THE EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, MD.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 24, 1860.

LOUISIANA.—The New Orleans Picayune of Saturday, says that Gov. Moore will pursue a course tending to unite the people, in his message to the Legislature.

BANK SUSPENSIONS.—In consequence of suspension among the Banks generally in the Southern and Border States, the Easton Bank has been compelled to do likewise.

THANKSGIVING.—Thursday next, the 29th, will be observed in Maryland and a number of other States as a day of thanksgiving for past blessings. It will be observed in Easton by a parade of the Home Guards, services in the different Churches and as has been customary, we presume a suspension of business generally.

The Guards will attend service at the M. E. Church, where a sermon will be preached by Rev. J. D. Curtis appropriate for the occasion.

FRUIT TREES.—Any one desiring to purchase an elegant assortment of Peach Trees should apply to Mr. John S. Elliott who is now in Easton with a beautiful assortment. His varieties are said to be of a superior kind—the fruit from which being very large and delicious. We have seen the trees which he has here on exhibition and for sale—and to judge from their appearance, they would grace any orchard. By applying to him in person while in Easton or at his residence, Sudlersville, Queen Annes county, orders of any size can be filled. See advertisement in another column for particulars.

SECESSIONISTS STILL ON THE MOVE.—A petition to the Governor to call an extra session of the Legislature was freely circulated in Court yesterday, without however finding but very few who were willing to lend their names to the object sought to be obtained. An effort to precipitate our noble State into all the dreadful elements of secession is much to be regretted. And we hope all the friends of the "Union the Constitution and the laws" will frown down all attempts to get up geographical divisions in the land and alienate our people from our brethren of other sections. No good can be obtained by an extra session.

It will be remembered that the compromise measures of 1850 did not command the immediate acquiesence of all the Southern States. The State of Mississippi was believed by her Legislature of that year to be especially dissatisfied with the terms of the "Great Adjustment" as it was called by its friends and patrons. Accordingly the Legislature passed an act declaring that "an election for Delegates to a Convention of the people should be held in the several counties thereof," and the Convention composed of these delegates did what? They by adopting the Compromise measures rebuked the busybodys that was instrumental in calling the convention and passed the following resolutions:

RESOLVED, That in the opinion of this Convention without intending to call in question the motives of the members of the legislature, the call of this Convention by the Legislature, at its late extraordinary session, was unauthorized by the people; and that said act, in peremptorily ordering a Convention of the people of the State, without first submitting to them the question whether there should be a Convention or no Convention, at war with the spirit of republican institutions, an encroachment upon the rights of the people, and can never be rightfully invoked as a precedent."

In respect to the assumed right of peaceable secession, the State of Missippi pronounced as follows in the same Convention:

"RESOLVED FURTHER, That, in the opinion of this Convention, the asserted right of secession from the Union on the part of a State IS UTTERLY UNSANCTIONED BY THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION, which was framed to establish, and not only destroy, the Union of the States, and that no secession can in fact take place without a subversion of the Union established, and which will not virtually amount in its effects and consequence to a civil revolution."

We shall not take this as an occasion to censure our legislature for what they have done or what they may do, but the question naturally arises is it not quite as likely that the same legislature which legislated so contrary to the will of the people at its last session would be more likely to do it at this particular time? Is it time enough to act when the President advises it to be done? The Democracy placed him in the Presidential chair and now a portion of that party is trying to usurp his power. We believe Maryland will stand firmly by the Union—we believe old Talbot will strongly oppose a call for an extra session—for by yielding she will completely transfer herself to the "war-cry" of South-Carolina and the disunionists generally. The Union men, Douglas men and some of the most prominent and conservative Breckinridge men see the disunion trap and are refusing to sign the call.

Remember, says the Balt. Amer., if Va., Maryland, Kentucky and Tennessee, instead of abiding in the Union, or setting up a Confederacy of their own, should hitch themselves to the Southern secession States, the insecurity of slave property upon the borders of a hostile nation will inevitably drive the Slaves further South, and pave the way for the Border States to become free States, thus introducing the old element of discord in the new Confederacy and preparing the way for a new dissolution. We firmly believe that this would be the ultimate result of a dissolution of the Union, and that the enormous accumulation of slave labor which would follow in the South Atlantic States would prove almost as destructive of the soil and of the institution as abolitionism itself.

The words of counsels which we often urge upon our Southern brethern proceed from no spirit of hostility or of dictation,—far from it,—nor from any sympathy with a party and policy antagonistic to their rights and interests. On the contrary, we hold that solemn lectures upon the unlawfulness of secession and the obligation of States to uphold the national compact, are supremely absurd and hypocritical when uttered by those who sympathise with the "higher law" of Seward, whose States have deliberately nullified the Constitution and the laws in regard to fugitive slaves, and who have aided in the election of a candidate to the Presidency upon the express ground of hostility to the constitutional rights of the Southern States and people. But because counsel and reproof from such a source are justly scorned and scouted, because the Southern States will not hear their enemies, will they turn a deaf ear also to their friends? We feel that the Border slave States have a right to be heard, and heard on account of their friendship, that identity of interests, and the enormous stake they have at issue."

The Conservative Sentiment of the South.

AUGUSTA, Nov. 20.—The conservative sentiment of the South appears to be disgusted with the unceasing sectional wrangles, and considers that the Northern States should promptly convene their Legislature, and repeal all unfriendly laws, and urge a convention of all the States to make a prompt and united effort to preserve the Union and the country from bankruptcy, anarchy and ruin.

Henry Corey, a native of Ireland appeared in open Court and declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States.

At this stage of the proceedings of the Court I. C. W. Powell, Esq., arose and in a feeling manner announced the death of Hon. John B. Eccleston, formerly Judge of the 2d Judicial District, but more recently Judge of the Court of Appeals of Maryland, and after remarking upon the many excellent qualities of the deceased, concluded by a motion to adjourn. The motion was seconded by Hon. J. B. Kerr, who expressed his high appreciation of the character of the deceased. His. Honor, R. B. Carmichael also responded appropriately to the above announcement, and ordered the Court adjourned.—After which a meeting of the members of the Bar was held, His Honor Judge Carmichael presiding, and A. P. Jump, Esq., acting as Secretary.

Col. Hambleton introduced the following resolutions, which were read and ordered to be entered on the minutes of the Court:

RESOLVED, That we have learned with unaffected sorrow of the sudden death of the Hon. John B. Eccleston, so long an associate Judge of this Court under the old regime, and also of the Court of Appeals of the State under the new organization of the Courts.

RESOLVED, That Judge Eccleston in all the relations of private life exhibited the brightest model of the christian and the citizen.

RESOLVED, That in his professional career at the Bar Judge Eccleston illustrated his noble profession by a life of diligence, devotion and stainless integrity.

RESOLVED, That on the Bench Judge Eccleston adorned the Judicial ermine by his patience, impartiality and profound learning.

RESOLVED, That in token of our respect for the memory of the deceased we will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be presented in open Court to the Judge of the Circuit Court of Talbot County, with a request that they be inserted in the minutes of the Court.

RESOLVED, That a copy of the same be forwarded to the bereaved family of the deceased, with whom we deeply sympathize on this melancholy occasion.

MARYLAND ELECTION.

Full returns of the Maryland election are received, and the result is, Breckinridge beats Bell 796, and Douglas 33,801. The combined vote of Breckinridge and Douglas over Bell, is, 6,541. We have always believed the State was Democratic by 5,000 majority, provided a fair election could be held in Baltimore, and the result show that the democratic majority is over 6,000.—Easton Star—Breck.

RATHER TOO FAST.

There is a little too much presumption and doubtful repentance on the part of the Breckinridge faction in this State for them to expect any of their leaders to be forgiven or forgotten by the Douglas National Democrats. Some of the Breckite papers have the assurance to place the Douglas vote of this State along with theirs as showing the strength of the Democratic party in Maryland. There is more Democracy with the Bell party than with the Breckites, and when the latter repent of their political heresies and come back to the National Democratic Party, they may then talk about forming any portion of our party. They must not dodge the Union question nor Popular Sovereignty; for they will not be considered Democrats until they have come out square on these two questions. Gov. E. Louis Lowe and other such old tried Democrats who have recently strayed off to the enemy may come back and obtain free forgiveness; but any of those older sinners, or recent recruits under the mere name of Democrats, in whom we never had any confidence, it is no difference to us what they may do.—Worcester Shield—Doug.

Comment is unnecessary.

SOUTH CAROLINA CERTAIN TO SECEDE.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 19.—The Courier of this morning says: "We assure our Northern readers, and beg them to believe, that South Carolina will secede—alone, if necessary; although we have no fears of that result."

On Wednesday night (Thanksgiving) there will be a grand torchlight secession parade.

Rumors are prevalent here to the effect that Mr. Buchanan will issue a proclamation in a few days, against secession.

The Mercury scouts at Virginia's idea of holding a Southern Conference, and says it is now too late—that South Carolina wants no conference but in the Convention that will assemble to frame a Constitution, and compel the organization of a Southern Confederacy.

The cannon in the citadel are being overhauled and cleaned up.

The Military Committee have agreed upon a plan for arming the State. They will report to the Legislature as soon as it re-assembles—on Monday next.

MEETING OF THE NORTH CAROLINA LEGISLATURE.

RALEIGH, Nov. 19.—The Legislature of this State met here yesterday, and organized quietly. W. T. Borteh, of Wayne county, was elected Speaker of the House, and H. L. Clark, of Edgecombe, was chosen Speaker of the Senate.

THE NATIONAL CRISIS.

EXPRESSION OF THE SENTIMENT OF BOTH SECTIONS.

IMPORTANT LETTER FROM SPRINGFIELD—LINCOLN'S POLICY.

The New York Evening Post (Rep.) of Monday, publishes a letter from the home of Mr. Lincoln, giving the result of an hour's conversation of the writer with the former, in relation to "this secession movement." It contains, says the Post, the fullest utterance upon public affairs that Mr. Lincoln has indulged in, so far as we know, since he became a candidate for the Presidency, and meets some of the graver questions to which public curiosity has been specially directed for a week or two past.

The Post gives the following abstract of Mr. Lincoln's views. It will be read with disappointment by many who had been led to hope that discarding the aggressive principles and dangerous tendencies of Republicanism, the President elect would announce at the outset a policy which should commend him to the support of the conservative sentiment of the country, and thus allay to a great extent the deep and dangerous revolutionary excitement prevailing throughout the entire South:

From this letter the country may learn—

1. That he will conduct his administration according to the principles laid down in his speeches and public declarations made before his nomination, and that he will not be driven from that position by the threats either of the Secessionists or of impracticable Republicans. He means to give the country the trial of a Republican administration, if he lives.

2. He will make no public demonstrations of his future policy, until it becomes his constitutional duty to do so—his reason, and it is a conclusive one, being that while he and his administration have been threatened, self-respect, respect for the people who voted for him and respect for the form of government under which he lives and cherishes, forbid it.

3. That he approves of the course which Gen. Jackson pursued twenty eight years ago in reference to nullification, and will act as much like him as difference in circumstances will permit.

4. That he will look for his CABINET AMONG POLITICAL FRIENDS, AND NOT ELSEWHERE. He will not invite the late Mr. Bell to administer on his own estate.

5. He does not expect to devote the time which belongs to the nation, during his Presidential term, in peddling places in custom-houses and post-offices. As soon as he gets an opportunity of advising with competent friends, he will select his heads of department, and to them he will commit the labor of selecting subordinate officers, and the responsibility for their behavior.

6. We infer from the conclusion of the paragraph next to the last, that he will invite no man to his cabinet, from the North or South, who is unwilling to be committed, FULLY and UNRESERVEDLY, to the POLICY OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

[Special Despatch to the Phila. Inquirer.]

LATEST SECESSION RUMOR.

WASHINGTON, November 19.—It is reported that William R. Calhoun, who has returned from France and resigned his position as Secretary of Legation at Paris, brings assurances of the Emperor's willingness to enter into commercial relations with South Carolina, and that a fleet of steam gun boats, capable of navigating on Southern waters, is now being built in the French dockyards.

In support of this, mention is made of the sale of the Virginia canal to French capitalists, but conservatives say there is no more cause for alarm in this than in the proprietorship of a greater portion of the Illinoise Central and the Erie Railroads by the English. Yet there is reason to believe that some understanding exists between the would-be-secessionists and Louis Napoleon, and that Mr. Faulkner has encouraged it.

The Treasury Department are forced to extend the loan thirty days, because only three millions of the ten have been paid in, on account of the panic. The amount paid in barely exceeds expenditures.

The War Department orders show but nine hundred soldiers in the slave States, and even if the administration is so disposed, it is not politic to forward troops there now.

It is authoritatively asserted that the Executive will hold no relations with the proposed Commissioner of South Carolina, to be sent here to arrange terms of secession.

PREPARATIONS TO RESIST COERCION.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 19.—The Government arsenal is constantly guarded by detachments of the Washington Light Infantry. It is generally believed that the pretext about this being a precaution against popular or servile outbreak is all fudge. The fact is that an immense quantity of ammunition is stored there, and people believe the public good requires that it should not be removed. Any attempt to remove it would almost certainly precipitate revolution and bloodshed. The Light Infantry patrols are not admitted within the arsenal walls, but encamp in the surrounding enclosure. The strictest military discipline prevails among those on duty.

There is no doubt that a most active correspondence is constantly kept up from this point with Cuba and Europe, relative to immediate recognition of the Southern confedracy by the foreign Powers, as soon as the confedracy demands recognition.

Notice.

☞ COUGHS. The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation o the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A REAL BLESSING.

Physician,—Well, Mrs. Jones, how is that headach?

Mrs. Jones. Gone! Doctor, all gone! the pill you sent cured me in just twenty minutes, and I wish you would send more so that I can have them handy.

Physician.—You can get them at any Druggists. Call for Cephalic Pills, I find they never fail, and I recommend them in all cases of Headache.

Mrs. Jones.—I shall send for a box directly, and shall tell all my suffering friends, for they are a real blessing.

TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED.—Mr. Spalding has sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Glue and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten dollars worth of broken furniture, thus making an aggregate of twenty millions of dollars reclaimed from total loss by this valuable invention. Having made his Glue a household word, he now proposes to do the world still greater service by curing all the aching heads with his Cephalic Pills, and if they are as good as his Glue, Headaches will soon vanish away like snow in July.

OVER EXCITEMENT, and the mental care and anxiety incident to close attention to business or study, are among the numerous causes of Nervous Headach. The disordered state of mind and body incident to this distressing complaint is a fatal blow to all energy and ambition. Sufferers by this disorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks by using one of the Cephalic Pills whenever the symptoms appear. It quiets the overtasked brain, and soothes the strained and jarring nerves, and relaxes the tension of the stomach which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

FACT WORTH KNOWING.—Spalding's Cephalic Pills are a certain cure for Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Nervous Headache, Costiveness and General Debility.

GREAT DISCOVERY.—Among the most important of all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the system of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Cephalic Pill for relief of Headache, and the use of Quinine for the prevention of Fevers, either of which is a sure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

☞ DID you ever have the Sick Headache?—Do you remember the throbbing temples, the severed brow, the loathing and disgust at the sight of food. How totally unfit you were for pleasure conversation or stuuy. One of the Cephalic Pills would have relieved you from all the suffering which you then experienced. For this and other purposes you should always have a box of them on hand to use as occasion requires.

BRIDGET.—Missus wants you to send her a box of Cephalic Glue, no, a bottle of Prepared Pills,—but I'm thinking that's not just it naither; but perhaps ye'll be after knowing what it is.—Ye see she's nigh dead and gone with the Sick Headach, and wants some more of that same as releived her before.

Druggist.—You must mean Spalding's Cephalic Pills.

Bridget.—Och! sure now and you've sed it, here's the quarther and giv me the Pills and dont be all day about it anther.

CONSTIPATION OR COSTIVENESS.

No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Costiveness. Often originating in carelessness, or sedentary habits; it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous diseases, and unless early eradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave.—Among the lighter evils of which costiveness is the usual attendant are Headach, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles and others of like nature, while a long train of frightful diseases such as Malignant Fevers, Abcesses, Dysentary, Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hysteria, Hypochondriasis, Melancholy and Insanity, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarming symptom. Not unfrequently the diseases named originate in Constipation, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is eradicated in an early stage.—From all these considerations it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Cephalic Pills on the first appearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expel the insiduous approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to human life.
