the labors of its conductors have not been in vain. The "FARMER" is the oldest agricultural publication in the United States, the volume just completed being the 27 year of its existence; and evinces in its vigorous old age, a stamina which will favorably compare with any of its contemporaries.

Terms for the forthcoming volume —Single copies $1—Six copies for $5—Thirteen copies for $10. Sample Nos. will be sent to any one desirous of aiding in the circulation of the "Farmer".

EASTON FEMALE SEMINARY.

THE exercises of this School, formerly under the management of Mr. THOS. PIERSON, have been resumed during the past week under the care and control of Mr. WILLIAM MERRILL, formerly of the State of Massachusetts.

The board of Trustees of this institution have engagad the services of Mr Merril after mature consideration and upon the most full examination of his credentials as to competency and character. Mr. M. has been engaged for ten years past as a teacher both in male and female seminaries in our country; and from those by whom he has been employed he brings ample testimonials. The board of Trustees also feel warranted in saying, that from their personal inspection and observation during the past week, of his management of the School, he will give general satisfaction. Mr. Merrill proposes for the present to give instruction in the following branches, to wit:

The common branches of a thorough English education,
The natural sciences—moral and mental Philosophy,
Rhetoric and the higher branches of Mathematics,
The Latin, Greek & French languages.

The annual vacation of the Seminary will commence on the 31st July of each year, and the exercises of the School be resumed on the 1st of October following. Those pupils desiring instruction in Music can receive lessons for the present from Mrs. Rachael Hands, a lady most favorably known in this community; and as soon as the patronage of the school will warrant it, a female assistant will be procured to instruct the pupils in Music, Painting, Drawing and other ornamental branches of female education.

The price of which two Works in England is $12 a year.

☞ As republished by the subscriber they will cost only $1 a year.

Blackwood's Lady's Magazine,

And Gazette of the Fashionable World.—for Town and Country.

Devoted to Belles-Letters, Music, Fine Arts, Fashions, &c.

The well-known celebrity in Europe and this Country, of Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, has induced the subscriber to commence the re publication of this fashionable London Monthly.

It is a matter of surprise that the Re-publication of this Work was not commenced some years since. On looking over some of the late numbers, we find them filled with Stories and Poetry, and Narratives, the most of which fall but little behind those published in the Edinburgh Work, and many surpass even the emanations from the Giant intellects of the contributors to the great Northern Magazine. The best writers of the day contribute to its pages.

It has now been published seventeen years in London, and has a circulation exceeding 70,000 copies through England, Scotland, Ireland, and the continent of Europe. It is translated into several of the continental languages —it being the only instance of an English Magazine receiving that compliment.

The publication will commence in October next, and will be continued monthly.

The publication price of the above wark, in London, is six dollars.

The London World of Fashion,

And Continental Feuilletons.

A Monthly Publication of the Courts of London and Paris.—Dedicated to High Life, Fashionables, Fashions, Polite Literature, Fine Arts, the Operas, Theatres, &c. Edited by several Literary & Fashionable Characters

In the above two works will be found, all the Gossip of London, Paris, and the principal Cities of the continent of Europe Royal Gossip—Description of the Queen's Drawing Room Parties, with accurate accounts of the dresses of the Ladies of Rank—Noblemen's Fetes—Description of every New Opera, with criticisms on the same—Performers, &c. Tales by the best English Authors, Poetry New Music. Her Majesty's visit to Different Noblemen—Description of New Paintings, & the Artists—Varieties. &c.

The publication price of the above work, in London, is six dollars.

Terms of Godey's New Monthly Magazine, $1 a year in advance. All orders must be addressed, post paid, to L. A. GODEY

WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

THE great remedy for Consumption, & the best medecine known to Man for Asthma of every stage, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Influenza, Coughs, Colds, Bleeding of the Lungs, Shortness of Breath, pains and weakness in the side, breast, &c and all other diseases of the PULMONARY ORGANS.

A very important disease over which this "Balsam" exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a DISEASED LIVER In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when Mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the Liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected PERMANENT CURES after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

Besides its astonishing efficacy in the diseases above mentioned, we also find it a very effectual remedy in ASTHMA, a complaint in which it has been extensively used with decided success, even in cases of years standing.

It not only emanates from a regular Physician, but has also been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. It is not my intention, therefore, either to cloak it in mistery, or in any way deceive the public by overrating its virtues, on the contrary, I shall simply endeavour to give a brief statement of its usefulness, and flatter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most incredulous, that Consumption may and "Can be Cured," if this medicine be resorted to in time.

Opinions of a regular Physician.

Exeter, Me. Sept, 30, 1845.

This certifies that I have recommended the use of WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for diseases of the Lungs, for two years past and many bottles to my knowledge have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results. In two cases where it was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure. E BOYKN, Physician, at Exeter Corner.

NO QUACKERY! NO DECEPTION!

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine, are, in every respect, TRUE.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS & IMITATIONS.

The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry in all the diseases for which it is recommended, curing many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large & increasing demand for it. This fact has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam

Be careful and get the genuine DR. WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. None genuine unless signed by I BUTTS. Address all orders to SETH W. FOWLE, Boston Mass.
