To the Twelfth Interrogatory he saith I distinctly recollect that on every occasion that the money was paid by Eliza Ramsay.
To the thirteenth Interrogatory he saith I do not know.
To the fourteenth Interrogatory he saith I was at the house before and since that day and I have seen Mr Faringer there.
To the fifteenth Interrogatory he saith, I cannot say at present.
To the sixteenth Interrogatory he saith no.
To the seventeenth Interrogatory he saith no notes were given to my knowledge.
To the Eighteenth Interrogatory he saith I think that a receipt was taken, I have no recollection of present of a bond.
Being cross examined. To the first cross Interrogatory he saith, That there was a Grocery and Liquor Store.
To the Second Cross Interrogatory he saith, I sent for some Groceries to Eliza Ramsay and I sent the money for the payment of them by a daughter of mine. Eliza Ramsay generally attended the store and I have seen her attending on persons who went in to the store. There was no sign over the store to my knowledge.
Being re examined. To the First additional Interrogatory he saith, I have seen him pass through the store in and out.
To the second additional Interrogatory he saith not to my knowledge.
To the third additional Interrogatory he saith. The House was sold for $950. but there was a mortgage for $300 on the property and she paid the difference.
The Commission then adjourned to meet again by consent.
Thursday March 28th 1850. The Commission met pursuant to adjournment. Present both Counsel.
David A Brown summoned on the part of the defend— having been duly affirmed.
To the First Interrogatory saith. I know Eliza Ramsay.
To the Second Interrogatory he saith. Defendants Exhibit A is signed by me, Eliza Ramsay paid me the money for which this release was given. I cannot say whether the whole amount was paid to me or to Beale by Eliza Ramsay. Defendants Exhibit B. is signed by Eliza Ramsay all the notes that were given were paid to me.
To the third Interrogatory he saith, As well as I can recollect I leased the lot on the Corner of Canal and Lombard Street. to William E. Beale reserving Forty Dollars Ground rent. This is the lot referred to in the deed of William E. Beale to Eliza Ramsay. Beale was indebted to me in the sum of nine Hundred dollars loaned him to improve the property also on Book account. Amount not remembered. The said Beale came to me and said that he had made arrangements to sell the property to Mrs Ramsay and proposed to me that the purchase money should be paid to me in liquidation of my claim to which proposition of said Beale I assented I was present when the deed from Beale to Mrs Ramsay was executed and the money was paid to me, all except the last which was secured by the mortgage herewith filed and marked Defendants Exhibit B.
To the Fourth Interrogatory he saith, I was present and the money was paid by Eliza Ramsay. Being Cross Examined to the First Cross Interrogatory he saith yes, I think he was present.

To the second Cross Interrogatory he saith I dare say from five or six times.
To the third Cross Interrogatory he saith, I have a perfect recollection that Eliza Ramsay handed me the money and I recollect it because most of it was in halves and quarters of dollars. It was then stated by some one in reply to an enquiry of mine that she paid me the money as she got it from time to time in a little store kept by her, this statement was made in her presence and not objected to by her.
To the fourth Cross Interrogatory he saith not that I have any recollection of. She had the money tied up in a bundle or reticule, and when the papers were ready, she put the money on the Magistrates' table.
To the Fifth Cross Interrogatory he saith. The Number of notes. I do not recollect. The notes were all paid at maturity. My impression is that there were four notes of fifty dollars each with interest added making two hundred and twelve dollars. They were paid to the best of my recollection at the Farmers and Commercial Bank.
To the Sixth Cross Interrogatory he saith I saw him several times, I do not recollect the number. He generally came as a messenger not as principal.
To the Seventh Cross Interrogatory he saith they were.
To the Eighth Cross Interrogatory he saith I do not recollect.
The Commission then adjourned to meet again by consent.
April 6th 1850. The Commission met pursuant to adjournment. Both Counsel being present.
William E. Beale recalled on part of defence. To the first Interrogatory he saith I did go.
To the second Interrogatory he saith Faringer told her that she had better go and get the money and she did go and bring the money.
To the Third Interrogatory he saith David A Brown got a portion of the first payment and the mortgage and I got the balance of the Cash payment.
To the Fourth Interrogatory he saith. I think I was there twice. Being Cross examined on part of plaintiffs. To the first cross Interrogatory he saith, The explanation is this that we first met at Mr. McCullough's Office when Faringer told her to go and get the money, she was to meet us with the money at David A Brown's. When we waited for her sometime and as she was long in coming Faringer started to go for her. He met her near the corner of St: Paul and Market Streets, she seemed a good deal fatigued and said that she had been hurried to get back. He took the money which was in a handkerchief, and they went to Brown's and all of us then went up to Mr. Pelts office where the money was laid on the table as aforesaid.
The Commission then adjourned to meet again by Consent.
April 8th 1850. The Commission met pursuant to adjournment. Both Counsel Present.
