SATURDAY MORNING . . FEBRUARY 26, 1859.

HUMOROUS.

A BOY IN A QUANDARY.

Little Eddy, on his way to school, frequently loitered by a small stream which he was obliged to pass, to witness the gambols of his playmates while bathing; the water being of a sufficient depth in some places, for that purpose. Fearing some accident might befall him, his mother had told him never to venture near, and in strong terms not to go into the water. One day, however, being overcome by temptation, and the urgent solicitation of boys older than himself, he yielded to their importunities and his own wishes, and, for an hour entered into their squatic sports right heartily. But, as ill-luck would have it—while dressing himself, by some mismanagement, he put on his shirt wrong side out entirely unnoticed by him at the time; but the quick eye of his mother saw it, and divined the reason at once. Before retiring for the night, it was customary for the little boy to kneel by her side, and repeat his little prayer. While on his knees she took the opportunity to reprove him for disobeying her commands.

"Edmund, how is it, that the buttons are on the inside of your shirt collar?"

"I don't know, isn't that the way, mother?"

"No, my son you have disobeyed me, I am sorry to see; you have been in swimming—else how could you have turned your shirt?"

The little boy felt that his mother had spoken the truth, and was for a moment silent. However the satisfactory explanation, as he thought soon occured. With a triumphant look and a bold voice, he replied:

"Mother, I—I guess I turned it gittin' over the fence!"

Wonder how many men have turned their coats 'gittin' over the fence."

MANUFACTURING CHINESE BRAVERY.

A letter from an officer serving in the Chinese expedition, gives the following laughable order for the day, published by one of the Chinese commanders, directing his soldiers what to do, in order to overcome their enemies. It is drawn up in the form of a training bill of fare for thirteen days: "This is commanded by me, the Chief of the Braves. Let all tremble and obey. On the thirteenth day before the battle, they must eat jelly made from tiger's flesh, in order to imbibe the rage and ferocity of that animal; twelfth day before, the roasted liver of a lion, in order to have the intrepidity of that noble beast: eleventh, stewed serpents, to acquire cunning: tenth extract camelion, to deceive their enemies by changing color: ninth, crockodile broth to make them amphibious, and be able to pursue and fight their enemies both on land and on water: eighth, jaguar's liver, cooked in wine, in order to have the rapidity and fury of that quadruped; seventh hawks' head in order to have the quick eye of that bird in distinguishing the enemy; sixth, zebra's intestines, to be able to imitate the cry of that animal; fifth, hippopotamus' brains to make the body impenetrable to bullets: fourth, stewed monkeys, to acquire the activity of that race; third, scorpions, in order that all the wounds inflicted by them may be as venemous as the sting of those reptiles. On the day before the battle, the raw breast of a panther, in order to be as pitiless as that animal; and on the morning of the battle they must drink a drop of leopard's blood in order that they may imitate that animal, which never turns round while devouring its prey. Tremble and obey.

ANOTHER SURPRISE PARTY.—The Worcester, Mass., Transcript relates that a young lawyer of that city one evening last week called on a young lady to take her to a place of entertainment, when she went up stairs to "fix" for the occasion. Soon, hearing foot steps on the stairs, he stepped into the dark entry, and as the coming feet reached the last stairs he threw his arms round her waist and placed his lips in dangerous proximity to her cheeks. A push a slap, and a scream frightened him into one corner of the entry, when the advent of the old folks with a lamp enlightened him to the fact that he had been kissing the "black but comely" Dinah, whose descending steps he had mistaken for those of his beloved. The lawyer should exchange cards with the Hartford clergyman who hugged the black on the Connecticut.

Transcendentalism is the spiritual cognoscenhe of phychological irrefragibility, connected with concutient ademption of incolumnient spiritually and etherealized contention of subsultory coacretion.

THE ADULTERATION OF LIQUORS.—A writer, who is said to be thoroughly acquainted with the subject, in a brief communication addressed to New York Post, confirms the current reports as to the alarming use of improper ingredients in the manufactnre of wines and liquors:

"Wines, particularly," he says, "have been analyzed by competent chemists, who declare that not one drop of wine can be found in the whole composition; and this poisonous stuff is purchased by the lower order of groggeries in this city, and by at least one-half the country store-keepers and country hotel-keepers, and at the same time they themselves know when they purchase the articles that they are counterfeit. They excuse themselves in this way: 'Pure wines and spirits are so high in price that we cannot make a profit upon them; and, in the next place, the country people don't know the difference between the pure and the adulterated.'"

But the same writer adds:

"Wines can now be obtained just as pure as they could 50 years ago, but the prices range much higher. For this reason not a drop of good Maderia has been made since 1851, and for the last five or six years the vintages of sherries, ports and clarets have produced hardly one-half of a usual quantity, and much of that poor in quality. Consequently, Madeiras which eight years ago cost £50 sterling, now cost £80 to £90.—Sherries which cost £45, now cost £70, and ports the same. Still, plenty of fine pure wines can be had, but at much higher rates than formerly."

THE MIGHTY HEALER.
WORLD KNOWN AND WORLD TRIED

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

The free admissions of all Nations, as well as the verdict of the leading Hospitals of the Old as well as the New World stamp this powerful remidial Agent as the greatest healing preparation ever made known to suffering man. Its PENETRATIVE QUALITIES are more than MARVELLOUS, through the external orifices of the skin, invisible to the naked eye, it reaches the seat of the internal diseases: and in all external affections its at ti-inflamatory and healing virtues surpass anything else on record, and is nature's great ally.

ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "MODUS OPERANDI" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

BAD LEGS, OLD SORES, AND ULCERS.

Cases of many years standing that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment; have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful ungent.

ERUPTIONS ON THE SKIN,

Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic disease are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

PILES AND FISTULA.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Mecurial Eruptions,	Swelled Glands,
Sprains,	Burns,	Piles,
Sore Legs,	Stiff Joints,	Chapped Hands,
Rheumatism,	Sore Breasts,	Tetter,
Chilblains,	Ringworm,	Sore Heads,
Ulcers,	Fistula,	Salt Rheum,
Sore Throats,	Veneral Sores,	Gout,
Scalds,	Sores of all kinds,	Wounds of all
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases,	kinds.

☞ CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box: the same may be plainly seen by HOLDING THE LEAF TO THE LIGHT. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

☞ Sold at the Manufactories of Professor HOLLOWAY 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the United States and the civilized world, in pots at 25 cents, 63 cents, and $1.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.
