ing after other things of far less importance. But enough, I am understood.

But the close of this drama is the richest scene. Think of one appealing in the beginning of his essay to the Gods for help, and closing by a long and beautiful manifestation of feeling upon religion, clothing himself with all the sanctity of a minister, exhorting the young to repentance, truly it is something similar to "Satan reproving the Devil." His heart must be as elastic as Indiarubber, and his audacity as stringy. Behold him in the beginning with Bacchus beside him, and Ovid for his bible, with hands outstretched, and nostrils dilated, the picture of despair, breathing a prayer to the Gods and in the ending breathing one to God. In the beginning he is a heathen, in the ending a christian. Behold his characters! An Heathen, a Christian, a Philanthropist, a Satirist, a Hawk, a Knight of dauntlesss courage, and a Student. Surely he wears a coat of many colors, and would now dye it in my blood. He is as spotted as a Leopard in his characters and perfectly represents them all. He is as wonderful a personage as "Faust," and if they were placed in a bag together, I do not know which would come out first. If "Ego" will join the Christian Association we will try to make a Christian of him, provided he is not too hard a case. His wishes for the welfare of the Association are good and beautiful, therefore I heartily join him and am ready to strike hands with him in the Holy work (provided he renounces his heathenish invocations.)

If he could probe into the depths of my heart and ramble amid its secret chambers, I do not think he would make such a personal attack upon me, but he would admire my motives and acknowledge the justice and truth of my remarks. May I hope that the "polished armor" of "Ego Hoc Scripsi" is not the polished armor with which Bacchus arms his devotees, and that he will forsake the Gods and become a proselyte to the "true and living faith."

And here permit me te return my sincere congratulations to "Ronger" for the beauty and style with which he uses the pen, and assure him of my honest gratitude for his kindness in so truly and correctly representing my position. He has my wishes for his success.

I have thus, Mr. Editor, deviated from the path which I had marked out for myself to repel the insiduous attacks so wantonly made upon me, but I hope ere long to enjoy again the privilege of dropping you a line or two upon a subject which not a little agitates my mind.

With my respects and thanks to "Ego Hoc Scripsi" for his kind regards for my prosperity, and a long life, and a return of the compliment, I remain your humble servant, QUIS HOC SCRIPSIT.

THE POTATO DISEASE.—There was a communication in the Baltimore American of Aug. 2d. from Lyman Reed, Esq., to which our attention was drawn a few days ago, in relation to the potato rot and a means which he has discovered and patented for its prevention. His statements are strongly supported by testimonials, and, in view of the importance of the subject must attract general attention from agriculturalists. The editor of the American Farmer, to whom Mr. Reed has explained his system, says "from microscopic examinations we have made with him, (Mr. R.,) we think there is no doubt that the cause of the disease is an insect, and as to the remedy we have reason to believe it to be effectual: beyond this we know nothing except on Mr. Reed's statement who assures us it is practical, not costly, and easily applied.' Should Mr. Reed's new discovery be able to prevent this disater to the potato crop and restore the vegitable to its original perfection, it will be a great blessing to many families.

OUR HEARTY THANKS.—Samuel Sands, Esq., General Secretary, and Jno. Merryman, Esq., President of the Maryland State Agricultural Society, will please accept our thanks for a free ticket to the Society's Fair to be held in Baltimore on the 19th, 20th, 21st and 22d insts., and also to Mr. Sands, President of the Maryland Institute, for a Season Ticket to the Institute for 1858.

Also to the Trustees of the Dudley Observatory, Albany, N. Y., for a copy of their report or statement which recent events seem to require that they should make to the public, in relation to difficulties which have for a few weeks occupied much attention.

A POEM BY DR. C. C. COX.—Dr. Cox will please accept our thanks for a copy of a neatly covered poem on "Female Education," delivered by him at the last commencement of the Frederick Female Seminary.

THE GRAIN INSPECTION LAW.—Judge Lee of the Superior Court in Baltimore city, in a case between Henry Warfield and Wm. Frazier, inspector general of grain, a few days ago, gave it as his opinion, that EVERY bushel of grain that goes into the hands of the inspector should be weighed. There appears to be a difference of opinion as to how this weighing shall be done—whether by weighing every bushel seperately or as many at a time as the scales will weigh. The real intent of the law, however, no doubt is, that the exact weight of grain should be ascertained—whether by weighing the single bushel or by the large quantity. The case will be carried to the Court of Appeals.

A FUGITIVE CAPTURED.—Chas. Bromwell, free negro, who, with four others, escaped from the Easton jail, some months ago, was last week captured in Baltimore. It appears from the statement in the Clipper that after Bromwell escaped from jail he found his way to St. Michaels in a canoe which he had stolen. Whilst at St. Michaels he sold the canoe and hired himself to a captain of one of the bay schooners. He was observed by Mr. Edward Hubbard, who knew the darkey, and was aware that he was a fugitive from justice. No officer being at hand Mr. Hubbard arrested him, and he was committed to jail to await the action of the Sheriff of this county.

EXPLOSION OF A MAGAZINE AT HAVANA.—The steamer Black Warrior brings late news from Havana, which says, that a large magazine filled with powder, shells and rockets, exploded on the 29th ult., by which twenty-eight persons were killed and 105 wounded. Many more were also buried under the ruins. Ninety new sugar houses were totally destroyed, and the gas works were rendered useless, so that the city at night was in total darkness.

POLITICAL.—There was an immense People's Meeting held at Mauch Chunk, Pa., on the night of the 4th inst. Seven hundred miners, in miner's dresses, attended.

At a ward election, in Wilmington, on the 5ht, for Assessors and Inspectors, the People's party carried three wards out of the five.

CONVICTION OF FORD.—William G. Ford arraigned in Baltimore city, for the killing of Thos. H Burnham, in July, has been convicted of murder in the first degree.

THE follow resolutions shows to some extent the worth of the subject which brought them forth, and how one can endeer himsilf to his fellow student, and with what regret the scholars of West River Institute parted with their belovel friend SAMUEL AMESLEY HARPER:

WEST RIVER INSTITUTE, Sept. 27th.

At the meeting of the students of West River Institute, held Monday noon, Sept. 27th, 1858, on hearing of the death of Sam'l Amesley Harper, one of their classmates unanimously

Resolved, Whereas, the death of our beloved schoolmate has filled our hearts with sadness and our eyes with tears—and Whereas, the event has filled us with the deepest sympathy, stirring up the tenderest sensibilities of our nature, we have met today to mingle our tears in the same urn and give expression to a common sentiment. Therefore,

Resolved, That the pupils of this Institution have heard with the deepest sorrow of the death of their classmate, and although willing to bow with submission to the will of heaven—yet we lament with heartfelt sorrow, that one so young, yet so lovely, one so eminent for his many christian virtues, so pious and so good, should have been so soon called away from the family who he tenderly loved, from his school, and from the church which he adorned by his upright walk and chaste conversation.

Resolved, That we tender to the family of our beloved schoolmate our warmest sympathies in this their deepest bereavement, and that as a slight testimonial of the regard and esteem of our fellow student, that each of us will wear crape on the left arm, as a badge of mourning, for the space of thirty days.

Resolved, That the above be printed in the Christian Advocate and Journal, in the Easton Gazette and that a copy be forwarded immediately to the bereaved parents of our beloved school-mate.

Thos. M. Chaney, Thos. H. Stockett, P. Addison Morgan—Committee.

Local Items.

PEABODY'S PROLIFIC CORN.—Mr. Thos. M. Faulkner has left at our office a sample of his field of corn, of the Peabody variety. The one stalk grew five ears of good size. Mr. F.'s whole field will give a fine yield, considering the dryness of the season. We have spoken much of the productiveness of this corn, of late, and think it a good yielding corn—but there is one great objection to all the specimens that have been left with us, and that is we have not received a single grain of corn—nothing but the stalks and corn-caps. Send on your specimens, but be sure and take the hint.

NEARLY ANOTHER FIRE.—The alarm of fire was caused on Monday night last by a fire breaking out in the kitchen stairs of Mr. Wm. H. Shepard, on Washington street.—The fire is said to have been caused by the carelessness of the servant, in leaving a light burning in her room. This is the sixth fire that has occurred in our town and on its borders within the space of a month.

SALE OF STOCK.—Those in want of valuable stock, such as horses, cows, mules, &c., would do well to attend the sale of Mr. Jas. N. Goldsborough, on Wednesday, the 10th of November next. Mr. G. has been many years engaged in stock raising and we presume has got the best breeds that can be found elsewhere in the county, and probably not surpassed in the State.

ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday last the horse of Mr. Wm. T. Hardesty, by some means, got frightened on turning the corner of Washington and Dover streets. But owing to the presence of mind and good management of Mr. H. but little damage was done.

FARMS SOLD.—On Tuesday week A. J. Loveday, auctioneer, sold at public sale in front of the Court House, for H. P. Hopkins, Trustee, the two farms, formerly belonging to Jas. H. Ridgaway. The lower farm was struck off to Wm. T. Lee, Esq., for $8.25 per acre, and the other to Jeremiah Fitzjerrell, for $4.75 per acre. Another was offered but not sold.

A. J. LOVEDAY, Auctioneer, sold for R. C. Hollyday, Esq., Trustee of Wm. Loveday, deceased, the "Kennedy Farm," near Easton, on Tuesday, which was purchased by Mr. J. B. Bennett for $15 per acre.

The two Houses and lots in Easton, were purchased by Col. Wm. Hayward at $1.500

"MY CHILDHOOD'S HOME," by "Rose." a poem, will appear next week.

LITERARY.

PETERSON'S BANK NOTE DETECTOR.—The October number of this cheap and excellent work has been received. Any one in want of somethirg of this kind, cheap, should address T B. Peterson & Bros., 300 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, accompanied with $1.00.

ARTHUR FOR OCTOBER.—We have the pleasure of placing on our table of periodicals, this week, Arthur's Home Magazine, for October. Arthur is ever a welcome visitor. Arthur contains a poem which in glancing over its pages particularly struck our fancy. Its caption is "The cup and the Cross." We shall transmit it to our columns as soon as it is lawful for us to do so.

BALTIMORE COUNTY ADVOCATE.—We have received the second number of a very neatly printed and ably conducted paper, printed in Towsontown, Baltimore county, by Mr. Bouldin, Esq. It is a strong advocate of the principles of the American party. We willingly place him on our exchange list, and wish him abundant success.

For the Easton Gazette.

Mr. Editor:—I find in the last number of the Star a communication signed "Stranger," professedly written for the purpose of justifying the "propriety of the Episcopal congregation, at Oxford, worshipping out doors on the 19th September." If this be the design of the writer, we are free to pronounce it a work of supererogation, as no one condemns out-door worship, but to the contrary, the propriety of the act is justified by the example of Jesus and his disciples, and by christians of all ages. But, doubtless, the author of the communication had a more prominent object in view, viz: to hold up the Methodist Episcopal Church before the community as uncharitable towards the Episcopal Church, and thus enlist the sympathies of the community in favor (as he would represent it) of the injured congregation. Perhaps this is what he means when he says, "It will work for good." He asks, "had not they (the Episcopalians) been invited to worship God in the Methodist E. Church at Oxford and was not the church unoccupied, and did they not gladly accept of the kindness of the brethren? All true, but it is equally true, that they were turned out in a very summary manner; why I will not pretend to say." As to the invitation extended, I am not advised, by whom or when it was given; but this I know, that application was made to an individual member, and I suppose his consent obtained, but the application was informal and the consent if obtained was unofficial. Application never was made to the Pastor or Trustees of the church, neither the Pastor or Trustees ever invited the ministers of the Episcopal Church to occupy the pulpit of the M. E. Church at Oxford.

No Board of Trustees had ever been created for the church, until the first day of September last, and at their first meeting it was announced that the Rev. E. Reed had an appointment at that place once in two weeks, consequently it came up as an item of Trustee business, whereupon the following resolutions were unanimously adopted, and in presenting them to an enlightened public we are willing to abide their decision.

"Resolved, That we are opposed to any religious denomination having a regular appointment in the M. E. Church, at Oxford.

"Resolved, That we have no objection to occasional preaching in this house by other Evangelical denominations, provided the consent of the Trustees be first obtained, and a full reciprocity of feeling and practice returned to us."

A copy of the above resolutions was sent to the Rev. Mr. Reed. Now we ask, is there a want of charity in these resolutions? Do the Trustees by the passage of them turn out the Episcopal congregation "in a very summary manner!" when the resolutions state that the Trustees have no objection to occasional preaching by other evangelical denominations, provided they (the Episcopalians) will reciprocate, that is allow Methodist ministers to occupy their pulpits;—but "Stranger" knows that such is the exclusive character of the Episcopal Church canons that none but those who are (what they are pleased to denominate) in the apostolic succession can occupy their pulpits. When was it ever heard that a minister of the M. E. Church was allowed to occupy their pulpits? and is it not diametrically opposed to the canons of the Episcopal Church for any clergyman to preach in any house that has not been consecrated by their Bishops? and hence Bishop Whittingham (as I have been informed) before preaching in the M. E. Church at Oxford proceeded to reconsecrate it. I never would ask a favor of any religious denomination that I could not consistently, with the laws of my own church, return, much less would I parade the doings of the Trustees of the M. E. Church at Oxford before the public with the charge of a want of charity. Surely, "consistency thou art a jewel."

"Stranger" says the Episcopalians have contributed to the building of the church, and, from this we suppose he thinks, they have a right to preach there. As to the extent of the contribution he does not inform us, neither is it important. We ask in reply did they not contribute with the express understanding that it was to be a Methodist Episcopal church?—the Methodists have contributed perhaps to a greater or less extent to the erection of most of the Episcopal Churches in the county, but will that give the methodists a right to preach in the Episcopal Churches?—we make no such claim, and yet such is the reasoning of "Stranger."

We think that Episcopalians should be the last to charge other denominations with a want of religious charity, when the Bishop of the diocese arraigned Dr. Johns for preaching in the Eutaw M. E. Church, in Baltimore, (perhaps the reconsecrating of the Oxford Church by the Bishop of Maryland is the only reason that saves Mr. Reed from trial for violating the canons of the church) and when the Bisbop of New Jersey suspended the Rev. Mr. Carden from any official action in his diocese, for no other crime than inviting the resident Methodist minister, at Cape May, to assist him in administering the Holy communion. If this is charity we most devoutly pray in the beautiful language of the Episcopal prayer book, from all such uncharitableness. "Good Lord deliver us."

JUSTITIA.

Slave Excitement.

CHATHAM, C. W., Oct. 5.—The greatest excitement prevails here, in consequence of legal proceedings having been instituted against a body of negroes for surrounding a train of cars on the Great Western Railway, and taking forcibly therefrom a negro servant belonging to Mr. Merlin, a planter, of St. Louis. Ten or twelve negroes have been bound over for trial at the next assizes. The negro was takan against his own urgent entreaties.

Race Between Flora Temple and Prince.

DETROIT, Oct. 4.—Flora Temple and Prince trotted in harness over Foster's course on Saturday, mile heats, best two in three. Flora won the first two heats.—Time 2.31¼ and 2.31.

Municipal Election.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 4.—The city election took place to-day, and the entire Republican ticket was elected. Booth, the Lepublican candidate for mayor, received 31 majority over Calhoun, democrat.

Arrival of the Norwegian Ship—Twenty-two Persons Rescued from the Austria.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A dispatch from Quebec says that the Norwegian ship "Catarine" arrived there yesterday with sixteen passengers and six of the crew of the burnt steamer Austria. One of the passengers is a girl 14 years of age.

THIRD DESPATCH.

PHILADELPHIA, October 4th.—Further information respecting the Austria states that the pump in connection with the fire-engine was not in working order. Some attempt was made to render it available, but the flames were too rapid.

Near the forecastle ropes were made fast to the chains outside, and to these numbers clung, but as the flames progressed they gave way and found a watery grave. On the bowsprit passengers laid out piled one on top of another, sometimes four deep. They were finally driven from this last resource, until one man remained seated on the extreme end.

Eighteen persons got hold of the chain beneath the bowsprit stay, where they clung till 4 o'clock in the morning. A seaman clambered thence to the bowsprit, and those clinging to the stay passed wet clothing to him until the fire was subdued, so as to render the bowsprit comparatively safe. They remained there till picked off by the boats of the Catarina.

The New York Crystal Palace Destroyed by Fire—Loss Half a Million of Dollars.

HOBOKEN, N. Y., Oct. 5.—The Crystal Palace was totally destroyed by fire this afternoon The fire originated from a heater, and owing to the combustible nature of the contents the flames spread fearfully, enveloping the entire building, and rendering all efforts to stay the flames unavailing.

The annual fair of the American Institute was in full blast, and the building was filled with valuable articles, all of which perished. It is believed that all the visitors successfully escaped. The conflagration was a magnificent sight, and seen many miles distant.

The total loss is unknown, but is supposed to be over half a million of dollars, but a small portion of which was insured.

Congressional Nomination.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—The American convention of the fourth district nominated N. A. Thompson for Congress this evening. It was expected that the convention would ratify the nomination of Mr. Comins by the Republicans, but the Americans will not coalesce.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Surgery is generally too ready with the knife and the saw. The eclat of a "brilliant operation" is a great professional 'card,' but the mutilated subject who has all the pain and none of the glory of the cutting and slashing, is by no means to be envied. We have little doubt that in more than half the cases where the knife is used in hospitals and private practice, Holloway's inestimable Ointment would render its employment unnecessary, by reducing the inflammation, and precluding all danger of lockjaw, mortification, or gangrene. We advise all who are suffering from wounds, fractures, tumors, cancers, diseases of the bones, etc. etc., to try this healing, cooling, disinfecting preparation, before they suffered steel or caustic to come in contact with their flesh.—The Pills should be taken to purify the blood, while the Ointment is applied externally.
