April Term 1868

He also paid me for the making of this change of the window frame before spoken of, And he also paid the hardware bill that I bought in Baltimore banisters newells, I saw him give Jim Gilliland twenty dollars ($20.00) once; I also saw Jim pay Mr Evans some money for plastering, and he paid me for building the house and all the extra work that I did about it, He also paid for the brick. I was with him when he paid for them and for spouting, I beleive that is all I remember now.

Seventeenth Cross Interrogatory

17x Was the hardware you speak of all or a small part only of that actually used.

Answer

I think to the best of my recollection it amounted to about seventeen dollars ($17.00) it is not all the hardware, the nails are not included in it, they were got at Mr Sees. I suppose the whole hardware of the house exclusive of the nails would amount to about thirty dollars ($30.00) The balance I dont know who paid for.
