POETRY.

THE PHANTOM FUNERAL.

BY H. H. CLEMENTS.

"Life is a walking shadow."

Far and fading lay a city
In the arms of silence old—
Rising upwards, while the moonlight
Wrapped around its warning fold:
Spire and dome and tower all mingled,
Pierced the hollow of the sky;
And one blazing star was singled
To illume the mystery.

At a palace oriel, growing
Crimson with the rise of day,
Still I mused, as night was trailing
Her gray shadows far away.
Wearily my dim eyes wandered
To the far flush of the skies,
And my heart run over in them,
At its tender memories.

Dim and mistily before me
Rose the changes of my thought,
Each in sombre shape embodied—
Each into a being wrought:
Melancholy groups assembled
In this early watch of morn,
And they fearfully resembled
What within my soul was born.

Oft it is that the unreal
A reality assumes,
Till the light of the ideal
All the heaven of truth illumes,
From the mind's high palace gazing,
We can make the distant near—
Make the world within more truthful
Than the outward can appear.

Nature's infant anthem calling
Into music all the trees,
Throbbed like yearnings of a wind-harp,
Swept by fingers of the breeze:—
Gray and distant rolled an ocean,
Wrestling with the maddened winds,
Till one universe of motion
Wide creation's forehead binds.

In the chancel aisle of morning,
Light and gloom together lay;
Till at last the Orient kindled
On the hearth-stone of the day.
Suddenly, through all the city,
Rose a throng of Phantoms slow;—
Murmuring moved they, like that ocean
In its deep and slumberous flow.

Wailings high they strove to waken,
Solemn canticles to sing,
And in every mighty tower,
Tolling bells began to swing;
But their chaunts so hoar and ancient,
Frostily they seemed to rise—
Till they vanished in the dawning,
Like the dew's first sacrifice.

Winding through the silent city,
Still the shadowy train moves round,
Gliding slowly like a shadow
O'er the dark and beaten ground;
But no mourner leaves a foot print—
No wayfarer stops to say,
'Tis the Elders of the City,
In their march of death—Give way!

Not a violet opens its eyelid
To the thick and stagnant air—
No bird-minstrel, early wakened,
Offers up its soul in prayer.
Dreadly a Raven standeth
On a solitary tower;
Like an evil spirit, waiting
To proclaim the judgment hour.

Still that train in dead convention,
Multiplies like nations all
Gathered as the waves of ocean,
When the solemn night winds call.
From the grave of ages buried,
Sculptured memories arise,
And again renew in Phantoms
Life's forgotten pageantries.

Christ of Calvary—adorers—
Seer and saint are mingled there,
Till it seems the very chambers
Of Eternity are bare—
Sages who in the Earth's morning
Sat with thought as with a friend,
And the great of later ages
Made the past and present blend.

All the host of blood-stained heroes,
War's red revelers, who furled
The torn flag of conquest never
O'er a battle-withered world,
Men whose hearts beat high for slaughter,
When the purple field with gore
Ebbed and flowed, as the fierce pulses
Of the ocean beat the shore.

Those who from their toils long resting—
Who the cross to battle bore—
Came with their barbaric splendor,
Back to being as of yore—
Came all back in solemn silence
To this city of my thought—
Which rose more complete in structure
Than man's art hath ever wrought.

One bright being, like an angel,
Moved among the spirit throng—
Beautiful, as the last echoes
Of a Poet's sweetest song.
She had been in years of sadness,
A lone tenant, dwelling there,
Till her presence made a madness
Of love's wilderness of air.

They go onward—never resting—
Phantoms to life's final goal—
Pale and pensive pilgrims gathering
In the pathway of the soul.
Some were clad with virtue's lightning,
Some all robed in radiant thought;
Some star-crowned, went onward brightening
All the realms my fancy wrought.

High o'er all there loomed a shadow,
Towering vast in lofty gloom;
Like a pall of folded darkness,
Thrown above the gulf of doom:
And where'er it moved the horror
Deepened till it grew sublime,
For within this shroud lay curtained
The calm corse of withered Time

Passed they from this city's portal
From its far and searching sight,
Fading as the morning's spirit
Took to Heaven its golden flight.
As they came they went, in shadow:
Viewless as the zephyrs die—
Each, with unseen hands, climbs upward
The lost ladder of the sky.

Thus will pass from off our vision,
All that is of being born—
Fading, like this thought-built city,
In the early mists of morn,
This majestic world of nature—
All beneath God's open sky—
Will drift downward to the shoreless
Sea of Vast Eternity.

It is a matter of surprise that the Republication of this Work was not commenced some years since. On looking over some of the late numbers, we find them filled with Stories and Poetry, and Narratives, the most of which fall but little behind those published in the Edinburgh Work, and many surpass even the emanations from the Giant intellects of the contributors to the great Northern Magazine. The best writers of the day contribute to its pages.

It has now been published seventeen years in London, and has a circulation exceeding 70,000 copies through England, Scotland, Ireland, and the continent of Europe. It is translated into several of the continental languages—it being the only instance of an English Magazine receiving that compliment.

The publication will commence in October next, and will be continued monthly.

The American Farmer.

The 2d volume of the new series of this journal will commence on the 1st of July, 1846, and the subsequent numbers will be issued on the first of each month as usual. The very extended circulation which the FARMER has attained since its publication in its present form, (being a large octavo, of 32 pages each No.) is a gratifying evidence that the labors of its conductors have not been in vain. The "FARMER" is the oldest agricultural publication in the United States, the volume just completed being the 27 year of its existence, and evinces in its vigorous old age, a stamina which will favorably compare with any of its contemporaries.

The Standard is thoroughly Whig and will zealously advocate all necessary reforms in the General, State and City government. The Standard is designed to be a permanent Journal, and not a party ephemeral gotten up to feed the excitement of an approaching election and then die off. It will be free and fearless, controlled by neither "clique nor cabal" but open to the opinion of every good Whig in Old Maryland.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

THE great remedy for Consumption, & the best medecine known to Man for Asthma of every stage, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Influenza, Coughs, Colds, Bleeding of the Lungs, Shortness of Breath, pains and weakness in the side, breast, &c. and all other diseases of the PULMONARY ORGANS.

A very important disease over which this "Balsam" exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a DISEASED LIVER In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when Mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the Liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected PERMANENT CURES, after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

Besides its astonishing efficacy in the diseases above mentioned, we also find it a very effectual remedy in ASTHMA, a complaint in which it has been extensively used with decided success, even in cases of years standing.

It not only emanates from a regular Physician, but has also been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. It is not my intention, therefore, either to cloak it in mistery, or in any way deceive the public by overrating its virtues, on the contrary, I shall simply endeavour to give a brief statement of its usefulness, and flatter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most incredulous, that Consumption may and "Can be Cured," if this medicine be resorted to in time.

Opinions of a regular Physician.

Exeter, Me. Sept, 30, 1845.

This certifies that I have recommended the use of WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for diseases of the Lungs, for two years past and many bottles to my knowledge have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results. In two cases where it was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure. E BOYEN, Physician. at Exeter Corner.

NO QUACKERY! NO DECEPTION!

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine, are, in every respect, TRUE. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS & IMITATIONS.

The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry in all the diseases for which it is recommended, curing many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large & increasing demand for it. This fact has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam

Be careful and get the genuine DR. WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. None genuine unless signed by I BUTTS. Address all orders to SETH W. FOWLE, Boston Mass.

"SUGAR COATED" PILLS.
BEWARE! CAUTION!!

The increasing popularity of Dr G. BENJ. SMITH'S IMPROVED INDIAN VEGETABLE SUGAR COATED PILLS, has induced a number of persons to make something they call PILLS, and coat them with sugar, in order to sell them for the genuine, while they do not possess a particle of the goodness, nor even assimilate in appearance to the original, Dr. Smith's Pills. In short they are intended FRAUD upon the community. A minister who at first had an interest in an imitation Sugar Coated Pill, manufactured at Albany, N. Y., has given them up, as he says on account of the miserable dishonest parties concerned in manufacturing them. The same party are now industriously circulating reports calculated to injure Dr. Smith and to affect the reputation of his valuable pills; but rather than notice them in public. Dr Smith is about to institute legal proceedings against them for their slanders, as he has in another case against a similar party, in which he recovered a large amount of damages. These miserable imitators have to resort to the most abominable means to palm off their counterfeit pills as the public know that Dr. Smith's are the original and genuine. Several instances have come to public notice in which life has been endangered by the unfortunate use of the counterfeits. It is Dr Smith's Pills that are doing so much good in the country—as the following plainly show.

MORE MINISTERS.

Use and Recommend Dr Smith's Pills than all others

This is to certify that I have used the Sugar Coated Pills Manufactured by G. Benjamin Smith of New York, for some time, and believe them to be a good medicine; also, from inquiry in that city I am persuaded that he is the original inventor, and therefore is entitled to the benefit of the invention.

S. WILLIAMS.
Pastor 1st Baptist Church.

From the Blue Hens's Chicken, (Del.)

We call the attention of our readers to the certificate of Rev. S. Williams, Pastor of 1st Baptist Church, Pittsburgh, in relation to Dr. Smith's Pills. We can ourselves bear testimony to the excellence of these Pills, one of us having used them and experienced great relief from them.

The above is the best paper in the State of Delaware.

The "improved indian vegetable Pills," (Sugar Coated) are certainly doing much good in the whole country, and are highly esteemed. it one half is true that people write and say about them. They are so easy in their operation that all like them. The editor of the Northern State Journal, (one of the largest and best papers in the State of N. Y.,) writes as follows.

Watertown, May 31, 1846.

Dr. G Benj Smith—

Dear Sir: I was laid up with a bad co'd some time since my return from N. Y. and during my illness I made trial of your pills and I must say I found them excellent. They are the best medicine for the purposes they are intended, that I have yet seen. I seldom take pills, but I found yours entirely free from the objections to which other pills are liable. I hope they will continue to be a source of profit to you, as I doubt not they will be a means of relief to the afflicted on a large scale. Yours truly,

J. GREEN.

Tonawanda, Pa., Sept. 18, 1846.

Dr. G. Benj. Smith—

Dear Sir: Your agent left with me a lot of your Sugar coated Pills, and I have but a few boxes left. Every box I have sold has given entire satisfaction. I have taken them myself and I consider them the best pills I have ever used, and I am not afraid to recommend them to the public. I wish a further supply at once.

Yours respectfully,
JACOB KIBLER, P. M.

Huntington, Ind., June 21, 1846.

Dr. Smith—

Dear Sir. I am most out of your "Indian Vegetable Sugar Coated Pills," and find them selling so fast that I think you had better send me two gross immediately. They give such general satisfaction that people come at least twenty miles for them, and as it is generally known I am agent for them, I would be very sorry to get out.

Yours respectfully,
SAML. MORE & Co.

BEWARE!!!

If G. BENJ. SMITH be not written with a pen on the bottom of the box, all "Sugar Coated" Pills are counterfeit!
