POETRY.

For the Easton Gazette.

TO HER I LOVE.

There is a heart I fain would win;
Could I but learn that heart to woo;—
It is not cold, that heart, I ween,
And well I wot that heart is true.

Lovely is she whose breast it fills,
If purest minds claim purest love,—
As snow drops sweet on loneliest hills
Which nought but Heav'n's own breath may move!

Yet tell me why, when she is near,
Her presence thrills me still with awe?—
Does that perfection strike with fear,
Fancy, we deem'd, alone could draw.

'Tis even so:—yon clear cold moon
From Heav'n's own orb reflects its light;
Stars pale before its silvery noon
Which chastely gems the brow of night.

Yet in the lake's unruffled breast
Night's queen in mirrored beauty lies,—
So doth thy lovely image rest
Shrined in my heart—its light thine eyes;

And round that shrine—their dearest home
My thoughts, awake,—my dreams, asleep,
In silent worship ceaseless roam,
And there their fondest vigils keep.

C. S. B.

SONG OF THE FORSAKEN.

BY HON. MRS. NORTON.

And will she love thee as well as I?
Will she do for thee what I have done?
See all the pomps of the world pass by,
And look only for thee—beloved one?

Will she feel when another pronounces thy name
All the thrilling sensations that I have done?
Pride when they praise thee, regret when they blame,
And tenderness always—beloved one?

Will she watch when a cloud passes over thy brow,
And strive to chase it—as I have done?
Forgetting all but the thought that now
It is hers to console thee—beloved one?

Will she, undoubting, consent to resign
Friends long cherished—as I have done?
Renounce them, forget them, nor ever repine,
Since thou art with her—beloved one?

And thou—will not thou feel a pang of regret,
Thus remembering all that I have done?
Have done! though forsaken would do so yet,
And am thine, and thine only—beloved one!

USE OF A NOSE.

A good story is told of Mozart at the time he was a pupil of Haydn. The latter challenged his pupil to compose a piece of music which he could play at sight.—Mozart accepted the banter, and a supper and champagne were to be the forfeit.—Every thing being arranged between the composers, Mozart took his pen and a sheet of paper, and in five minutes dashed off a piece of music, and much to the surprise of Haydn, handed it to him, saying,

"There is a piece of music, sir, which you cannot play, and I can—you are to give it the first trial."

Haydn smiled contemptuously at the visionary presumption of his pupil, and placing the notes before him, struck the keys of the instrument. Surprised at its simplicity, he dashed away until he reached the middle of the piece, when stopping all at once, he exclaimed—

"How's this Mozart? How's this?—Here my hands are stretched out to both ends of the piano, and yet there's a middle key to be touched! Nobody can play such music, not even the composer himself."

Mozart smiled at the half excited indignation and perplexity of the great master, and taking the seat he had quitted, struck the instrument with such an air of self-assurance that Haydn began to think himself duped. Running along through the simple passages, he came to that part which his teacher had pronounced impossible to be played. Mozart, as anybody is aware, was favored, or at least endowed, with an extremely long nose, which, in modern dialect, "stuck out about a feet." Reaching the difficult passage, he stretched both hands to the extreme ends of the piano, and leaning forward, bobbed his nose against the middle key, "which nobody could play."

Haydn burst into an immoderate fit of laughter; and after acknowledging the "corn," declared that nature had endowed Mozart with a capacity for music which he had never before discovered.

MORE PLAGIARISM.—Somebody out in the extreme back part of Missouri has discoverad that Tom Moore, like other great poets, has been filching the ideas of another, and altering them to suit himself. He cites the following instance, which is perfectly unanswerable—the critical acumen of a Poe could no further go:

"The minstrel boy to the war is gone,
In the ranks of death you'll find him;
His father's sword he has girded on,
And his wild harp slung behind him."

"Little Boo-Peep has lost his sheep,
And does not know where to find 'em;
Let 'em alone and they'll come home.
Bringing their tails behind 'em."

for Town and Country,

Devoted to Belles-Letters, Music, Fine Arts, Fashions, &c.

The well-known celebrity in Europe and this Country, of Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, has induced the subscriber to commence the re publication of this fashionable London Monthly.

It is a matter of surprise that the Republication of this Work was not commenced some years since. On looking over some of the late numbers, we find them filled with Stories and Poetry, and Narratives, the most of which fall but little behind those published in the Edinburgh Work, and many surpass even the emanations from the Giant intellects of the contributors to the great Northern Magazine. The best writers of the day contribute to its pages.

It has now been published seventeen years in London, and has a circulation exceeding 70,000 copies through England, Scotland, Ireland, and the continent of Europe. It is translated into several of the continental languages—it being the only instance of an English Magazine receiving that compliment.

The publication will commence in October next, and will be continued monthly.

The publication price of the above wark, in London, is six dollars.

The London World of Fashion,

And Continental Feuilletons.

A Monthly Publication of the Courts of London and Paris.—Dedicated to High Life Fashionables, Fashions, Polite Literature Fine Arts, the Operas, Theatres, &c. Edited by several Literary & Fashionable Characters.

In the above two works will be found, all the Gossip of London, Paris, and the principal Cities of the continent of Europe. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF

WILD CHERRY,

THE great remedy for Consumption, & the best medecine known to Man for Asthma every stage, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Influenza, Coughs, Colds, Bleeding of the Lungs, Shortness of Breath, pains and weakness in the side, breast, &c. and all other diseases of the PULMONARY ORGANS.

A very important disease over which this Balsam exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a DISEASED LIVER. In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when Mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the Liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected PERMANENT CURES after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

Besides its astonishing efficacy in the diseases above mentioned, we also find it a very effectual remedy in ASTHMA, a complaint in which it has been extensively used with decided success, even in cases of years standing.

It not only emanates from a regular Physician, but has also been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. It is not my intention, therefore, either to cloak it in mistery, or in any way deceive the public by overrating its virtues, on the contrary, I shall simply endeavour to give a brief statement of its usefulness, and flatter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most incredulous, that Consumption may and Can be Cured, if this medicine be resorted to in time.

Opinions of a regular Physician.

Exeter, Me. Sept. 30, 1845.

This certifies that I have recommended the use of WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for diseases of the Lungs, for two years past and many bottles to my knowledge have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results in two cases where it was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure. E BOYEN, Physician, at Exeter Corner.

NO QUACKERY! NO DECEPTION!

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine, are, in every respect TRUE BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS & IMITATIONS.

The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry in all the diseases for which it is recommended, curing many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large & increasing demand for it. This fact has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam

Be careful and get the genuine DR. WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. None genuine unless signed by I. BUTTS. Address all orders to SETH W. FOWLE, Boston Mass.

FEMALE SEMINARY.

THE exercises of this School, formerly under the management of Mr Thos. GIBSON have been resumed during the past week under the care and control of Mr. WILLIAM MERRILL, formerly of the State of Massachusetts.

The board of Trustees of this institution have engaged the services of Mr Merril after mature consideration and upon the most full examination of his credentials as to competency and character. Mr. M. has been engaged for ten years past as a teacher both in male and female seminaries in our country; and from those by whom he has been employed he brings ample testimonials. The board of Trustees also feel warranted in saying, that from their personal inspection and observation during the past week, of his management of the School, he will give general satisfaction. Mr. Merrill proposes for the present to give instruction in the following branches, to wit:

The common branches of a thorough English education,

The natural sciences—moral and mental Philosophy,

Rhetoric and the higher branches of Mathematics,

The Latin, Greek & French languages.

The annual vacation of the Seminary will commence on the 31st July of each year, and the exercises of the School be resumed on the 1st of October following. Those pupils desiring instruction in Music can receive lessons for the present from Mrs Rachael Hands, a lady most favorably known in this community; and as soon as the patronage of the school will warrant it, a female assistant will be procured to instruct the pupils in Music, Painting Drawing and other ornamental branches of female education.

"The Whig Standard,"

IS the title of a WEEKLY PAPER, issued every Saturday, in the City of Baltimore, at $1,00 per annum.

The Standard is thoroughly Whig and will zealously advocate all necessary reforms in the General, State and City government. It will expose the hypocrisy of those who advocate Conventional Reform in the name of Democracy, which is used as a cloak to hide from the yeomanry of Maryland, the most wild and revolutionary designs, all the Reform desired being nothing more nor less than the offices and emoluments of the State Government.

The Standard is designed to be a permanent Journal, and not a party ephemeral gotten up to feed the excitement of an approaching election and then die off. It will be free and fearless, controlled by neither "clique nor cabal" but open to the opinion of every good Whig in Old Maryland.

Etrurian Wheat.

A SMALL quantity of the above wheat may be had for seeds, by any one wishing to sow it this fall, by application to Mr. Graham if immediately made.

It is highly recommended to the Farmers of the United States by the Editor of "American Farmer" (in volume 1. No. 12) who has become the agent for the sale of it at $2 per bushel. It is an early white wheat, with a smooth head, very strong vigorous growth, though not fly proof—where the grower of it in this neighborhood had supposed it almost destroyed last fall, it recovered and produced over eight bushels to one. A sample may be seen at the Gazette Office.

Hemsley's Worm Destroying

SYRUP is performing wonders in the East read the following letter from a respectable old Lady, who resides in Connecticut. "Having used a bottle of your Worm Destroying Syrup I hereby send you a statement of my cure (which I consider a very remarkable one) in order that any who are afflicted with worms, may be induced to try your invaluable medicine. For the last thirteen years I have been very much afflicted, and thought the cause of my affliction was worms, but I had repeatedly taken the usual medicine prescribed by Physicians, without receiving any benefit therefrom. My case gradually grew worse and for the last two years I have suffered so severely that I had no hopes of ever getting better—My mind became affected and my person a good deal shattered, in consequence of my bodily sufferings, and for three months of the time I dare not suffer myself to go to sleep while lying down, on account of being frequently choked while in that position. A short time since, I tried a bottle of your Worm Destroying Syrup which brought away in astonishing quantity of worms of every sort and size. Of the whole quantity there could not have been less than three quarts. Since that I have been intirely relieved, and enjoy good health which I have not done before for thirteen years
