Easton Gazette.

Established 1815.

Published Every Saturday Morning from The Gazette Building, Washington St. Easton, Maryland, at $1 per year.

WILSON M. TYLOR, Editor.

EASTON, MD., SATURDAY, MARCH 25

Trouble never comes single—it's generally married.

Rockefeller does not endow any Kansas institutions, we notice.

Express your wants through the Gazette columns and we'll pay the freight.

The President did not get his salary doubled but he's working just as hard as if he had.

The most dangerous trust in the world is the trust we cannot get along without—"I trust you."

Easton has a warm welcome to give those who buy old property and make improvements thereon.

Annapolitans are taxed, all told, $2.30½. Rather hard on the fellow who has only thirty cents and no other sense.

Many persons whom the world calls successful are made so more by accident than by any intrinsic merits of their own.

When a man loses his nerve he is done for, whether he is fair, fat and forty, or spare, sad and sixty—Osler or no Osler.

St. Patrick and Sheeley did nobly, could not have done better, but their successors saved their average reputation in weather conditions.

Mr. Bryan says, "whatever the people want is right," which is equivalent to admitting that he himself has been wrong, all this time.

A society has been organized for the purpose of bringing lonesome people together. Judge Alton B. Parker will probably be posted for membership.

New Jersey legislation for corporations is responsible for the breeding of a new class of vermin that has proved highly injurious to people throughout the country.

"The Public Eye," in the estimation of the Baltimore Herald, must be like the proverbial bus,—always room for one more, when it comes to putting people in it.

It is pleasant to see editorial garbage copied from the Gazette, when one wishes to enrich the flower pots of his own production, but somehow or other it is only courtesy to let the reader know where he got his fertilizer.

Subscribers are asked not to send "potatoes and gravy" through the mail in payment for this paper. Now that spring has come a little weak sassafras tea might be acceptable if securely packed.

The Kent Noose says: "It is a singular coincident that Senator Arthur P. Gorman and Mr. I. Freeman Rasin each celebrated his birthday on the same day. Senator Gorman is 66 years old and Mr. Rasin 72."

The press and the pulpit have been linked together for good for generations. If people were as conscientious in their support of the former, as they are of the latter, their hope of heaven would be less forlorn.

President is not a "ladies' man" but he is the only President the women of the United States have ever had. Providence did not leave him childless that the country might call him father but it gave him a family that he might be able to tell every mother how to rear hers.

The press of the county does not stand for much wealth, but it represents the wealth and value of a community beyond any other institution, and for that reason should be liberally supported and appreciated. The man who cuts his home paper because he "takes the city paper" is like the philosopher who sawed the limb off upon which he sat.

An envelope containing $1,000 was left at the New York Sub-Treasury for the conscience fund, no name being attached.

This is encouraging. For years we have debated the propriety of opening up a repository for conscience funds due the Gazette, and feel satisfied could it be patronized as it should be, we would not have to grind at the mill so hard in the future. We have been the special target for sharp shooters, subscription sharks, scheming solicitors, and space takers in the last twenty years. Easy Mark is made to look like a giant when he strolls into the Gazette sanctum, and sizes up the pigmy that throws out the gangplank for all to come aboard. Conscience fund? Great Scott! where shall we invest it when it materializes?

The changes in the Canal zone are to be even more extensive than was at first anticipated. President Roosevelt is not the man to do things half way and when he started out to make changes in the Canal Commission it might have been expected that he would not stop until he had provided for a service that he considered would be the very best obtainable. Under the present arrangement no one of the old commission will be retained except Chief Engineer Wallace in whom the President has unlimited confidence and who will practically have entire charge of the construction of the Canal. There will be an advisory board, it is true, but the authority of Engineer Wallace in the Canal zone will be unquestioned. With the elimination of the present commission the way is cleared for pushing the actual work of digging dirt. Most Commissioners were appointed for political reasons and without regard to their ability to carry on the great administrative work of the Canal. They were also of the old type of Government appointees who see in any appointment a job for life. The idea of hustling a Government work through with the least possible red tape, delay and graft is a product entirely of the last decade and has never reached its fullest development except under the Administration of the man who now occupies the President's chair. That we may look for other startling and salutary extensions of the same idea in the next four years the quick and effective action in regard to the Canal Commissioners gives us a hopeful suggestion.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

"Jim-Crow" Law Unconstitutional except for Local Travel.

Henry M. McCullough, Esq., received a dispatch from Annapolis that the Court of Appeals has reversed the decision of the Circuit Court for Cecil County in the case of W. H. Hart vs. the State of Maryland. Hart, it will be remembered, was prosecuted for refusing to comply with the provisions of the law requiring colored passengers to take separate coaches provided for their race, was found guilty and fined. He carried the case to the Court of Appeals, claiming the law to be unconstitutional in reference to all inter-State passengers. The reversal of the decision without awarding another trial indicates that the Court has upheld this view of the matter, and that the law cannot be enforced in regard to passengers traveling from one State into another. It would not, however, interfere with separate provisions for local traffic within the State of Maryland.—Cecil News.

THE AUBURN AND THE BIRDSAL FARM WAGONS

These are they that catch the attention. These are the wagons that command confidence, and that's because they have merit—and merit wins. They are not made for "dresa parade" but built for solid business. Car load received, and something to be gained by the wagon hunter if he will waltz to see us on wagon business.

THE UNION DOUBLE CABLE LOCK-WIRE FENCE.

Miles of it sold last season, and that's because it is made of heavy galvanized steel wire, double cable and firmly locked, so it cannot slip or slide. All kinds of stock respect it. Hogs won't bother it. Call and see it and we'll show you advantages, and many points of superiority. Low price.

CARRIAGE and WAGON HARNESS.

A large and complete stock just from factory. Light and heavy. This harness has been selected with great care aad is as fine as skillfut workmen can make it. Anything in the harness line we can supply you.

Clover, Timothy and Garden Seed.

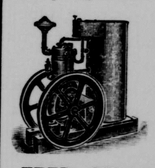

In gunning through the market we came across a lot of choice Clover Seed, also Timothy, and which are better than anything we have seen. We also have Orchard Grass, Kentucky Blue Grass, Alfafa, Alsike, Mammoth Clover, together with a full ling of fresh garden seed. Call in and examine Rubberiod and Galvanized Roofing.

Coming into general use because of the great saving over the shingles in the present market. Large lot of it sold. For durability and cheapness it has gained great confidence. Call in and get full particulars.

These Must Go at Reduced Prices.

Stoves, Ranges, Parlor Heaters and Wood Burners, together with Lap Blankets, Horse Covers and all unseasonable goods must go to make room for Spring Stock.

Our Gas and Gasoline Engine.

Four horse power. Ready to run when you receive it. A high grade engine at a popular price. Drives machinery of every class within its capacity. Easily moved around. A regular money maker and cheap. Call in and see them.
