Riot and Daring Outrage.—Last evening, after the result of the election had been ascertained, and the crowd about our office had dispersed, a party of desperate villans, bearing with them a transparency purporting to belong to the 7th ward Cass and Butler Club, created a wanton and unprovoked riot in Baltimore street, and immediately made a violent attack on this office, smashing in windows, breaking the doors, endangering the lives of the hands while at work, and doing much other damage. We are totally at a loss to account for this outrage, and can only now call upon the officers of the 7th Ward Democratic Club, for the honor of their party, as well as themselves, to come forward and pay the damages, and at the same time use their endeavors to bring the villains to justice. One of the large glasses in the window of our next door neighbor, Mr. J. L. McPhail, was also smashed. During the riot, one of the rallying cries of the rowdies was, "hurrah for the Sun and Democracy." We shall have more to say of this desperate and unprovoked outrage hereafter.—Clipper.

MORE STABBING.—We learn that a free negro calling himself Bill Blake, was severely cut several inches with a dirk knife across the upper portion of the abdomen by Jesse Leaverton, a citizen of this county, near or at Violet Hopkins, in Easton, on Saturday night last, but a few yards from where young Catrup was stabbed.

We understand that the wound is not considered mortal, and the probability is that unless inflamation ensues, the negro will recover. We know nothing of the circumstances connected with the affair.—Easton Star.

☞ We understand that the negro Blake died on Thursday night last

MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE.—It is with unfeigned regret that we learn, through the Easton Gazette, Md., that our fellow citizen Thos. B. Ozment had a recontre with a man named Catrup, in that city, which resulted in the death of C.

Mr. Ozment has been a citizen with us for nearly four years, and his uniform gentlemanly deportment, strict integrity, and unwavering moral character, has attached to him a large circle of warm friends. Mr. O. has been twice appointed, and served through two sessions of our State Legislature as enrolling clerk, & discharged his duties with a faithfulness and ability which gave the highest satisfaction.

The Gazette does not give the particulars of the difficulty, But from the amiableness of Mr O.'s disposition, his retiring quiet habits, we are confident that he must have acted in the defensive, and will be justified upon a legal investigation of the case.—Jackson Mississippian.

A RASH ACT.—We learn from the Rockville (Md.) Journal, that a negro man belonging to Mr. Philip Stone, near that place, chopped his hand off with an axe, on Wednesday last. He had ran off a few days previous, and feared his master would sell him.

FREE SOIL TICKET.—The Free soil party have at length agreed upon an Electorial Ticket for this State, which is as follows: For the State at large—David Gamble of Frederick county, and John Reynolds of Cecil; and for the Congressional Districts, Darius Thomas, E. B. Cunningham, Edarand, H. Lewis, J. Hampden Williams, Ellis P. Howard, S. S. Stevens.

ACCIDENT IN HARFORD.—Patrick Rutledge, a son of Mr. John Rutledge, of Harford county, was dreadfully injured on Tuesday, on his father's farm, (some twenty miles out on the line of the railroad,) by following into a threshing machine that he was engaged in tending. His leg was drawn in, the bone broken and flesh lacerated.

SINGULAR AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—The ship Lancaster, lately commanded by Capt. Coryell, sailed from New Bedford, June 21, for the Pacific Ocean, and returned September 30, in consequence of the loss of her captain, who met his death on the 1st of Sept., in the following singular manner.

Capt. C. was standing on the quarter deck, leaning over the rail, when a man employed upon the mizen top-sail yard missed his hold and fell directly upon the back of Capt. C., injuring him so severely internally, that he survived the accident only a few hours. The man escaped with only a slight wound on the arm.

INDIAN TROUBLES.—As was conjectured, the Pawnees have began depredations on the Pottowatomies. On the night of the 29th August, there were twenty three horses stolen from the upper village of the Pottowatomies. They pursued the robbers for five days, until their provisions were exhausted, and returned last evening, after having followed the trail (leading directly towards the Pawnee village) about 200 miles. Thus a war is fairly begun.

Steamboat Accident and Dreadful Loss of Life—Confirmation of the Burning of the Steamboat Goliah on Lake Huron.

BUFFALO, Sept. 30, 1848.

The supposed loss of the steam propeller Goliah on Lake Huron, hence from the upper Lakes, is believed here to be fully confirmed. Remnants of a wreck, having semblance to the Goliah, have been discovered on the Canadian shore of Lake Huron; the belief universally prevails that the vessels took fire, and there being a large quantity of gunpowder on board, the destruction of the vessel must have been completed by the explosion of the powder.

The charred wreck of a large propeller was driven ashore at Pine Point, above Goodrich, Canada West, on Wednesday last, Sept. 27. A yawl boat also came on shore, but it was not at all burned, while many of the wooden hoops by which the sails are run up and down, appeared to have been cut with an axe. Three hundred barrels of flour, with an immense quantity of candles in boxes, and boxes of raisins, kegs of blasting powder, packed oats, together with many other articles of merchandise, all bearing the evidences of having been shipped on the Goliah, were also picked up along the shore. Many of the packages were directed to the Saut St. Marie, and the Meden Mining Company.

The timbers of the wreck that came on shore had the appearance of having been torn asunder. As yet no human bodies have been found, and it is supposed that all on board perished

INTERESTING FROM PUERTO CABELLO.

PUERTO CABELLO, Sept. 12, 1848.

On the 23d ult. General Monagas' squadron of ten vessels departed from this port, destined for the Island of Margueritа, seeking an occasion to attack the fleet General Paez, or of the Constitutionalists, where the latter was stationed. On the 7th inst. the authorities here received advices of the defeat of their squadron by the Constitutionalists—the Commodore's vessel having been sunk, himself and several other officers taken prisoners, and the remainder dispersed.

His excellency, Paez, remained at St. Thomas, 4th inst., and was determined to leave in a week for Curacoa, or perhaps the squadron at or near the island of Margueritа. He has declared, in a recent address or proclamation, to the fleet and the people of the Eastern Provinces, his determination to continue using every effort for the re-establishment of the constitution, and to overthrow the military despot who had usurped the whole power of state, by wading through the precious blood of the peoples' representatives, spilt in the Halls of Congress on the 27th of January last.

General Monagas, through his secretary of state for the home department, has given orders to all the governors of provinces, to proceed with the utmost severity against the disaffected towards his administration. Consequently government measures in conversation are interdicted in the most absolute manner—thus the people are completely fettered by the military tyrant, and his willing instruments of the same stamp. The country continues in an extremely unsettled state, and when order will, if ever, be restored, is more than human foresight can divine.

LATE FROM MEXICO—Movements of Santa Anna. The Charleston Courier has received a despatch from New Orleans announcing the arrival there of the steamer Trent with dates from Vera Cruz to the 20th ult.

The republic of Mexico was in a state of tranquility, nothing having occurred of a warlike character since last advices.

Santa Anna's partizans had united with the Democrats, exp cting by this Union to facilitate a Revolution, which would result in the elevation of this expatriated leader to power.

Larissa had received the appointment of Minister to the United States.

Lieut. Tilden convicted of murder in Mexico, and pardoned at the time of the ratification of the treaty with that country, was a passenger in the Trent

MR. CLAY.

Among the many evidences the public have had that the Sage of Ashland discountenances any use of his name, to the detriment of his party or of his country, we have (says the Richmond Republican,) seen nothing from his pen more decisive or satisfactory than the following:

"ASHLAND, Sept. 19, 1848.

"MY DEAR SIR: * * * Ever since I knew of the Philadelphia Convention having decided against my nomination as a candidate for the Presidency, I have written many letters, uniformly and explicitly declaring that I would not consent to accept a nomination if it were tendered to me. To no person or association of persons have I at any time, given the least countenance or encouragement to use my name as a candidate for the office since the decision of that Convention. I shall deeply lament if I have any friends who will not conform to my wishes on the subject

"With many thanks for your kindly feelings and long attachment to me,

"I am your friend and
obedient servant,
HENRY CLAY."

"Colonel HAMTRAMCK.

The above is an extract of a letter to Col. Hamtramck, of Jefferson co., Va., who, in favoring us with it accompanies it with the following cheering account of the good cause in his region:

"You will be glad to hear that not a single Whig in this quarter of Virginia pretends to go against Taylor, and that many Locos will vote with us. I know of some dozen myself, in my neighborhood, who intend to vote for the old Chief."

TENNESSEE.—The Nashville Whig says:—

"How certain Tennessee is, may be inferred from the fact that the Locos won't bet a red cent upon its going against Taylor, while one of their Electors has admitted on the stump that he will get the State.

REMINISCENSES.—The editor of the Union is engaged in recounting the objections waged by the opponents of Gen. Jackson to his election, but we observe that he carefully refrains from enumerating amongst them one objection made by the then editor of the Richmond Enquirer, viz: that "his election would be a curse to the country." This should have a prominent place in the catalogue of the editor, as it comes from a distinguished source. It is true, the editor of the Enquirer, subsequently "turned around and wheeled about, and Jumped Jim Crow," but his anathema of General Jackson still stands on the record. A man will sometimes wound himself in his blind and furious attacks on others.

AN OUTRAGEOUS FALSEHOOD.—As the election approaches, no abuse or calumny can be too violent or vituperative to be called to the aid of Locofocoism. The Carlisle Volunteer says:

"There is a man in the borough of Carlisle now, who witnessed Gen. Taylor torturing one of his slaves, by hanging the poor black devil by the two thumbs to the limb of a tree, when he, (Gen. Taylor) with his own hands, whipped him with a cowhide, every ten minutes for two hours, and laughed at the fun! The gentleman who told us this was present, and witnessed the cruel treatment, and if necessary, is willing to make oath to the above facts"

General Taylor made a great mistake when he dared to hope that the campaign would be conducted towards him, by Locofocos, with "kindness and candor." If slander can ruin or harm his election in Pennsylvania, he must look to be slandered, not expecting either mercy or fairness from the unprincipled politicians, who, by the most deliberate system of falsification, in 1844, defrauded Henry Clay out of his election, and Pennsylvania out of the Tariff of '42. Our cotemporary of Carlisle and his witness are quite moderate, as yet, in declaring that General Taylor only whipped his slave, instead of alleging, at once that he killed him and ate him. They will improve, perhaps up to this point, by election day, and establish the truth of every thing by deposition. We remember that, in 1844, it was charged upon oath that the Whig candidate for Governor in Delaware, had whipped a man to death; and the story was persisted in, even after the unfortunate victim, the murdered man, had shown himself at various public meetings; and made solemn affidavit that he was still living.—North Amer.

GEN. BUTLER was, eight years ago, a witness to Gen. Taylor's principles; for, in speech on the Florida War, delivered in the House of Representatives of the United States, June 11, 1840, the present locofoco candidate for the Vice-Presidency used the following language:

"General TAYLOR succeeded General JESSUP in the command, as I heard no complaint against him, I presume there is none. Fortunately for himself, sir, he is a Whig; and fortunately for the country, he is a soldier of the highest order."

THE SUB-TREASURY.

Every day's experience demonstrates more conclusively the utter absurdity of that Locofoco invention, known as the Sub-Treasury; called so for the reason, we suppose, that it is a Treasury under the immediate management of the President and his subordinates, and used for their personal and political advantage. Every intelligent merchant or man of business, in the ranks of our opponents, whatever his vocation may be, must know and feel that this scheme of locking up the public revenues in iron vaults, and withdrawing so much specie from circulation, is calculated not only to derange the whole machinery of trade, but to depress every interest connected with moneyed operations The farmer, the mechanic and the working man are especially the sufferers by this wretched experiment; for, constituting the great mass of the community, and depending upon their own labor for subsistence, whatever disturbs the money market operates directly to their disadvantage, in the depreciation of prices, in the reduction of wages, and in the diminution of employment.

To say nothing of the inducement which this system offers to peculation and abuse, and of the enormous losses which the country has already sustained through Democratic defaulters, it is utterly impracticable as a means of safekeeping and disbursing the public revenues. This opinion is not confined to the Whig party. It is now become general, and as an evidence of it, we cut the following extract from the Journal of Commerce, a paper which contributed all its influences to bring the present administration into power, which is openly the advocate of its Free Trade dogmas, and the system of measures which has entailed so much injury and discredit upon the country.

Extract of a letter from a prominent Democrat in the western part of this State, dated the 26th instant.

"The operations of the Sub-Treasury are coming more manifest to the public, and its abuses more obviously apparent. What a curse it would be to all the business interests of the country, in the event of a full Treasury. Imagine its effect with the government out of debt and forty millions on hand, as was the case prior to the distribution among the States! The machinery of business could not move with such a sum in specie locked up in the government vaults. It is an evil which is only bearable in fair weather. I shall rejoice if I live to see the day when it is repudiated by all enlightened men, and expunged from the statute books"—Phila. Amer.

AN ANCIENT PRESS.—But few of our readers are aware, we expect, that the press upon which our little sheet is printed is the oldest now in use in the United States, and probably in the world. Yet such is the fact. The press now used by us has been in almost constant service for more than a hundred years. Upon it was first printed. "The Maryland Gazette," the earliest paper published in the province of Maryland, & one among the very first in America Upon it, also, was printed the first volume of the laws of Maryland that ever appeared. It is constructed somewhat on the Ramage principle, and requires three pulls, though two were originally sufficient, to produce a good impression. It is truly a venerable object.—St. Mary's Beacon.

AMERICAN RULE IN MEXICO.—We see by a notice in the New Orleans papers that Captain George W. White, of that city, is authorised by the Mexican government to raise a regiment of one thousand men, to go to city of Mexico to act as a guard in sustaining the present government. For this purpose Captain White has opened his rendezvous.

IMPORTANT SCREW LOOSE!—Hon STEPHEN C. BONHAM, who was nominated as a Taylor Elector for the State of Delaware, not only declines the honor in an article of strong and overwhelming reasons for his course, but takes bold and decided grounds for CASS and BUTLER. A few more left."

We cut the above strange paragraph from one of our Locofoco exchanges of this State. We cannot say that we exactly understand what it means. But we suppose a sufficient answer to it will be that the Whig electoral candidates of Delaware are PHILIP REYBOLD, SAMUEL CATTS, and GARDINER H. WRIGHT, all well known good and true Whigs, not one of whom will ever be likely to be the occasion of any exultation to Locofocos.—Phil. Amer.

"OLD ZACK IS COMING!"—Col. Bragg, when describing the battle of Buena Vista, quotes this expension as having been shouted by a soldier, at a critical moment, and its effect was to encourage our troops to renewed exertions. Let this, then, be a watchward for the Governor's election: fight bravely for JOHNSTON, MIDDLESWARTH, and our members of Congress, and recollect that, next month, "Old Zack is coming!"—Ib.

STRANGE COMPANIONSHIP.—The Springfield Republican recalls the remarkable fact that the candidate for Vice President on the Van Buren ticket, in 1810, was Richard M. Johnson, the man who said he would break down the administration of John Quincy Adams it "it were as pure as the angels in Heaven!" The candidate for Vice President on the Van Buren ticket in 1848 is a son of John Quincy Adams.

NOTICE.

I HAVE caused to be filed in the Clerk's office of Talbot county, with the approbation of the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Easton, a book, or certificate of survey, containing the location of the several Lots, Streets, Lanes and Alleys of the town aforesaid, made out by that much esteemed and highly respected citizen, Friend John Needles, for the Commissioners appointed by an act of the General Assembly of Maryland, passed in the year, 1785, to survey and lay out a Town which was then called "Talbot," but by another act passed in the year 1788, was changed and called "Easton." It is believed that John Needles was generally considered to be, in his day, one of the very best and most accurate Surveyors in the State of Maryland.
