NOT LIKE ANY OTHER MOWER.

WHEELS draw down when cutting draft is heavy, others lift. A farmer told us yesterday he was in a field with three others and Champion Draw Cut was the only Mower that did not back their team to start in heavy grass. Price the same as other Machines; value many times more. Our customers all say so.

NEVIUS & FRAMPTON.

Oxford.

Capt. Lee J. Roberts has sailed away for the Potomac with his boat and crew.

Colonel and Mrs. Robert Mtchell Floyd, who are summering in Oxford, were on a brief visit to the Monumental City.

Capt. Frank B. Pope was hurried away after the fune ralof his daughter, to Baltimore, leaving by Thursday night's boat.

Our esteemed townsman, Mr. Wm. P. Benson, who is ill at the home of Mrs. M. Benson's, St. Michaels, is convalescing.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Roth are greatly afflicted in their home by the illness of their children, who are now in a critical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams and Mrs. Drucilla Summers, of Baltimore, came here to attend the funeral of Miss Helen Bayne Pope.

Our good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, will spend the summer in Seaford, Del. We heartily commend them to the Seafordians.

Miss Hunnichen, of Frederick City, Md., is here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Harry Miller, and winning friends on every hand.

S. P. Roberts, M. D., came home from the Cambridge Hospital for a brief stay, but returned within a few hours for further treatment.

The theme of Rev. Dr. William Thurman Lewis on Sunday morning will be, "A Crisis in two lives." The celebrated Mrs. Isabella K. Wright will speak at night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lake Smith are distressed watchers by the bedside of their little daughter, who is in a precarious condition, but the parents are full of trust and hope.

Capt. William R. Smith's wife has returned home after a course of special treatment in Baltimore, and is greatly improved, whereas family and friends are filled with hope and rejoicing.

Miss Helen Bayne Pope died on Tuesday, and was burried on Thursday, Rev. Dr. Lewis officiated. Her brother, Archie, is seriously ill. Captain and Mrs. Pope have the sympathy of all our people.

Mrs. Isabella K. Wright, whose fame as an orator and missionary is established beyond the boundaries of the Republic, will speak in I. O. R. M. Hall on Sunday night. It is a rare opportunity to hear a gifted woman, and Oxford is to be congratulated.

Work on St. Paul's Church, under the skilful directions of Mr. Planner Elliott, is nearing the finishing touches. He has been well assisted by Messrs. J. R. Sheubrook, Thomas Sheubrook, Wm. Markland, J. R. Sheubrook, Jr., and Al. H. Haddaway. Mr. Thomas Kugler is artistically finishing the interior decoration.

On Memorial Day the following named formed a part of the Oxford contingent that went to Easton. The Misses Sarah Ridgaway and Maud Dobson; the Mesdames Seymour, Nickols, Blann, Short, Crockett, Murphy, and Lewis; Mr. and Mrs. Fluharty; Captain Gustavus Bell and the Messrs. Valliant and O. H. and John Ridgaway.

The ladies of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church will hold a festival on the beautiful lawn of Mrs. A. W. Middleton on Friday and Saturday nights, June 8th and 9th. There will be an unusually attractive fish pond, and ice cream, strawberries, and cake will be served. A reception committee composed of young ladies has been appointed to wait upon and serve the patrons.

Col. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell Floyd, of New York city, have been enjoying a quiet rest in Oxford for several weeks, and will tarry with us for some time longer. By their unfailing urbanity and native courtesy they have won the friendship of all, from toddling childhood to the decrepitude of old age, and from the humblest to the noblest. The reason for this manifest tender and thoughtful consideration for all may be expressed in one sentence—Colonel and Mrs. Floyd are cosmopolitan. The Colonel was born of Welsh and English ancestry in Louisiana, educated in Burlington, Vt., and lives in New York city. He and his charming wife have been touring the world together and they have looked into the eyes of the peoples of the "nations, kindreds, and tongues." The Colonel is a member of the American Trade Press Association of New York, and of the Massachusetts Press Association, Boston, and also editor of the Trade Press List, Boston. It is refreshing to meet such people.
