heard Mr Faringer making a bargain to sell his house saying that he had seperated from his wife and was going to live with Eliza Ramsay Stahl but he said that he was going to give his wife part of the money. he asked my Hundred Seven Hundred dollars for it and I do not recollect what price he was bargaining for I think he sold the house to Joseph Williams. I think he said the house was on Orleans Street.

Note. It is admitted that the house in Orleans Street sold for five hundred and twenty five dollars. The Commission then adjourned to meet on some future day to be agreed upon between the parties.

November 15. The Commission met pursuant to adjournment at 4 o'clock both Counsel being present.

Ezekiel Crow having been duly sworn on the Holy Evangelys of Almighty God. To the first Interrogatory he saith. as far as I knew her. she was a poor woman about the time that Faringer took up with her, she was a woman of very bad character, was a very common woman. I meant that she was a lewd woman, she was poor and he maintained her, she lived off what Faringer made in the market. This was the general report of every one that knew her. I was at that time and am yet a city watchman I have seen them go through my ward together both day and night. And from what I saw from my observation both day and night about her house. I judge of her poverty her lewd conduct and of her being kept by him (she was one of the commonest kind of prostitutes up to the last three years.

To the second Interrogatory he saith. she and her mother lived together her mother was very poor. She and her mother and Faringer lived together. I did not know her father there was no man living about the house but Faringer that I saw.

Being Crop examined. To the first Crop Interrogatory he saith. I think that they lived in Granby Street.

To the second Crop Interrogatory he saith, they moved from there to Still house street.

To the Third Crop Interrogatory he saith not to my knowledge all the time but they lived in the ward two years, but I saw them often when they were not in the ward.

To the Fourth Crop Interrogatory, he saith I never was in their house, but I have seen in as I passed along by the door.

To the Fifth Crop Interrogatory he saith, yes, whilst they were on my ward, after that I can't say.

To the Sixth Crop Interrogatory he saith I never did.

To the seventh Crop Interrogatory he saith I knew them when they lived near the Hanover Market before they lived in Granby Street.

To the Eighth Crop Interrogatory he saith I did know that they lived in Potter Street at the time although I knew them.

To the Ninth Interrogatory he saith, I never did.

Being Re-examined. To the First additional Interrogatory he saith more than nine years.

To the second additional Interrogatory he saith about Eight years ago.

To the Third additional Interrogatory he saith. As far as I know I believe that he died.

To the Fourth Add.l Int.y he saith. I do not know any thing.

To the Fifth Additional Interrogatory he saith I do not know but she must have been nineteen when I first knew her.

To the Sixth Additional Interrogatory, he saith, I can't say but they all lived together that is Faringers mother and daughter. The Commission then adjourned to meet again by consent.

November 24th. The Commission met pursuant to adjournment both Counsel being present. David Henly having been duly sworn on the Holy Evangelys of Almighty God.

To the first Interrogatory he saith. I know nothing but what Faringer told me, he told me that he had a payment to write on a three story House in Lombard Street about two years ago last summer.

To the second Interrogatory he saith. He was a partner of mine, we were fish Huckslers in Market.

To the Third Interrogatory he saith. He was a thrifty and money making man whilst he was sober. but he was in the habit of getting on spreeds which lasted sometimes three or four days. We turned him off about one — ago last spring on account of his dissipated habits.

To the Fourth Interrogatory he saith. I know nothing more.

Being Crop Examined. To the first Crop Interrogatory he saith, I can't say but some time before we turned him off. For the last three or four years off and on.

To the Second Crop Interrogatory he saith I had no means of knowing.

To the Third Crop Interrogatory he saith. I do not know that he was in the habit of gambling within the last year or two before his death but before that he used to play five penny bit bluff.

The Commission then adjourned to meet again by consent, November 19th. The Commission met at 4 o'clock pursuant to adjournment both parties being present. David P. Hoppolt having been duly affirmed. To the first Interrogatory he saith. The House was put up at auction and knocked down at $950. On enquiring for the purchaser Mr Faringer stepped forth from the crowd and beckoned to us to come down. John P. Gross. Samuel Kramer and myself went down to a house with Mr Faringer where I saw Eliza Ramsay who on the facts being stated went up stairs and brought down some three hundred dollars or upwards and paid the money to Samuel Kramer and myself. A few days afterwards on the signing of the deed the balance was paid Eliza Ramsay paid the balance.

To the second Interrogatory he saith, not to my knowledge.

To the third Interrogatory he saith, that there was a receipt or something of that nature given that is all I know of.

To the fourth Interrogatory he saith I cannot say.

To the fifth Interrogatory he saith I am unable to say.

To the sixth Interrogatory he saith I have no recollection unless Sam Kramer.

To the seventh Interrogatory he saith not to my knowledge.

To the Eighth Interrogatory he saith I am unable to say.

To the Ninth Interrogatory he saith I will not say now whether the whole of the money was paid or not on the second occasion of paying.

To the Tenth Interrogatory he saith I do not know at present, I think that it was somewhat in the summer.

To the Eleventh Int.y he saith, It is situated at the S.W. Corner of Canal & Lombard Streets,
