The Easton Gazette.

SATURDAY MORNING . . FEBRUARY 19, 1859.

HUMOROUS.

ONE OF THE SPEECHES.—On the 7th ult., in the Missouri House of Representatives, on motion to lay on the table a resolution offered by Mr. Pitt, that "the speaker be authorised to cause to be printed and posted one hundred bills, announcing that the 8th of January, 1859, will be celebrated by he Legislature." Mr. Pitt made the following speech.

Mr. Speaker: This House passed resolutions sir, the other day, to celebrate in an appropriate manner the 8th of January.—This is a resolution simply asking that notice be given to the public that we will celebrate that day. We have declared our intention, and now, when we come to publish it, some gentlemen are suddenly taken with "the retrenchment grips" and squirm around like a long red fishing worm on a pin hook—[Laughter.] Gentlemen keep continually talking about economy. I myself do not believe in tying the public purse with cobweb strings, but when retrenchment comes in contact with patriotism it assumes the form of "smallness." Such economy is like that of the old skinflint who had a pair of boots made for the little boy without soles that they might last the longer. [Laughter.] I reverence "the day we celebrate." It is fraught with reminiscences the most soul stirring: it brings to mind one of the greatest events ever recorded, in letters of living fire, upon the walls of the temple of fame, by the strong right arm of the god of war! On such occasions we should rise above party lines and political distinctions. I never fought under the banner of Old Hickory, but, "by the eternal," I wish I had. [Laughter and applause.]—If the old war horse was here now, he would not know his own children from the side of Joseph's coat of many colors—whigs know-nothings, democrats, hard, soft-boiled, scrambled and fried; Lincolnites, Doughlasites and blather-skites!

I belong to no party; I am free, unbridled, unsaddled, in the political pasture.—Like a bob-tailed bull in fly time, I charge around in the high grass and fight my own flies. [Great laughter] Gentlemen, let us show our liberality on patriotic occasions. Why, some men have no more patronism than you could stuff into the eye of a knitting needle. Let us not squeeze a five cent piece until the eagle on it squeals like a locomotive or an old maid. Let us print the bills, and inform the country that we are as full of patriotism as an Illinois swamp is of tadpoles. [Laughter.] I don't believe in doing things by halves. Permit me, Mr. Speaker, to make a practical quotation from one of our noblest authors:

"I love to see the green grass among the red May roses;
I love to see an old gray hoss, for when he goes he GOSES!"

[Peals of laughter] The resolution was not tabled.

EXTRAORDINARY MEETING OF WHALES.—We have been informed that a meeting of whales took place the other day off a large iceburg in the Artic regions, to take into consideration the probability of their speedy extinction in case of the much longer continuance of hoop and spring petticoats.—The meeting was rather thinly attended, in consequence of the number of Cetacea which have been lately destroyed for the sake of the whalebone which they supply for the manufacture of crinoline, or some of its machinery. A great button nosed whale stated that the price of whalebone had risen to full four times the amount which it cost previous to the outbreak of the crinolinemania. According to a Physeter macrecephalus, spermaceti had risen as high as whalebone for the same reason, and there would very soon be an end of ointment if the ladies went on causing the existing consumption of whales. Several whales complained bitterly of the Empress of the French for setting the fashion which is threatening to destroy them from off the bosom of the ocean, and threw torrents of ridicule on the ladies of England for the servility and sheepish or gooselike gregariousness with which they imitate her. A Narwhal wished his horn was in the crinoline of her Imperial Majesty, with her Imperial Majesty in the crinoline. He added that he derived some consolation for his bereavements and bodily fear, from the fact that if the hoop fashion was deadly to the Whales, it was also suicidal to the wearers; and that it was better to be harpooned than burnt to death. A suspicious-looking craft here heaving in sight, the whales ceased spouting and broke up their assembly with a sagacity which was very like a whale.—Boston Courier.

THE GIRL AND THE CALLIOPE.—Sometime in the spring of 1857, the steamer St. Nicholas "opened" at New Orleans with a Calliope—the first one ever heard in these parts—causing the greatest consternation among the servants most of whom supposed they must now give an account of their sins, sure enough. But one of them, a girl, stood and listened for some time, and at last walked into the house and expressed her opinion thus: "Missus, I don't b'leve dat dar's Gabriel, 'cause I a'n't 'fered a bit; but if it is him, he's playin 'Wait for the Wagon,' sure's you're born!"

At a steamboat table, a coxcomb wishing to be helped to butter, pointed his jewelled finger to the dish, and addressing himself to a green countryman who sat next to him said: "Buttah, sah?"

"I see it is," cooly replied Jonathan.

"Buttah, sah, I say," fiercely repeated the dandy.

"Wal, gosh, all Jerusalem, what of it?"—now yelled the down-easter, getting his dander up in turn. "Yer didn't think I took it for lard, did ye?"

☞A man about to be cast away in a boat cried out in agony to his son: "Jem, bring me a life preserver." The frightened boy hastened to the cabin, and on his return a tremendous loaf of bread was seen in his hands, which he threw to his distressed father.

"Jeff, why am you like de Cedar?"

"I guv it up Sam; I can't tell you."

"Cause you stay green both Summer and Winter."

"I would not be a woman," said Jean Paul Richter, "for then I could not love her."

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

A BOON TO THE SICK.

The want of a sterling medicinal to meet the ills and necessities of the suffering portion of humanity, and one entirely free from mineral and other deleterious particles, was severely felt till this all powerful medicine was ushered into the world; HOLLOWAY'S invaluable PILLS have become the household remedy of all nations. Their attribute is to prevent as well as to cure; they attack the radix of the complaint, and thus by removing the hidden cause of disease reinvigorate and restore the drooping energies of the system, assisting nature in her task of vital and functionary reformation.

DYSPEPSIA.

The great scourge of this continent yields quickly to a course of these antiseptic Pills, and the digestive organs are restored to their proper tone; no matter in what hideous shape this hydra of disease exhibits itself, this searching and unerring remedy disperses it from the patient's system.

GENERAL DEBILITY AND WEAKNESS.

From whatever cause, lowness of spirits, and all other signs of a diseased liver, and other disorganization of the system, vanish under the eradicating influence of this all powerful antiseptic and detergent remedy.

BILIOUS DISORDERS.

The proper quantum and right condition of the bile is of momentous importance to the health of the human frame, this anti-bilious medicine expels the hidden seeds of the complaint, and renders all the fluids and secretions pure and fluent, cleasing and resuscitating the vital functions of the body.

SICKLY FEMALES

Should lose no time in trying a few doses of this regulating and renovating remedy, whatever may be their complaint, it can be taken with safety in all periodical and other disorganizations its effect is all but miraculous.

UNREFUTED PROOF.

The testimony of Nations is unanimously borne to the health-giving virtues of his noble remedy, and certificates in every living language bear witness to the UNDENIABLENESS of their INTRINSIC WORTH.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:
