LOVE'S LANGUAGE.

Love hath a language that needeth no tongue:—
A blush, or a sigh, all unconscious perchance—
Or a smile, or a tear from its deep fountain wrung,
Or a grasp of the hand, or an eloquent glance.

These,—these are the tokens, which, voiceless, betray
Its depth of devotion that words may not reach:
In these can the bosom o'erburthened, essay
Its expression in language love only can teach!

Love readeth a language the world may not know;
Now it softly breathes hope—now turns hope to despair;
Fills the heart high with bliss, or deep sinks it in woe,
Yet impresses more deeply the loved image there.

Love speaketh a language whose words are his own:
Love readeth a language he only can feel:
In that language he worships, where voice is unknown,
For silence may best love's devotion reveal.

COWPER'S GRAVE.

It is a place where poets crowned
May feel the heart's decaying—
It is a place where happy saints
May weep amid their praying—
Yet let the grief and humbleness,
As low as silence, languish;
Earth surely now may give her calm
To whom she gave her anguish.

O poets! from a maniac's tongue
Was poured the deathless singing!
O Christians! at your cross of hope
A hopeless hand was clinging!
O men! this man, in brotherhood,
Your weary paths beguiling,
Groaned inly while he taught you peace,
And died while ye were smiling!

And now, what time ye all may read
Through dimming tears his story—
How discord on the music fell,
And darkness on the glory—
And how, when one by one, sweet sounds
And wandering lights departed,
He wore no less a loving face,
Because so broken-hearted—

He shall be strong to sanctify
The poet's high vocation,
And bow the meekest Christian down
In meeker adoration:
Nor ever shall he be, in praise,
By wise or good forsaken:
Named softly as the household name
Of one whom God hath taken!

ROSALIE.

BY M. FLORENCE NOBLE.

Slumber folds thee, silent-hearted
Slumber deep;
When the last Spring flowers departed,
Dreamless sleep
Fell upon thy eye-lids faint,
Garbed thee like a risen saint,
Vanished Rosalie.

Darling one! I saw thee sleeping
'Neath the pall
Which around thee sadly weeping,
Gathered all.
I, alas! who loved thee best,
Could not weep that thou wert blest,
Sainted Rosalie.

Round thy still meek face entwining,
Death flowers frail,
Bent their dew-wet brows, enshrining
Brow as pale;
On thy cheek the rose-bloom brief,
Dying left the lily leaf,
Vanished Rosalie.

Last Spring's flowers, darling, found thee
In thy bloom, [thee
This Spring's palest blossoms crowned
For the tomb:
Joyous Spring will come again—
But not to thee—
The violets woo thy hand in vain,
Silent Rosalie!

MISSING A REGIMENT.

When the army was coming out from Corpus Christi, near the Colorado, they began to meet with wild cattle. One day a soldier made chase to a bull, and becoming excited, forgot that the animal was between him and his regiment, and fired, missing his mark, and fortunately the regiment at the same time. The soldier was arrested for his carelessness and irregular conduct, but was soon released. A while after this our hero got into a desperate quarrel one morning with his better-half, and as their conversation was loud they were overheard. The corporal accused his spouse—an Irish woman—of taking a drop too much now and then, and seemed to be silencing her batteries very fast, when she broke out with, "Ah, yes, and its a soger ye calls yerself, isn't it to be sure! A nice soger, 'pon the life of me, you, that shot at a bull and missed a whole regiment; get out wid ye, and don't talk to me!—N. O Picayune.

Etrurian Wheat.

A SMALL quantity of the above wheat may be had for seed; by any one wishing to sow it this fall, by application to Mr. Graham if immediately made.

It is highly recommended to the Farmers of the United States by the Editor of "American Farmer" (in volume 1. No. 12) who has become the agent for the sale of it at $2 per bushel. It is an early white wheat, with a smooth head, very strong vigorous growth, though not fly proof—where the grower of it in this neighborhood had supposed it almost destroyed last fall, it recovered and produced over eight bushels to one. A sample may be seen at the Gazette Office.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

THE great remedy for Consumption, & the best medecine known to Man for Asthma of every stage, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Influenza, Coughs, Colds, Bleeding of the Lungs, Shortness of Breath, pains and weakness in the side, breast, &c and all other diseases of the PULMONARY ORGANS.

A very important disease over which this "Balsam" exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a DISEASED LIVER In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when Mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the Liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected PERMANENT CURES after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

Besides its astonishing efficacy in the diseases above mentioned, we also find it a very effectual remedy in ASTHMA, a complaint in which it has been extensively used with decided success, even in cases of years standing.

It not only emanates from a regular Physician, but has also been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. It is not my intention, therefore, either to cloak it in mistery, or in any way deceive the public by overrating its virtues, on the contrary, I shall simply endeavour to give a brief statement of its usefulness, and flatter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most incredulous, that Consumption may and "Can be Cured," if this medicine be resorted to in time.

Opinions of a regular Physician.

Exeter, Me. Sept, 30, 1845.

This certifies that I have recommended the use of WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for diseases of the Lungs, for two years past and many bottles to my knowledge have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results. In two cases where it was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure. E BOYEN, Physician, at Exeter Corner.

NO QUACKERY! NO DECEPTION!

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine, are, in every respect TRUE. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS & IMITATIONS.

The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry in all the diseases for which it is recommended, during many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large & increasing demand for it. This fact has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam.

Be careful and get the genuine DR. WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. None genuine unless signed by I BUTTS. Address all orders to SETH W. FOWLE, Boston Mass.

Hemsley's Worm Destroying

SYRUP is performing wonders in the East, read the following letter from a respectable old Lady, who resides in Connecticut. "Having used a bottle of your Worm Destroying Syrup I hereby send you a statement of my cure, (which I consider a very remarkable one) in order that any who are afflicted with worms, may be induced to try your invaluable medicine. For the last thirteen years I have been very much afflicted, and thought the cause of my affliction was worms, but I had repeatedly taken the usual medicine prescribed by Physicians, without receiving any benefit therefrom My case gradually grew worse and for the last two years I have suffered so severely that I had no hopes of ever getting better—My mind became affected and my reason a good deal shattered, in consequence of my bodily sufferings, and for three months of the time I dare not suffer myself to go to sleep while lying down, on account of being frequently choked while in that position. A short time since, I tried a bottle of your Worm Destroying Syrup which brought away an astonishing quantity of worms of every sort and size. Of the whole quantity there could not have been less than three quarts. Since that I have been intirely relieved, and enjoy good health which I have not done before for thirteen years
