some of them payable at stated times and in some the time of payment was not mentioned. The first note was payable in six months. No statement was then made to her knowledge the arrangement was made between Osborne and Goldsmith at Goldsmith's house and the amount was furnished deponent and deponent drew the notes and witnessed the mark of said Osborne and the notes were given by Osborne to Gbed. Smith in deponents presence.

20th X. To the Twentieth Cross Inty: she answers that the old notes were destroyed by deponent at said Osborne's request, immediately after the new notes were given, she cannot describe them for the amounts of some were small and of some large only two were due and the balance were not due.

21 X To the Twenty first Cross Inty: she answers that mortgage was given for the $5000 at the time or immediately after, no note or bond was given the mortgage was drawn by Mr Spurrier and she is sure there was no note or bond given.

22 X To the Twenty second Cross Inter: she answers, that said Osborne remained in possession of said houses until her removal to New York when she left for New York she left Elizabeth Boyle to take charge of the house and left her furniture and boarders in the house.

23d X To the Twenty third Cross Inty. she answers that she knows this from seeing the notes in Osbornes possession after they were paid. deponent saw said Osborne pay one of the notes to Goldsmith this payment was made at her house the time she cannot recollect deponent several times assisted said Osborne in counting the money to pay these notes and the interest, but he thinks she was present only at one payment the one above referred to.

24th X To the twenty fourth Cross Inty: she answers, that ten per cent was the rate on the $10,000 that is to say on the notes given for it without reference to the time they had to run provided the time did not exceed one year.

25 X. To the twenty fifth Cross Inty: she answers that she does not know whether he agreed to do so at the time the said deed was executed, but he did agree to do so before she went to New York. Deponent heard him say as he was going out "Betsy I will have that paper drawn up and give it to you" but deponent did not know at the time what paper he referred to, and she was not present when the agreement was made between them.

26 X To the Twenty sixth Cross Inty - she answers that she did not read the whole of the papers, he would not let the deponent have it in her hand, but he let her read part of it. The amounts were not read to her, he only told deponent that Osborne owed him more money than he claimed on the paper specified. the amount he did not state. The part of the said paper which deponent read stated plate beds and bedding &c. which by this paper were made over to Goldsmith. it also spoke of some of the plate which she has taken to New York, she knows nothing of the terms as she did not read said paper.

27 X Cross. To the twenty first Cross Inter: she answers that she thinks said paper was not signed, it was not finished. Goldsmith showed her the said paper as the paper under which he claimed the property in question. He said when he showed it to her "let them do what they please they cannot take this property from me because this paper will prove that it is mine. Deponent did not notice the date of said paper.

28th X. To the Twenty eighth Cross Inty. she answers that Goldsmiths wife and a woman who lived with them were present a part of the time on said occasion.

29th X To the Twenty ninth Cross Inty: she answers that she thinks in December 1845. she knows it was.

30th X. To the thirtieth Cross Inty: she answers that she remembers being at Goldsmith's house three times since Osborne's death perhaps oftener deponent always went on her own business.

31st X To the thirty first Cross Inter: she answers, that she resides in Philadelphia.

32d X. To the thirty second cross Inty she answers that she is at this time boarding at a house in Garden Street formerly occupied by Mrs Smithson now occupied by her son. Adjourned to the 11th of September 1848 to meet on the part of the complainant Anna Maria Vickery. On which day the following deposition was taken, Julia McGee the witness heretofore produced sworn and examined on the part of the complainants being examined on the Interrogatories filed by Mrs Maria Vickery deposes and says as follows:

1. To the first Inty: she answers that she has looked at the promissory note marked "A M V" and that the body of the said note is in the hand writing of Samuel A Goldsmith the defendant as are also the words "Elizabeth her Osborne" the mark "X" between Elizabeth and Osborne was made by Elizabeth Osborne and for her signature, the name "Eliza J. White" was subscribed by deponent as a witness of the marks of said Osborne made in her presence Eliza J. White being the name of this deponent previous to her marriage, and at the time said note was signed by said Elizabeth Osborne. The indorsement is in the hand writing and the signature of Samuel A Goldsmith.

2. To the Second Inty: she answers that on the day of the date of the said note marked "A M V" the said Elizabeth Osborne executed and delivered to the said Anna Maria Vickery another promissory note for the sums of nine hundred and fifteen dollars. deponent witnessed the mark of said Osborne subscribed to said note of nine hundred and fifteen Dollars at the same time that she witnessed the mark of said Osborne to said note "A M V" both of said notes were written by Goldsmith and both looked alike and as if written at the same time. Deponent had previously drawn three notes for the same amount as the two notes above referred to, and the notes drawn by her were made payable to Anna Maria Vickery but the two notes above referred to were substituted for those drawn by deponent and the latter were destroyed. The said Osborne desired that the notes should be written by said Goldsmith and indorsed by him in order to secure said Anna Maria Vickery in getting her money. This was what said Osborne told deponent. Deponent recollects that both of said notes were in the same form and
