EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, Md.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 11.

☞ The Remains of Mr. Adams were received in Baltimore and Philadelphia with great honor and solemnity. Arrangements have been made in New York to receive the body with the respect and reverence due to the memory of the Patriot, Sage and Christian.

Henry Clay.—Mr. Clay arrived in New York from Philadelphia, on Tuesday last, amidst the firing of cannon, and the enthusiastic cheers of thousands. The procession which escorted him up Broadway, was one of the largest which has been witnessed in that city for several years.—It is rumored that, while in New York, he will decline again coming before the people as a candidate for the Presidency.

☞ The Mexican Treaty is still under discussion by the Senate in Executive Session. Washington letter writers state that it has been amended by the Senate, the articles requiring the United States to respect the grants of land made by Mexico in Texas, prior to the year 1836, having been stricken out. If so, the Treaty will have to be returned to Mexico to receive the sanction of that Government in its amended form. There appears to be great doubts of a permanent peace being concluded between the two Republics at present.

☞ A Bill has passed both Houses of the Legislature, prohibiting the sale of spirituous liquors on the Sabbath, under a penalty of not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars, one-half to go for the use of primary schools in the district or county in which any person or persons are convicted, and the other half to the informer.

☞ Our thanks are due the Hon. R. C. Carter and Edward Lloyd, Jr., of the Maryland Legislature, for public documents.

☞ Governor Thomas has appointed John Rowens and Thomas Casson, Esqrs., as additional Justices of the Peace for this county.

☞ A Taylor meeting was held at Centreville on the 29th ultimo, without distinction of parties. The names of prominent gentlemen of both parties appear in the list of officers.

Funeral Ceremonies.—The honored remains of John Quincy Adams, which arrived here yesterday from Washington, were awaited at the outer Depot by the Committees and escort appointed for that purpose. The hearse passed along the streets attended by a large procession, civic and military. In Baltimore and other streets, through which the procession passed, the doors of the stores were closed, and silent testimonials of respect and reverance for the dead were exhibited in the subdued aspect and stillness of the crowd gathered in masses on either side of the way. The tolling of bells and the display of flags at half-mast from the shipping in the port and from public buildings announced obsequies of more than ordinary note.

The body, under the protection of a guard of honor, remained in the city last night and will be conveyed this morning to Philadelphia on the way to its final abode at Quincy. Thus passed to his last resting place the eminent and the able statesman, who, for more than half a century, served with industry and fidelity in the public employment. Honored in his life he receives, now that he is no more, the last of earthly honors in the tributes of respect and regret offered by crowds upon his bier.—Balt. Amer Tuesday.

THE FOURTH OF MARCH.—This is the anniversary of the inauguration of the Presidents of the United States, and on this day one year hence, James K. Polk will retire from office! How great will be the joy of the people to get clear of him! His administration, from the very day of its commencement when the Texas affair descended to him as a legacy, has been one of continual agitation at home, dissensions abroad, an era of strifes with many foreign governments and actual war with one!—He has brought upon the country the evils which history tells us follow the rule of the weak, the vain, and the man of low ambition.

He will go out of office, leaving behind him a public debt of more than an hundred millions of dollars; and, yet how gladly would the country have incurred the debt, if, to have done so, would have saved it from his imbecile rule!

How differently would all these things have been, had the Presidential election, of 1844 resulted in the election, instead of the defeat of Mr Clay! We should then have had peace, prosperity, no national debt no wranglings with foreign powers, no war, and, the greatest blessing of all, no James K. Polk!"—Balt. Patriot of Saturday.

MAJOR GEN. SCOTT—HIS RECALL FORETOLD IN MEXICO, &c.

The following extract from one of the letters recently received in this city from the capital of the Republic of Mexico may help to throw some light upon rather a grave subject involving the public interest, and which, sooner or later, must come to be better understood than it now is:

"City of Mexico, Jan. 13, 1848.

* * * "Gen. Pillow and ——— are still in arrest, waiting for a general court martial to be ordered at Washington, on charges forwarded by the commanding General to the Secretary of War in November. It is understood here that these officers have demanded the recall of General Scott, and I hear it said that Gen. Pillow is reckoned to be quite in the confidence of the President, the dispenser of his rewards, &c. * * * It is said here that the President will probably not allow Gen. Pillow to be tried; that is, it is so believed by P and his friends. Nous verrons." * *

True enough; the President has quashed the trial of Gen. Worth, by refusing to order a court martial, choosing rather to institute an inferior court of mere inquiry, before which he has, to the amazement of the country, dragged also the Commander of the Army, (by whom the charge against Gen. W. was preferred,) Winfield Scott, the great Captain of the age. Yes, in the midst of his brilliant and successful career, at a crisis of the highest national concern, has the President arrested the victorious General, and transferred the high trust he so ably bore to one of the volunteer officers of his own creation, who, if he be born a General certainly, as yet, has but little of the experience of one.

We believe that the ill-treatment (should we err if we call it persecution?) of this accomplished General and Statesman, by the President and his Cabinet is without parallel in the history of enlighten d Governments of the world.

Is there not good reason to apprehend that this untoward act of the Executive—the change of the Commander of our Army in the heart of Mexico—may result in the renewal of the war?

The occasion is apt for recalling to our readers the memory of the admirable letter from General Taylor to the Secretary of War, so recently brought to light, in which that distinguished soldier so well parries the blow covertly aimed a year ago at the old Hero by the out-stretched arm of Executive power. The true view of this case, so happily illustrated in the fable of Æsop, applies with equal force in the present instance of Executive displeasure

One might really suppose that these great Generals have been rather too successful in leading our cohorts to victory. A suspicious temper might perhaps infer a secret purpose of the powers that be to defer the peace a little longer, and to prolong the flow of blood and treasure, that some new-made Generalissimo may perchance win for himself an amaranthine crown more acceptable, because more available, to the votaries of the "progressive Democracy" of this our age. We have indeed heard such a surmise made by others. Be the fact as it may, the mandate has evidently gone abroad:—"Down with the Whig Generals! Off with their heads! They have been too successful for their country's good!"—National Intelligencer.

Gens. Scott and Worth.—General Scott's controversy with his subordinates, Worth and Pillow, is the subject of a long, three-column letter from Mexico, in the New York Courier and Enquirer. It is dated Mexico, Jan. 23d, and was written in reply to a publication in New York last Autumn, professing to give the grounds of the difficulties that have produced the Court of Inquiry.

The writer appears to have had the most intimate knowledge of the councils of the commanding general throughout the campaign: and he shows in the course of an historical narrative, that the whole plan of the march from Puebla, by the Chaico route, to the capital, originated solely with Gen. Scott, without the privity of Gen. Worth, to whom a portion of credit for the conception has been ascribed.—The conception was entirely Gen. Scott's, and its practicability was ascertained under his specific orders, by the Engineers, before he left Puebla.

The conduct of Gen Worth is declared to have been rash, ill advised, insubordinate, and in the last degree perilous during the campaign. As to Pillow, the writer, who appears to have an intimate knowledge of the whole subject, shows him to be below contempt. He is expressly charged with "lying, duplicity and treachery;" and it is said his character is utterly prostrate in the Army.

Venezuela.—A letter from Puerto Cabello under date of February 19, published in the Philadelphia American says—

Political affairs are becoming serious, and nothing less than a civil war is threatened. Monages, the President, has caused himself to be nominated to the command of the Government troops. Gen. Paez has propounced against the Government, declaring that he will not respect the acts of Congress as long as it is under intimidations, and not a free agent. Both parties are taking the field. Monages has raised the country to aid him, and has proclaimed Paez a traitor. Gen'l. Paez, on his part, is not inactive. he is represented as being at the head of a large force of cavalry and infantry. Two thousand government troops were marched from Caracas to the plains, and it is reported that engagements have taken place between detached parties of the government forces, and Paez's adherents. in which the latter were triumphant. General Sotillo, on the government side, has been wounded, and Gregorio Monages, also of the government is said to have been defeated, and two hundred of his men killed and taken prisoners. Ell Paa and Ell Baull have both been captured by Paez. Business is completely prostrate. and I have no change to advise you in any articles of export or import.

☞ The following letter from General Taylor to Col. Mitchell, of Ohio, must settle all doubts of the political views of Gen. Taylor, if indeed any one could have real doubts of it before. We copy the letter from the Cincinnati Chronicle:

Baton Rogue, La., Feb. 12, 1848.

My Dear Colonel—Your very kind communication, and the accompanying newspaper, have duly reached me. In reply to the closing remarks of your letter, I have no hesitation in stating, as I have stated on former occasions, that I am a Whig, though not an ultra one; and that I have no desire to conceal this fact from any portion of the people of the United States. I deem it but candid, however, to add, that if the Whig party desire at the next Presidential election, to cast their votes for me, they must do it on their own responsibility, and without any pledges from me.

Should I be elected to that office, I should deem it to be my duty, and should most certainly claim the right, to look to the constitution and the high interests of our common country, and not to the principles of a party, for rules of action.

With my sincerest thanks for your expression of friendship, and my best wishes for your success through life, I remain, very truly, your friend and obedient servant, Z. TAYLOR.

Col. A. M. Mitchell, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. Clay.—We learn, that, in the event of Mr. Crittenden's election to be Governor of Kentucky, of which there is no doubt, Mr. Clay has consented, at the earnest request of his friends, to re-enter public life, and to resume his place in the United States Senate, the Legislature consenting.—Washington Union.

The Governor of Massachusetts has appointed the third day of next month for the choice of a Representative in Congress to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the Hon. John Q Adams.

Death of a Venerable Lady.—Died in Baltimore, on the night of Thursday, the 2d instant, aged 93 years, Mrs. Chase, relict of Samuel Chase, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Our Affairs with Brazil.—In Rio Janeiro, negotiations are temporarily suspended with our Minister, until the arrival of despatches from Washington, which are anxiously awaited. Mr. Tod is on the best terms with the Brazilian government, and the establishment of permanent relations of friendship with the United States, is much desired.

Odd Fellows.—There are in the United States more than 1,000 Lodges, with 100,000 members, who pay for the relief of destitute families and sick brothers $200,000 a year. Christian, Turk and Jew, may enter, but those who declare their disbelief in a Supreme Being are inadmissible.—Boston Bee.

Horrid Affair.—A man named Aaron M'Millan, living in Saline county, Illinois, and his three sons, went to the house of a neighbor, named Longson, against whom they had became incensed because his dog had attacked and mutilated M'Milan's cow, and deliberately shot him, after which they beat in his skull with the barrel of the gun. The son of the deceased attempted to interfere, when he was beaten severely with clubs. The guilty parties were arrested.

The Lady's Dollar Newspaper.

This work it is the intention of the publisher, who is well known to the American public, to make far superior to any other Family newspaper of the day. It will be published at one dollar per annum, payable in advance, which will only be about four cents for each number. He will be assisted by a number of Literary Ladies, who are anxious to see a publication in the shape of a newspaper issued that may be worthy the patronage of their sex. It is the intention of the editor to rescue from oblivion the writings of the most eminent female writers, such as Miss Sedgwick, Mrs Sigourney, Miss Gould, Mrs. Embury, Mrs Stephens, Mrs Child Miss Fuller Mrs. Kirkland, Mrs Osgood, Mrs Fanny Butler etc etc The best Stories & Essays that are published in the English Magazines will be transferred to its columns and the public will get through this medium twice a month an opportunity to contrast the Literature of America with England, and will receive for one dollar what is charged by other publications from $3 to $5.

This paper is intended to take the place of the reprints of Blackwood and the London World of Fashion.

One great feature will be the entire Republication of all the most splendid English annuals, giving for four cents, the litterary matter of what here would cost from five to ten dollars An English Annual for four cents.

One thing it is thought important to mention.—No article published in Godey's Lady's Book will be published in the Lady's Dollar Paper, and vice versa.

One reason for changing the reprints of the London Magazines to the Ladys Paper, is that we were then bound to give merely a Reprint of what was good and bad. In the Dollar Paper we have it in our power to repel the bad and give only the good and we can communicate more freely with our subscribers—give them every novelty in Dress, Accomplishments, etc

It is in our power to produce—aided by the able assistants we have—a work that may fairly be entitled a Lady's paper, and we will do it. We would prefer that the work should be seen and judged by the merits, which is a better test than a mere prospectus.

TERMS.
