anger, we wish all glory and honor to Mr. Thomas' Administration, and trust that none of our gloomy anticipations and forebodings may be realised—but we fear the result to our beloved State.—Thus much we could not forbear saying. It is for the present at least, the last we shall say on this subject. We have uttered our honest impressions of this event and now dismiss the matter by giving below the returns as far as received.

CONGRESS.

The vote in Cecil, and the report the Evans has a large majority in Harford leave no doubt that he is elected to Congress over Carmichael. The following are, then, the members elect, so far as heard from: —

1st district, John G. Chapman, (W.) no opposition.
2d district, J. Dixon Roman, whig gain.
3d " T. W. Ligon, Dem.
4th " R. M. McLane, Dem.
5th " Alex. Evans, Whig gain.
6th " John W. Crisfield, Whig.

BRAVE MARYLANDERS.—A letter from Vera Cruz, dated Sept. 10, says the Patriot, announces the death of Lieut. Murray Winder, of this County. He was wounded in the engagement with Major Lally's command, at the National Bridge, and died a few days thereafter at Jalapa. "He fought gallantly," says the letter, "and was wounded in the midst of the conflict."

AN ANCHOR TO WINWARD.

It was but the other day that the Government organ declared the Whigs would be entirely responsible for all the consequences of a protracted war with Mexico, if peace should not follow the negotiations then in hand.

It states that "Gen. Scott had no instructions to grant an armistice—or we ought rather to say, to suspend hostilities—until a treaty of peace had been ratified on the part of Mexico." And it further says: "We may be permitted to repeat, that it would be most unfortunate if Mr. Trist should permit the negotiation to be spun out beyond the shortest possible time. We may add, it is to be regretted that as long a period as forty-eight hours after the negotiation had terminated has been allowed for the resumption of hostilities."

Is it not evident, from all this, that if evil should come from delay afforded the Mexicans to negotiate, an effort will be made to throw the blame on Gen. Scott?

Now, is it not supremely ridiculous to hear persons snugly ensconced at home, feeding on Government pap—out of the reach of danger, and consequently unqualified to judge—setting themselves up as critics upon a subject utterly beyond the scope of an impartial mind?

Can it be supposed that Gen. Scott, surrounded as he is with high-spirited and intelligent officers, would be blind to the true interests of the country, and to the glory of the arms entrusted to his command? The only just method of criticism would be to send the grumblers to the army to take part it its dangers and toils, and let them give practical evidence of their ability to correct blunders and achieve greatness.—Richmond Republican

DIED,

On the 5th inst., after a few hours illness at the residence of his grandfather, Mr. Jesse Scott, EDWARD R., son of Edward and Sarah Nicholson, aged 3 years 9 months.

Sweet Edward thy days are quickly written
Numbered with the dead thou art,
Although our hearts with pain are smitten
Called so soon with thee to part.

With Christian hope we now resign thee
To the limits of the dead
In the resurrection find thee
In the arms of Christ our head.

A bud to blossom up in glory
Where no frost of sin can harm
Where no babes or heads more hoary
Ever sicken to alarm.

Oct. 9,

THE HOME JOURNAL.

EDITED BY MORRIS & WILLIS,

Published every Saturday, in the City of New-York, at Two Dollars per annum.

In November last, we commenced the publication of this family newspaper on a new and novel plan. No similar work, intended to contain the pick news, elegances, opinions and literature of our time, to cull from the wilderness of the hour's ever flowing caprice, and to rescue the good things else lost in the bewildering floatage of novelties adrift, had been previously attempted by others.

That we have labored succesfully in our vocation and produced a paper remarkable for its interest, value and popularity, and one adapted to the wants of all classes of society, we have sufficient evidence in our extensive and rapidly increasing circulation in the universal commendation of the public press, and above all, in the flattering encouragement and cordial approbation of our numerous Lady Readers, in every section of the country.

The scope, design and character of the Home Journal differ from those of any newspaper heretofore established. The contents are fitted to engage the attention of the man of business, and be a source of elegant instruction and entertainment to the domestic fireside and family circle, and it combines the striking and novel attractions of the newspaper with the more abiding interests of the higher class of periodicals. It is printed in the folio form, on large and superior paper, on a new clear type, obtained expressly for the purpose; and is, in its whole arrangement and details a most favorable specimen of the best typographical skill of the country. In addition to these, and as one of its most valuable peculiarities, it is, in reference to the diversity of talent employed upon it, the cheapest paper in the United States.

As all the back numbers of the work are entirely exhausted, we have this day Saturday the 21st of August, increased the edition of the Home Journal for the express accommodation of new subscribers, and we therefore respectfully request that all who intend taking the paper will commence their subscriptions with the present number.

TERMS—Two Dollars a year, or three copies for five dollars, invariably in advance.

The Home Journal is sent by mail to all parts of the United States, the British Provinces and to Europe, done up in strong wrappers, with the utmost punctuality and despatch.

Subscriptions, orders, remittances, and all communications, must be addressed (post paid) to the Editors.
