Capt. [illegible] [illegible]—His Commission in the Insurrectionary Band Found on His Person—Three Others of the Band Among the Mountains—Parties in Search of them.

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Oct. 26.—The notorious Captain Cook, of the insurrectionary band of outlaws under Ossawatamie Brown at Harper's Ferry, has at last been captured beyond a doubt, and has been fully committed to jail to await the requisition of the Governor of Virginia.

He was brought to this town last evening. There is no doubt of his identity, as a captain's commission, with Brown's signature and Cook's name, was found on his person. He came down from the mountains to get provisions, having, from his haggard appearance, suffered greatly from want and exposure.

He admits that three fellows of Brown's party are in the mountains, on the strength of which information parties are now out in search of the fugitives.

Cook has also on his person a parchment memorandum formerly attached to Washington's pistol, and says the pistol is in his valise, which he left in the mountains.—He was fully armed when discovered, and attempted to make resistance, but being exhausted was soon captured at a point about eight miles from this place.

The Arrest of a Supposed Harper's Ferry Fugitive at Carlisle.

CARLISLE, Oct. 26.—The man arrested here on suspicion of being concerned in the insurrection at Harper's Ferry, was to-day brought before Judge Graham on a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Watts presented a warrant from the Governor of Pennsylvania, issued upon the requisition of the Governor of Virginia, for the delivery of a fugitive named Albert Hazlet, but there is no positive evidence of the identity of the prisoner as the person named.

THE EXPLOSION OF DUPONT'S POWDER MILLS.—Further Particulars.—We have some further particulars of the explosion of Dupont's powder mills, in Delaware, on Friday last, by which seven lives were lost:

It appears the explosion occurred while the men in the lower, or Hagley yard, were employed in loading powder dust (as it is called when in a certain condition) at the mess room, to be conveyed to one of the other mills to go through another process.—A one-horse cart stood opposite the press room door partly loaded. The press room "blew up" with a terrible crash; the composition room immediately followed; a moment or two later the glazing room and the two rolling mills simultaneously, being five in all.

Seven men were killed, and another had his arm broken. The wind was northwest and high at the time, which deadened the sound so much in the immediate vicinity that the men in the upper yard did not cease work on the instant; and Mr. Henry Dupont, who was in the basement of the cotton mill, not far distant, did not think, from the light report, that it was necessary to hurry to the yard to ascertain the damage, if any had been done. Two of the men were blown into the Brandywine, one into a tree, and the headless trunk of another was blown to the opposite side of the creek. Of the others nothing could be ascertained.

A strange feature in the explosion is, that the horse was not killed, although standing in proximity to the press room when it went off. The cart to which he was attached, and which was partly loaded whith powder dust, was thrown about in fragments; the horse was entirely stripped of his harness, his hair singed off, one eye put out and one leg broken; and yet, after smoke and dust cleared away, he was found limping about the yard, exhibiting all the signs of painful agony which he suffered.—He was knocked in the head and killed, to relieve him of his agonies.

The loss of the mills to the Messrs. Dupont is nothing. The loss of life is the only thing which sinks deep into their hearts, from their inability to prevent it.

WAS IT OLD BROWN?—Early in 1858, (some time in February) Gov. Calhoun, of Kansas, was in this city; and during a portion of his stay he was followed closely by a man of suspicious appearance, and finally he made some insulting remark to Gov. Calhoun as he was coming out of the Kirkwood House, and the Governor slapped him in the mouth. The fellow got away for the time, but introduced himself to a crowd of pretty wild boys then that in the city, and two of them disclosed his business there was to assassinate Calhoun, for which he received $14,000, and wanted them to aid him. One of these boys told watchman Donnelly and Birckhead, who immediately went to a club ball room and arrested the assassin, and delivered him to officer (now Lieut.) McHenry, of the police, who had a warrant for him. He then passed by the name of Norton.

Upon being brought before Justice Donn, for a hearing, Gov. Calhoun was unwilling to make the necessary oath that he was afraid of him, which was required to hold Norton to security for peace. He was kept in the county jail in this city for several days, and was at last released, it was said, by the influence of Senators Wilson and Sumner, who were his friends apparently. A person who had good reason to be acquainted with these circumstances, went to Harper's Ferry with the U. S. Marines, and saw "Old Brown" and his sons after their capture, and he professes to identify Brown as the only individual above indicated.—Wash. Star.

THE CASE OF WM. G. FORD.—The case of Wm. G. Ford, charged with the murder of Thomas A. Burnham, on Vine street, near Fremont, who was convicted in the Criminal Court, and the verdict upset by the Court of Appeals, is again to come up in another phase. Judge Stump, it will be recollected, after long delay, and refusing to take any further cognizance of it, removed the case to Anne Arundel county court, which met at Annapolis this week. Judge Brewer, under the decision of the Court of Appeals [illegible] party having been [illegible] criminal [illegible] he had no jurisdiction, and [illegible] to the criminal court. The case will therefore be [illegible] [illegible] next [illegible] determined.

HOMICIDE IN BALTIMORE.—Shortly before 11 o'clock on election night, a young man named [illegible], was shot dead in French street, between Centre and [illegible] streets, by some unknown person. We learn from the Sun that the following evidence was given at the examination of witnesses:

Crusenthia Constance resides at No. 7 Little McElderry street; deceased went to witness' house between three and four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon; he first stopped at the house next door, and called to witness at an upper window in the rear, and told her that he had voted the American ticket; called him into the house and found that he was somewhat intoxicated; he replied that he had voted, and like to have been killed, that a young man named Philip Davis offered him a reform ticket at the 8th ward polls, which he refused to take, and then Davis told him that he would kill him on the first opportunity, and that he was afraid to go home; witness asked deceased to stay all night, but he said he could not, as his mother would be uneasy; deceased left the house of witness about half-past ten o'clock, before going he remarked that the man Davis was watching for him, and he expected to be killed; heard him say that he had been in the 10th and 11th wards during the day.

The odious old "Court House Clique," the murderers of the old Whig party, the men who have ever since been the hangers on and toadies of locofocoism, hoping for political preferment at its hands, the men who have been willing to sell their birthright for a mess of pottage, from whosoever hands it might come, are now the acknowledged leaders of the Reform movement that has nominated a locofoco for Congress, and locofocos for the House of Delegates, and locofocos for local offices. These men could not control the American party, but they would rather rule in Hell than serve in Heaven. They are willing to lead locofocos to a locofoco victory rather than follow Americans to achieve a defeat of locofocoism. They ruined the Whig party because they could not rule it. They are now seeking the destruction of the American party with the hope of elevating themselves upon its ruins. Where is the American who will lend his aid to this traitorous enterprize?—Where is the friend of American principles, who to gratify the ambition of the old Court House Clique will assist in strangling the American party? Where is the opponent of Democracy, who to serve the selfish purposes of these Ishmaelites, will aid in the election of locofocos and the resurrection of locofocoism from the grave into which its own iniquities have buried it.—Clipper.

EXTIRPATING THISTLES FROM GRASS LANDS.—A correspondent of the London Field, in commenting upon this class of pests, remarks that there have appeared few things more extraordinary in the history of farming knowledge than the perverse tenacity with which prejudice has so long preferred the scythe to the roller in keeping down thistles. In the North Riding of Yorkshire, as far back as forty years ago, the roller was an improved instrument for destroying thistles in pasture grounds; and most effective was it found to be, the bruise and crush of the top of the plant extending its mortification to the root. No doubt the scythe makes a clean sweep; so does a surgeon when he cuts a leg off; but let a crushed leg remain attached to the body, and the undertaker will assuredly have employment.

A CARD.

FOR THE SENATE OF MARYLAND.

Friends and Fellow Citizens:

There being no candidate in the field in opposition to H. H. Goldsborough, Esq., I have for many reasons, and after mature reflection, determined to offer myself to the voters of the county as an independent candidate for that eminent position. In so doing I am solely actuated by a desire to do all in my power to correct Legislative abuses—to lessen the burthens of the people, and promote the general welfare and prosperity of the State at large. The people know that I am a plain Farmer, and observing economy and frugality in my own affairs, am consequently opposed to extravagance in State or County matters, and the improper expenditure of the hard earnings of the honest yeomanry of the land. If therefore my fellow-citizens should honor me with a seat in the Senate of Maryland, I shall advocate the adoption of such measures as will tend to lessen taxation, enhance the wealth of the State, and promote the well being of her people. I think the expenses of the Legislative sessions could be greatly reduced by curtailing the per diem of its members, which I regard as extorbitant and productive of many evil consequences. Believing that I can live as well at Annapolis as any plain, sensible man could desire for much less than is usually expended by fashionable and inconsiderate members, I should, if elected, endeavor to set an example of economy in this respect which would greatly redound to the public good.

Among other reasons, I am induced to offer myself a candidate from the fact that I cannot consistently support friend Goldsborough, who advocated the Miles' River Bridge Act, the carrying out of which has imposed additional burthens upon the people without materially benefiting only a certain wealthy portion of them. I am a strong advocate for the Eight Hundred Thousand Dollars' appropriation for the Rail-Road and other purposes of public improvement, and also for Bridging the Choptank opposite "Hog Island," which would be of incalculable benefit to Talbot and Caroline counties. In conclusion, I shall, if elected, attend studiously to all the practical duties of Legislation, and endeavor to the best of my ability to fully represent the wishes and interests of my constituents independent of all political influences or sectarian bias.

Deaths.

HARDCASTLE.—On the 14th inst., in Oxford, at the residence of his brother-in-law, Rev. G. W. Kennedy, Thomas M. Hardcastle, Esq., of New York city.

Though a protracted and severe illness he bore his sufferings with christian fortitude and resignation, and died in hope of a blissful immortality.

For sixteen years he had suffered much from Asthma, which finally terminated in Dropsy.—For nearly a month he was unable to lie down even for a few moments. How many long and weary nights of suffering, but thou art gone to a world where "there is no night," but where "the righteous shine forever as stars in the kingdom of their Father." How many days and months and years of pain, but thou art gone to that blest world,

"Where sickness, sorrow, pain nor death,
Are felt nor feared no more."

How delightful the thought of rest, eternal rest to such a weary soul. There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God!

Write blessed are the dead that die in the Lord, from henceforth, yea saith the spirit that they may rest from their labours and their works do follow them.—Rev: 14:13.

"Oh weep not for the joys that fade
Like evening lights away,
For hopes that like the stars decayed,
Have left thy mortal day,
The clouds of sorrow will depart,
And brilliant skies be given;
For bliss awaits the holy heart,
Amid the bowers of heaven.
Oh weep not for the friends that pass
Into the lonely grave,
As breezes sweep the withered grass
Along the restless wave;
For though thy pleasures may depart,
And mournful days be given,
Yet bliss awaits the holy heart,
When friends rejoice in heaven."

THE UNIVERSAL
GAS LIGHT.
Edward H. Anderson's,
PORTABLE, AIR-PRESSURE, FAMILY
GAS LAMPS.
(Patent applied for.)

BY this valuable invention, every family both of Town or Country, can enjoy the luxury of a first quality Gas light which for safety in its use, brilliancy and economy, cannot be surpassed, at a cost of less than one cent per hour. It produces a light equal to four ordinary two-tube fluid lamps, and is perfectly free from smoke or smell, and less trouble in its management than the ordinary fluid or Coal oil lamps. They are so constructed that the flame can be reduced to one half size, when the full force is not required, thereby only consuming one half the quantity of oil.

The great desideratum that has so long been felt for a portable Gas-light, simple in construction, one that is easily managed, and not requiring too much outlay in the first cost of apparatus, has now been obtained, and is fully realized in this truely valuable invention, and must be seen to be fully appreciated.

Every person in want of a superior and economical Gas light, are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves, or address

STOVES,
FURNACES, RANGES, &C., &C.

ALL persons in want of a first class Stove either for Cooking or heating, are invited to call on the undersigned, who have constantly on hand a very large assortment, from among which they think they can please all in want of a Stove. They would particularly refer to that new and beautiful Cook Stove, the

LEHIGH,

Which is decidedly the best Cooking Stove in the market. It is new in principle, beautiful in design, and the castings are heavy and substantial. They have also on hand the celebrated Cook Stoves,

Globe, Medallion, Old Dominion,
Cook's Favorite,

and others, all of which are too well known to need commendation at our hands. The thousands of families who have them in use will recommend them. They have also highly ornamental

FIRE-PLACE STOVES,

intended to be set in the fire-place, to heat the room above. They are very desirable and excellent heaters, with this advantage, viz: that while they do not take up any of the space of the parlor they are ornamental to it. Among their assortment may be found beautiful patterns of

PARLOR GRATES,
And Stoves for
Parlors, Dining Rooms, Halls, &c.
All of which they guarantee to give satisfaction.
Also,
Furnaces, Ranges, Tin-ware, &c.
Which they offer on pleasing terms, either Wholesale or Retail.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.

And every form, however severe, of
PULMONARY COMPLAINT!

Discovered by a distinguished Physician—containing no mineral or deleterious ingredient, but everything agreeable, it has, by the wonderful cures it has effected, been constantly appreciating in public favor, and is now firmly established as the Great American Remedy For the cure of every minor disease of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, as well as the most fell and fatal of all, CONSUMPTION!

The following letter from Rev. Henry Wood, late Consul to Beyroot, Syria, and formerly editor of the Congregationalist, Concord, N. H., and now Chaplain U. S Navy, is of like tenor of thousands in our possession:—

CONCORD, N. H., March 2.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co.—Gentlemen—Two years ago, a sudden and violent attack upon my lungs confined me to my bed for several weeks, and when I recovered, I was so much oppressed by difficulty in breathing, that I was often unable to sleep or rest upon a bed by night. The suffering was extreme, and judging from the inefficiency of the remedies used, I supposed the disease incurable. Being persuaded to try a bottle of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, without the least confidence in its efficiency, I found the difficulty almost entirely removed before one bottle was used up. Having a mortal aversion to medicine, and seldom using it in any form, sympathy with my fellow sufferers induces me to make this public statement, and recommend the article to others similarly afflicted.

With respect, yours truly, HENRY WOOD.

It has been used with like success by SAMUEL A. WALKER, Auctioneer.
DR. WM. A. SHAW, Washington, N.C.
Alderman PERKINS,
And by numerous Physicians in their practice, as their Certificates testify.

Be Wise to-day!

Neglect not a Cough—Defer not the use of a Timely Remedy, within the reach all.
