EASTON, MD.

SATURDAY MORNING . . . DECEMBER 24, 1859.

SUSPENSION FOR A WEEK.—As printers like a little recreation once-in-a-while, though it is seldom they get it, our establishment has come to the conclusion to issue no paper next week. We think our readers will excuse us for taking holiday one week in the year, at least.

THE VOTE FOR SPEAKER ON THE 16TH—WHO IS RESPONSIBLE IF A REPUBLICAN SPEAKER IS ELECTED?—The vote for speaker unmasked the face of the Democracy on Friday of last week. That party has not only during every campaign, but has ever since an attempt has been made to elect a speaker of the House of Representatives, professed the greatest abhorrence to the Republican party, talked of severing the bonds of this glorious Union of ours and threatened to do divers other things before the Republicans should have the ascendency, but when the thing was tested it was all talk. The right of the Democratic party to oppose Mr. Sherman's election, has never been called in question, and it should be allowed the full benefit of its objections to him, though its violence, from the first, compelled us to doubt its sincerity. But Friday's vote dispels all doubt upon the subject and presents that party in a most unenviable light before the country.—It demonstrates that the Democratic party have not the desire, which they pretend, to protect the rights of the slave States.

Admitting that Mr. Sherman was not satisfactory to the Democrats, because of his Republicanism, yet how does it happen that this intense pro-slavery faction, which manifests such a deep concern for the protection of the institution, while utterly unable to elect a Speaker, should deliberately refuse to vote for Mr. Gilmer, when by so doing they could have terminated this conflict, routed the Republican party, and proved the sincerity of their professions of devotion to Southern interests.

A suggestion had been made, just before the ballot referred to, that a number of votes from the Northern Opposition should be cast for Mr. Gilmer, when the vote stood Bocock, 86; Sherman, 96; Gilmer, 36. 114 necessary to a choice. If the Democrats had voted for Mr Gilmer he could have been elected by eight majority. This is a question to which the country will require them to respond satisfactorily, or their constituencies will be sure to withdraw their confidence from them.

But who is Mr. Gilmer, that the Locofoco party should be held accountable for not voting for him? He is a native of North Carolina, the largest slave-holder of the House, and a staunch defender of the rights of the slave States. He was supported by all the South Americans and twelve Northern men besides. The latter gentlemen abandoned Mr. Sherman, buried all their prejudices and preferences, and showed the country, that they would vote for a large slaveholder, who did not even agree with them in general politics. They could vote for such a man against all their political convictions, and yet the Democrats could not go for him, notwithstanding they profess to make the slavery question the turning point in this controversy. On this question, they are of accord with him, and yet they would not agree to take him, though they could thereby have defeated the very party which they profess to hate with such invetgracy.

What is the explanation, then of this refusal on their part to organize the House? It proves incontestibly, that they care nothing for the slavery question. That is their stalking-horse. There is then some reason for their course, which is not patent.—But why so loth to part with the control of the House? Why jeopard the very existence of the Government, rather than lose it? Because an Anti-Democratic organization will bring to light the most stupendous and the most iniquitous corruption, that ever disgraced a party in power. There stands now a score of members of Congress, ready to arraign the corrupt practices of the ruling dynasty, before an indignant country. All they need is a Speaker who will do his duty in ripping up these excrecences by the appointment of proper Committees of Investigation. The whole of the resistance to the organization on the part of the Democrats, is due to their fears of exposure, knowing that they can never go before the country upon such exposure, with the slightest hope of success, while if they can keep the House in their own hands, they hope to be able to hood-wink and frighten the voting public into the support of the Charlestown nominee. Hence it is with them a necessity to resist to the last moment.

THE EASTERN SHORE CLAIM.—We received a letter from Baltimore last week, and though from an entire stranger to us, we will give the contents of it for what it is worth, in reference to this claim:

DEAR SIR:—Your paper containing the proceedings of the E. S. Convention (meaning the address we published a week or two ago,) has been received in our city, and having a personal acquaintance with the Delegates elect by the American party to the next Legislature, I know that without a dissenting voice, they are all favorable to the payment of the claim by the State.

Yours.

MR. EDITOR:—The Dorcas Society of St. Michaels, take great pleasure in acknowledging, through your paper, the receipt of [illegible] of Phil. Hambleton Esq., from [illegible] of the Grand Jury.

THE TREASURER.

St. Michaels, Dec. 20th.

THE Senate on Wednesday by resolution appointed its Standing Committees, the arrangement of which had previously been agreed upon in Democratic caucus. They are composed mainly as at the last session, Mr. Douglas being second on the Territorial Committee, of which Mr. Green of Missouri, is continued as Chairman. The House after debate had one ballot for Speaker. Previous to the ballot Mr. Boteler, American, withdrew his name from the contest and nominated Mr. Millson, of Virginia, Administration Democrat. The ballot that followed showed Mr. Sherman's vote reduced to one hundred and six, whilst Mr. Millson's was raised to ninety-six, a higher vote than Mr. Bocock received whilst sustained as the Democratic nominee. The whole vote polled was two hundred and twenty-six, necessary to a choice one hundred and fourteen.

CHRISTMAS TIMES.—We need not remind our readers that Christmas is near at hand, for all the surrounding scenery of life makes known this fact. Some are preparing for their new homes at the beginning of the new year, some are making preparations to welcome the holidays with feasting and others look to it as a period

"When friends who have been long estranged,
And hearts that have grown cold,
May meet again like parted streams,
And mingle as of old."

Let what will be the circumstances of life—high or low—rich or poor—the morn on which the Saviour of the world was born, is joyously greeted by every one.

THE National American Central Committee met at Philadelphia on Wednesday, and appointed a committee to confer with a similar committee appointed by a meeting held at Washington on Monday, at which Senator Crittenden presided, with the view of adopting a plan for the union of the Opposition throughout the country. A committee was also appointed to prepare an address to the American people.

CHANGING THEIR MINDS.—We understand that the seats of the American delegates from Baltimore city to the General Assembly, are not to be contested by the Democracy. They intend to let them pass unharmed. No doubt they will receive the Baltimore Delegates' best bow for their unprecedented kindness.

XLIII.—This issue of the "Gazette" closes the forty-third volume. It is generally customary for something to be said on occasions of this kind, but we think comment unnecessary. We are still breathing, and if a strong appetite is an evidence of a prolonged life we shall have our share.

MORE CHRISTMAS NOTIONS.—We see that Messrs. Patchett & Wright have nicely decorated their store-room with Christmas notions of almost every shade and color, pattern and style. Walk in and take a peep.

PUBLIC SALE.—See advertisement in another column of the sale of property at the late residence of Mr. Henry Price, dec'd.—The stock is said to be very fine.

NOTICES.

THE AMERICAN FARMER, a monthly magazine of Agriculture and Horticulture,—published by N. B. Worthington, Baltimore, at $1 per annum. We have received the December number of this valuable book.

A BEAUTIFUL PREMIUM.—The Proprietors of the Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia—that old and celebrated Weekly—are presenting all their subscribers with a beautiful steel engraving called "The Speaking Likeness." A copy of this engraving is now before us, and it is a very beautiful thing. It is sent, as a Premium to any subscriber to the Post, who remits in addition to his subscription money, the sum of twenty-five cents to pay the cost of postage, mailing, &c., &c. Of course any one mailing the publishers of the Post $2.25, will get not only their celebrated Weekly for one year, but this gem of a picture besides. Club subscribers also are entitled to the Engraving, by remitting 25 cents in addition to their regular club rate. Address Deacon & Peterson, No. 132 South Third Street, Philadelphia, who will send a sample copy of The Post gratis to any one requesting it.

ARTHUR'S HOME MAGAZINE for January is on our table. It abounds with choice literature calculated to render home pleasant, the fireside cheerful, and all to whom it comes as a monthly visitor, wiser, better and happier men and women. We do not know of a Magazine that is better conducted, nor one that is more fully imbued with that Christian sentiment which cannot fail to elevate and improve the moral tone of its readers. Address T. S. Arthur, No. 323 Walnut St. Philadelphia.

GODEY'S LADIES BOOK.—The January number of this popular Magazine is on our table. As usual it is beautiful, being filled with choice stories, handsome engravings and tastetul patterns. Godey promises that this year's issue shall contain 1200 pages of Reading matter, 24 pages of music, 12 colored Plates; containing 50 figures, 14 Steel Engravings, over 700 Wood Engravings, all by the best authors and artists of the country, and at the very low price of one copy $3 00, two for $5, three for $6, eight copies, one extra to the getter up of club, for $15.00 and twelve for $20.00. Address L A. Godey 323 Chesnut st. Philadelphia.

TELEGRAPHIC ERROR CORRECTED.—The Telegraph reporter Southward of the great New York meeting, says:

"The resolutions adopted nominated General Winfield Scott for President."

The resolution did not name anybody for President. A large outside meeting nominated Gen. Scott for President, and Gen. Sam. Houston for Vice President.

There were friends of all the candidates present in large numbers; Douglas, Wise, Dickinson and others.—N. Y. Express.

RAIL ROAD MEETING.—At the Rail Road meeting, which assembled on the 13th inst., the Directors of the Company appointed as judges to conduct the election of officers for the ensuing year,—H. T. Goldsborough, A. A. Pauscault, and R. Tharp, who immediately qualified before Justice Cahal.

The President submitted his report which was adopted.

The following officers of the Company were elected: Gen. Tench Tilghman—President; Alexander Hardcastle, Treasurer; Samuel Hambleton, George W. Goldsborough, I. C. W. Powell, David Knotts, James Merrick, William Slaughter and Henry H. Goldsborough, Esqs., Directors. We here annex the report of the President and Directors.

To the Stockholders of the Maryland and Delaware R. R. Company.

GENTLEMEN.—Another year has closed without a resumption of operations on the line of the Road, and from this apparent inactivity it might be inferred that very little had been done during that period.

At no time however have the efforts of the Board to improve the condition of the Company been more unremitting or attended with more important results. The first of these in time as well as in importance is the liberal appropriation made by the State of Delaware to this Road in connection with all other works of internal improvement located wholly or in part within her territory.

By an act of her Legislature passed on the 26th day of January, 1859, a copy of which is herewith presented, the sum of $720,000 was appropriated for this purpose payable in semiannual instalments through a period of twenty years, of which $114,000 was given to the Md. and Del. R. R., without any other condition or consideration than its being used on the part of the Road, within the limits of that State, and within a period of five years after the payment of each instalment. The first instalment of this donation has been due for 4 months—the second will be due in 30 days.

A subscription of $10 000 was also made to the stock of the company by a firm in the city of Baltimore—affording a gratifying evidence that the merits of the road are beginning to be appreciated in the commercial metropolis of the State.

Although the country had but partially recovered from the embarrassment occasioned by the failure of the crops, during the two preceding years the Board were anxious to secure the advantages presented by the remarkably low prices both of materials and labor, by making arrangements for the prosecution of the work.—After considerable negotiation they obtained in the month of July proposals on favorable terms from a company of contractors whose skill and integrity were known to the Board personally. Owing however to a difference in their views in regard to some of the details of the contract the negotiation was broken off. Had the appropriation due from the State been then at the disposal of the company, a contract could have been secured by which the road would have been opened to Greensborough on the 1st of March, 1860, to Hillsborough on the 1st of July, 1860, and to Oxford on the first of March, 1861.

Having ascertained from subsequent investigation, that a large number of contractors were out of employment, and owing to this circumstance a contract could probably be obtained, the payments of which would be made principally in bonds; the Board decided to advertise in the principal Rail Road Journals, for proposals for the construction of the entire Road. For the benefit of those who might apply for information an exhibit of the affairs of the company was prepared with great care, containing an estimate of its means, both present and prospective, and also of its profits—a copy of this exhibit is appended hereto showing conclusively from the actual revenues of other neighboring works the valve of both the bonds and stock of the company. From a desire to submit the result of their action at the annual meeting of the Stockholders, the 1st of December was fixed as the time for opening proposals, but owing to the distant location of several of the parties from whom communications were received, it was found necessary to extend the time to this day. The Board can therefore only report that proposals have been received (and we are now waiting the action of the company) from parties whose recommendations are of the highest character.

From a partial examination of these bids they are induced to believe that a contract may be made on terms advantageous to the company and also to the contractors, and they cannot doubt the readiness of the community to furnish the means when they can be satisfied that an additional subscription of $125.000, if made before there is a material rise in prices will certainly effect the completion of the entire Road in eighteen months from the commencement of operations; and this too without the appropriation from the State of Maryland which will be required for the purchase of cars and machinery.

An application has also been received from the agent of one of the largest manufactures of iron in England, proposing to contract for the iron for the whole Road, either entirely in cash or partly in bonds, or on a credit of six months, conditioned on the payment of the appropriation due by the State at the approaching session of the Legislature.

The Board cannot believe that the payment of this long deferred obligation will be further postponed, especially in view of the recent and daring attempt upon the peace of the Western portion of the State, and the evidence thus afforded of the necessity, for the aid of both Rail Roads and Telegraphs; in obtaining timely assistance against attacks to which this section of the State is peculiarly exposed. They recommend that an urgent application to the Legislature be prepared and presented immediately on the opening of the session.

No expenses have been incurred during the last fiscal year except for legal proceedings and negotiations with contractors,—the salaries of the officers and Engineer being suspended until arrangements shall be made for resuming active operations.

The other Roads on the peninsula, with which this will connect, are progressing steadily. The Junction & Breakwater Rail Road has been opened to Milford Del. and the extension of the Del. R. R. has been pushed forward to the line of Somerset county, in this State.

The advantages derived from these works have fully realized the most sanguine expectations of their projectors, and afford accumulated evidence of the benefits which the completion of the Md. and Del. R. R. will confer, and the heavy loss which the community is sustaining by the delay.

TENCH TILGHMAN, Pres't.

PRACTICAL SECESSION—Stampede of Southern Students.—Several hundred medical students attending lectures in Philadelphia, have withdrawn to Richmond, Va., and intend finishing their education in Southern cities. The matter was determined on in a private meeting. The Bulletin says:

The room was crowded by medical students, all of them from the South of Mason & Dixon's line, no student from the North being admitted. We made application for admission for the purpose of reporting the proceedings; but we were met at the door with a very decided refusal. The meeting was in session short of an hour; but during that time speeches were made, and it was finally determined that the students would leave in a body and go to colleges in Richmond, Charleston, New Orleans and other places at the South.

The Bulletin says that the stampede was the result of overtures from the South.—The Pennsylvanian says that some of the students telegraphed to the Faculty of the Virginia Medical College to know on what terms they would be admitted The answer was as might have been expected from Southern gentlemen: "Come! Your College expenses here will be nothing."—The Ledger says further:

A telegraph dispatch from Gov. Wise was received, stating that the citizens of Richmond would receive them with open arms. One from the President of the Baltimore Railroad Company, tendering free passes to all those who desired to go South. One informing the students that they would be received at Richmond with military honors. Two despatches stating that two drafts for $500 each would be forwarded, for the purpose of defraying incidental expenses. Also letters from the Faculties of the Colleges in Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia, setting forth that they would be welcomed to the colleges in a handsome manner. The meeting appears to have been almost unanimous in its resolve.—There was no enthusiasm exhibited in the way of cheers or applause. It is expected that Jefferson College will lose two hundred of its students, and the Pennsylvania University one hundred, making three hundred who will spend the winter in a warmer lattitude than they had intended.

A WHITE MAN KILLED BY A FREE NEGRO.—On Friday of last week a white man by the name of Samuel Martin, residing on the land of Samuel S. Coston Esq., in Dublin district was killed by a negro named John Horsey, under the following circumstances. It appears that Martin had a few days before employed the negro to assist him in killing his hogs The negro on the day the deed was committed, called at the house of Martin for his pay, and was requested by the latter to wait until his wife came home, and he would receive his money. In the meantime a dispute arose about the amount due, when Martin ordered the negro out of his house, who refused to comply with the requisition. Thereupon Martin seized an old gun which was near him, and both disputants went out of the house together, when the negro snatched the gun and inflicted several blows upon the head of Martin, from the effects of which he died in a few hours. Justice Venables repaired to the place where the deed was perpetrated, on Saturday, and held an inquest over the body of the deceased. The Jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts as above stated. The negro is still at large.—Somerset Union.

ROBBERY ON THE PLAINS.—$1500 STOLEN—$100 REWARD.—AN UNGRATEUL SCAMP.—We learn from a gentleman just in from Pike's Peak, that a robbery took place about seven miles this side of Seneca. The circumstances were these: Messrs: Hall & Tucker, who with our informant, had traveled some distance from the Peak on their way to the States, overtook a young man in destitute circumstances, and kindly gave him a chance to ride, and finding he had no money, paid his hotel bills when they reached the settlements. At Marysville he was taken sick, and Messrs. H. and T furnished him medicine and took the greatest care of him. When the company camped, no guard was kept, and after all had retired at night the stranger arose and taking the gold dust and placing bullets in its place, left for parts unknown.—Leavenworth Times.

The question among patriots—honest-minded, thinking, responsible men there—will be: Is there any mode on God's earth by which the Union can be preserved?—That will be the question—is there any mode left by which the Union can be preserved? Sir, there will be no restless or heated spirits there to bring about a dissolution.—Senator Mason of Virginia.

The Baltimore Patriot says, nothing in the world is easier than the solution of this question. As nobody is talking of dissolving the Union but your own party, all you have to do is to stop such useless gabble, and submit to the decision of the majority, lawfully declared, like law-abiding citizens, and the Union will stand till doomsday.

AN APPROPRIATE PRAYER.—At a prayer meeting, held not a hundred miles from Groton, in this State, one of the Republicans prayed with great unction for the peace of John Brown's soul. After he had finished, a brother from the "other side of the house" offered up his petition to the throne of Grace—in the course of which he prayed that all men might live together in the love of the Lord, that wars might cease, and that "swords might be beaten into ploughshares, and spears into pruning hooks; more especially, O Lord, those 1,200 pikes manufactured by that traitor to his country—O-l-d John Brown."—New Haven News.

The number of persons at the Union meeting in New York on Monday last was estimated to be about 12,000.

MARRIAGE OF COUSINS.—Governor Magoffin, of Kentucky, recommends the Legislature of that State to prohibit by law under severe penalties, the marriage of cousins. He says that the imbeciles, insane, deaf mutes and blind in the different asylums of that State, who are the offspring of cousins, is from sixteen to twenty per cent. of the whole number; and he claims that it is the right and duty of the State to protect herself against the evil and expense by forbidding such unions, which nature plainly forbids by the natural peculiarity she uniformly inflicts.

A FAMILY REMEDY.—No family should be without some efficacious remedy for the cure of affections so universally prevalent as coughs and colds; some remedy too, which can be relied upon as safe, sure, and certain. Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry combines these DESIDERATA.

☞ There's a vile counterfeit of this Balsam, therefore be sure and buy only that prepared by S. W. FOWLE & Co., Boston, which has the written signature of I. BUTTS on the outside wrapper.

RELIGIOUS.—A protracted meeting will commence in the M. P. Church in Easton, on Saturday night the 31st, instant, with a watch-night meeting.—The meeting is expected to continue during January. The public are invited to attend. [dec 10
