Cherish ideals as the traveler cherishes the north star, and keep the guiding light pure and bright and high above the horizon.—Newell Dwight Hillis.

LEST we forget: The Republicans of the county have had some recent eye-openers as to the movements and plays of the "powers behind the throne" in the administration of affairs in the County Commissioners' office, and since the only official statements the Board makes are published to the Democrats, and the Republicans totally ignored, even to the extent of publishing for them the usual notices for the payment of taxes, it follows that a highly colored editorial chromo from the democratic sheet which has done the least for what it has received out of the public treastry, comes with ill-fitting grace as an ornament to the Commissioners' office.

While all that is published from the Commissioners' Office is fed to the democratic papers, (and at times without due regard to expense or necessity), and the Republican organ is ignored, it is only in harmony with the conduct of the administration that some bouquets be received from democratic source even if the same were purchased by the recipients of said bouquets.

Unbiased readers of this paper in this and other counties of the State may have these facts to digest:

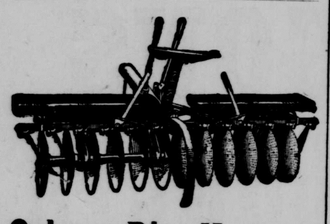

The office of the Talbot Board of County Commissioners is more responsible than any other source in the County for giving this county the name of being run on the narrow-gauge plan. Different from other official and political departments in the county, and different from every other county in the State, so far as we know, the wisdom of the Board, or the controling power behind the Board, dictates that only one party in the county should be told of its public affairs through the press.

If this is the record and inheritance the worthy gentlemen of the Board want handed down to posterity as Talbot history made during their magnanimous administration, it is their affair.

The idea of holding up, as a master piece of financing, the fact that Talbot County 4 per cent bonds sold above par, and attempt to smear the credit upon the present administration or its immediate predecessors in the Democratic party, when it is a matter entirely outside of their power to effect, is preposterous. People with money to invest look at the assets and liabilities of a concern, and where there is a bonded indebtedness of less than $50,000 against a property valuation of $9,000,000 it is a matter for the investor to consider irrespective of who or what the Board of Commissioners may be. No credit to the Democratic party, as such, that the bonds sold at a premium.

If the Commissioners want to pose before the whole people in the light they should, be true and square to all alike, leave no opportunity to create dissatisfaction in the minds of those they are elected to serve, they must get off the narrow-gauge track on which they are running their coaches and get on to the broad track of administration to the people, with the partizan goggles removed from their eyes. They would have enough company in their own party, in the county and state, and would not be in the least conspicuous or unique. We have some hope yet, that these gentlemen are not going to be continually toadied into offensive methods by ambushed generals who would gladly dictate orders.

It is too late in the day to practice politics in public office. The times demand an inspection of the political slaughter houses, and the people are going to put up with nothing but the best, and get that best as soon as it is possible to do so.

Smith's Desperate Fight.

With the congressional election only three months away, both parties seem to be resting on their oars, says the Baltimore News. Congressman Smith is the only one that is showing any great activity. He has a desperate fight against him, as Mr. Wm. H. Jackson will be the Republican nominee in the First District which Mr. Smith aspires to represent.—The Wilson law will be no great benefit in this campaign, as there will be only two names on the ticket. Its merit lies in its ability to confuse. Full tickets are essential to its successful working. Mr. Smith has started out on a house-to-house campaign.

What Have We Done Today?

We shall do much in the years to come,
But what have we done today?
We shall give our gold in a princely sum,
But what did we give today?
We shall lift the heart and dry the tear,
We shall plant a hope in the place of fear,
We shall speak the words of love and cheer,
But what did we speak today?

We shall be so kind in the after while,
But what have we been today?
We shall bring to each lonely life a smile,
But what have we brought today?
We shall give to truth a grander birth,
And to steadfast faith a deeper worth,
We shall feed the hungering souls of earth;
But whom have we fed today?

We shall reap such joys in the bye and bye,
But what have we sown today?
We shall build us mansions in the sky,
But what have we built today?
'Tis sweet in the idle dreams to bask,
But here and now, do we our task,
Yes, this is the thing our souls must ask,
What have we done today?
