THE EASTON GAZETTE.

SATURDAY MORNING. - - - - APRIL 6, 1861.

EASTON, MD.

☞ It appears to us to be bad policy for a man to make an assertion or to bring a charge against another merely to strengthen his cause or to hide his his own guilt—for "murder will out." In the Star of Tuesday its editor accused us of applying for the Post Office at this place. This he did without knowing (and it is generally supposed without caring) whether the assertion was false or true—but even had we of done it the editor of the Star should be the last man to evince the least feeling of horror at it—as "Federal pickings" must be a sore theme for the Star and its party to dwell upon just at this time. But we will say for the information of the Star that we did not apply for the post office, nor can its editor produce a single man that will say that we did. He has fed upon "Federal" and other "pickings" so long that a change in the administration is like the ebbing out of the very life-blood of it and its party, and the Star has shown quite as much willingness to join "Uncle Abe's" party as it has to stick to the other extreme, should it be relieved of its "pickings"; for notwithstanding that every body that holds office or that is spoken of for any place under the present Administration has been classed with the Republicans, the Star's party, and its editor in particular, (for we learn the petition was in his own hand,) petitioned those whom they have charged with everything that is mean and low—as HONORABLE—to retain the post office in the hands of a relative of said editor—thereby throwing off their pretended dignity and coming on a level with the most common Republican office seekers. We regret the necessity to make mention of the present incumbent of the office, for we hold him in high esteem—but when the editor of the Star attempts to bring us before the public as stooping to unprincipled acts, we cannot allow the integrity of even a relative to shield him.

These Union-splitters are a very PATRIOTIC set.—ON A PINCH they will serve their country under the shadow of "Uncle Abe's" WING. Members of the Republican party can even be appealed to, to INTERCEDE in behalf of office-seekers in the secession ranks, and of course it is all right—with them. But let a man of the Union party have any intercourse whatever with one favoring the principles of the Republican party and the great deep of the secession press and street tattlers commences to throw up its mire and filth No doubt the "HONORABLE" Mr. Blair, whom the editor of the Star so affectionately petitioned, would have been highly delighted had some of his editorials accompanied the petition so that his GREAT CONSISTENCY might have been seen by the department of which the disunion party is about to "kiss its great toe" for the sake of office. The Star has heretofore been called a disunion sheet, but judging from the action of its editor in the post office matter, it might be made a Republican sheet, provided sufficient "Federal pickings" was within its grasp—for it is natural to suppose that if he will petition for the patronage of a Republican administration to be bestowed upon a relative, he would venture much further in the "trap for the bait" to fill his own pocket.

☞ THE HERO of the Star appears to be backward to own that he was ever a military man.—Whether he is ashamed of the military or that the military became ashamed of him he does not say.—He keeps mum upon that subject, but as he never fails to cast reflections upon the "Home Guards" and our position in the company, a stranger can readily see that he is no friend to a military company and especially the "tail-end" which he spoke of in such chaste and elegant language on last Tuesday. His insinuations and reflections, however, are a mere matter of moonshine to us, and we suppose it is to the whole company, for it is not to be expected that (by accident) all can get to the high rank that this Hero once held in a company here which was SOMETHING smaller than the "7th Regiment" of New York, nor can it be expected that every man can have the PERFECT form and soldier-like appearance that this Hero has. Before proceeding further we will give a few incidents of his bright military career: Some years back—about the time everybody wanted to fight Mexico—he held a Lieutenancy in the old "Easton Guards," and it is not necessary to say that he soon became a popular officer. So popular that after the former Captain resigned, at an election to fill the vacancy, this Hero Lieutenant would have been elected Captain HAD HE RECEIVED VOTES ENOUGH—but the "tale end seargent" as he terms it, got the inside track and Dombey was "got back." Since then he has declared that he is no military man. He don't know which end of the company the 1st seargent is at, but he rather thinks that he belongs on the "tale end," and he don't know whether a Colonel can live in California eight or nine years and hold the commission of Colonel in Talbot county or not, but he rather thinks he can. Poor fellow his condition is to be pitied. But should he succeed in getting the HONORABLE Mr. Blair to give heed to his HONORABLE petition his paper may be continued as the Administration organ, when he will have another chance at the "Federal pickings."

Fresh Arrivals.—Jesse Hughes has just opened a new stock of Boots, Shoes and Gaiters. He has spared no pains in making selections and asks the public to give him a call.

We also see that Messrs. A. Dodd & Son, have just received their supply of Spring and Summer goods, adapted to the wants of all. They have spared no pains in the purchase of their goods, and feel confident that they can sell bargains.

NEW CLOTHING.—L. Sackerman has also just received a fresh supply of clothing. He asks an inspection of his goods by the public.

Hon. John J. Crittenden.—This great man and pure patriot made an able speech before the Kentucky Legislature a few days ago. It occupies nearly three columns of the Baltimore American.—He still has hope for the country. He breathes strong Union sentiments and discountenances anything like secession. He asks the slaveholding States how can they better their condition by dividing the Union? We are unable to make any extracts from it this week but may be enabled to do so next.

☞ OWING to the crowded state of our columns with advertisements this week, we are compelled to leave out several advertisements and much important reading matter which we desired to publish—but as these FEASTS do not come every week, we feel confident that our readers will bear with us for a week or two.

NEWSPAPER SUSPENSION.—The publication of the Philadelphia "Pennsylvanian," an old Democratic journal, published at Philadelphia, has been suspended through the "exactions of a stern necessity."

The following important advices from Texas have been received:

Col. Ford, of the Texan army, has received reliable information from Matamoras to the effect that Gen. Ampudia, with three thousand Mexicans, is marching upon Brownsville, and was then only sixty miles off.

General Ampudia has announced his progress by despatching expresses to distribute placards and handbills, announcing that "Texas rightfully belonged to Mexico. She has declared that she will no longer support the Federal Government, and now is the time to retake her."

At a meeting of the Vestry of St. Peter's Parish, Talbot county, Maryland, the first since the death of Matthew Tilghman Goldsborough, Esq., a committee was appointed to draught resolutions expressive of the unanimous sentiment of the body; as follows:

WHEREAS, It hath pleased Almtghty God, in his wise providence, to take out of this world the soul of our deceased brother, we desire to place on the record of this Vestry a testimonal of his worth. Therefore,

Resolved, 1. That in the character of our departed brother, we recognize the most estimable qualities of the Christian gentleman.

2. That in the good example which he exhibited, to the church which he loved, to society which he adorned, and to the family of which he was the honoured and beloved head, we desire to follow him, as we believe him to have followed Christ.

3. That for many years, as a member of this Vestry, and a delegate to the diocesan Convention, he filled his office with ability, zeal, and fidelity.

4. That to the friends of the deceased, and particularly to his bereaved family, we offer our sincerest sympathy, in the loss of one whom all men honoured while living and lament now dead, and whom we believe numbered with the righteous who are held in everlasting remembrance.

5. That the Clerk of the Vestry, be requested, to remit to the family of our beloved brother, a copy of these resolutions, as the true expressions of our grief and regard.

By order of the Vestry of St. Peter's Parish,
WM. B. CLARK, Regester.

Star and Journal please copy.

HOMICIDE IN PRINCESS ANNE.—On Saturday afternoon a parade of the Seaboard Rifle Company and the Wise Dragoons at London Bridge, Princess Anne, Va., Messrs. Jas. M. Land and William Grimstead got into an altercation, when the former cut Grimstead, who killed Land with his gun. He died almost immedtately. Land was a member of the Dragoon company, and Grimstead of the Rifle company. The parties got into a quarrel and their friends separated them, carrying Land off in a buggy to some considerable distance, but by some means they got together again and renewed their quarral. It is said that Land then drew his sword and cut Grimestead a severe gash across the breast, whereupon Grimstead ran his bayonet through his adversary, inflicting the wound through his heart. Land died almost instantly. It was found necessary to call a doctor in to dress Grimestead's wound.

Philadelphia Annual Conference M. E. Church.

Address to the Members of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the State of Delaware, and on the Eastern Shore of Maryland and Virginia.

Dearly Beloved Brethern: The memorials, petitions and communications laid before this body have not only disclosed the dissatisfaction, agitation and embarrassment so fatal to the interests of religion among you, which have grown out of the action of the late General Conference on the subject of slavery, but also called for an expression of our opinion on the nature of that action, with which call we deem it but just and right to comply.

We assure you that you have our profoundest sympathies in your present disquieted and agitated condition; and having the fullest confidence in your fidelity and loyalty to the interests of Methodism, no exertion shall be wanting on our part to secure redress for your grievances, and to maintain all your ecclesiastical rights in and under the constitution of the church.

Though it is our deliberate judgment, a judgment which must control all our actions on this subject, that the new chapter does not embody in any form a new condition of membership; though it is our conviction that it possesses in no degree the character of legislation or law; affords no basis whatever for administrative or disciplinary enaction on the subject of slavery. And, therefore, there can be no such action under it. Nevertheless, this change in the discipline was entirely uncalled for; is highly offensive to our brethern on the border, and lamentably injurious to the welfare of the church, among them, and therefore, in justice to those who suffer so much from its effects, it ought to be repealed. To this end we have concurred with the resolution of the East Baltimore Conference, requesting the General Conference, at its next session, to repeal the chapter on slavery, and instead thereof empower each annual conference, within whose bounds the institution exists, to make such regulation upon the subject as may best subserve the interests of the Redeemer's kingdom among them.

In the meantime, dear brethern, let us possess our souls in patience, and carry our grievance to the throne of heavenly grace, confidently relying on Him who is able to deliver us out of our troubles—who promises to work all things together for the good of those who love him; and who will not suffer us to be wounded in the house of our friends, nor to be scattered by our enemies.

THE DIVISION OF THE CONFERENCE.

On this subject there were before your committee from the various charges on Peninsula, memorials, petitions and resolutions from some quarterly conferences and church meetings, asking for the formation of a Peninsula Conference, by dividing the Philadelphia Conference by the State line between Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland, while other charges and church meetings declared against such a division at the present time as inexpedient. After due deliberation your committee agree on the following resolution:

Resolved, In view of our present national difficulties and embarrassments, and the consequent disturbed condition of the public mind on the one hand, and the conflicting opinion of our churches in Delaware and Maryland on this subject, we deem it inexpedient to divide the Philadelphia Conference by State lines at this time. But we recommend all the quarterly conferences of the Peninsula, during the coming year, to consider this matter, and give such expression of their working as may aid in determining the action of this body at its next annual session.

Separate votes were taken on the several propositions embraced in the report, and all were adopted by large majorities. Finally, the whole report was unanimously adopted and the entire question disposed of without debate or undue excitement.

The Conference adjourned sine die on Saturday. Among the appointments are the following:

ARREST AND CONFESSION.—A negro man, Alexander, slave of S. W. Spencer, Esq., and Ben Anderson, the property of Miss Hendrix, of Queen Anne's, were arrested in Chestertown on Monday, the 26th ult., on suspicion of having attempted to burn the Masonic Hall Building, in that town, on the night of the 20th ult. They have confessed their guilt, and implicated a white man as the instigator, whose sudden disappearance leaves no room to doubt the truth of their statement. The subject will undergo a strict judicial investigation.—Maryland Citizen.

Notice.

☞ COUGHS. The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.
