and made a great to do, went through the house slamming the doors, said he was going to see the Doctor, came back and brought the Doctor with him. The Doctor said she must not eat Oysters, but that she might eat roasted potatoes or some rice. Andrew went and got the rice, came into the room threw it on the table and said now I reckon you can eat that
To the 48th Interrogatory, this deponent says that Mr Emment her husband died on the 25th day of September 1853.

Cross Examination of Elizabeth Emment

To the 1st Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that her feelings and prejudices are very strong against Andrew J. Schindel and that she has great reason to be so.
To the 2nd Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that she cannot say how often, during Lavinia's sickness at my house, when she was very sick, that Andrew went into the Country. He would go out in the morning and come back in the evening. He said he was going to his fathers.
To the 3rd Cross Interrogatory this deponent says that Andrew did go away when Lavinia was very sick. Often he went away. He did not continue in her room all the time for he knew deponent was there doing for her. He never asked about his wife as to whether it was prudent or safe for him to go into the Country but he just said he was going and went.
To the 4th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says, that she thinks it was during the month of July that Lavinia was thus sick.
To the 5th Interrogatory, this deponent says that it was very seldom during Lavinia's sickness that Andrew stayed alone in her room all night, there was always one or the other of us with him. Deponent says that she told him to go over into the other room, lie down and take a rest and he did go. has no recollection of hearing him refuse to go.
To the 6th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says, that she didn't think that Andrew was engaged as a harvest hand, he went out there to help them. If he was a hand he could still come home to see his sick wife. My daughter Orella, her husband Samuel, and Lavinia were with me, when we went out to the old Mr Schindel's. Andrew was dressed in his working clothes, but that need not have prevented him coming to see his wife.
To the 7th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that when Andrew was so engaged in harvest Lavinia was with this deponent in town.
To the 8th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that she does think of Andrew being absent one night from his wife when they were housekeeping. He went out to his fathers. Does not recollect the night but it was when they were housekeeping. He stayed all night at his fathers. This is the only time she recollects of his being so absent whilst they were housekeeping.
To the 9th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that she was often around to see Lavinia whilst she was housekeeping but could never stay all night with her: as deponent had sick at home to attend to.
To the 10th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that Lavinia often came around to see us during the time they were housekeeping and until the separation. she had nothing particular to keep her at home.

To the 11th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that Lavinia did not communicate with her freely: she never said anything to deponent about Andrew's treatment towards until the night of the separation, and after she had come around to deponent's house. Lavinia said she thought it best to keep all to herself and it might turn out better.
To the 12th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that on the night of the separation Andrew did try to reconcile matters with his wife, but Lavinia could not bear to hear anything of it. He said that if Lavinia would go with him once more he would try and do every thing that lay in his power to please her.
To the 13th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that she did not hear Lavinia tell Andrew, the last he was at deponent's house to go and that she did not want to see him any more. Did not hear her say so. Could not say what Lavinia said for deponent did not hear that conversation.
To the 14th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that up to the time these difficulties were brought upon Lavinia I said nothing against Andrew. but since then I have said that he is not the man I took him to be. Have never heard Lavinia and the others about the house says a great deal about him, but what was said I guess was all correct.
To the 15th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says she thinks it would have been very hard to speak kind of Andrew after his treatment to Lavinia and to this deponent.
To the 16th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that she has often heard Lavinia declare that she would not live with her husband again.
To the 17th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that she has not heard Lavinia say a great deal about Andrew. never heard her speak of him in terms of great contempt and reproach.
To the 18th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that she never heard Lavinia say that she would never take up with the "puppy again" meaning her husband. Has heard her say she would never take up with him again.
To the 19th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that she never heard Lavinia say she wished Andrew was dead.
To the 20th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says she was never asked by David Schindel whether Lavinia would see or would like that her husband would come to see her.
To the 21st Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says that she heard Andrew ask Lavinia what he should do with the money he intended to furnish or when he should deposit it. Lavinia told him she did not want him to do any business at all for her.
To the 22nd Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says she has seen her daughter Lavinia write many times but could not tell her handwriting
To the 23d Cross Interrogatory this deponent says that her daughter Lavinia is now present and has been throughout my Examination
To the 24th Cross Interrogatory, this deponent says there has been a child born of the marriage. That it is now living and is nearly three months old.
