Gunning Season Opened Thursday.

Thursday November 1st, was the red letter day with Talbot sportsmen, that being the first day of the gunning season. Large numbers started out early on Thursday and it is said that game was more plentiful than usual.

Reports from all sections of this and adjoining counties give promise of a bountiful supply of game. Much interest is being manifested here in the sport afforded from a day afield with dog and gun, and many Eastonians who, heretofore, have taken little notice of this season are participating in the sport of quail shooting.

Quail shooting, to a man who has a love for gun and dog, is one of the most enjoyable of field sports, for it comes at a time of the year when the atmosphere is most invigorating and strengthening and, when a day's tramp through the fields and woods is but as a play spell compared to what it would be were it taken at a time when even a small amount of exercise is so enervating as to soon become more like work than pleasure.

Comfort.

Walter Whitman has purchased the Young residence on August street for $1500.

Attend the sale of the personal property today, of the late General Richard Thomas.

A special session of Court was held on Thursday to hear a number of Registration appeals. There were fewer than ever before.

Chas. L. Frampton has purchased the 'Major Dawson' farm of about 100 acres lying on Oak Creek, about one mile from Royal Oak.

Study the name of William Humphrey's Jackson on the ballot and be sure to make your mark entirely within the square opposite his name.

Mr. Thomas Carpenter has rented the Arlington House on the corner of Harrison and Goldsborough streets, and will conduct it as a first class hotel.

Walter C. Hughes has purchased from the Chamberlaine estate the farm on Glebe Creek, adjoinng the Herron place, containing 130 acres, for $9000. The farm is a highly productive one.

Hon. J. Frank Turner does not believe the price of farm lands will decrease. On the contrary he thinks that Talbot farms, especially those on the water, will command even brighter figures.

The Gazette's job presses have in the past four weeks have printed over 200,000 impressions of work, not a little of it being shipped to distant points. This office has all the facilities that may be found in city plants.

Messrs. Leonard S. Fleckenstein, M. P. Flowers and S. E. Whitman have qualified as assessors of the real and personal property in Easton and expect to begin their labors at once. It is hoped by the council that the basis will show a big increase.

The teachers and pupils of the Easton Primary School will serve a supper beginning at five o'clock on Thursday, November 8th, at the Easton Primary School building. Cakes and candies also for sale. The public is cordially invited. Supper 25 cents. Proceeds for benefit of school.

Mayor Higgins was in consultation with Mr. Richard Dalmus, owner of the Easton Light and Fuel Co., last week, relative to the lighting of the streets all night and also to give a light of more candle-power. No definite results were obtained at the conference and the matter will be taken up again in the near future.

Bishop & Browhe who have conducted the Hotel Avon for a number of years left Easton this week for Kentucky. Col. Norris, the new owner of the Avon will not be able to take full charge of the hotel for several weeks and all permanent boarders there will have to take their meals at the Hotel Norris. In the meantime improvements are to be made at the Avon.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Managers, of the Tabot Home for the Aged, falling on Tuesday, 7th of November, next Election day is hereby postponed until the following Tuesday, 13th inst. By order of the President Mrs. Robert B. Dixon.

The performance given by Mildred and Rouclere and their excellent company is quite different from what we usually get here and ought to be very welcome to the jaded theatre goer who wants novelty. From all the cities where these artists have recently appeared most flattering reports come, and its a certainty that they will draw a big and fashionable audience at Music Hall on Monday night next.

Who is going to have the next public sale? If he is a friend of yours, tell him of the Gazette. If he is an arch enemy tell him of—well, don't tell him of the Gazette without you want to do him a big favor. We print posters that sell the goods and we advertise for the sake of making money for the advertiser as well as to help pay the printer boy.

Rev. George F. Beaven, father of H. Lay Beaven, of Easton, on Sunday celebrated his 50th anniversary as rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Hillsboro. Special services were held and the venerable rector received the hearty congratulations of hosts of friends. Although over 70 years of age he is vigorous in body and mind and is one of the ablest ministers in the Diocese, of Easton.

The masquerade carnival at the Rink Wednesday evening was the biggest kind of a success and was attended by a crowded house. Not only were there more masked skaters than before, but even the Band was disguised. Prof. Collison, expert skater and instructor who will be here for several weeks, led the grand marches. Prof. Collison's services are especially for ladies who wish to learn how to skate.

Today the Mercantile Library will begin a new feature. It consists in the serving of pure coffee with wafers, each day from 9 a. m. to 6 p.m. This idea was introduced for the especial accomodation of the library's constantly increasing circle of country friends, but is intended for the town folks as well. Drop in any time Saturday and enjoy a cup of refreshing coffee with wafers. The price is but 5 cents for both to anyone, whether a member of the library or not.
