the habit of riding out with you and did she not ride out with you the Evening that she left her husband's house and went to the house of her mother;
15th You say on your Examination in chief that you never knew that the said Lavinia intended separating from her husband, did you not say to or in the presence of Henry Emment at Mr Samuel Schindel's Emment's some time after the separation, that you knew that the said Lavinia was going to leave her husband two weeks before she actually separated and that you were not surprised at the separation
16th Did you not tell the said Lavinia before her separation from her husband that all the property she had at the time of her marriage was hers absolutely and that her husband could not keep or control it in event of separation; And have you not repeatedly told her so since her said separation;
17th Have you not been attending to the affairs of the said Lavinia since her separation from her husband without consultation with your said brother the husband of the said Lavinia
18th Have you not consulted, employed Counsel to attend to this case and made representations to Counsel of the case, of as well those things told to you by the said Lavinia as things you have knowledge of;
19th Who first spoke to the Counsel now employed in this case in regard thereto;
20th Do you not know that the said Lavinia has a most violent temper and most unrelenting prejudices
21st Does she not confide in you and her mother and particularly in yourself;
22d Are you acquainted with the hand writing of the said Lavinia Schindel, and have you not seen her write; if so; look upon the letters A. B and C. now here exhibited and say whether they are in her hand writing
23rd Did you know of the existence of these letters before this time;
24th Have you ever heard the said Lavinia say any thing in regard to the money that was sent her by the said Andrew Schindel and have you ever heard her say that she would not receive money from him, and have you not advised her not to receive money from him;
25th Have you not repeatedly heard the said Lavinia declare that she would not receive any support whatever from her said husband
26th Have you not advised the said Lavinia to buy at the stores in Hagerstown whatever she wanted;
27th Have you not repeatedly said harsh and opprobrious things about the said Andrew Schindel in the presence of the said Lavinia since her separation from her husband; and on many occasions disparaged him in conversation with her;
28th Have you not heard the said Lavinia say that if ever the said Andrew her husband came into the house again where she was that she would stick him out, and did you not so state some time last winter in the presence of Peter Middlekauff
29th Have you not heard the said Lavinia declare since her said separation that she wished her husband was dead, and that she would never make up with him again; if so, when did she so declare and did you not so state in the presence of your mother Mrs Schindel.

30th Have you not declared that you were going to keep the said Lavinia with you, and that she should not go back to her husband, and if you do not so state, state what you did say in regard to the matter to Peter Middlekauff
31st Did you not state to Lewis Schindel your brother that you intended to make the said Andrew Schindel pay back to his wife all the money of hers that he had spent; or if not, what did you say about it;
32nd Have you not undertaken since the said separation to give Mr Procter one of the said Andrew Schindel's tenants directions in regard to the disposition of some fodder on the farm, and when you were reminded that Andrew Schindel would object, you said that Andrew Schindel might go to hell, or to the devil, and so declared in the presence of John Newman; did you or not so declare;
33rd Who was present and heard the conversation at your father's house to which you alluded in your testimony in chief in regard to Andrew's direction to you to pay over money to his wife; and who was present and heard the conversation on the turnpike to which you also allude when you asked the said Andrew what he was going to do in regard to the property;
34th By what authority did you undertake to know of the said Andrew what he was going to do with the property, and by what authority did you say that you knew that Lavinia would never agree to what you understood to be an offer to compromise
35th Was not the said Andrew exceedingly anxious to bring about a reconciliation with his wife after she left him, and did he not manifest the greatest anxiety to effect such reconciliation at Mr Emment's the night of the separation and of which you have spoken in your testimony in chief; and did he not offer to accommodate her in every thing she wanted; Did he not offer to board with her if she preferred it, and to take her travelling if she wished;
36th When you stated to him that the said Lavinia had informed you that she had been accused of being deceitful, and that the said Andrew had said to her that she "had a damned deceitful heart" did he not positively and repeatedly deny it at once and did he admit any thing stated as coming from the said Lavinia, as true in fact
37th Did not the said Andrew at the same when you were informing him of the charges that the said Lavinia had made against him in regard to his treatment to her in Philadelphia or Washington, state to you the circumstances of the case, and tell you how things occurred, and what was the state of the case and tell according to his account of it - if so; what did he say in to the matter.
38th Do you not know that your father furnished Andrew with a considerable amount of money; and which was expended in the purchase of the house in Washington Street.
39th Was not the said Andrew since his wife's separation from him