THE GOOD OLD TIMES.

BY AN "OLD SCHOOL" BARD.

Oh! those were happy "good old times,"
Ere luxury had changed
The lives of all the fairer sex,
And reason's throne deranged.
When damsels knew the washing tub,
The milking pail and broom,
And earned their wedding padua-soie
By spinning at the loom.
Oh! those were happy "good old times,"
When the table white as snow,
Groaned beneath beans and pumpkin pies,
Oh! I wish I had some now.

Oh! those were happy "good old times,"
Ere Chinese corns we knew,
Ere every miss of pert sixteen
Esteemed herself a "blue;"
When lasses laved in running streams,
Nor with a fork sipped pap,
But lolled on mother earth's green sward,
And not in velvet lap.
Oh! these were joyous olden times,
The times of which we've read,
Of good old fashioned pandowry,
Of rye and Indian bread.

Oh! those were happy olden times,
Ere opera or play,
And waltzing reels with jackdaw fops,
Consumed both night and day;
Ere easy chairs and feather beds
(Oh! how my back complains!)
Had opened to our head-strong race
Pandora's box of pains
Yes, truly, those were glorious times,
The times to do one good,
While talking husking frolics o'er.
By blazing fires of wood.

Oh! those were good Dame Nature's times!
How memories sweet swarm o'er us,
Ere wasp like forms were girt around
With "bustles" so enormous!
When modest arms were never bared
And trunketed for show,
Nor ever left their living place,
Save to be hid in dough!
Yes! these were truly happy times,
Of gladsome, rustic life;
Those sanded floors and wax neat homes
The buxom, loving wife:
Bright fancy limns upon my mind
A life of love I trow;
Ah me! delicious times were those!
Oh! I wish we had them now!

TAKING SCALDING "COOLLY."

Mr. G. W Reed'er recently went from New Orleans to Gen. Taylor's camp to present medals to certain brave subalterns. On his way up the Rio Grande he encountered the wreck of the steamer Enterprise, one hour after her explosion.

While passing through the crowd of sufferers, (writes he to the Delta,) my attention was directed to one whom I thought must certainly be dead. He was swathed in bandages from head to foot—the blood oozed from his wounds in thick, muddy streams, and his face was actually burned to a crisp. At first view I thought his eyes were scalded out, but I was mistaken. For a moment I stopped to view this awful spectacle of human agony, and just as I was about to attend to some other duty, I heard a voice saying, in a feeble yet resolute tone:

"Hello! old feller—what are you got in that are tin cup?"

Thinking the question proceeded from some one further aft, I turned in that direction, when the same person indignantly said—

"Yes, that's allers the way! A feller gits a little hurt, and, jist like a porpoise that's wounded, his feller creeturs tries to kil him."

To my utter astonishment, I found that this was addressed to me by the person described in the above as having been so terribly wounded.

"What can I do for you, my poor friend?"

"What are ye got in that are tin cup?—Is it rotgut or melasses?"

"It is whisky. Will you have some?"

"You're the feller. Jist open my teeth, and pore a little down. I can't see well, but I think bitters will do me good."

I did as I was directed, and he drank the whole contents of the cup—about half a pint of raw whisky—and then said—

"Thankee, old feller. Yesee I was asleep, and when the bust up took place, I was on the biler deck, and I b'leeve I was blowed through one of the flues; but never mind, I ain't much hurt, and I'm more used to it than a good many. I been blowed up four times afore!"

"Breeches of faith," screamed Mrs. Partington, as she heard that term applied to Mexican violations of the armistice. "Well, I wonder what they will have next. I have heard tell of 'cloaks of hypocrisy' and robes of purity,' but I never heard of 'breeches of faith' before. I hope they're made of something that won't change and wear out, as old Deacon Gudgins's faith did, for his was always changing. He went from believing that nobody would be saved to believing that all would be, and at last turned out a phrenologer, and didn't believe in nothing! I wonder if it's as strong as cassimere?" and she bit off her thread and prepared a new needle ful.

SPORTING PUN.

On the Duke of York's 'Moses' winning a match at Ascot, his Royal Highness was observed to look very thoughtful. A spectator asked his companion what he (the royal sportsman) could be pondering on.

"Why, you know," replied he, that the Duke is a Bishop, and he is doubtless thinking of Moses and the Profits!"

THE HOME JOURNAL.

EDITED BY MORRIS & WILLIS,

Published every Saturday, in the City of New-York, at Two Dollars per annum.

In November last, we commenced the publication of this family newspaper on a new and novel plan. No similar work, intended to contain the pick news, elegances, opinions and literature of our time, to cull from the wilderness of the hour's ever flowing caprice, and to rescue the good things else lost in the bewildering floatage of novelties adrift, had been previously attempted by others.

That we have labored successfully in our vocation and produced a paper remarkable for its interest, value and popularity, and one adapted to the wants of all classes of society, we have sufficient evidence in our extensive and rapidly increasing circulation in the universal commendation of the public press, and above all, in the flattering encouragement and cordial approbation of our numerous Lady Readers, in every section of the country.

The scope, design and character of the Home Journal differ from those of any newspaper heretofore established. The contents are fitted to engage the attention of the man of business, and be a source of elegant instruction and entertainment to the domestic fireside and family circle, and it combines the striking and novel attractions of the newspaper with the more abiding interests of the higher class of periodicals. It is printed in the folio form, on large and superior paper, on a new clear type, obtained expressly for the purpose: and is, in its whole arrangement and details a most favorable specimen of the best typographical skill of the country. In addition to these, and as one of its most valuable peculiarities, it is, in reference to the diversity of talent employed upon it, the cheapest paper in the United States.

As all the back numbers of the work are entirely exhausted, we have this day Saturday the 21st of August, increased the edition of the Home Journal for the express accommodation of new subscribers, and we therefore respectfully request that all who intend taking the paper will commence their subscriptions with the present number.

TERMS—Two Dollars a year, or three copies for five dollars, invariably in advance.

The Home Journal is sent by mail to all parts of the United States, the British Provinces and to Europe, done up in strong wrappers, with the utmost punctuality and despatch.

Subscriptions, orders, remittances, and all communications, must be addressed (post paid) to the Editors.

DR. MARTIN'S UNIVERSAL PURGATIVE PILLS.

THESE PILLS have been used by Dr Martin in an extensive practice for many years, and with the greatest success especially in BILLOUS and LIVER DISEASES—They are also particularly recommended in Chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Nervous diseases, habitual costiveness They may be taken in all cases when a purgative is needed with perfect safety. But of many certificates in our possession we shall only publish one from a highly respectable Physician.

Upper Hunting Creek, Caroline co. Md. October 17, 1846.

Dr. George T. Martin.—Sir, having been made acquainted with the composition of your valuable Pill, by yourself some two or three years ago, I have used them freely in my private practice with entire success, and shall continue to do so as long as I may practice medicine, and I now take great pleasure in recommending such a Pill as yours to the public as a safe and effectual purgative in all cases where a purgative is necessary.

Your's with respect

JOHN F BOON, M D.

We offer also MARTIN and WHITELEY'S NATIONAL TONIC a certain cure for the AGUE & FEVER. This valuable medicine is perhaps the best of the kind ever offered to the public. It is truly a scientific compound. In this remedy will be found all those qualities which must make it a general favorite in all Billous, or Malarious districts. With each bottle there will be a short treatise on fevers which is made comprehensible to every capacity. This Tonic will be found perfectly harmless as regards its effects on the constitution. By its action it restores the digestive functions to health, and speedily removes disease, and even the most inveterate cases of, Ague and Fever. DR. MARTIN'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY.

This compound is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public in Cough, whether arising from Colds, or the Hooping Cough or that dreadful malady Consumption. Few remedies in the short time it has been before the Public, have effected so many cures The proprietors are every day receiving orders for it in this City, and at a distance, in which they have been highly gratified to learn its good effects. We have the permission of the Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church of Maryland (the Right Rev. W. R. Whittingham) to say he has used the remedy in his own person with decided benefit. Our medical friends do not scruple to recommend it as one of the best remedies in Consumption Asthma &c which they have ever met with the following is from a highly respectable Physician on Kent Island to whom we made known the ingredients of the preparation.

Kent Island, June 22d, 1847.

Dr. G. T. Martin,

Dear Sir,—Since my return home I have prescribed your SYRUP of WILD CHERRY in several cases, one in particular a case of Asthma of long standing (about 12 years) a neighbor and patient of mine. Her disease has never been benefited by any medicine which she has taken, and for the last year or two she has been confined entirely to the house. I do not know that she has had a good nights rest for a long time, but since she commenced taking your medicine (and she has only taken one bottle) she is enabled to go to bed and sleep well all night. I think the medicine will make a perfect cure of her and she is determined to give it a fair trial. Her husband Mr. R Erickson is a merhant here, and says if you will send him some of it, he will act as your agent. I think you might send him some of your other preparations which will meet with ready sale. I send a small bill for medicines which you will please send me and

Oblige your's respectfully
