POETRY.

I KNEW THAT WE MUST PART.

BY CHARLES SPRAGUE.

I knew that we must part—day after day,
I saw the dread Destroyer win his way;
The hollow cough first rang the fatal knell,
As on my ear the prophet-warning fell;
Feeble and slow thy once light footstep grew,
Thy wasting check put on death's pallid hue,
Thy thin hot hand to mine more weakly clung,
Each sweet "Good-night" fell fainter from thy tongue.
I knew that we must part—no power could save
Thy quiet goodness from an early grave;
Those eyes so dull, though kind each glance they cast;
Looking a sister's fondness to the last;
Thy lips so pale, that gently pressed my cheek,
Thy voice—alas! thou could'st but try to speak—
All told thy doom; I felt it at my heart;
The shaft had struck—I knew that we must part.

And we have parted, sister; thou art gone!
Gone in thy innocence, meek, suffering one.
Thy weary spirit breathed itself to sleep
So peacefully, it seems a sin to weep,
In those fond watchers who around thee stood,
And felt, even then, that God, even then, was good.
Like stars that struggle through the clouds of night,
Thine eyes one moment caught a glorious sight,
As if to thee, in that dread hour, were given
To know on earth what faith believes of Heaven;
Then like tired breezes did'st thou sink to rest,
Nor one, one pang the awful change confessed.
Death stole in softness o'er that lovely face,
And touched each feature with a new-born grace;
On check and brow unearthly beauty lay,
And told that life's poor cares had passed away.
In my last hour be Heaven so kind to me,
I ask no more than this—to die like thee.

But we have parted, sister; thou art dead!
On its last resting-place I laid thy head,
Then by the coffin-side knelt down and took
A brother's farewell kiss and farewell look;
Those marble lips no kindred kiss return'd;
From those veiled orbs no glance responsive burn'd;
Ah! then I felt that thou had'st passed away;
That the sweet face I gazed on was but clay.
And then came Memory with her busy throng
Of tender images, forgotten long;
Years hurried back, and as they swiftly rolled,
I saw thee, heard thee, as in days of old;
Sad and more sad each sacred feeling grew;
Manhood was moved, and Sorrow claimed her due;
Thick, thick and fast the burning tear-drops started,
I turned away—and felt that we had parted.

But not forever—in the silent tomb,
Where thou art laid, thy kindred shall find room,
A little while, a few short years of pain,
And, one by one, we'll come to thee again;
The kind old father shall seek out the place,
And rest with thee, the youngest of his race;
The dear, dear mother bent with age and grief,
Shall lay her head by thine in sweet relief;
Sister and brother, and that faithful friend,
True from the first, and tender to the end—
All, all in His good time, who placed us here,
To live, to love, to die, and disappear,
Shall come and make thy quiet bed with thee,
Beneath the shadow of that spreading tree;
With thee to sleep through death's long dreamless night,
With thee rise up, and bless the morning light.

LATE OR EARLY MARRIAGES.—The Macon Telegraph thinks the long meeted question of late or early marriages has been settled by Gen. Taylor's toast at Donaldsonville—at least so far as one of the sexes is concerned.—The toast is in the following words:

"The Ladies of Donaldsonville: Unsurpassed in beauty and grace—health and prosperity for those who have husbands, and early marriage to those who have not.

The General is sure of the vote of Donaldsonville.

EXTRAVAGANCE OF ROYALTY.—The "Monte Christo" now making for the Princess de Joinville is attracting great attention. It is a kind of stomacher much worn by the ladies of the days of Louis XII.—It consists of chains of diamonds running from a centre brooche to each shoulder, and diminishing in size downwards to the waist. The workmanship of this jewel is most rare and exquisite. The large Brazilian diamond, which forms the centre brooch, is considered one of the finest in the world.

☞ A lady of fashion asked, the other day, of M. Lacordaire, the most popular of the Paris preachers, if there were any harm in reading novels and going to the play. "I must learn that of you," adroitly replied the witty Dominican.

THE UNION MAGAZINE
of Literature & Art.

EDITED BY
Mrs. C. M. KIRKLAND,
Author of a 'New Home,' 'Forest Life,' etc.
AND FILLED WITH
Contributions from the most eminent writers of the country.

The Second Volume commences with the January Number, 1848.

AT the conclusion of the first half year of the 'Union Magazine," the Publisher feels impelled to make some acknowledgment of his sense of the favorable reception accorded to it by the public. Its success has certainly been unprecedented; and while it may be pardonable to ascribe this in part to the merits of the work it must not be denied that public good will and kindness have been abundantly demonstrated. The press, in all parts of the country, have given its voice liberally and heartily in favor of the new aspirant.

To flag after this would be dishonorable indeed. It is the hope of the publisher that the courage and enterprise which belong to success will be found rather to have stimulated than slackened his exertions. If there be talent of a suitable kind in the country he is determined to make it available to the Union Magazine in the various departments. He will continue to give superior engravings in Mezzotint, Line and Wood, by H. S. Sadd, Thomas Doney, M Osborne, Hinshelwood, W. S Barnard, B. F. Childs, P. Loomis &c, from original designs by F. H. Matteson, who has the sole direction of all the designs for the Engravings.

The Literary matter will continue to be under the exclusive control of the Editor, Mrs. C. M. Kirkland assisted by a corps of contributors who are either established favorites of the reading public or worthy to become so. Such as

Mrs. L. M. Child,	Miss H. F. Cloud,
" L. H. Sigourney,	Miss A. Brown,
" F. S Osgood,	Miss L. O. Hunte,
" E. E. Embury,	Miss M. Russell,
" E. F. Ellett,	Mrs. E. Emmet,

W. A. Jones,	J. H. Mancur,
J. W. Bryant,	Orville Dewey,
W. G. Simms,	R. Fisher,
Wm. O. Bourne,	Caleb Lyon.

The paper will be of the same quality now used. The Fashions will be colored by Spearing.

There will be two pages of original Music in each number.

In the course of about as many months will be given fac-similes of the characters used in writing fourteen different languages, with a short translation into English, similar to the Chinese and Persian Odes in the November and December numbers of the Magazine, by Caleb Lyon, U. S Consul to Shanghai, China which to the Curious and intelligent will be worth at least a years subscription to the Magazine. And every exertion will be made which literary ability, ingenuity of Artists, and adequate capital can do to make the Union Magazine worthy of the place already so generously granted it in the public esteem.

The Union Magazine will be published regularly on the first of each month.

Dealers in Periodicals throughout the United States and the Canadas, who wish to become agents for the Union Magazine, will please apply to the publisher immediately. All Postmasters are desired to act as agents for it—the usual discount will be made for them. A specimen number will be sent to any one wishing to see it, on application to the publisher, post paid.

THE WEEKLY
NATIONAL WHIG.

ONE of the largest newspapers in the United States, is made up from the columns of the Daily National Whig, and is published every Saturday for the low price of two dollars per annum payable in advance.—A double sheet of eight pages will be given whenever the press of matter shall justify it.

The NATIONAL WHIG is what its name indicates. It speaks the sentiments of the Whig party of the Union on every question of public policy. It advocates the election to the Presidency of ZACHARY TAYLOR subject to the decision of a Whig National Convention. It makes war to kutle upon all the measures and acts of Administration deemed to be adverse to the interest of the country, and exposes without fear or favor the corruption of the party in power. Its columns are open to every man in the country for the discussion of political or any other questions.

In addition to politics, a large space in the National Whig will be devoted to publications upon Agriculture, Mechanics, such other useful arts, Science in General, Law, Medicine Statistics, &c. Choice specimens of American and Foreign Literature, will also be given including Reviews &c. A weekly list of the Patents issued by the Patent Office will likewise be published—the whole forming a complete family newspaper.

Dyspepsia Cured.

MARTIN & WHITLEY'S NATIONAL TONIC is the best remedy ever offered to the public in all cases of Dyspepsia and Ague and Fever. A healthy condition and a natural action of the functions of the Stomach and Liver are necessary to healthy Digestion. The Stomach has been called the centre of Sympathies. It may therefore be truly said there is no disorder of the humane body, which does not, more or less, affect the functions of the Stomach. "Indigestion is rarely, if ever the sole cause of organic disease of the Stomach." It is however a very fruitful source of it in other parts of the system. It is, then, evident whatever will restore the tone or healthy action of the Stomach, when impaired by disease, is the only proper Medicine as a curative. Such, we feel assured is the natural Tonic.

We give below a certificate of a highly respectable gentleman, a merchant in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, who last summer came to consult a distinguished Physician in this City. He had also sought the aid of several, who rank high in their profession in Philadelphia, and in the State of Pennsylvania. But hearing of this Tonic, determined to use it as directed, and the result has been, as he says a perfect cure.

Church Town, Cumberland Co., Pa., Nov 3d 1847.

Messrs. Martin & Whiteley,

Gentlemen—I have used your preparation called Fever and Ague Tonic, for the cure of Dyspepsia, and am happy to inform you that it has cured me of the most obstinate and inveterate case of Dyspepsia. I therefore recommend it to all similarly afflicted.

Yours, CARY W. AHL.

N B.—I consider myself perfectly cured of Dyspepsia.

Price $1 per bottle. Around each bottle there is a short treatise on those diseases.—Prepared and sold by Martin and Whiteley at their wholesale Drug Store, 320 Baltimore street.
