BOOTS AND SHOES.—We observe that Mr. G. C. Mackey has just returned from the cities with an additional supply of Boots, Shoes, Hats and Caps.—As Mr. M. has made arrangements with a large establishment in New York to keep him constantly supplied with articles is his line, his stock will always be composed, not only of strong and wearing articles, but of the latest and most approved city styles. His establishment is too well known for its great variety, to make it necessary to enumerate the different styles of his boots, shoes, gaiters, hats and caps, which he now has on hand. Give him a call, and if you fail to get suited there you can slide

We shall notice more of the fresh arrivals next week, when we shall have more time and space.

A POLICE OFFICER SHOT.—Police officer Benton was shot dead, on Wednesday night week, while on the discharge of his duty, in assisting policeman Berk in arresting some disorderly characters, by the keeper of a drinking house on Biddle street. Although Gambrill the keeper of the saloon requested the arrest should be made, while the officers were struggling with the parties Gambrill shot Benton—the ball taking effect behind one ear and coming out at the other.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Capt. R. Tharp is erecting on his lot, on Cabinet street, between Washington and West, a building of the new style. Weatherboarding running up and down, no corner posts or studding. In fact there is no frame except sills, sleepers, joists and rafters. This mode of building is said to be by far the cheapest, and is becoming quite popular in this section.

AN APPROPRIATION.—The County Commissioners, on Tuesday last, appropriated three hundred dollars to assist in procuring sufficient fire apparatus for the town of Easton. We are glad to see this spirit being manifest by all who own property in town (for every man in the county has an interest in the county property.) Let all open their hearts and pockets, and determine to have good engines and well organized fire companies.

NAVAL OFFICERS ORDERED.—Pursers Kelly, Harwood and Jackson have been ordered to the Paraguay expedition; Purser Hrmbleton to Naval Academy; Purser Warrington to the navy-yard at Warring, Florida; and Purser Buchanan to the navy-yard at Boston—the last as inspector of provisions, &c., in place of Purser Bates, detached.

CATTLE SHOW AND FAIR.—The 11th annual Cattle Show and Fair of the State Agricultural Society will be held at the show grounds, on Charles street, extended, in the city of Baltimore, on the 19th inst. The list of premiums is said to be very large.

ERRORS.—Several typographical errors occurred in our advertising columns last week. The day of the sale of Mr. Barnett, administrator, should have been Wednesday, the 6th, instead of Monday. This as the others, have been corrected.

The number of deaths by yellow fever in New Orleans this year, up to the 19th of September was 2,661.

Sugar and molasses, of the new crop, is beginning to be brought into the New Orleans market.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST, for October, is a splendid number, and the best specimen of an agricultural paper we have ever seen, without regard to price, though it costs only $1.00 per annum.

A SILENT PRINTING OFFICE.—In the town of Zablagen, Wurtenburg, there has been lately opened a new printing establishment, by M. Theodore Helgerad. All the compositors and pressmen are deaf and dumb, to the number of one hundred and sixty; eleven of the former are women

DAY OF FASTING AND PRAYER.—Thursday, the 23d ultimo, was very generally observed by all classes of citizens of Charleston, according to appointment and request of the city authorities as a day of public humiliation and prayer, in view of the prevailing epidemic. The places of business were generally closed, and the churches were well attended.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH NOWHERE. The rate of travel of the comet is computed to be 150,000 miles per hour, at which rate the distance between Boston and San Francisco round Cape Horn, (10,000 miles,) would be accomplished in four minutes; or between New York and Liverpool in one minute and six seconds. The telegraph had better break.

GOING TO LIBERIA.—It is stated that thirty or more colored families, residing in Boston and vicinity, have organized themselves under the title of the "Cambridge Liberian Emigrant Association," for the purpose of emigrating to Liberia. Some forty or more of these persons hope to embark in the colonization ship "Mary Caroline Stevens," at Baltimore, on the first of November.

WALKING FEAT.—A man named Wesson recently accomplished the feat, at Lockport, N. Y., of walking a thousand miles in a thousand hours. He walked an extra mile in the bargain, and made a thousand dollars by the operation. When he got through he was escorted by a band through the principal streets, and received much attention.

The Democratic authorities of New York are indignant, and justly so, at the landing of four paupers in their city from a Massachusetts almshouse. And those Democratic politicians and their fellows everywhere in the country condemn, as bigoted and fanatical, any party or individual that opposes the importation of paupers and criminals from European almshouses and penitentiaries.

For the Easton Gazette.

Mr. Editor:—Some considerable time has elapsed since I appeared in your columns and even now I am at a loss to know what to talk about. Railroads and their effects upon the countries through which they pass was the burden of my last theme, and as the papers on the Shore have been more or less zealous in their expressions of favor on this subject lately, it will probably not be amiss to continue the same remarks made in my last communications, and give a few more items showing the way in which the country bordering on the Delaware Railroad has been entirely relieved from the burden imposed upon your citizens by the late disastrous seasons and in which yours would have felt but slightly if it had been in a similarly advanced condition in respect to public improvement.—The cereal crops have with us as with you this season been a general failure, while the fruit crop never was more full in either section of the country. The difference has been that here the orchards are under way and in full bearing, while with you they are as yet only thought of. Let us look at the consequence. Your farmers are now wondering what is to become of them, and the sight of a Constable or the Sheriff is a foreshadowing of the true old saying, "Hard times in old Wirginny, worse times a coming." They are staring bankruptcy in the face and many will doubtless starve to their sorrow.

Here the farmers gather their little and put it away for a rainy day, or to meet the high markets next spring when one bushel sold then will be equivalent to three sold now, and thus make up in some measure the deficiency in numbers by the high price per bushel. This done they called in their help and betook themselves to the berry fields and peach orchards where a bountiful yield gladdened their eyes, and while your farmers have been scraping up their hand full to send to market, or like the old woman in the Bible, to eat it and die. They have been sending off first, buckets after buckets of berries and now basket after basket of peaches, which has not only saved them from failures but left a heaping overplus in their coffers. The few old croakers who years ago laughed to scorn the attempts of the zealous, public-spirited gentleman who against all opposition carried the Delaware Railroad to a successful completion, have now been consigned to the just oblivion which they merit, and now the few in your section should be made to follow in the footsteps of their illustrious predecessors. The press throughout the peninsula is advocating strongly the building of the Road lately chartered to run from the Delaware Railroad to Potter's Landing on the Choptank River. The idea seems to be that it is one of the most feasible Roads now contemplated, both on account of its shortness, cheapness, and the great amount of country it will open. The editorials I have seen all bear upon the importance of its early completion, and there seems to be but little doubt of its speedy commencement. A call has already been made for a meeting in Denton to take measures for the organization of the company and commencing operations. It is to be hoped that it will be at least surveyed by the time the Delaware Legislature meet, so as to be making a small dash at the appropriation which the Railroad men generally expect to get. This Road will at once connect you with the Delaware Railroad and be of vast service to Easton, at least, until the Md. & Del. Railroad is completed.

Yours, LEVELLER.

MILFORD, Sept. 29th, 1858.

COL. AUGUSTUS P. SHUTT has been brought out in opposition to Mayor Swann, and the following story is told of him by the Clipper, which happened in days that have passed:

THE IDDEPENDENT CANDIDATE AND THE WHISTLING NIGGER.—Tradition preserves strange things, and it has saved the following story, which should not be suffered to die. When Mr. Shutt, "the man of deeds and not words," was High Constable of Baltimore, many years ago, he was then, as now, desirous that our city should be made a safe stopping place for the husbands of ladies of affectionate tempers and weak nerves. He found under due commitment, in the jail, a certain 'nigger,' who was keen-witted enough, but who had unluckily quarrelled with the law on a question of larceny. Sambo informed him that he had important affairs to arrange out of doors, and entreated Mr. Shutt to bail him out, promising him in reward that he would point out a place where two notorious thieves resorted, and where a large quantity—"whole lots"—of stolen goods could be found. The worthy High Constable greedily embraced the offer, but rather lessened his kindness by prudently stipulating that when the "nigger" had rendered the service he should be restored to custody for due trial and removal to the penitentiary. The darkey was accordingly bailed by Mr. Shutt, who then claimed performance of the promise, and, rejoicing in recovered liberty, with grinning face and brisk step, Sambo led Mr. Shutt and a couple of subordinate officers to a mean house in Old Town. "Now Massa Shutt," said the nigger, "you and dese two gemmen stay out here and I'll go into de house, and when I whistle den you run in dere quick, and you cotch em nice." "Admirable," said the High Constable in high delight at the ingenuity of the plan, and the nigger sauntered up to the house and went in.—Mr. Shutt remained in the broiling sun about two hours, prepared for "deeds," and awaiting the signal with the impatience of the war-horse which his rider checks until the trumpet sounds the charge. At length a fearful suspicion flashed upon him that he had been cheated, tricked, "sold." He rushed furiously into the house, and found to his horror that he might whistle for his game. The "shrewd old" darkey was gone, and the Warden was debtor to the State of Maryland in the amount of the bail bond.

Vice President Breckenridge against Buchanan.

Among other distinguished Administration democrats in Kentucky, who sympathises with Mr. Douglas in his present contest, we would mention, says the St. Louis Republican of the 22d, that Vice President Breckenridge, as we understand, not only declares openly that he desires the Judge's election, but says he is ready to visit Illinois to assist him in his canvass if his services are needed.

General Scott has so far recovered from the effects of his recent fall as to be able to transact business.

Burning of the Steamer Austria.

Arrival of Some of the Rescued Passengers.

GREAT LOSS OF LIFE.

ONLY SIXTY-SEVEN SAVED OUT OF SIX HUNDRED SOULS.

HALIFAX, Sept. 27.—The burnt steamer fell in with at sea was the steamer Austria. Twelve of the rescued passengers have arrived here and report that only sixty-seven souls were saved out of the 600 that were on board.

[SECOND DESPATCH.]

The Fearful Loss of Life Confirmed —Particulars from an Eye Witness.

HALIFAX, Sept. 21.—The bark Lotus arrived here yesterday with twelve of the sixty-seven passengers saved from the steamer Austria, which left Hamburg on the 4th instant, and which was burnt at sea on the 13th instant.

A passenger reports that a little after two o'clock on the afternoon of the 13th instant a dense volume of smoke burst from the after entrance to the steerage.—The speed of the steamer was instantly slackened one-half, at which speed she continued until her magazine exploded, when the engineers, it is supposed, were instantly suffocated. The fire next burst through the height amidships, traveling aft with fearful rapidity. A boat was let down on the port side, but it was instantly crushed. Another boat on the starboard side was swamped from the numbers rushing into it. All the first cabin passengers were on the poop excepting a few gentlemen, who must have been smothered in the smoking rooms.

Many of the second cabin passengers were also in the poop, but a number were shut in the cabin by the fire. Some were pulled up through the ventilators, but the greater number perished in the flames!—The last woman who was drawn up said six were already suffocated.

Several men and women on the poop deck jumped into the sea by twos and threes. Some women were already wrapped in flames. Others hesitated to jump till driven at the last moment by the advance of the flames. In half an hour not a soul was left on the poop.

The French bark Maurice, Capt. Ernest Renand, came alongside at 5 o'clock, and reached forty passengers, who were chiefly taken from the bowsprit, but some were found struggling in the water. At eight o'clock one of the metalic boats came up with twenty-two persons, including the first and third officers. Subsequently four men were picked up floating on a piece of a broken boat. The second officer was afterwards rescued from the water. Both he and the third officer were severely hurt. Many of the male passengers are frightfully burnt. Six women only were saved, three of whom are shockingly burnt.

A Norwegian bark went alongside the steamer next morning and sent a boat.—She may have picked up a few persons. The bark Maurice had no communication with her.

[THIRD DESPATCH.]

Among the passengers on the ill-fated steamer we find the following from Baltimore:

Mr. Theodore Geroh, druggist at the corner of Hanover and Hill streets, went to Wurtenburg, on a visit to his father, an eminent Lutheran clergyman, and from letters received recently there is no doubt he was one of the passengers of the ill-fated vessel. The wife of Mr. G. is now in Philadelphia, whither she had gone to meet him on his return. Rev. John Weinnman, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, on Trinity street, near High, was also a passenger. He had been on a visit to his mother in Wurtenberg. Both Mr. Geroh and Mr. Weinnmann has a wife and one child in Baltimore city. Mrs. D. Wachman and one child, a little girl of twelve years, were on board. Mr. Wachman formerly kept a jewelry store on Broadway, and was a resident of this city for nearly thirty years.—He is now in the city, and on the arrival of his wife and child intended to remove to Cincinnati. Mr. Myer Nachman, dry goods dealer at 68 Hanover street, was another of the passengers. He had written by the steamer previous to the Austria, and stated that he should return in her. Mr. Meinberg, late of this city, but who had taken up his residence in Alexandria, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Reichart, and three children were also on board. The families and friends of these persons have been thrown into the greatest state of anxiety, and the uncertainty of the fate of their loved ones adds to the poignancy of their grief. All of them are well known in the city and highly respected by those to whom they are known. There is a possibility that all may yet be safe, but sometime may yet elapse before the fate of the passengers will yet be known. In the meantime the suspense of their families will be terrible.

The insurance on the vessel is about £70.000 and will nearly cover her loss. She was insured in Europe chiefly in Hamburg and London. The insurance on the cargo is certain. The total value is supposed to have been not less than $400,000. and may have been $450,000 or $500,000.

We take the following items from the news brought by the steamer City of Washington:

The American horse "Prioress" won the great Yorkshire handicup race.

Fears were entertained at Madrid of an armed outbreak.

Queen Victoria has declined the application of the Canadians for a member of the royal family to visit that province and inaugurate the Crystal Palace exhibition.

The chess contest between Morphy and Harwitz was progressing. Four games had been played each winning two.

Floating Hospitals at New York Quarantine.

ALBANY, Sept. 25.—The Commissioners for the removal of quarantine propose to construct a series of basins in the lower bay of New York in which floating hospitals can be at anchor as still as in the Liverpool docks. The report was laid before the Governor and State officers on Friday last, with an argument by Mr Browne, one of the Commissioners, in its favor. Gov. King and the State officers signified an intention of examining the proposed site and plans for the floating hospital on Wednesday next, and to decide at once on the propositions.

Later from California—Arrival of the Moses Taylor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The steamer Moses Taylor arrived here this afternoon from Aspinwall with San Francisco dates to the 6th, and three hundred passengers.

The news from Fraser River is unsatisfactory. The river was too high to allow of profitable working. Business was dull at Victoria and property had depreciated. Numbers had returned to California disappointed.

Oregon dates to the 21st of August had reached San Francisco. Lieut. Allen and fifteen men had defeated a body of Indians on the Yakima River, capturing 10 prisoners and a large number of horses. Lt. Allen was mortally wounded and died next day.

Decline of the Fever at New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29th.—The report of the board of health for the week past is very similar to that of the preceding week, the figures being as follows: Week ending the 20th, total deaths 628; fever deaths 460. Week ending the 27th, total deaths 619; fever deaths 444. Showing a decrease for the past week in the total number of deaths of 9, and of fever deaths of 16. The deaths in the Charity hospital in twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock on Monday evening were 9, while for the twenty-four hours ending last Tuesday evening they reached 18.

Horse Race.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The horse Nicholas won the four mile race at the Fashion course to-day. The horse Sue and Washington were distanced.

A SCENE ON THE GALLOWS.—P. S. Turley, formerly a clergyman, was executed on Friday week in Kanawha county, Va., for the murder of his wife. On the gallows he made a speech, attributing the commission of the crime to his intemperance. The Kanawha Star says:

After speaking he requested that "Jerusalem my happy home," might be sung; he said that many present had sung it with him on more happy occasions. He started the tune himself. While singing, he called his aged father on the platform, threw himself upon his neck, interrupted his singing only long enough to say "farewell," and then continued to take the lead. His mother, with his little daughter, came forward at his request, and he shook hands with her, and took his little one in his arms, kissed it, and all without seeming to be interrupted. So also with a brother. They all left the ground before he fell. He also, while singing, shook hands with some twenty others. Among them two of the brothers of his murdered wife. He had a smile on his face most of the time. There were but few dry eyes on the ground during the scene.

When they ceased singing, he turned about and said, "Sheriff, I am ready to die," and soon after the rope was cut, and the unfortunate man launched into eternity.

CORN CROP.—The Louisville Journal says that the corn crop has never been so large in Kentucky as the present promises to be. We hear of fields in the Blue Grass region estimated at 25 barrels, or 175 bushels to the acre, while fields promising 75 or 80 busheis to the acre are quite common. Consequent upon this, droves of swine from the less prolific regions cross the Ohio river daily at this and other points to be fattened in Kentucky, and the indications now are that we shall have finer and fatter hogs this season than ever before.

We also learn from other sources that the corn crop this season promises more abundantly than was anticipated some weeks since.

This may be said with reference to Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois, Indiana, and indeed nearly all the Western States. Such is the tenor of information gathered from our various exchanges.

The dwelling of Thos. F. Garey, Esq., Caroline county, was destroyed by fire on Thursday week.
