A SEVERE REBUKE.—The Tuscaloosa Observer, the new democratic paper at the late seat of Government in Alabama, administers the following severe, but just and merited rebuke to the Slanderers of old "Rough and Ready:"

ATTACK ON GEN. TAYLOR.—Two members of the House of Representatives in Congress, have been bad enough, or fools enough, to commence a malignant attack on the war worn veteran who has led our armies to uninterrupted victory through the miasmata and marshes of the Rio Grande. They dare to charge him with inefficiency, when he never fired a shot which did not tell; and with delay, when he lay on the banks of the fatal river with no means of transportation; and when unprecedented inundations would have rendered all such means useless if he had had them. These men are Ficklin of Illinois, and Thompson of Mississippi. We blush to say they are democrats. We cannot believe that they speak for any but themselves. But what we do not only believe, but know is that democrats or whigs, if they persevere in the scandalous and disgraceful attack, they and all who abet them, will rush upon their own destruction. The South at least, will stand by their gallant son, grown gray under his country's banner, and they will spit with scorn on their faithless representatives, who like Thompson of Mississippi, dare to traduce him from their comfortable seats, whilst he is still battling his country's foes amid the rains and the lightnings of the tropics.

Abolition of Slavery in Delaware.—The House of Representative of Delaware, has, by a vote of 12 to 8, passed a bill for the gradual abolition of slavery in that State.

EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, Md.

SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 27.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

"Censor" in reply to "Napoleon," of the Star, will appear next week.

22d FEBRUARY.

This illustrious anniversary occasion was not suffered to pass in Easton, without certain ceremonial observances appropriate to the day. Notwithstanding the very unfavorable state of the weather our military companies were abroad, and never, we may truly add, looked more imposing, or acquitted themselves with more distinguished credit. Guards, Dragoons, and Cadets were successively objects of admiration to a numerous body of spectators. No one indeed, who feels a proper pride in the military advancement of old Talbot, could fail of being highly gratified by the fine soldier-like bearing, the tasteful costume, and skillful evolution which characterized each of those admirable corps. We sincerely trust that the enthusiasm which marked the early history of the military associations in this Town, and which has been slumbering for some time past, will be revived; and that we shall more frequently see the "nodding plume" on our streets, and catch the sound of the soaring fife mingling its notes with the quick beat of "the alarming drum."

C. R. EDWARDS, ESQ.—This gentleman, so recently one of ourselves, is the subject of honorable notice in a late Cincinnati paper, in connection with other distinguished devotees of the pencil and palette. The "Atlas" makes particular reference to an old building in that city, which has been successively occupied by Clevenger, who erected it as a stone cutters' shop and modelled the first bust in stone ever executed in Cincinnati; by Hart the famous Kentucky sculptor, who made a bust of Gen. Jackson; by T. B. Read, distinguished as an artist and poet of no mean note; by Brackett, who first commenced modelling there; by CLEMENT R. EDWARDS and J. B. Jones, also sculptors, "the first of whom," says the Atlas, "has set up an ambitious Clementine gallery, in Maryland." The Clementine hint was furnished in the first number of the "Reveries," by our old friend Knickerbocker, who thought proper thus to designate the collection of paintings which had accumulated in Mr. Edwards' studio, in this Town. The Cincinnatians are not the only people who associate the remembrance of the artist, with an old building. Mr. E. occupied a venerable castle in this vicinity, which had long been abandoned to ghosts and spiders, and the sight of whose very walls sent a curdling chill to the heart of the little school boy, who fancied that he heard, in passing, the clinking of chains and other mysterious sounds emanating from its deserted rooms. If ever an old building became reconciled at once to the disturber of its "solitary reign," this was the building. The moss on the sinking roof looked greener; the ragged chimney held its head more gaily, and the very walls smiled upon the pleasant faces of youth and age which, as by the touch of some magic wand, were grouped beside them. Ghosts and citizens jostled each other quite familiarly; and even the school urchin leaped the threshold with a light step and stood mute and enchained amid the beautiful revelation of well known faces, which beamed upon him from every part of the room. Henceforth let not the hand of the repairer touch this antique fabric. Let it crumble, stone by stone, and let every attempt to prop a beam or patch a rent be held as little less than sacrilege. Who knows but, dedicated to Raphael by the inferior touch of our Clementine friend, it may not hereafter be equally illustrious with the building, so much boasted of by the Cincinnatians.

"All tenantless, save to the crannying wind,"

☞ Our acknowledgments are due Dr. J. C. Orrick, of the House of Delegates, for a copy of the report of the Committee on the License Law. We shall notice its provisions hereafter.

Death of a Clergyman.—The Philadelphia papers announce the death of the Rev. Ezekiel Cooper, for sixty-two years a clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal church.

At a meeting of the "EASTON GUARDS," on Thursday evening, the following resolutions were adopted.

Resolved, That the members tender their thanks to Messrs. Tarr & Son, and E. H. Nabb, for refreshments on the 22d inst.

Resolved, That J. M. Faulkner Esq., is entitled to the thanks of the Corps, for the use of his office.

Easton, Feb. 27, 1847.

NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR.

It will be seen by the following proceedings, that provision has been made for the appointment of delegates to a Whig State Convention, to be held in the ancient and hospitable town of Cambridge, in Dorchester county, on the 16th of June next, to nominate a Whig candidate for Governor to be voted for at the next October election.

WHIG GUBERNATORIAL CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Whig members of the Legislature of Maryland, assembled at Annapolis on the evening of the 15th of February, 1847, the following resolutions, offered by Mr. Spencer, were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That the Whig members of the Legislature of Maryland, recommend to the Whigs of the State, to assemble in County meetings on or before Saturday, 29*th day of May next*, and elect delegates to a Convention to be held in Cambridge, on Wednesday 16*th day of June next*, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor.

Resolved that each county and the city of Baltimore shall be entitled to such representation in said convention, as shall be equal to their representation in the Senate and House of Delegates of this State.

Resolved, also, That the proceedings of this meeting shall be signed by the officers thereof, and published in the Whig papers of the State.

The meeting then, on motion of Mr. Duckett, adjourned.

W. WILLIAMS, Chairman.

THOS. DUCKETT, }
D. M. HENRY, } Secretaries.

EX-GOVERNOR FRANK THOMAS.—In the House of Delegates, on Thursday, Mr. Duckett presented a letter from Francis Thomas, asking the privilege of appearing before the House, to make known that he "was so unfortunate, while holding the office of Chief Magistrate of Maryland, as to nominate to a Judgeship an individual altogether unworthy, by reasons of his crimes, of that high and responsible office, and which he now holds." The letter, of which the foregoing is an extract, was read but the party immplicated was not named, nor the character of the crimes which it is alledged he is guilty specified. It was finally ordered that the Clerk request Mr. Thomas to furnish the House with the name of the person implicated, and the charges specified.

Judge Marshall of Frederick, and Judge Legrand of Baltimore, are the only judges appointed by Gov. Thomas; and it is said that the latter is referred to, and has gone to Annapolis to meet it.

DRAWING TO A CLOSE.—The National Intelligencer of the 23d inst., remarking upon the proceedings of Congress, says:—Eight business days only remain of the term of the present Congress; both Houses are now under a strong head of debate on the War and on Public Affairs generally, and it is already quite easy to perceive how almost impossible it will be for Congress to get through the mass of highly important bills upon the tables of both Houses.

DREADFUL SHIPWRECK—Seventy-five Passengers and Eighteen Sailors Lost.—It is reported at New York, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, that the brig Isabella, from Liverpool, bound to New York, was wrecked on Monday morning at Barnegat, and 75 passengers and 18 sailors lost.

It is also rumored that there are some dark deeds connected with the death of Captain Rathbone, which, when developed, will put a different character on the accounts received.

YUCATAN.—Advices from Merida, to the 16th January, have been received by the New Orleans Picayune, via Havana.—That paper says:

At that date, the forces of the insurgents of Campeachy were in the immediate vicinity of Merida in hostile array. To avoid the effusion of blood they summoned the city to surrender, giving it twenty-four hours for consultation. To this the Government replied, suggesting the appointment of commissioners to settle all their difficulties amicably. This suggestion was promptly rejected and the surrender insisted upon. To this the Government would not accede, and there matters rested at 11 o'clock on the 16th, immediate hostilities being expected on both sides.

In another quarter we have accounts of hostilities. The Faro Industrial gives an official report of the taking of the village of Tabi by the forces of the Government of Merida. The action took place on the 11th of January. The Government troops amounted to 400 infantry and 29 dragoons. They had also one piece of artillery.—The force of the rebels is not given, but they fought for two hours with unheard of fury, but the valor of the Government troops far surpassed any of which we have any record, and in the end prevailed.—They gained possession of the village and the rebels fled most shamefully.

The loss of the rebels was between forty and fifty men killed and seventeen prisoners. How many were wounded was not ascertained, but the number of "missing" must have been very large, judging from the manner in which they are said to have fled.

☞ Old Parson Brownlow, of the Jonesborough, (Tenn.) Whig tells some sledge-hammer truths; of which the followiug may be said to be one:

"THE WAR WITH MEXICO.—In 1844 the Whigs told the people, on every stump in the land, as did their leader Henry Clay in his famous Raleigh letter, that if Texas were annexed to the United States, without the consent of Mexico and in violation of existing treaties, it would lead to a bloody and sanguinary war with Mexico. This the Locofoco party, one and all, declared to be a humbug, and scare-crow of Whiggery, gotten up to alarm the people and to prevent the accomplishment of a great Democratic measure. Well Texas was annexed and the war come,—and these Democrats, who were organizing companies for the fight, in 1844 were the last to volunteer. Some of them had families—some of them were indisposed—some were indebted to others—and others by far the greater part were wanting the will to fight; while the Whigs who were anti-war, anti-republican, and Mexican allies, hel to turn out and fight the war brought on by these patriots of 1844, and declared by their President, without the authority of Congress, and certainly against the will of the nation. These are facts within the recollection of every school boy in this land.

MULTUM IN PARVO.—The following from the New Orleans Tropic, is just in point:

Father Ritchie of the Washington Union says wailingly as if by authority, "The one great question of the present crisis, is what legislation by Congress, will best sustain the credit of the coun ry in the money market?" We will inform you; it can be done in the same manner that Dr. Franklin advised the British Ministry to retain the American colonies at the commencement of the Revolution—by a few Re's:—

Re-store the Tariff of 1842.
Re-peal the Sub-Treasury Law.
Re-view your evil deeds.
Re-store peace to the country, by a vigorous and judicious prosecution of the war.
Re-verse your conduct towards Gen. Taylor.
Re-tain the services of good and experienced men.
Re-fuse to appoint officers of every grade who are unworthy.
Re-ly on those officers who have proved themselves qualified.
Re-sist the counsels of party demagogues and you may Retain a small share of the respect of the people and Re-lieve the nation.

TO THE MEMORY OF BISHOP WHITE.—The Ladies of Christ Church, Philadelphia, are engaged in getting up a subscription in order to be able to erect a church in what is styled The Northern Liberties, as a tribute of love and respect to Bishop White, the late venerable prelate over the diocese of Philadelphia. It is to be a free, monumental church. We learn that a sum of $4000 has already been collected, the amount required for the Building Fund to be $10,000.

THE WINNIBAGO TREATY lately concluded and ratified, is said to be far more liberal than any concluded for a long time with the North American Indians. This tribe has long been on what was called the neutral ground, between the Lakes and the Mississippi westward of Green Bay, now included in Wisconsin. To this land they had no absolute title, and were too much under the influence of the British Traders for their own good or that of their neighbors. They by the terms of the treaty are to receive $120,000 in cash, part of which is to be disbursed for them by the Government of the United States, in mills, school houses, agricultural implements, etc., and moreover are located on a tract of 800,000 acres between the St. Peters and Mississippi, northward of Iowa, of which they are to receive a grant in perpetuity, like those made to the Choctaw, Cherokees and Creeks, on the Arkansas and its tributaries. The Indians are to move to the new lands during the current year.

IT IS WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD!—Such was the declaration of a gentleman on Friday last after having used "Seller's Cough Syrup" for a distressing cough, that made him feel very uncomfortable through the day, and prevented him from sleeping a great part of the night.

We do not say that this Syrup will always cure, but we do say that 99 persons out of every hundred who have used it, pronounce it the best cough mixture that has as yet been offered to the public.—The Syrup is put up in 50 cent bottles.
