THE EASTON GAZETTE,

EASTON, MD.

SATURDAY MORNING . . . AUGUST 18, 1860

"The Union, the Constitution and the Enforcement of the Laws."

FOR PRESIDENT,

JOHN BELL,

OF TENNESSEE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

EDWARD EVERETT,

OF MASSACHUSETTS.

GRAND MASS MEETING

OF THE

Constitutional Union Party!

A GRAND MASS MEETING of the Constitutional Union party will be held at Easton, on Tuesday, the 28th of August, at 2 o'clock P. M. The following eminent speakers are expected to be present and address the people on the political issues of the day:

Hon. JOHN J. GILMER,
" ALEX. R. BOTELER,
" ANTHONY KENNEDY,
" J. MORRISON HARRIS,
" J. DIXON ROMAN,
GEORGE J. PEARRE, Esq.,

and others. Let the friends of the Union and the Constitution turn out in their strength.

THE Central Committee of the Constitutional Union party are requested to meet at the Court House, in Easton, on Tuesday next, at 11 o'clock.

HOWES GOLDSBOROUGH, Jr.,
aug 18 Chairman.

THE VICTORY IN KENTUCKY IS STILL MORE CONCLUSIVE.—By a resolution solemply adopted by the Democratic State Convention which nominated McClarty as its candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals—a resolution introduced, if we are correctly informed, says the Baltimore Clipper, by Hon. Henry C. Burnett, the Democratic member of Congress from the most intensely Democratic district in the State, it was proclaimed that the vote in the Clerk's election should be accepted as the test of the strength of the Breckinridge party in the Presidential election. The result is that the majority for Gen. Combs, the Union party candidate, is over ten thousand, in a State which recently gave over eight thousand Democratic majority.

The most incredulous Democrat, North or South, cannot fail to read in this result a confirmation of the utter inability of Breckinridge to carry his own or any other Southern State, excepting always the independent sovereignty of South Carolina. It will hardly be contended by the most sangnine of Mr. Douglas' friends that he has any chance whatever to obtain a single electoral vote in the South. The fact is thus demonstrated that Bell and Everett will carry, in November, all the Southern States, except South Carolina, and possibly Texas, if Sam Houston should be really in the field.

THE TOWN OF SALISBURY, MARYLAND, IN RUINS.—Salisbury, Somerset county, was nearly consumed by fire on Wednesday, the 8th inst. Over forty dwelling houses and stores, &c., were destroyed. The town is represented as being in almost complete ruins. The Episcopal Church, one of the oldest in the State, was destroyed, notwithstanding great efforts were made to save it. The conflagration likewise swept away the stores and everything that was in its way. A large amount of the personal property, stock, goods, &c., owned by the victims of the conflagration, were saved, though the aggregate loss is very large. Most of the parties, however, were insured in the Mutual Insurance Company of Delaware. The origin of the fire is not known, though it is suspected to have been the work of an incendiary, since it broke out in some unoccupied buildings on the principal street. The property consumed is supposed to amount to about $150,000.

We to-day throw out our banner to the breeze, having inscribed thereon the names of those tried statesmen and pure patriots, JOHN BELL, of Tennessee, and EDWARD EVERETT, of Massachusetts, by whose election to the highest offices in the gift of the people, the country will be rescued from that sectionalism, both North and South, which is now threatening to strand our good old Ship of State upon the rugged shores of disunion.

Our reasons for this course shall be given hereafter.—Centreville Maryland Citizen.

Here is another helping Hand in the good cause. The Citizen has heretofore been neutral in politics. We give our old friend a hearty welcome.

NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION.—A correspondent writing from Raleigh, gives the official vote, returned to the Comptroller, from all the counties except three small ones, in the State, which will give small gains for the Opposition. The result is that Ellis has a majority over Pool of 5,900, subject to a reduction of about 400 on account of the three counties unheard from.—Ellis' real majority will then be 5,500. On joint ballot the Democrats have a majority of 24 in the State Legislature—being a gain to the Opposition of 16 members.

BELL AND EVERETT MEETING.—A large Bell and Everett ratification meeting was held in Frederick city at the Court-House square, on Saturday last. Speeches were made by J. Dixon Roman, Alexander Cooper and E. H. Webster. The latter spoke for an hour and a half with great ability to an immense crowd.

MISSOURI ELECTION.—The Republican says that John B. Henderson, Dem., for Congress, in the 2d district, is defeated by John A. Rollins, Opp., by 249 votes. Claiborne F. Jackson, Douglas Democrat, so far as heard from, leads Sample Orr, Union, for Governor, by 6,290 votes.

The Union ladies in the interior of Kentucky are having Bell and Everett printed on their bonnet strings.

"The negro is not in the Union Party platform—he is entirely shut out by the platform—J. Morrison Harris' speech at Easton, Md.—Star.

We deny that J. Morrison Harris made any such statement as that "he (the negro) is entirely shut out by the platform" of the Union party, and we should consider it a grand insult to those slave holding Bell and Everett men of which the star speaks so loosely, to attempt to explain to them the meaning of Mr. Harris' words. They are quite as able to judge of the merits or demerits of his remerks as the Star is to judge for them, but if the Star's "adhesive power" should be strong enough to captivate and capture any of them, we say joy go with them.

KENT COUNTY ITEMS.—We see by a Chestertown correspondent in the Centreville Maryland Citizen, of Thursday, dated the 14th, that a fire broke out in the upper part of that town on the day the letter was written, destroying property to the amount of some $5,000 or $6,000. It was supposed to be the work of an inscendiary.

Also, a new Bell and Everett paper made its appearance there on Tuesday morning, under the title of "Bell Union."

WHO CAN INTERPRET?—The following is one of the resolutions which were adopted at the late Democratic State Convention which was held in Baltimore. Can any one explain its meaning?

Resolved, That in order to prevent the diversity of action which may arise in the democracy of Maryland, that the tickets for the election of electors throughout the State, some be headed by Douglas and Johnson, and others by Breckinridge and Lane, and that the democratic electors, if elected, be required to vote for Breckinridge and Lane and Douglas and Johnson.

THE Star has been laboring hard for three weeks to create a Black Republican feeling in Talbot. It may eventually succeed in doing so from its own party, but the Union men are too earnestly at work for the welfare of the country to even give a passing notice to its gasconade and tomfoolery. The Star and its terrible Democracy is driven with its face jam up to the wall. Why don't their captain give the order, about face, two paces to the front march?

THE Douglas Democratic State Convention met in Baltimore on Thursday last, for the purpose of selecting a Douglas electoral ticket for the State of Maryland.

Shrewd inquiries are being made whether the cup of sorrow has a saucer. Can any one tell us?

It has—we had not change to purchase a five cent watermellon the other day.

The American slave holders of Maryland would do well to consider his (Mr. Bell's) position well before voting for him.—Easton Star.

That's playing the "hand" of the Union party precisely. They want the people to contrast the lives and acts of Bell and Breckinridge.

LOCAL ITEMS.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT—A LADY SEVERELY INJURED BY A COW.—The wife of Mr. Charles M. Jump, living in the Chapel District, came near losing her life on Tuesday last, by the gore of a cow. We learn that Mrs. Jump went into the yard to look at a cow and young calf which were going at liberty, when the cow made at Mrs. J. and before she had time to escape, the enraged animal struck her with her horn, the lick taking effect about the middle of the abdomen,—lascerating it nearly to the hip. It must have been a terrible blow to cause such a wound. Drs. Rose and Derney, of the same district, were called in, and soon after Dr. C. C. Cox, of Easton, was sent for to hold consultation. At last accounts Mrs. Jump was doing remarkably well, and with her great endurance and the good attention of her skillful physicians, great hope is entertained for her recovery.

THE MAILS.—The Baltimore or Southern mail arrives in Easton daily (except Sunday,) at 9 o'clock, A. M. and returns same days, about 1½ hours after its arrival.

The Felton or Philadelphia mail, arrives on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, at 9½ o'clock, and departs the next morning at 7 o'cl'k.

The Cambridge mail arrives on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings at 9 o'clock and returns the same days at 11 o'clock.

The St. Michaels or Bay Side mail leaves Easton every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday immediately after the arrival of the Baltimore mail, and returns the same days.

BELL AND EVERETT CLUB.—It will be seen by notice in another column, that the young men and all others favorable to the election of Bell and Everett, are requested to meet at the Town Hall, in Easton, on Tuesday evening next. This is a good move. Heap on the fuel and let the fire burn. The prospects of Bell and Everett are most flattering. Their majority in November next is beyond conception. Let the turn out be full.

DESTRUCTION OF WOOD BY FIRE.—We learn that the woods in Miles River Neck, belonging to Mr. Robt. Ll. Tilghman took fire by some means or other, week before last, and the underbrush being very dry owing to the long spell of hot weather, a great quantity of wood and umber was destroyed before it was found out. It is supposed that his loss will amount to between one and two thousand dollars.

A DELIGHTFUL RAIN.—We were lamenting last week, over the dryness of the ground and the burning and crisping of vegetation of every sort. This week we have a more happy task to perform. On Monday a glorious rain came upon us, which commenced about 11 o'clock A. M. and lasted, with but little intermission, until the afternoon of Tuesday. It appeared to be general, and in some sections much damage was done by the great fall of water.

THE Lloyd's Springs Camp broke up on yesterday morning. Every thing passed off quietly and pleasantly. It was the largest encampment that has been in this section for some years, and we learn the number of conversions was quite large.

Another Camp commenced at St. Paul, Chapel District, yesterday, and will continue for a week.

ANOTHER VICTORY BEFORE THE PEOPLE.—It is now reduced to the finest point of a certainty that Hindman, the disunion Congressman of heretofore Democratic Arkansas, has been beaten, and badly beaten, by Mr. Lypert the nominee of the Bell and Everett men.

At Burrsville, Caroline county, Md., Mr James C. Carter is appointed postmaster, vice Ephraim Clark, resigned.

BELL RINGINGS.

The New York Herald for Bell and Everett.

The N. Y. Herald, a strong Administration and Breckinridge paper, has come out boldly and fearlessly for BELL and EVERETT, and advocates their cause as being the only means of driving back the powers of Black Republicanism.

In our appeal to the calm and well thinking portion of the Democracy last week, we gave the result of the late elections as an evidence of Mr. Breckinridge's weakness, and in that light the masses are construing it. The Herald entreats the Democracy, (as they are powerless themselves,) to rally to the support of the standard bearers of the Union party. It has not only been seen by the result of the elections in the Southern States, by the people of the South, that Mr. Breckinridge has no strength—even in his own State his party completely put to flight—but the conservative people at the North see it, and advise all parties to rally to the support of the Nation's pride—BELL and EVERETT—whose chances are strengthening daily. As a supporter of Breckinridge, the Herald advises his friends to heed its lessons, and as a Democratic organ of the last three years, it warns the "universal Democracy" to hearken to its counsel. These are the immediate union of Breckinridge and Douglas Democrats upon the candidates of the Constitutional party. Thus saith the Herld:

Proposed Union Movement.—The Democratic party is smashed, and its fragments are scattered. It can no longer resist the revolutionary current of Black Republicanism. What, then, is the duty of the conservative elements of the Democracy? It is incumbent on them, as they would save the country from the consequences of the advent to power of the republican party, to come together and consider what they ought to do in the emergency.

If the Democratic party, split into two factions, which are as hostile to each other as they are to republicanism itself—as hostile as ever the cavaliers were to the roundheads, or the house of York to the house of Lancaster—if, thus divided into two hostile camps, the democracy can do nothing against the common foe, and if there is no probability of reconciliation before the election, then the best thing that can be done is to ascertain whether there is any other conservative party in the country which, with their aid, would be strong enough to stem the torrent of revolution.

From the indications furnished by the elections in the South, the Union party, represented by Bell and Everett, is the strongest, and is just the conservative nucleus around which the divided forces of the democracy could rally without compromise or humiliation on either side. The Union party cannot win by itself, with two other conservative tickets in the field; and neither of the two wings of the democracy can be successful for the same reason. The only alternative left is that they both come to the assistance of the Union ticket, and help to defeat black republicanism. These two factions cannot fairly ask the Union men to unite with them, for they are not united themselves; and it would be useless for the Unionists to join either of them,

Indeed, it would be impossible for them to agree as to which of the two democratic camps they would flock to in the different States. But the Union party are a unit. They seek the same object as the democracy—the defeat of republicanism—and they have no quarrel with either section of it. Why, then, should not both sections of democrats marshal themselves under the standard of the Union men for this election, to avert the pressing danger and prevent the ascendancy of a desperate faction, who have proclaimed a sectional war against the institutions of the South, whose result can only be the dismemberment of the federal republic. It is clear that with three conservative tickets in the field, all divided from each other, and acting against each other as much as against the enemy, the republican party must triumph beyond all doubt. A house divided against itself cannot stand.

The great mass of the conservative elements of the North are anxiously looking for some way in which they can resist the onward march of Republicanism. The only practicable way is that which we have pointed out. Of two evils the democracy ought to choose the lesser. It is a lesser evil to elect Bell than Lincoln; and as the matter now stands one or the other must be elected. Let the democracy, unable to elect a candidate of their own, determine which of the two men they will send to the White House, and which of the two parties would be the safer to be entrusted with power.

It seems to us that this question ought to be very easily decided. Let a great meeting be called at once in this city to settle the question, and let similar meetings be held in the other cities and throughout the country. It is not yet too late. There are still three months to the election. Much can be done in that time. If the union movement that we recommend be adopted—and it is the only practical one, the only one that can be successful—there would soon be such a burst of enthusiasm and such a furore of patriotic sentiment as would sweep the revolutionary republican party out of existence.

Extract from a letter from Louisville.

"I never saw more enthusiasm than there now is in this city in favor of the "Union candidates," Bell and Everett. Old line Whigs, who have been acting with the Democracy, and Democrats who have never voted for a Whig, are announcing their intention to support the conservative ticket.

"Douglas will beat Breckinridge in his own State; and I heard a bet made that Bell would get 5,000 more votes in Kentucky than Breckinridge and Douglas together."

H. Buncher Swope, Esq., who was chairman of the American State organization in Pennsylvania, in 1858, and who was one of the founders of the People's party, has come out for Bell and Everett, as he cannot go the republican doctrine.

BELL AND EVERETT MEETING AT NEW ORLEANS.—A meeting of the friends of Bell and Everett was held there on Thursday, the 2d inst., and was largely attended. Twelve speeches were delivered, and much enthusiasm manifested.

RETURNING PRODIGALS.—Hon. Albert Pike, of Arkansas, has expressed himself in favor of Bell and Everett as the only national candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States. He supported Buchanan in 1856.

There are thousands upon top of thousands of Whigs who supported Buchanan in 1856, who are now exceedingly sorry for it, and who will support Bell and Everett with a perfect relish.

The Carroll county Democrat will not hoist either Douglas or Breckinridge, and says that the Democracy have no candidate, and will not support the nominee of either faction. It wants the thing done over again!

The friends of Bell and Everett had a large and brilliant torch-light procession at St. Louis on Friday night, the 10th inst.

ILLINOIS.—The Bloomington Times, which supports Bell and Everett, says: The Chicago Press and Tribune of the 19th is wofully exercised over the Bell and Everett meeting at that city on Tuesday, of last week and at the movement in Ohio, begging and denouncing by turns, and asserting that it will ruin the Republican prospects. Well, suppose it does. Bell and Everett, by the admission of nine-tenths of the Republicans themselves, are infinitely better men for President and Vice President than their own candidates.

[From the Washington States.]

Reign of Terror in the Departments.

Blackmailing the clerks—forged contributions for the disunion ticket—the people to be demoralised by their own servants in public office.

We have heard from several that on Wednesday a person known as a confidential friend of Hon. Jacob Thompson was engaged in obtaining subscriptions for the Breckinridge party from clerks, &c., in the Department of the interior.—It is stated that Mr. Thompson headed the list with a subscription of $500, and then it was carried to heads of bureaus and divisions, and to leading clerks, who, it is said, agree to give five dollars per month during the canvass. Clerks with minor salaries may not be expected to give more than two or three dollars a month; but the aggregate sum will be immense, as there are not less than twelve hundred clerks who will be subjected to the forced contribution. If the thing is carried out as it has been begun, not less than $30,000 will be raised in the Departments alone—a larger sum, probably, than any National Democratic Committee, or any other nominal committee, has ever had at this point.

Join to this, like contributions from custom-house officers, postmasters, clerks in post-offices, government contractors, wealthy disunionists of the South, and from rich Northern dough-faces, and a fund will be raised of hundreds of thousands of dollars—perhaps millions. What shall we then see? "Men and presses bought up like cattle in the market." It will all be powerless, upon the masses, and it remains to be seen whether there are enough mercenary cattle to thwart the popular will. It will be a fit sequel to the Buchanan game to cheat Judge Douglas out of a nomination, by thrusting cowering officeholders upon the National Convention, and by buying up, with hope of office or plunder, or set of mercenary wretches who are now pilloried in the public thought.

The Disunion Party.

It is well known that the secession from the Charleston and Baltimore Democratic Conventions was brought about under the influence and by the management of the men of the South, who are in favor of a dissolution of the Union, and the establishment of a Southern Confederacy. On this point the Hon. Hendrick B. Wright the recent presiding officer of the Pennsylvania Democratic State Convention, speaks as follows:

"After Yancey and the Disunionists went out of the regular Convention, it occurred to me that it would be profitable for me to go into the Secession Convention and ascertain for myself the sentiments there proclaimed. I did go into the Yancey Convention, and during the two hours I was there, as God is my judge, I heard nothing but reference to the expediency of erecting a Southern Republic upon the ruins of the present Union. (Cries of "down with the traitors!")

"If Mr. Breckinridge be not a Disunionist himself, it must be conceded that he is the candidate of the Disunionists. He is, then, in the hands of the worst men that this country has ever seen. Those men are fixed upon a dissolution of this Union and the erection of the Southern Confederacy. I do not care what their apologists may say—I have heard their debates and I know that which I do speak. (Applause.) Disunion was the cry of the secession movement at Charleston and at Baltimore. Breckinridge is the pliant tool of the Disunionists—the men who proclaim from the housetops that they want disunion.—And such are the men that the Democratic party of Pennsylvania are asked to support. For one, I never will submit to such burning dishonor.—(Applause.")

From the Washington States.

The propositions contained in the following note emanate from a gentleman in Virginia, whose well known respectability and responsibility is a certain guarantee that he is acting in good faith, and will carry out fully what he proposes:

Editor States and Union:

I have understood that large bets are offered in Washington on the Yancey ticket, and thinking it probable, if it is not bluff they are playing, that some small bets may be made, I offer the following:

I will bet one hundred dollars that the Yancey or Breckinridge ticket fails in the State of Maryland.

I will bet the same that it is beaten in Virginia.
The same that it is beaten in Tennessee.
The same that it is beaten in North Carolina.
The same as to Georgia.
The same as to Alabama.
The same as to Louisiana.
The same as to Arkansas.
The same as to Texas.
The same as to Florida.
The same that he don't carry a majority of the slaveholding States.
The same that the Yancey candidate is not first or second in the race.
The same (one hundred dollars on each) that he does not carry either of the three large Northern States, New York, Pennsylvania or Ohio.
The same that Douglas gets a larger electoral vote than the Yancey candidate.
The same that he will get a larger popular vote.

And if these bets are taken, I will give five hundred dollars in cash, if the receiver will bind himself to pay me ten cents for each popular vote that Douglas beats the Yancey candidate.

These bets are open for acceptance for ten days, and when taken, the money will be staked in Washington within five days after the intelligence reaches me that they are taken.

Borrowing Newspapers.

One of our patrons came into the office, the other day, and requested us to discontinue his paper. We thought strange of it, as he had taken it for a long time, paid yearly in advance, and came regularly every week for it. We asked his reasons for stopping the paper in such a manner, and, in reply, he intimated that his neighbors, who were abundantly able to take a paper of their own, did not give him an opportunity to read it, and he thought it useless to take it any longer. To lend a newspaper may seem like a very trifling affair; yet, in many instances, a person would rather give his neighbor the price of a year's subscription than be annoyed by his continual borrowing. In this case we are deprived of the subscriber's patronage, and the subscriber's family deprived of the paper.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES.—The following table in relation to the several candidates for President and Vice-President, shows the State in which they were born, when they were born, their present age, and where they now reside:

For President.	Native State.	Born.	Age.	Residence.
John Bell,	N. C.	1797	63	Tenn.
S. A. Douglas	Vt.	1813	47	Ill.
J. C. Breckinridge	Ky.	1821	39	Ky.
Sam. Houston,	Va.	1793	67	Texas.
Abraham Lincoln	Ky.	1809	51	Ill.
For Vice-President.
Edward Everett,	Mass.	1794	66	Mass.
H. V. Johnson,	Ga.	1812	48	Ga.
Joseph Lane,	N. C.	1801	59	Ore.
Hannibal Hamlin,	Maine	1809	51	Maine.

SATURDAY EVENING.—Every Saturday evening has, to my ear, a gentle knell. The week tolls itself away—one, two, three, four, five, six, and the perfect seven—and I can almost hear the sound dying away as if the days had slipped their cables, and were drifting down the stream; but beating faint measures as they recede! And of every one I may say—ended! gone! I shall see thee no more! How have we improved them!

A WEALTHY VISITOR.—Lake George doubtless feels highly honored by the fact, that Baron Rothschild of Paris, whose income is 16,000,000 francs ($3,000,000) a year, is sojourning on her banks. With his suite of ten "people" he is making a tour of our watering places.

Ex-Gov. Wm. F. Johnson, of Pa., a prominent Fremont man of '56, has repudiated the Republican Platform, and is now earnestly at work for the Constitutional Union ticket.

A gentleman of Louisville offers, through the columns of the Courier, of that city, to bet one hundred dollars, to a thousand that the Hon. John C. Breckinridge does not run for the Presidency in November next. It is significant that the proposition has not been accepted.

Messrs. Kennedy, Swann and Yellott, of Baltimore, together with Messrs. Boteler, and Daniel, of Richmond, Va., and Messrs. Goggin, Rives and others, from different parts of the State, are announced to speak at the mass meeting of Bell and Everett men at Warrenton, Va., on the 24th of this month.

NOT VERY PROBABLE.—The Elkhart (Ind.) Times has the following:

We overheard one of the unterrified get off the following good one, in expressing his private opinion the other day: "Well Rob—hic—the Demo—hic—racy are a—hic—powerful nation—hic—but I'll be d—d if I—hic—believe they—hic—can elect two—hic—Presidents in one year, no how."

DEATH OF MRS. HOLT.—Last evening about 6 o'clock, the estimable lady of the Postmaster General, who has been for a long time in a precarious state of health, breathed her last, surrounded by a large circle of relatives and friends.

Her remains will be conveyed to her late home in Kentucky, in the 3.20 train this afternoon.—Wash. Star of yesterday.

KENTUCKY.—The Richmond (Va.) Whig says: Kentucky is irretrievably lost to John C. Breckinridge. He has not an earthly shadow of a chance, and Bell will get the State by at least 20,000. For a short time the Yanceyites kept up their courage, and bet largely upon the State for Breckinridge. In a hopeless cause, without prospect of reward, their ardor is considerably abated, and we shall not be surprised to find Breckinridge hindmost in Kentucky. There are 105 counties in the State. In 45, making the most liberal estimate for Breckinridge, Douglas has 20,000. Say that he has only 10,000 in the other 60, which is far below his strength; and it leaves Breckinridge only 45,000, and John Bell 70,000

Democratic Convention Broke up in a Row.

McCONNELSBURG, Pa., Aug. 11.—The democrats held a county meeting here last night, at which a regular skirmish was indulged in between the Douglas and Breckinridge parties.—Much bitter feeling prevailed, and the meeting broke up with a row. During the absence of the editor of the Democrat, Mr. Sansom, at Cresson, the Breckinridge party entered the office of that newspaper, mutilated the forms, run up the Breckinridge flag, and issued an edition of the paper under that banner. The affair has created considerable excitement. A personal rencounter also took place last night after the meeting, between Mr. Sansom and G. A. Smith, a Breckinridge attorney. Mr. Sansom gave Smith the lie, when the latter collared him. The parties were then separated.

THE young men of Easton District, favorable to the Election of John Bell and Edward Everett, for President and Vice President of the United States, and all others who may be disposed to beat back sectionalism, and "preserve the Union of States and the Union of lands," are requested to meet at the Town Hall on Tuesday evening next, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of forming a BELL AND EVERETT CLUB and organizing for the coming Campaign.

THE first premium at the late Pennsylvania State Fair at Powelton was awarded the Young America Cooking Stove, as a complete baker and durable Store, as well as one that is easily managed, it stands very high. A number already sold in Easton and vicinity are referred to with pleasure and by permission of purchasers.

Besides the Young America I have numerous patterns and always a large stock on hand all of which are offered at manufacturer's prices. Persons buying stoves of me get the store-ware at same time as the stove. No delays or disappointments. T. C. NICOLS, JR.,
