POETRY.

From the London Weekly Dispatch.

SONG FOR THE SEASON.

BY ELIZA COOK.

ook out, look out, there are shadows a-bout!
The forest is donning its doublet of brown,
e willow tree sways with a gloomier flout,
Like a beautiful face with a gathering frown!
is true, we all know that Summer must go,
That the swallow will never stay long in our eaves;
et we'd rather be watching the wild rose blow,
Than be counting the colors of Autumn's leaves!

ook high, look high, there's the lace-winged fly,
Thinking he's king of a fairy realm,
s he swings with delight on the gossa-mer tie
That is linked 'mid the boughs of the sun-tipped elm!
Alas! poor thing, the first rustle will bring
The pillars of dust where pleasure clue weaves,
And many a spirit, like thine, will cling
To hopes that depend upon Autumn leaves!

ook low, look low, the night gusts blow,
And the restless forms in hectic red
ome whirling along wherever we go,
Lighter in dancing as nearer the dead!
Oh! who has not seen rare hearts, that have been Painted and painting, in garb that deceives,
Dashing gaily along in their fluttering sheen
With Despair at the core, like the Autumn leaves!

ook on, look on! morn breaketh upon
The hedge-row boughs, in their withering hue;
The distant orchard is sallow and wan,
But the apple and nut gleam richly through.
Oh! well will it be if our life, like the tree,
Shall be found when old Time of green beauty bereaves,
With the fruit of good works for the Planter to see
Shining out in Truth's harvest, through Autumn leaves!

Merrily pours, as it sings and soars,
The west wind over the land and seas,
Till it plays in the forest and moans and roars,
Seeming no longer a mirthful breeze!
So music is blest till it meeteth a breast
That is probed by the strain, while Memory grieves
To think it was sung by a loved one at rest,
Then it comes like a sweet wind through Autumn leaves!

Not in an hour are leaf and flower
Stricken in freshness and swept to decay;
By gentle approaches, the frost and the shower,
Make ready the sap veins for falling a-way!
And so is Man made to as peacefully fade,
By the tear that he sheds, and the sigh that he leaves,
For he's loosened from earth by each tria cloud's shade,
Till he's willing to go, as the Autumn leaves!

Look back, look back, and you'll find the track
Of human hearts, strown thickly o'er
With Joy's dead leaves, all dry and black
And every year still flinging more.
But the soil is fed, where the branches are shed
For the furrow to bring forth fuller sheaves
And so is our trust in the Future spread
In the gloom of Mortality's Autumn leaves!

Great Malvern.

DR. MARTIN'S UNIVERSAL

PURGATIVE PILLS.

THESE PILLS have been used by Dr. Martin in an extensive practice for many years, and with the greatest success especially in BILLOUS and LIVER DISEASES—They are also particularly recommended in Chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Nervous diseases, habitual costiveness They may be taken in all cases when a purgative is needed with perfect safety. But of many certificates in our possession we shall only publish one from a highly respectable Physician.

Upper Hunting Creek, Carcline co. Md. October 17, 1846.

Dr. George T. Martin.—Sir, having been made acquainted with the composition of your valuable Pill, by yourself some two or three years ago, I have used them freely in my private practice with entire success, and shall continue to do so as long as I may practice medicine, and I now take great pleasure in recommending such a Pill as yours to the public as a safe and effectual purgative in all cases where a purgative is necessary.

Your's with respect

With each bottle there will be a short treatise on fevers which is made comprehensible to every capacity. This Tonic will be found perfectly harmless as regards its effects on the constitution. DR. MARTIN'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY.

This compound is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public in Cough, whether arising from Colds, or the Hooping Cough, or that dreadful malady Consumption. Few remedies in the short time it has been before the Public, have effected so many cures The proprietors are every day receiving orders for it in this City, and at a distance, in which they have been highly gratified to learn its good effects. We have the permission of the Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church of Maryland (the Right Rev. W, R. Whittingham) to say he has used the remedy in his own person with decided benefit. Our medical friends do not scruple to recommend it as one of the best remedies in Consumption Asthma &c which they have ever met with the following is from a highly respectable Physician on Kent Island to whom we made known the ingredients of the preparation.

Kent Island, June 22d, 1847.

Dr. G. T. Martin,

Dear Sir,—Since my return home I have prescribed your SYRUP of WILD CHERRY in several cases, one in particular a case of Asthma of long standing (about 12 years) a neighbor and patient of mine. Her disease has never been benefited by any medicine which she has taken, and for the last year or two she has been confined entirely to the house. I do not know that she has had a good nights rest for a long time, but since she commenced taking your medicine (and she has only taken one bottle) she is enabled to go to bed and sleep well all night. I think the medicine will make a perfect cure of her and she is determined to give it a fair trial. Her husband Mr. R Erickson is a merhant here, and says if you will send him some of it, he will act as your agent. I think you might send him some of your other preparations which will meet with ready sale. I send a small bill for medicines which you will please send me and
