LIGHT IN STABLES.

There are some hints in the following extract, which those who are planning new farms, as well as all others, would do well to have in mind. In our climate, in that season when flies are most abundant, especially in the heat of the day, when animals of all kinds in a state of nature seek the depths of the forest, barn cellars or caves of the earth, darkness is peculiarly grateful; hence stable windows should always be provided with close shutters.

Stables should be so constructed, by the insertion of windows in various parts of the building, that they should be light as day. A dark stable is only a suitable black hole,—prison house for such a vicious specimen of the equine race as the notorious Cruiser; it is also the very worst location for any kind of animal. Sir A. Nylie, (who was long at the head of the medical staff in the Russian army,) states that the cases of disease on the dark side of an extensive barrack at St. Petersburg, have been uniformly, for many years, in the proportion of three to one, to those on the side exposed to a strong and uniform light. Humboldt has also remarked, that among bipeds, the residents of South America, who wear very little clothing—thus allowing the cutaneous, as well as the orbital surfaces, to receive a free ray of light, enjoyed immunity from various diseases, which prevailed extensively among the inhabitants of dark rooms and underground locations; and so excellent an authority as Linnæus contends that the constant exposure to solar light, is one of the causes which render a summer journey through high northern latitudes so peculiarly healthful and invigorating. Dr. Edwards has also remarked, that persons who live in caves or cellars, or in very dark and narrow streets, are apt to produce deformed children: and that men who work in mines are liable to disease and deformity.

Light, therefore, is a condition of vital activity, and in view only of preserving the sight of a horse, it is absolutely necessary that while he is occupying the stable, his optics shall have free access to the sun's rays.

If a horse was in the same condition as a polyp, with no organ of vision, who shuns light, a dark stable might prove to be his earthly paradise, but as the horse has special organs of vision, evidently susceptible to the influence of light, and the integrity of his organism, or a part of the same, depending entirely on the admission of light, it is absolutely necessary that stables should be constructed accordingly.—Amer. Vet. Jour.

HEN'S LAYING ALL THE YEAR.

Some people think that if they keep their hens warm in winter, that they will lay eggs freely all the year; but that is a mistake, as fowls can be made to lay but about 10 dozen eggs each in the year, if ever so great pains are taken with them in the winter; and when they lay a good deal in the winter, they lay enough less in the spring, so that not over the average of 10 dozen eggs are obtained usually. The Prairie Farmer has the following statement, which leads one to infer that his hens may be made to lay 100 or 300 eggs in a year—according to the management of them.—Still, the better treatment spoken of is advisable, as more eggs will be laid in the winter, by adopting it, when they command a better price, but it will be at the expense of the regular spring laying:

Treatment of Hens.—Two flocks of hens were compared. One laid eggs almost all the time; the other laid scarcely any. On examining their treatment, the following differences were to exist: the former had a warm cellar to roost in during the winter; the latter roosted in a stable where the wind blew in. The former had a fine place in an open cellar for scratching among ashes, lime, and earth; the latter scratched in the manure heap, or in the stable when the cows were put up. The former had plenty of good water, with milk, &c., the others had no drink except what they could find. —Rural American.

MANURING CORN IN THE HILL.—Land, otherwise well manured, is, we think, little profited by manuring in the hill. Poor land not manured, should, by all means, have an application to the hill, and will be greatly benefitted. We have some curious experiments, which seem to indicate that in lands capable of supplying the demands of the plants, the roots spread out in all directions in search of it. This is their natural method, and thus supplied, they seem to neglect the provision made for them in the hill. But it is well-known that, failing elsewhere, the plant makes use of special messengers to avail itself of this provision made near home. Ashes and plaster in equal parts, a spoonful of Peruvian guano, some well-tried super-phosphate, or the poudertte, manufactured by Mr. Baynes, either will answer the purpose: some rich compost will do better than either, perhaps. The guano and more concentrated manures have the advantage of convenience in application.

PREPARATION OF SEED CORN.—We do not like steeps or preparation of any sort for soaking corn. The simple use of tar, made soft enough by warming or by the application of hot water, is the best preparation: roll with plaster after each grain is coated by thorough stirring.—American Farmer.

BIRDS—PREPARATION OF SEED CORN.—"A Plea for the Birds" in your paper causes me to come forward with my plan, which is a plan to receive the benefit of the insect-catching propensity of the birds, and a remedy against their corn-pulling operations. It is this: as soon as your corn comes up feed the birds. Crows will not (as far as my experience goes) pull corn if they are properly fed, and they want feeding but a short time Two quarts sowed over a field of ten acres about twice, while the corn is in danger, will supply all that take the privilege of boarding on me; but even if it took a half bushel or bushel, it would be cheaper by far than exterminating the birds. Tar and plaster my seed at planting (not gas tar.) I never had any difficulty about my seed coming up.—Country Gentleman.

THE MIGHTY HEALER.

WORLD KNOWN AND WORLD TRIED

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

The free admissions of all Nations, as well as the verdict of the leading Hospitals of the Old as well as the New World stamp this powerful remidial Agent as the greatest healing preparation ever made known to suffering man. Its PENETRATIVE QUALITIES are more than MARVELLOUS, through the external orifices of the skin, invisible to the naked eye, it reaches the seat of the internal diseases: and in all external affections its anti-inflamatory and healing virtues surpass anything else on record, and is nature's great ally.

ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "MODUS OPERANDI" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

BAD LEGS, OLD SORES, AND ULCERS.

Cases of many years standing that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment; have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful ungent.

ERUPTIONS ON THE SKIN,

Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic disease are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

PILES AND FISTULA.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Mecurial Eruptions,	Swelled Glands,
Sprains,	Burns,	Piles,
Sore Legs,	Stiff Joints,	Chapped Hands,
Rheumatism,	Sore Breasts,	Tetter,
Chilblains,	Ringworm,	Sore Heads,
Ulcers,	Fistula,	Salt Rheum,
Sore Throats,	Venereal Sores,	Gout,
Scalds,	Sores of all kinds,	Wounds of all
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases,	kinds.

☞ CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by HOLDING THE LEAF TO THE LIGHT. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactories of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the United States and the civilized world, in pots at 25 cents, 63 cents, and $1.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

ROBINSON'S MANIPULATED
GUANO.

THIS UNEQUALLED FERTILIZER is composed of one-half best Peruvian Guano, one half fine Ground Bone and the best Phosphatic Guano, is in condition for immediate use, being prepared by new and improved machinery, by which means the most perfect combination is effected, reducing all to a uniform fine powder; and for application by drill or otherwise, it is in the most perfect order And I have no hesitation in saying, that for all crops it is equal to any fertilizer ever offered to the farming community. The quality will be kept perfectly uniform in all cases, and WARRANTED to contain 8 per cent. of AMMONIA and 45 to 50 per cent. of BONE PHOSPHATE OF LIME. It is put up in good bags, weighing about 150 lbs. each. Purchasers will please notice, that the name, F. ROBINSON, is branded on each bag—none other is genuine

My long experience in the trade, and the general satisfaction heretofore given by all Guanos sold by me, will, I hope, be a guarantee that the article now offered will be as represented I will also keep constantly on hand the best PERUVIAN, MEXICAN and other Guanos, which I will sell as low as any house in the city
