POETRY.

From Blackwood's Magazine.

THE HA' BIBLE.

Chief of the Household Gods
Which hallow Scotland's lowly cottage-homes!
While looking on thy signs
That speak, though dumb, deep thought upon me comes—
With glad, yet solemn dreams my heart is stirred,
Like childhood's when it hears the carol of a bird!

The Mountains old and hoar—
The chainless Winds—the Stream so pure and free—
The God-enameled Flowers—
The waving Forest—the eternal Sea—
The Eagle floating o'er the mountain's brow—
Are Teachers all; but O! they are not such as Thou!

O! I could worship thee!
Thou art a gift a God of love might give;
For Love and hope and joy
In thy Almighty-written pages live!
The Slave who reads shall never crouch again;
For, mind-inspired by Thee, he burst his feeble chains!

God! unto Thee I kneel,
And thank Thee! Thou unto my native land—
Yea to the outspread Earth—
Hast stretched in love Thy Everlasting hand,
And Thou hast given Earth, and Sea, and Air—
Yea all that heart can ask of Good and Pure and Fair!

And, Father, Thou hast spread
Before men's eyes this charter of the Free,
That all Thy Book might read,
And justice love, and Truth, and Liberty.
The Gift was unto man—the Giver God!
Thou Slave! it stamps thee man—go spurn thy weary load.

Thou doubly-precious Book!
Unto thy light what doth not Scotland owe?
Thou teachest Age to die,
And youth in truth unsullied up to grow!
In lowly homes a comforter art thou—
A sunbeam sent from God—an everlasting bow!

O'er thy broad ample page
How many dim and aged eyes have pored?
How many hearts o'er thee
In silence deep and holy have adored!
How many Mothers, by their infants' bed
Thy holy, blessed, pure, child-loving words have read!

And o'er thee soft young hands
Have oft in truthful plighted Love been joined,
And thou to wedded hearts
Hast been a bond—an altar of the mind!
Above all kingly power or kingly law!—
May Scotland reverence aye—the Bible of the Ha'!

TUPPER.

I LOVE TO LIVE.

"I love to live" said a prattling boy,
As he gaily played with his new bought toy,
And a merry laugh went echoing forth;
From a bosom filled with joyous mirth.

"I love to live" said a stripling bold—
"I will seek for fame—I will toil for gold,"
And he formed in his pleasure many a plan
To be carried out when he grew a man.

"I love to live" said a lover true,
"Oh, gentle maid I would live for you;
I have labored hard in search of fame—
I have found it but an empty name."

"I love to live" said a happy sire,
As his children neared the wintry fire;
For his heart was cheered to see their joy,
And he almost wished himself a boy.

"I love to live" said an aged man,
Whose hour of life was well nigh ran—
Think you such words from him were wild?
The old man was again a child.

And ever thus in this fallen world,
Is the banner of hope to the breeze unfurled;
And only with hope of life on high,
Can a mortal ever love to die.

I LIVE TO LOVE.

"I live to love" said a laughing girl,
And she playfully tossed each flaxen curl;
And she climbed on her loving father's knee,
And snatched a kiss in her childish glee.

"I live to love" said a maiden fair,
As she twined a wreath for her sister's hair:
They were bound by the chords of love together,
And death alone could these sisters sever.

"I live to love" said a gay young bride,
Her loved one standing by her side,
Her life told again what her lips had spoken,
And never was the link of affection broken.

"I live to love" said a mother kind—
"I would live a guide to the infant mind,"
Her precepts and example given,
Guided her children home to Heaven.

"I shall live to love" said a fading form,
And her eye was bright and her cheek grew warm;
As she thought on the blissful world on high,
She would live to love and never die.

And ever thus in this lower world,
Should the banner of Love be wide unfurled,
And when we meet in the world above,

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF

WILD CHERRY,

THE great remedy for Consumption, & the best medicine known to Man for Asthma of every stage. Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Influenza, Coughs, Colds, Bleeding of the Lungs, Shortness of Breath, pains and weakness in the side, breast, &c. and all other diseases of the PULMONARY ORGANS.

A very important disease over which this "Balsam" exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a DISEASED LIVER. In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when Mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the Liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected PERMANENT CURES after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

Besides its astonishing efficacy in the diseases above mentioned, we also find it a very effectual remedy in ASTHMA, a complaint in which it has been extensively used with decided success, even in cases of years standing.

It not only emanates from a regular Physician, but has also been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. It is not my intention, therefore, either to cloak it in mistery or in any way deceive the public by overrating its virtues, on the contrary, I shall simply endeavour to give a brief statement of its usefulness, and flatter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most incredulous, that Consumption may and Can be Cured," if this medicine be resorted to in time.

Opinions of a regular Physician.

Exeter, Me. Sept, 30, 1845.

This certifies that I have recommended the use of WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for diseases of the Lungs, for two years past and many bottles to my knowledge have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results. In two cases where it was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure. E BOYEN, Physician at Exeter Corner.

NO QUACKERY! NO DECEPTION!

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine, are, in every respect TRUE BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS & IMITATIONS.

The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry in all the diseases for which it is recommended, curing many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large & increasing demand for it. This fact has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam

Be careful and get the genuine DR. WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. None genuine unless signed by I BUTTS. Address all orders to SETH W. FOWLE, Boston Mass.

The well-known celebrity in Europe and this Country, of Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, has induced the subscriber to commence the re publication of this fashionable London Monthly.

It is a matter of surprise that the Republication of this Work was not commenced some years since. On looking over some of the late numbers, we find them filled with Stories and Poetry, and Narratives, the most of which fall but little beaind those published in the Edinburgh Work, and many surpass even the emanations from the Giant intellects of the contributors to the great Northern Magazine. The best writers of the day contribute to its pages.

It has now been published seventeen years in London, and has a circulation exceeding 70,000 copies through England, Scotland, Ireland, and the continent of Europe. It is translated into several of the continental languages—it being the only instance of an English Magazine receiving that compliment.

The publication will commence in October next, and will be continued monthly.

The Standard is thoroughly Whig and will zealously advocate all necessary reforms in the General, State and City government. The Standard is designed to be a permanent Journal, and not a party ephemeral gotten up to feed the excitement of an approaching election and then die off. It will be free and fearless, controlled by neither "elique nor cabal" but open to the opinion of every good Whig in Old Maryland.
