Maryland Legislature.

[Reported for the Balt. Clipper.)

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 2, 1847.

An effort was made, by Mr. French, to procure the keeping of a diary of the attendance of members; but on the motion ef Mr. Swan, his order was postponed till the 9th of March next.

Mr. Orrick offered an order, directing inquiry into the propriety of doing away with hanging and substituting confinement for life, which was adopted; as was also an order, submitted by Mr. French, directing arms to be delivered to Captain McCoy's troop of horse, of Washington county.

Mr. Dirickson, from committee, submitted an order requiring the contestants in Caroline county tie case, to bring in their vouchers, &c., which was adopted.

Mr. Stephenson reported a bill for electing the Register and Clerk of Harford county by the people.

The House adjourned at an early hour.

SENATE.—Mr. Phelps reported a bill to confirm the Biennial Session act. Read and laid over.

Bills from the House in favor of Jacob Grove, of Carroll county, and W. O. Chappel, of Montgomery county, and regulating the Collectors fees for Baltimore co., were severally pssed.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 4, 1847.

In the House, Mr. Ware and Mr. Orrick presented memorials from citizens of Baltimore, praying it may be submitted to a vote of the people, whether they will assent to the sale of liquors, &c. Mr. Steck a petition from Andrew Whaley, of Allegany county, for a change of name to Andrew Jackson Whaley. Mr. Wicks, a petition from citizens of Kent county.—Sundry reports were received from county clerks, &c. all of which were appropriately referred.

Leaves were granted to report bills, to Mr Patterson, of Baltimore city, to incorporate the white lead chemical manufacture to Mr. Steck, for electing the mayor of Cumberland, Allegany county, by the people; to Mr. Jarrett, to extend the jurisdiction of magistrates of Harford county; to Mr. Hamilton, making magistrates' judgments in certain cases a lien upon real estate; to Mr. Orrick, to suppress the practice of quackery in medicine; to Mr. Risteau, reducing the price of collecting taxes in Baltimore co.

Mr. Risteau submitted an order directing inquiry into the necessity of amending the law requiring deeds &c., to be written on stamped paper, by allowing parties to pay the fee, &c.; which was adopted.

Mr. McMaster submitted an order calling for a return of the vote on the biennial session bill; which was adopted.

Mr. Spencer reported a bill; relating to primary schools in Kent county; which laid over under the rule.

Some time was passed in considering a new series of rules reported for the government of the House, but they were finally postponed for future action.

In the Senate, there was little else done than debate the propriety of referring the bill confirming the biennial session act to the committee on the judiciary, or making it the order of some certain day. On motion of Mr Sellman, however, it was referred to a select committee of five. Adjourned.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 5, 1847.

HOUSE.—The annual report of the Treasurer was presented, 1000 copies ordered to be printed. Reports from Tobacco warehouses Nos. 2 and 5, and a petition from J. B. Wilkinson, were presented and referred; as also a memorial, signed by 825 inhabitants of Baltimore county, for permission to pay their taxes into the Treasury, so as to save the price of collection.

The "biennial session" question was a gain up, upon a motion of Mr. Done for leave to report a bill confirmatory of the act of last session. Several propositions were offered, calling for information as to what amendments of the Constitution will be necessary to make that act effective, which gave rise to some debate. The motion was finally carried as amended.

An order was passed calling upon the Attorney General for an opinion, as to the constitutionality of lottery grants.

Mr. Orrick obtained leave to report a bill regulating the assemblage of colored persons, so far as concerns deceased persons; Mr. Steck, a bill to create an additional election district in Allegany, county; Mr. Patterson, of Allegany, to allow Christopher Gottman to hold real estate; Mr. French, to incorporate the Boonsboro' Ringgold Riflemen; Mr. Downey to elect the clerk and register of Allegany county by the people.

Orders were passed, directing inquiry into the expediency of a new assessment of real and personal property and whether and what reduction may be made in the expenditures of the State.

Bills were passed, in favor of E. L Ford, of Cecil county, and incorporating the Sabbath School of Chester parish, Kent county.

Dr. Orrick, from committee, reported a bill, prohibiting the Sale of medicines, unless approved by the regular profession.—Ordered to be printed. Adjourned.

SENATE.—A bill to make valid the official proceeding of a magistrate in Alleghany county; and a bill from the House, in favor of John Kenendle, of Washington county, were passed.

☞This afternoon, Dr. Wickom, of Richmond, Virginia, shot himself at Copp's. He had been firing in the Pistol Galleiy.—He deliberately put his pistol to the right side of his head, and pulled the trigger.—The gentleman from whom I derive the information informs me that the Doctor cannot survive.

☞Dr. Wickom, the gentlemen referred to in the above notice, has since died of the wound inflicted by his own hand. No reason is assigned for this rash act.

EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, Md.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 9.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

This paper is creditable alike to the head and heart of the Executive, and reminds us most forcibly of the good old Republican times of our Fathers when party and self had less to do than now with the conscience and conduct of the public functionary. It is a plain, candid straight-forward document, which, while it cannot fail to attract the admiration of the Governor's friends throughout the State, must command by its general tone and character the respectful consideration of all parties. Here are no fine spun apologies, no special pleadings, no fair promises. While every thing important to the interests of the State receives its full share of attention, we find nothing superfluous upon any page of the message.—Would the same fearless patriotism, the same disregard for popularity when conflicting with duty, might ever prompt the high functionaries of both State and Federal Governments, in the discharge of their official obligations! Shame would less frequently take the place of that proud esteem in which those in power should study to be regarded by the people. Happy will it be for old Maryland if her future rulers shall be animated by the same disinterested love of country, and the same unshrinking devotion to the high trusts committed to their keeping, as thus far has characterized the course of the present Gubernatorial incumbent!

The energy and success of Governor Pratt's administration receives additional lustre from a consideration of the deranged condition of the State at the time of his induction into office. The credit of the commonwealth had well nigh departed forever—unblushing repudiation had begun to acquire votaries—and even the slender means adopted to arrest these deplorable tendencies had failed of any good result, from the timidity of the agents employed by the government to execute its plans, as well as the unmanly connivance of the government itself. The results of the policy adopted by Mr. Pratt appeal to the judgment of every reflecting and discriminating mind. Order has been diffused through the political chaos; and health and soundness restored to the diseased and crippled finances of the State.

The arrears of interest, as will appear by the message, were on the 1st December, 1844, $1,432,154,50. Although the direct tax had been operating since 1810, so inefficient were its provisions, that the payment of the interest accruing, fell short by the sum of $260,361. In the fiscal year of 1845 the payments amounted to $55,361,25 more than the year's interest on the debt; and in the fiscal year just closed the amount paid was $75,863,83 over the interest, being an increase also of $21,505 over the sum raised during the preceding year.

Encouraged by these facts the Governor mentions the first of October next, as a suitable day for the resumption of cash payments of all demands on the treasury, in the full confidence that the means in operation will meet the expenses due.—The statement is numerically and clearly made out by the Governor, and deserves the attention of every citizen jealous of the honor and prosperity of the State. The channels enumerated through which the desired amount is expected to accrue to the Treasury are, Direct taxes; other sources; additional taxes from Baltimore city growing out of the late assessment; increased revenues from stamps on Lottery tickets, and tax on commissions of Trustees; enlarged receipts from the Internal improvement companies; and the pecuniary saving to the State by the Biennial Session bill. Should any deficiency occur in the amount to be raised, it is proposed to borrow such deficit, on a pledge of the Bank stock held by the State.

The earnest purpose of the Governor is obviously to redeem the credit of the State, and relieve it, as far as in his power, of the debt which like an incubus has pressed heavily upon its vital system, and paralized its functions. During the two short years of his official term, a much larger amount has been paid into the Treasury than was required to meet demands, whereas during the two preceding years the reverse was the case, the receipts being far short of the required sum. These are facts which proclaim loudly the industry, skill and efficiency which distinguish the existing administration of our public affairs. It is moreover worthy of remark, that this improvement in the financial department has been accomplished by no plan of oppressive and burdensome taxation. If taxable objects have been multiplied, they are nevertheless such as can be borne by all without personal inconvenience or injustice. The whole system has been so wisely equalized, that the necessitous and wealthy are taxed precisely in proportion to their respective ability to meet the demands of the Government.

Other topics of general importance are ably treated in the message with which we have not thought proper to occupy our columns at present, preferring to present the subject more immediately interesting to the citizens of Maryland. We commend the entire paper to the calm and careful perusal of every voter. Let every man inform himself of the condition of his State, and the conduct of its rulers, and not allow himself to be influenced by the pseudo statements of intriguing and designing demagogues, who secure their unholy ends of personal aggrandizement, by misleading the public mind from the consideration of truth. We challenge the investigation of men of all political creeds into the acts of the Executive. We have every confidence in his integrity and decision of character, and feel proud of him as a Whig and as a Marylander.

TEA AND COFFEE TAX.—The ingenious plan of the administration of reducing the revenue on the one hand and increasing the expenses of the government on the other, appears to have reached an undesirable crisis. The Treasury is in imminent peril, and the learned and voluminous Secretary has applied to Congress for relief; but notwithstanding the eloquence lavished by this officer upon the committee of ways and means, the people have sternly refused to allow the duty demanded on Tea and Coffee. This non-compliance of Congress in the wishes of the Government places the administration in a singularly awkward dilemma. The issue is, NO WAR, OR THE TAX. The representatives declare that the duty shall NOT be imposed. What next? While this resort of the Government lays bare the inefficiency of its policy to meet the demands on the Treasury, the action of Congress in regard to it furnishes a small sample of the sort of rebuke which the party in power are destined to receive from the people in return for the system of deception they have practised upon the country, and the reckless manner in which they have trampled upon its rights and prerogatives.

For ourselves we are disposed to think the vote of the House all right, provided it be intended merely as an assertion of the independence of the people, and a gentle method of bringing Mr. Polk and his Cabinet to a just view of their proper position. It should, however, be a revocable decision, to be reconsidered at the proper time. It is no longer a question with the American people whether the war now in existence between Mexico and the U. States was or was not justifiable ab initio—whether it was or was not the act of ONE man, irrespective of the rights of the people or the requisitions of the Constitution. Enough that the war has begun—is in progress. Enough that the soil of the enemy has drank the blood of our noblest citizens. Enough that the National honor is now at stake—its credit in peril. It becomes our duty as patriot men to stand by the country, and wait patiently for the retributive justice which shall be meeted out by an indignant people, unto those who have needlessly and without authority plunged them into this vortex of expense and danger.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The January number is before us with its usual amount of attractions, in the shape of engravings and excellent literary matter in prose and verse.

IMPROVEMENTS.—We have omitted to notice the typographical improvements in the Baltimore Clipper and Western Continent. The latter paper is becoming one of the best weeklies in the country, under the admirable management of Messrs. Carpenter & Thompson. With the former gentleman we have enjoyed years of intimate acquaintance and can vouch for his taste and ability. No young writer in the land promises fairer distinction in the world of letters than does Mr. Carpenter.

NEW PAPER.—We have received the first number of "The Gleaner," a promising weekly, of the largest size, edited and published by Jasper Harding, Esq. A specimen number can be seen at this office.

☞We offer our acknowledgments to Mr. Hambleton, of the Senate, for a pamphlet copy of the Governor's Message.

☞Beauty without honesty is like poison kept in a box of gold.

☞Opinion of the press:

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.—Whenever this medicine is introduced, it at once attains that high reputation which it so richly deserves. What can stop its sale, when on every hand can be witnessed its wonderful cures? The worst cases of Asthma, recent but dangerous Coughs, (and also those that are of long standing,) Bronchitis and Consumption, (in its early stages,) are always cured by this remarkable medicine.—Cincinnati Inquirer.

From the New Berlin Union Star of December 31, 1841:—Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—According to a number of recommendations in our possession, from doctors and other individuals, and from a knowledge of the benefits derived from the use of it by some of our neighbors, we respectfully recommend it to families. We have made use of the Balsam ourselves, and found that it produced such effects as recommended.

SELLERS' IMPERIAL COUGH SYRUP

PITTSBURGH Feb. 6th, 1846.

MR. R. E SELLERS:—Though I do not believe any further testamonials are necessary to establish the reputation of your justly famed Cough Syrup, I feel compelled as an act of duty, to mention several cases which came under my immediate notice, in members of families whom I was in duty bound to relieve at any cost; complained of hard breathing, a severe cough and no expectoration, loss of appetite, with strong symptoms of pulmonary consumption. I mentioned your Syrup and they begged I would procure some, which I did. I am happy to report that they are quite relieved the Syrup having produced the desired effect in every instance. You are well assured of its good effects upon myself. Hoping that this may reach the notice of persons suffering from coughs and colds, I remain your obedient servant,

DIED,

On the morning of the fifth of January, Mrs. Mary B. Price, wife of Joseph R. Price, Esq.

It belongs more to the praise of woman, to be loved and appreciated within the domestic walls than beyond them. Of a naturally retired temperament, this amiable lady, had for some time, under the effects of indisposition, been still more withdrawn from the circle of life and respect abroad, to the dearer circle of her own family and home. Deeply loved, and therefore deeply lamented, her change from time to eternity, was in the assured faith of Him, on Whom alone depends the fruition of the promises; and though we mourn her as one that was loved, it is as one that is not lost but is gone before.
