SLEEP.

"He giveth his beloved sleep."
That most mysterious thing,
That to the worn and weary heart
Forgetfulness can bring;—
That cometh to the mourning one
By many griefs oppressed,
And speaketh, in its dreamy voice,
Of heaven, and hope, and rest.

It visiteth the desolate
Who have no friend beside;
And bringeth peace to saddened souls—
Whose "hope deferred" had died.
It laveth its caressing hand
Upon the brow of care,
And calleth back to faded lips
The smile they used to wear.

And lovely is the angel-light
Of a little child's repose,
The holiest and swetest rest
Our human nature knows.
Such rest as cannot close the eyes
Grown old with many tears;
That never sooth the pilgrim path
Of life's dejected years.

"He giveth his beloved sleep."
All thanks for such a boon!
And thanks, too, for the deeper sleep
That shall be with us soon.
From which our long o'er laden hearts
Shall wake to pine no more,
But find fulfilled the fairest thoughts
They only dreamed before!

'SONG OF THE MAIL-COACHMAN.

O, the days were bright, when young and light,
I drove my team,
My four in hand along the Strand,
Of bloods the cream.
But time flies fast; those days are past;
The ribbons are a dream;
Now there's nothing half so quick in life
As steam, as steam.

The Bristol mail is but a snail,
The York stands still,
The Liverpool is but a stool—
All gone down hill.
Your fire you poke, up springs your smoke,
On sweeps the fiery stream;
Now there's nothing half so quick in life
As steam, still steam.

Along the sky the sparkles fly,
You fly below;
You leave behind, time, tide and wind,
Hail, rain and snow.
Through mountain cores the engine snores,
The gas-lamps palely gleam;
O, there's nothing half so quick in life
As steam, still steam.

You see a hill, you see a mill,
A bit of sky;
You see a cow, you see a plough,
All shooting by
The cabins prance, the hedgerows dance,
Like gnats in evening's beam:
O, there's nothing half so quick in life
As steam, still steam.

You hear a sound, you feel a bound,
You all look blue.
You've split a horse, a man's a corse,
All's one to you.
Upon the road you meet a load,
In vain you wildly scream;
O, there's nothing half so quick in life
As steam, still steam.

You come full front upon a hunt,
You hear a yell;
You dash along, you crush the throng,
Dogs squires pell-mell.
You see a van, the signal man
Is snugly in a dream.
O, there's nothing half so quick in life
As steam, still steam.

You see a flash, you feel a crash
From toe to chin;
You touch a bank, you tap a tank,
You all plump in.
You next engage the three-mile stage,
And long for my old team.
Your trial's o'er, you trust no more
To steam, steam, steam!

SERVING A WRIT ON A PARSON.

In one of the eastern towns—no matter when—a gentleman of the bar was about committing matrimony. The company had assembled, the parson was in attendance, and the bridegroom rose to hand his reverence the certificate of publication, according to the law in such cases made and provided. As a lawyer, he could do wonders before a bench and jury; but this was a new case; he was sadly embarrassed, and after fumbling awhile in his pocket, handed the parson the wrong paper His reverence glanced his eye over it, and with a good natured smile, told him he had made a mistake, and handed it back. It happened to be a writ! The poor lawyer was doubly embarrased, and fumbling again in his pocket; handed out another paper. After looking at this, the parson smiled again, but seeing the perturbation of the matrimonial candidate, forebore to notice a second mistake, and proceeded to tie the knot. On the morrow, the happy bridegroom was much surprised to find this second certificate returned to him, with the request of the parson to forward the true one. He opened it and found it was his TAILOR'S BILL!

A gentleman the other day, visiting a school at Edinburgh, had a book put into his hand for the purpose of examining a class. The word 'inheritance?' 'Patrimony?' 'Something left by a father,' 'What would you call it if left by a mother?' 'Matri-

RANK IN THE ARMY;

OR, A DARKEY'S DIGNITY.

After a portion of the troops had landed on the beach near Vera Cruz, on the night of the 9th of March, a body of the enemy commenced a brisk fire of small arms into the encampment. Of course, all hands were on the qui vive, expecting the Mexicans would make some demonstration upon our lines during the night, and when the firing commenced, concluded there was about to be a general attack. The lines were soon formed, and not a word could be heard from the soldiery, but there was a negro who kept running from one little point of hill to another, apparently in a state of great excitement. He finally laid himself flat on his face, at full length, and commenced working himself into the soft sand with a good deal of energy.—On being asked what he was about, he replied, "I is 'fraid some ob dem 'ere copper balls will put a stop to my drawin' my rashuns." "Why," asked the party speaking to him, "don't you get up and fight them?" "No, sir-ee!" he said, "dat's my massa's part ob de bizness; he done been to Wes-pint, where dey makes fightin' people to learn dat, and you don't ketch dis niggar meddlin' hessef wid odder people's bizness. My massa does de fightin' an' I waits on him and nusses him. If he gets wounded we gets promoted." "You get promoted! What good will his promotion do you?" inquired the individual. "Oh, dat question is been settled long time ago in dese parts down here; a colored gemman what waits on a kurnel always outranks one dat waits on a capten, an' de way we colored gemman reg'lurs makes dese volunteer niggars squat, is a caution to white folks."—*N. AFRAID OF THE BILERS.

During the height of the opposition between the steamboat lines running from the Kennebec to Boston, last summer, and just as the rival boats were making ready to start, a wagon hove in sight, in which was an old lady, with an accompaniment of band-boxes and bundles evidently equipped for a journey. The respective agents of the two lines sprang towards her. 'Take the Marshall, marm? fine boat.'—'Try the Penobscot, new boat, built last summer, commanded by the favorite of every body—Capt. ——,' &c., &c. The boys and loafers around echoed the claims of their favorites in concert. 'Hurrah for the Penobscot.' 'Go the John Marshall.' The old lady, who had probably never seen a steamboat before, and whose chief notion of the varmints was connected with their boiler bursting propensities, was almost beside herself with terror at the hubbub.

'O, Lordy! I wish I'd never stirred a step—if I'd a known there was to be such an awful time as this I'm sure I wouldn't. The pesky bilers—I know they'll burst—everybody's looking after me, and nobody's attending to 'em. There, go right away, all of you. I'm going straight back. I couldn't rest a wink for fear of them pesky bilers.' 'You need not give yourself no anxiety on account of the boilers in the Marshall'—(said the agent of the M.) 'they are new and sound, and couldn't be made to burst.' 'Are you sure of it,' said the old lady, evincing symptoms of a favorable disposition towards the Marshall—'you ain't a tryin' to practice on the credulity of a poor lone woman I hope.'

'No fear of me.'

The old lady was about descending from the wagon to embark in the Marshall, when agent No. 2. stepped up.

'Madam,' said he, in a serious tone, no doubt the Marshall's boilers are sound enough, but the best boilers are dangerous things. We knew that a great many people had been killed by them—especially of late—and took the boilers out of our boat three weeks ago.'

'You did,' said she, 'that's the boat for me, then,' and down she got on board as quick as possible.

JENNY LIND AND THE STUDENTS.

At a certain German town last autumn there was a tremendous furor about Jenny Lind, who, after driving the whole place mad, left it on her travels early one morning. The moment her carriage was outside the gates a pack of rampant students, who had escorted it, rushed back to the inn, demanded to be shown Jenny's bedroom, and swept like a whirlwind up stairs into the room indicated to them, tore up the sheets, and wore them in stripes as decorations. An hour or two afterwrds a bald old gentleman of amiable appearance, an Englishman, who was staying in the hotel, came to breakfast at the table d'hote, and was observed to be much disturbed in his mind, and to show great terror whenever a student came near him. At last he said in a low voice, to some one who came near him at table,

"You are English gentlemen, I observe! Most extraordinary people these German students; as a body raving mad, gentlemen."

"Oh, no," said somebody, "only excitable, but very good fellows and very sensible."

"By Heavens, sir!" returned the old gentleman, still more disturbed, "then there's something political in it, and I am a marked man. I went out for a little walk this morning after shaving, and while I was gone," he fell into a terrible perspiration as he told it, "they burst into my bedroom, tore up my sheets, and are now patrolling the town in all directions, with bits of 'em in their button holes."

In the confusion, the students had gone into the wrong room.

The Portland Bulletin tells a good story of a certain good Deacon, whose hat blew off and led him a long race after it through the street. At length the deacon became exhausted in the race, and pulled up against a post by the sidewalk. A gentleman came along, to whom the deacon addressed himself thus: 'My friend, I am a deacon, and it is very wrong for me to swear; you will therefore greatly oblige m-

'SUGAR COATED" PILLS.'
BEWARE! CAUTION!!

The increasing popularity of Dr. G. BENJ SMITH'S IMPROVED INDIAN VEGETABLE SUGAR COATED PILLS, has induced a number of persons to make something they call PILLS, and coat them with sugar, in order to sell them for the genuine, while they do not possess a particle of the goodness, nor even assimilate in appearance to the original, Dr Smith's Pills. In short they are intended FRAUD upon the community A minister who at first had an interest in an imitation Sugar Coated Pill, manufactured at Albany, N. Y., has given them up as he says on account of the miserable dishonest parties concerned in manufacturing them The same party are now industriously circulating reports calculated to injure Dr. Smith and to affect the reputation of his valuable pills; but rather than notice them in public. Dr Smith is about to institute legal proceedings against them for their slanders, as he has in another case against a similar party, in which he recovered a large amount of damages. These miserable imitators have to resort to the most abominable means to palm off their counterfeit pills as the public know that Dr. Smith's are the original and genuine. Several instances have come to public notice in which life has been endangered by the unfortunate use of the counterfeits It is Dr Smith's Pills that are doing so much good in the country—as the following plainly show.

MORE MINISTERS.

Use and Recommend Dr. Smith's Pills than all others

This is to certify that I have used the Sugar Coated Pills Manufactured by G. Benjamin Smith of New York, for some time, and believe them to be a good medicine; also, from inquiry in that city, I am persuaded that he is the original inventor, and therefore is entitled to the benefit of the invention.

S. WILLIAMS.
Pastor 1st Baptist Church.

From the Blue Hens's Chicken. (Del.)

We call the attention of our readers to the certificate of Rev. S. Williams, Pastor of 1st Baptist Church, Pittsburgh, in relation to Dr. Smith's Pills. We can ourselves bear testimony to the excellence of these Pills, one of us having used them and experienced great relief from them.

The above is the best paper in the State of Delaware.

The "improved indian vegetable Pills," (Sugar Coated,) are certainly doing much good in the whole country, and are highly esteemed, if one half is true that people write and say about them. They are so easy in their operation that all like them. The editor of the Northern State Journal, (one of the largest and best papers in the State of N. Y.,) writes as follows.

Watertown, May 31, 1846.

Dr. G Benj Smith—

Dear Sir I was laid up with a bad cold some time since my return from N Y. and during my illness I made trial of your pills and I must say I found them excellent. They are the best medicine for the purposes they are intended, that I have yet seen. I seldom take pills, but I found yours entirely free from the objections to which other pills are liable. I hope they will continue to be a source of profit to you, as I doubt not they will be a means of relief to the afflicted on a large scale. Yours truly, J. GREEN.

Tonawanda, Pa., Sept. 18, 1846.

Dr G. Benj. Smith—

Dear Sir. Your agent left with me a lot of your Sugar coated Pills, and I have but a few boxes left. Every box I have sold has given entire satisfaction. I have taken them myself and I consider them the best pills I have ever used, and I am not afraid to recommend them to the public. I wish a further supply at once.

Yours respectfully,
JACOB KIBLER, P. M.

Huntington, Ind., June 21, 1846.

Dr. Smith—

Dear Sir. I am most out of your "Indian Vegetable Sugar Coated Pills," and find them selling so fast that I think you had better send me two gross immediately. They give such general satisfaction that people come at least twenty miles for them, and as it is generally known I am agent for them, I would be very sorry to get out.

Yours respectfully,
SAML. MORE & Co.

BEWARE!!!

If G. BENJ. SMITH, be not written with a pen on the bottom of the box, all "Sugar Coated" pills are counterfeit!
