The Loss of the Privateer Jeff. Davis

Baltimore, Sept. 3.—The Richmond Enquirer, of August 28th, contains the following: A letter from Fernandina, Florida, dated August 21st, received at Savannah, says:—The crew of the privateer Jeff. Davis arrived here this afternoon. They state that on Sunday morning, while trying to get into St. Augustine, the vessel struck on the bar and was lost. All her guns were saved, with the exception of two small ones. The Jeff. Davis was a brigantine, armed with five guns and manned by sixty men,

The Navy Retiring Board.

The Secretary of the Navy has, under the direction and approval of the President, and in pursuance of the act for retiring such officers as appear disable to perform duty, appointed the following named officers as a board to determine and report upon the facts in the cases which may be presented, viz:—Commodore Hiram Paulding, Chairman; Capts. Charles H. Bell and D. G. Farragut, and Surgeons L. B. Hunter and N. Pinkney.

The Kentucky Legislature assembles at Frankfort on Monday next. We learn from the Frankfort Commonwealth that the Union party has seventy-six members of the House of Representatives, a majority of fifty. The Seante will stand 27 Union to 11 Secessionists.

News Items.

—— From Fortress Monroe we learn that the steamer Peabody had left that port for Hatteras Inlet with stores and munitions for the force stationed there. —— The intelligence from Western Virginia is to the effect that General Rosecrans, instead of being hemmed in by General Lee, had moved with a portion of his force toward the Kanawha to co-operate with General Cox in that region against the two ex-Governors, Floyd and Wise. The defences of the Cheat River pass were committed to General Reynolds, who has also with him, we think, Capt. Benham, one of the most able and thoroughly reliable officers of the regular army. —— Via Norfold we have received a copy of the Richmond Despatch of Monday, and copy from it the Confederate account of the capture of the Forts at Hatteras Inlet. Fifteen of the Confederate wounded escaped in the steamer Winslow. —— The death of Jefferson Davis is reasserted, but is evidently nothing more than a rumor. He is said to have died on Moaday last, but the Richmond Dispatch of Tuesday publishes a proclamation from him calling together the Confederate Congress to complete some unfinished business. —— The schooner H. Middletown, captured by the Vandalia whilst attempting to run the blockade at Charleston with a cargo of naval stores, arrived at Philadelphia on Wednesday. She carried a letter-of-marque and intended to turn privateer after disposing of her cargo. —— The United States Marshal at Cincinnati yesterday seized $50,000 worth of merchandise owned in the Seceded States. —— The latest information from Lexington, Missouri, confirms the safety of that place, and the withdrawal of the rebels. There is much disaffection in McCulloch's army. He is now in Arkansas. Gen. Hardee is also rapidly hurring towards Arkansas with 6,000 men.—He retreated on the approach of Gen. Prentiss, who is now at Cape Girardeau. —— Archbishop Hughes, has written a letter in reply to one from Bishop Lynch, of South Carolina, in which that prelate expresses surprise that Irishmen and Catholics should enlist in the war against the South, and repeats the arguments with which the public is already familliar, to show that the South never can be conquered. Archbishop Hughes replies with calm and clear argument. After refuting the statement of injuries inflicted on the South, he urges the utter wrongfulness of the means they have taken for redress, and shows the folly and shortsightedness of destroying the Union to escape the temporary rule of a President whom they do not like. The word peace, he says, is used for the purpose of covering a policy which is neither just or safe—one which would change the basis of the war and make it a contest between two political parties which divide the country. He suggests conventions in both sections to consider the whole question, and lay the basis for furture negotiation.—— Hon. Joseph Holt had a cordial reception in New York on Tuesday night, and made another of his vigorus and patriotic speeches. —— From Frankfort we learn that the Kentucky Legislature, now in session, will go strongly for the Union, and that Governor Magoffin has privately notified to certain members his intention to sustain the action of the Legislature, whatever it may be. —— The prisoners taken at Fort Hatteras are to be transferred, by order of the Navy Department, to the frigate Brandywine, lying at Brooklyn Navy Yark. When the Minnesota has deposited her captured cargo she will return to her post in the blockading squadron.

LATEST.

By Yesterday's Boat via Queenstown.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Respectable gentlemen who have krrived here by a circuitous route from North Carolina say that Union prospects in that State are of the most encouraging character. The acting Governor is a reliable Union man. Secret leagues of Union men exist in every county which are rapidly increasing. Already one-half of the voting population are ready to stand for the Union. Two full brigades of loyal men had been enrolled for the Union cause. Arrangements are being made for electing members of Congress from every district. Their certificates of election will bear the signature of the Governor and the broad seal of the State. Since the capture of Fort Hateras North Carolina troops have been withdrawn from Virginia. Many of the troops are dissatisfied with the wer.

DEATHS.

Goldsborough.—On Monday, 2d inst., Henrietta Maria, daughter of John and Priscilla L. B. Goldsborough, aged 2 months and 28 days.

Cox.—On the 7th ult., near Easton, Elvira, daughter of Wm. and Henrietta Cox, in the 13th year of her age.

Cox.—On the 24th ult., near Easton, Charles Noel, son of Wm. and Henrietta Cox, aged 2 years and 11 months.

Elliott.—In thts town, on Friday night, the 23d instant, Mrs. Mary E. Elliott, aged 39 years—consort of Calumbus Elliott.

Her affliction was of long duration, and for the last two months previous to her death she was almost entirely confined to her bed—but against all this she murmured not, but often expressed a perfect willingness to endure the afflictions incident to this life for the bright hope of wearing the crown which is laid up for the faithful. She had been a member of the M. P. Church for a number of years, and though prevented by affliction, from attending all its means of grace, the blessed influence of a Saviour's love never was forgotten. Her ties to earth were dear. The affection of a kind husband and the attention of friends she appreciated and the lispings of her little prattling child were sweet music to her ear, but when the giver of all "good and precious gifts" called she passed off calmly. But the husband and children have not left the wife and mother, but the wife and mother has left them for a little moment to visit her father in Heaven and expects their arrival there soon, to join her hallelujahs for redeeming love.—Weep not lored ones. Why will you weep? Weep because she can weep no more? weep because she is happy? eternally, gloriously happy? weeping because she is joined to the blessed assembly, where all are kings and priests? weeping because she is where she would be, and where she longed to be, eternally? The Lord Jesus has called her home to his kingdom, to draw your soul more ardently thither.

"'Tis finished! the conflict is passed,
The heaven-born spirit is fled;
Her wish is accomplished at last,
And now she's intombed with the dead,
The months of affliction are o'r,
The days and nights of distress;
We see her in anguish no more—
She has found a happy release.

Just from the City!

NEW MILLINERY GOODS.

MRS. KATE PLUMMER again desires to inform her customers and the Ladies generally that she has just returned from the city with her usual varied assortment of MILLINERY GOODS. To enumerate the articles would be a work of supererogation and will suffice to say that her stock consists of all the new styles of TRIMMINGS and latest fashions of BONNETS.

She continues to do REPAIRING in a neat style and with despatch.

In consequence of the stagnation of business in the city and the distressed state of affairs generally but little credit can be had there and the cash has to be forthcoming—consequently she will be compelled to do likewise. But in this the public have one advantage, that is, in consequence of their having to pay the cash articles can be obtained much below the usual credit standard. An inspection of her goods is respectfully invited. [may 4
