GOV. KEARNEY'S PROCLAMATION. The Baltimore American speaking of this document, says: Here is an exercise of sovereignty with a high hand. The General, however, proclaims that he acts under instructions from the Government, meaning the President.

The act of annexation which united Texas with the Republic included all the territory on this side of the Rio Grande.—The extent, therefore, of Gen. Kearney's excess is that he claims as a part of the United States the territory of New Mexico on both sides of that river—which he has no right to do.

It is doubted in some quarters whether the document purporting to be Gen. Kearney's proclamation is a genuine paper.—Letters from Santa Fe of the same date and even of three days later do not mention it. Nevertheless it is likely enough to be authentic. A military man enacting the Proconsul is not apt to care about nice distinctions, or to content himself with claiming a part of a province when he has conquered the whole of it.

To the Congress of the United States, however, the matter will present itself with a serious aspect. The assumption of power to annex territory by the sword, to absolve Mexicans on Mexican soil from all allegiance to their own government—we refer to the territory of New Mexico on the other side of the Rio Grande—to pronounce them traitors if they oppose the arms of the United States and to threaten them with the punishment due to traitors for defending their own soil—surely these would be high handed proceedings on the part of any authority; how much more so when undertaken by a commanding General with no other authority than the directions of the President! Further comment may be spared until the facts of the case are fully known and laid before Congress.

THE MONTEREY CAPITULATION.—In relation to this subject, the Baltimore American says:—The official paper announces that instructions have been sent to Gen. Taylor, with all possible despatch, to terminate at once the armistice of eight weeks entered into by him with the Mexican Commander, contingent on the approval of their respective governments.

It appears that despatches were also sent to Gen. Taylor, after the refusal on the part of the Mexican Government to negotiate, urging him to push on the war with vigour, and to levy contributions on the enemy's country for the subsistence of his army.—These instructions, it is supposed, reached him soon after the Monterey capitulation was concluded. Are we not to infer that before these instructions reached him, and while he was treating with Ampudia on the basis of an armistice, Gen. Taylor had instructions of a different kind for his guidance? Is it not probable that he was informed of the intentions of the Government at Washington to propose negotiations to Mexico, and that expectations were entertained of a speedy pacification through the agency of Santa Anna? The facts of the case, when fully known, will prove, we suspect, that Gen. Taylor was conforming to the spirit of his instructions as strictly when he agreed to the Monterey capitulation, he will be conforming to his later instructions, when he shall resume active and offensive operations, with a view to the speedy compulsion of a peace.

The public confidence in Gen. Taylor is so strong that no other impression is likely to prevail except the firm belief that he has not only fought like a brave soldier and a wise commander at Monterey, but that the arrangement he has made with Ampudia was the best that could be made consistently with the circumstances of the case and the instructions under which he was acting. The brave old hero is not to be made responsible for vacillations at the seat of Government.

THE TRAGEDY AT RICHMOND.—An inquest was held at Richmond, Va., on Saturday, over the body of Mr. Hoyt, which resulted in a verdict of murder being rendered against Wm. R. Myers, and charging Saml. S. Myers and Wm. S. Burr with aiding and abetting in the murder.

A punctual attendance of the members is requested. By order,

By Last Evening's Boat!

By the steamboat Cambridge we learn that Davies, Locotoco, is elected Mayor of Balt. City by a majority of 106 votes.

From Pennsylvania, the news is highly favorable to the Whig cause. The Clipper states a Whig gain of 4 members of Congress as far as heard from, and the probability is that the Whig Canal Commissioner is elected in the State. We give the above as reported as we are not able to procure a morning's paper, but believe the report correct.

Gen. Taylor concludes one of his despatches, that of the 22d Sept. thus—

"I need hardly add, that the conduct of our troops, both regulars and volunteers, throughout the operations, has been everything that could be desired. The part which each corps contributed to the success of the day will appear more fully in future reports. To Major Generals Butler and Henderson, and Brigadier Generals Twiggs and Worth, commanding divisions, I must express my obligations for the efficient support which they have rendered—particularly so to Brigadier Gen. Worth, whose services, from his detached position have been most conspicuous.

THE TOWN OF MONTEREY.—This town now in possession of Gen. Taylor, is the capital of the State of New Leon. It is on the Fernando river, about 220 miles from its mouth. It has well paved streets and mostly one story stone buildings.—The population is about 12,000, and the city is situated on the main travelling route from the Rio Grande to the city of Mexico.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—In compliance with a custom which has now, we presume, become time-honored in our good State of Maryland, his Excellency the Governor has appointed Thursday, the 26th day of November, to be observed by our people as a day of thanksgiving and praise, for the continued favors vouchsafed to us at the hands of a benign and paternal Providence.

A GALLANT PHILADELPHIAN.—Lieut. Ayres was the first person to reach the ballyards on the entrenchment of the Bishop's Palace at Monterey, and to lower the Mexican flag. Lieut. Ayres is a young officer in Col. Childs' regiment of artillery, and a native of Philadelphia. He commanded a company in storming the Castle, and distinguished himself by his bravery.

"AFFLICTION SHOPS."

It is not perhaps generally known in the provinces, says the Liverpool Standard, that within the last half dozen years, mercers, shops have been opened in different parts of the metropolis for the exclusive sale of articles of mourning, and that with a view to consistency, the whole establishment—masters, shopmen and apprentices, are dressed up in the "garb of woe." A gentleman lately entered one of these sombre emporiums, and inquired if he could be supplied with a pair of dark grey gloves. He received a reply in the affirmative, and was politely requested to step forward into the "mitigated affliction department"—an inner room—where he would be immediately attended to. Here he found, instead of the dismal black which everywhere met his gaze in the front shop, an extensive assortment of goods adapted to half, or second mourning, and a second establishment of shopmen, &c., in costume of a "mitigated" character! This is a refinement in the drapery business which leaves the country shop-keepers at an immeasurable distance in the rear of their metropolitan brethern. What next?

THE STRONG MAN.

"My son, hold up your head, and tell me who was the strongest man?"

"Jonah!"

"Why so?"

"'Cause the whale couldn't hold him after he had got him down."

"That's a man; take your seat."

YOU SHALL BELIEVE.—Belief is not an act of the will. Sufficient evidence compels our assent; so listen, dear reader and I will convince you that Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is by far the best remedy for diseases of our climate to be found in this country. It is formed by chemical extracts from vegetables (the Wild Cherry, Pine, etc.) that nature seems to have placed here at powerful antidotes to all affections of the Lungs and Liver that our ever changing climate induces.—After the skill of our greatest physicians was exhausted, it has cured Asthma in various cases. It cured a lady of an incipient Consumption, whose family had all died of the same disease. Refer to Isaac Platt, Esq., Editor of Poughkeepsie Eagle." Thomas Cozens, Haddonfield, N. J., testified under oath, that it cured him of an internal Abscess, violent Cough, raising of Blood, etc., after he was deemed beyond hope. We could refer to plenty of such instances of its uncommon power. The doubting are invited to inquire of individuals and cases that we allude to, as we publish no statements that will not bear the most rigid scrutiny.

LET ALL THE WORLD KNOW THAT SELLERS' VERMIFUGE is the Best in Use! Here is the proof.

LICKING STATION, Ky., Dec. 17th 1845.

Mr. R. E. Sellers:—I have the pleasure to inform you that I have used in my practice your celebrated Vermifuge with the most happy results. I have formerly used Fahnestock's but being persuaded to try yours, I have found it far superior in every respect, and can say without the fear of contradiction, that your Vermifuge possesses more virtue than any I ever used, and most cordially recommend it to the attention of the public. I will state a case where I gave one vial of your vermifuge: My brother's child was pining and wasting to a mere skeleton; in 30 hours after I gave the Vermifuge, the enormous quantity of upwards of six hundred worms were passed. The child that was given up as lost, is now well and as hearty as any in the neighborhood. AMBROSE AENETT, M. D.
