MR. CLAY'S SPEECH AND THE WASHINGTON UNION.

No part of Mr. Clay's speech has given more offence to the administration, than that in which he treats of the manner in which the Mexican war was brought on by Mr. Polk for moving the army from Corpus Christi to the Rio Grande—an order given whilst the administration was in utter ignorance of the result of Mr. Slidell's mission—and which, under the circumstances, could not have failed to bring on actual hostilities. Mr. Clay said this order was given whilst Mr. Slidell was "wending his way to Mexico, with his diplomatic credentials."

The Union denies that this is literally correct, and states that Mr. Slidell had actually arrived in Mexico thirty-six days before the order for the movement of the army was issued! And it thinks that this is the real question at issue between Mr. Clay and itself!

The point in the case is this: When Mr. Polk i sued the order for the movement of the Army from Corpus Christi to the Rio Grande, did he know what had been the result of Mr. Slidell's mission?

This is the question, and this is what Mr. Clay has remarked upon.

In the strictness of language Mr. Slidell might not have been "wending his way to the City of Mexico" at the time the order was issued, but, as the National Intelligencer suggests, he must have been considered as on his way to Mexico, with his diplomatic credentials, so long as it was uncertain whether or not he would be received by Mexico in his diplomactic character. What Mr. Clay designed to bring home upon the administration was the fact that they gave the order for the movement of the Army, not knowing whether Mr. Slidell had or had not been received by the government of Mexico; and to the order, thus given in utter ignorance of what was going on in the City of Mexico, must be traced the actual commencement of hostilities.

From this charge Mr. Polk cannot escape: The order to General Taylor to march from Corpus Christi to the Rio Grande was issued in Washington on the 13th day of January. On the 20th of January, Mr. Buchanan, writing from Washington to Mr. Slidell, says: "should the Mexican Government, by finally refusing to receive you," &c,—thus showing that at that time, seven day after the order was issued, the Cabinet in Washington knew nothing of the matter—but Mr. Buchanan, in the same despatch, advises Mr. Slidell, as follows:

"In the meantime, the President, in ANTICIPATION OF the final refusal of the Mexican government to receive you, has ordered the army of Texas to advance and take position on the left bank of the Rio Grande; and has directed that a strong fleet s! all be immediately assembled in the Gulf of Mexico."

But not only did Mr. Polk not know, when he issued this order, whether Mr. Slidell had been received but even at that time and long after, he had reason to suppose that he had or would be—if the Union may be relied on for expressing his views: In that paper of the 10th of February, nearly a month after the order was issued, the editor says not only that Mr. Slidell had not been rejected, but that "he had been received with much courtesy, and welcomed in the society of the metropolis as an elegant and accomplished gentleman. He had not yet been received by the Government in an official capacity; neither had they declined his reception."

After these proofs, nothing is wanting to sustain the statement of Mr. Clay, that the Cabinet in Washington gave the order for the movement of the Army, without knowing,—and, we fear without caring,—whether Mr. Slidell had been or had not been received. That the movement of the Army brought on actual hostilities, is not to be denied; and hence it follows, that Mr. Polk brought on the war, and is responsible for all the consequences of it.

In point of fact, also, Mr. Slidell had not been received when the order was given The National Intelligencer proves this, by quoting from a despatch from Mr. Slidell himself, dated at Jalapa, February 6,—three weeks after the order to General Taylor—in which he says—

"Since my despatch of the 14th ult., (January) nothing has occurred to indicate the course likely to be taken by the existing Government as to my reception, but I think it will be mainly controlled by the aspect of the Mexican question."

It was not until the 15th of March—two whole months after the date of the orders to Gen. Taylor—that Mr. Slidell was finally refused to be received in the capacity of Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary by the Mexican Government, which refusal was officially communicated to Mr. Buchanan, in a despatch of Mr. Slidell, dated March 18, 1846.—Balt. Pat.

GEN. TAYLOR EN ROUTE.—The New Orleans Bulletin, of the 22d, says that Gen. Taylor, accompanied by Gen. Wool, left Monterey on the 8th November, inspecting the posts en route, and had reached Mier on the 13th, and was hourly expected at the Brazos when the Edith left, on the 16th inst. The Times further says: "A highly important law suit will require his presence in Mississippi, on the first Monday (the 6th) of December. There is, therefore, but little doubt that he will reach New Orleans during the present week." Other New Orleans papers say he was expected at the Brazos on the 17th, and would leave thence by the very next steamer.

TENNESSEE U. S. SENATOR.—The Hon. John Bell, whig, has been elected to the U. S. Senate, by the Tennessee legislature.

The Potato rot has been very destructive in Charles County, Md. The Port Tobacco Times says that there will not not be more than half the crop that was expected a short time since.

AN AMERICAN CHINA MANUFACTORY.—We learn that a gentleman named Ridway, from Staffordshire, England, has established a manufactory of china and queensware on the Big Sandy river, in Virginia, within a mile and a half of the Ohio. This manufactory is already the nucleus of a new town, which is rapidly arising around it; while further to the eastward, and especially in Tavewell, Cabel, and Logan counties, extensive settlements of farms and vineyards are also in progress. There are valuable mines of bituminous and cannel coal in the same region, with salt, iron ore, and limestone in abundance.—Phila. Inq.

FROM SANTA FE.—A telegraphic dispath of Saturday last, from Cincinnati, says:

Dates have been received here from Santa Fe up to the 19th of October.

Col. Newby was about to move South on account of the approaching severe winter.

At Los Vegos, same date, passed twelve wagons, escorted by one hundred men.—On their way in, the escort had several skirmishes with the Indians and Mexicans. The Americans sustained no loss, but the attacking parties lost several in killed and wounded, besides a number of horses which were captured by our troops.

Commissioner's Notice.

REPORT of the Commissioners appointed agreeably to the Act of Assembly passed at December Session, 1846, chap. 167. "to view and alter or divide School Districts No. 1 and 5, in Election District No. 3, in Talbot County.

To the Honorable Commissioners of Talbot County—

The undersigned Commissioners appointed by your honorable body on the 16th inst., to "view and divide or alter" School Districts No. 1 and 5, in Election District No. 3, did on the 30th inst. meet for the aforesaid purpose, and believe that it would be highly advantageous to both school districts as they now exist, to divide them into four school districts, as follows, to wit: 1st, for the Bolingbrook School District, beginning at Choptank river, and running up a stream to "Raccoon bridge," and from thence with a straight line to the head of Bolingbrook creek, and thence running as originally laid down—to be called School District No. 1.

For the Banbury School District, commencing at the mouth of "Miles' Creek," at Choptank river, and running up said creek to "Abbott's" or "Wright's mill," and with said mill pond and stream to "Cox's" or "Bartlett's mill," and thence as originally laid down, binding with the line above laid down, separating the Bolingbrook School District from the Banbury School District, to be called No. 6.

The central portion School District No. 5 being a timbered or woodland portion of said district, we would divide into Eastern and Western divisions, by a line from Tinker's hill, (running with the County road leading from the Trappe to Easton,) to Peach Blossom creek, and thence as originally laid down, the Western portion to be called No. 5, or Bailey's Neck District, and the Eastern portion to be called School District No. 7.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1848.

GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE.

The most Popular Monthly in the World

THE LEADING WRITERS ALL IN "GRAHAM."

William C. Brant, J. Fennimore Cooper, William Henry Herbert, Theodore S. Fay, W. Gilmore Simms, Fanny Forester, Mrs A. M. F. Aman, Mrs. Amelia B. Welby, N. P. Willis, Professor Longfellow, J. K. Paulding, Charles J. Hoffman, Edgar A. Poe, E. P. Whipple, Mrs. Stephens, Mrs. Sigourney.

"GRAHAM" is now universally acknowledged to surpass, in the excellence and variety of its contents, and the styles of its execution, any periodical ever published in America, and it is questionable whether any magazine in the world—not excepting even BLACKWOOD'S—ever presented an array of contributors of equal reputation Its circulation is about one third larger than that of any other montly in the English language.

We have resolved as far as "Graham" is concerned, to give a proper direction to the popular taste, and propose, in the coming volume, greatly to amplify the literary department of the work - to engage none but the very best writers—to open a field for young writers of merit—and, in fine, to cultivate a National Periodical Literature, which shall command respect at home and abroad.

While all oher monthly periodicals are crumbling to decay, and resorting to every expedient to save themselves from destruction, "Graham" pursues the even tenor of its way, proudly at the head of the periodical literature of the day—with its 50,000 readers, gradually widening its influence, and extending its circulation. The policy adopted in this Magazine, of giving the best both in Literature and Art, has established it upon sure basis of public confidence.

Elegant Paris Fashions in every number.

"Graham," for 1848 will be beyond all doubt so far superior to the class of small magazines which attempt to imitate it, that in every post town it will utterly route them out For why should any man or woman pay money for a second rate article, when the best is offered at the same price. Reader think for yourself, examine and subscribe for the best Periodical and do not be deluded by the stale and never redeemed promises of those whose wordsare as worthless as their wares It is fact that for the last seven years, promises have been made of excelling "GRAHAM" by every puny pretender, yet the Magazine still maintains triumphantly the ascendant.

We promise our readers in January such a number as shall pale "the ineffectual fires" of our imitators, who seize a good idea which we executed and make it common by the baseness of the copy.

Portraits of our Army Heroes.

We have already given our readers a magnificent likeness of General Taylor, and have now executed a Magnificent Likeness of General Buler, and shall follow rapidly with portraits of all the leading men who have distinguished themselves in the present war This series of portraits will be prized by every patriot.

We designto commence in the January number, in addition to New Novels by Fay and Willis, almost beautiful Sea Story, which has been highly praised by the best judges, and has only been withheld from our readers in the last volume, as we had already running through the Magazine the Novel by Cooper. For the New Year, we have made the most liberal arrangements in regard to the work, with a determination to make.

A GREAT NATIONAL MAGAZINE,

Contributed to by the highest talent in the country—free from all cliques and sectional differences, and relying on the merits of its Literary Matter, and the excellence of the illustrations, for a still wider support. The volume to be opened with a new and beautiful type, the finest white paper; and with a series of Mezotints, unsurpassed by any which have yet appeared in any Magazine.

OUR MEZZOTINT ENGRAVINGS.

It affords us much satisfaction to be able to state, that we have made arragements with Sartan, the acomplished mezzotint engraver, whose plates have contributed so much to the beauty of the Magazine heretofore, by which we secre his splendid Mezzotints for this work alon. His beautiful engravings will therefore form a feature of Graham's Magazine, so that we shall be able to distance any thing like competition on this ground.

Our Beutiful Fashion Plates.

These exquite creations of taste and skill we have engaged exclusively, from the publisher of "Le Follet," and all other efforts to get them have failed An attempt has been made to deceive the public, by re engraving the old designs but these duplicates are so far beneath the Original Paris designs sent to "Graham," that they excite only contempt. Our arrangements are complete, and we cannot be equalled in the beauty and correctness of this department of the Magazine. These plates appear in every number.
