KOSSUTH'S MOVEMENTS.

It is doubtful if the next steamer from Liverpool brings us any accounts of Kossuth's arrival there. He was not expected at Southampton before the 25th of October.

His non arrival in England on Monday, the 13th, was the cause of great disappointment to the Mayor and Town Council of that borough, where great preparations have been made for his reception, and also to thousands of strangers who went there to give him a hearty welcome. By the Mediterranean screw steamer Arno, Captain Haram, which arrived at Liverpool on the 17th instant, we learn that the great Magyar had arrived at Gibralter in the American steam frigate Mississippi. Kossuth was anxious to take passage in the Arno for himself, family, and attendants, a party of fifty-seven persons, but he stipulated that the Arno should land him at Southampton. With this condition Captain Hiram was unable to comply, and the Hungarian chief was left on board the Mississippi. He would embark in the first steamer, for Southampton.

THE AUSTRIAN AMBASSADOR ORDERED TO DEMAND HIS PASSPORT—KOSSUTH QUITTING THE MISSISSIPPI IN DUDGEON.

A Paris letter of October 12th says:

"The Austrian Court has, it is said on good authority, given orders to Baron Koller, the Ambassador from Austria to the Court of St. James, to demand his passports, and to immediately quit London the moment Kossuth arrives and is received publicly at Southampton.

Meantime, a fresh delay has occurred in the movements of Kossuth, and he has left the steamer Mississippi and landed at Gibralter, where he intends to await a private conveyance, by which he will proceed to England. The Austrians may nab him yet and carry him back, to undergo immediate & ignominious execution, if he does not take care. Kossuth is not safe unless in England or America; and when he left the national steamer he left the protection of America. True it is that England possesses Gibraltar; but when he leaves that place in a private ship, he will be assailable. Fortunately for him, Austria has no fleets of marine on any account, or he would certainly be arrested on his journey.

Mr. Rives, our Minister at Paris, told me to-day, that he had received accounts from the American Consul at Marsailles of the circumstances I have above mentioned. I knew it before; the news had spread among the Americans like wild-fire. It appears that a misunderstanding arose between Kossuth and the officers of the Mississippi, arising from Kossuth's proceedings at Marseilles. They were anxious, naturally enough, that he, while on board a national ship, should do nothing which might compromise the national government, in respect to its relations with a friendly power. Kossuth, it is said, took offence at these very proper representations, and left the ship and landed at Gibraltar.

Kossuth, it appears in his letter to the Mayor of Southampton, explains the matter differently, and implies that he left the Mississippi because the captain insisted upon steaming direct for New York without calling at Southampton. The report above referred to has been contradicted by a Frankfort Journal; but the contradiction is not worth much, and is more diplomatic than true.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.

More about Kossuth.—The N. York Herald says that despatches have been received at the Navy Department from Commodore Morgan, which render it doubtful whether Kossuth will visit America. It is said that Kossuth makes no secret of his intentions to raise funds in England & France for the purpose of attacking Austria and revolutionizing Europe The avowal of this intention constituted the reason for which the French authorities refused to allow him to land.

FUGITIVE SLAVE EXCILEMENT.—Some excitement was created at Syracuse, N. Y., on Thursday last by a report that the U. S. Marshal had issued a warrant for the arrest of a fugitive slave, the wife of a colored man of that city. She immediately made her escape towards Canada, and the city was placarded cautioning fugitive slaves to beware of kidnappers. The Marshal, however, had ordered the placards to be torn down. During the day it also became known that the grand jury had indicted James Lear, of Missouri, and Marshal Allen, for attempting to kidnap the slave Jerry, who was forcibly rescued from the possession of the Marshal.

A WHITE WOMAN RELEASED FROM SLAVERY.—The Circuit Court of Rockingham county, Va., after a trial that excited much interest, decided that Amanda Jane, who had been held as a slave ever since her birth, some twenty-six years ago, was a wite woman, although her origin was distinctly traced to a negress, who was a slave. The appearances of this woman seemed to contradict this proof so point blank, that the jury found a verdict in her favor.

ENCOURAGEMENT FOR MECHANICS.—The bar is fast loosing its attractions to the young men of this city. There are now thirty young gentlemen that have received a liberal education, who are serving their time as shipwrights, architects, carpenters, &c. In a few years, the United States will have the most accomplished mechanics in the world. A new class is springing up, who will put the present race of mechanics in the shade. The union of a substantial education with mechanical skill will effect this. Indeed, already we could name some mechanics who are excellent mathematicians, acquainted with French and German, and able to study the books in those languages connected with their vocations. Heretofore, fond fathers were wont to educate their sons as doctors or lawyers, to insure their respectability and success. The day is past. Mechanics will now take the lead, and in a few years will supply the larger portion of the State and Federal governments.—N. Y. Gazette of the Union.

MR. FILLMORE.—The Editor of the Nashville Whig takes strong grounds in favor of Mr. Fillmore for the Presidency. He says:—

"So far as the whig people of Tennessee are concerned, the answer is emphatic and unequivocal—Millard Fillmore. Other distinguished names are thought of, with feelings of earnest and ardent appreciation, in connection with the Presidency. But under all the circumstances of high national and moral consideration connected with the next canvass for President, the ground is necessarily pre-occupied, in the minds of the patriotic, conservative whig masses of Tennessee, by the name of the present wise, prudent, faithful and sagacious incumbent. His has been the post of premium responsibility in the fierce and dangerous strife which has recently convulsed the country, for the triumph of constitutional liberty over sectional discord and anarchy. He has borne himself throughout the terrible conflict with so much courage and firmness, tempered with prudent discrimination, and abiding sense of propriety in all things, united at the same time with such consummate address and equanimity of temper, as in a great measure to disarm opposition to the glorious cause of the constitution and the country, with which he had cast in his destiny, and identified his fortunes for all the future; exhorting the highest praise alike from partizan, friend and foe."

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.

Important from Northern Mexico—Capture and burning of Matamoras—American Consul wounded.—The steamship Fanny, with dates from the Rio Grande to the 30th of October, has arrived. She reports that Carvajal had attacked the City at Matamoras on the 22d, and held position within four squares of the Plaza. The city was fired on the 23d, and the Custom House and many other buildings burned. The loss of life on the side of the Mexicans was large.

The American Consul had been wounded.

SECOND DESPATCH.

The attack on Matamoras by the Revolutionists commenced on the 21st, and on the 23d Carvajal had possession of the city, within four squares of the Plaza.—The government troops still held out, but had suffered a loss of 150 killed and wounded. The Revolutionists lost but three men, including Capt. Ford, who commanded a company of Texan Rangers. Gen. Avalos was wounded during the engagement. Orders had been issued by the Mexican commander to give no quarters to the Americans. Mr. Langstre, doing business at Matamoras, had been killed.—The city was set on fire on the 23d, and the Custom House, together with other buildings, were consumed. On the 25th, Mr. Davines' store was also set on fire and consumed, and the American Consul wounded.

DEPLORABLE OUTRAGE—Boy Murdered!—Coroner Reilly was called on Saturday, to hold an inquest over the body of a boy, about 16 years of age, named Luther G. Heneckle, who died at his father's residence, in Comet street on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. It appeared in the evidence before the Coroner's jury that on Friday the 24th ultimo, the deceased had gone out to the Cattle Show, and while returning in the afternoon, was attacked without the least provocation by a party of boys, headed by one named George Turner, knocked down and beaten in a most brutal manner. Strange to relate, however, he walked home without any assistance, and made but little complaint until the next morning, when he appeared so seriously indisposed as to induce the family physician, Dr. Leas to be sent for. On examining his person, the Doctor found him bruised severely about the back and head, his face especially being much battered, and all the symptoms of his illness indicating that it had found its origin in the wounds inflicted. Every remedy which surgical skill and science could afford was at once employed in the endeavor to restore him, but without effect. He lingered for some days without any perceptible change taking place in his condition, when on Friday night last delirium ensued; and on Saturday afternoon he died

The facts of the case having been made known to the police, officer Wason started yesterday morning in pursuit of the parties charged with being implicated in the murderous outrage, and succeeding during the day, in arresting George, alias 'Crab' Turner, residing in Lerew's alley near Madison st., James Irwin, Thomas Miller and James Barnet. They were all taken before Justice Morrison, who committed them to jail for a further hearing. Barnet acknowledged having been with the party who assaulted young Heneckle; but denies having knocked him "more than once or twice." He says that Turner was the principal assailant. There seems to have been no reason whatever for the assault other than a sectional antipathy to the deceased on account of his residence in Old Town.—Clipper.

DESTRUCTION OF A WHALESHIP BY A WHALE.—A gentleman who arived in Boston from New York on Sunday, states that he saw on Saturday, Capt. Deblois, late of whaleship Ann Alexander, of New Bedford, who arrived in the Cherokee, from Chagres. Capt. Deblois reports that on August 20, lat. 5. 50 S., long. 120 W., while in pursuit of whales, a large whale attacked two boats, which were down and destroyed them. Capt. Deblois, with a third boat succeeded in saving the crews, and reaching the ship. The whale immediately made for the vessel and struck her abreast of the foremast and stove her so that she filled immediately. All hands took to the boats, and on the 22d were picked up by whaleship Nantucket, Capt. Gibbs, of Nantucket, which arrived at Payta, Sept. 15.

THE WASHINGTON REPUBLIC says that the statement circulating in the newspapers, that Mr. Rives has returned, or is expected to return, or has been recalled, from France, is without foundation in fact.

CAUTION!

Printed tickets are in circulation from the Gazette Office, purporting to be regular Democratic Tickets, on which are omitted the name of HENRY E. BATEMAN, the Democratic candidate for Clerk of Circuit Court. We warn our friends before voting to examine their tickets carefully, and see that they are all right.

FAIR PLAY.

The above hand-bill was posted up about town on the day of the election, and requires a slight notice fom us. The imputation conveyed by this card, and what was intended should be understood, is, that we printed Democratic tickets with Mr. Hopkins' name instead of Mr. Bateman's. It is a base and contemptible falsehood. We printed tickets for Messrs James B. Way, and Madison Brown, by their especial order and direction; and on each of these their Democratic opponents were, of course, left off, but they were never printed to deceive, or used for that purpose. That these gentlemen had a right to have these tickets printed, and that they had a right to have them printed at the Gazette office, we think no one will deny. But while the authors of the above slanderous imputation were concocting it, they were printing and circulating whig tickets, (headed independent,) with a wide space after the name of the candidates for Clerk, Register, and State's Attorney. We make no charge that these tickets were printed with the intention to deceive, but certainly they were not genuine Independent Tickets nor were they ordered by responsible Independent Whigs or Democrats, as were those of Messrs. Brown and Way, printed by us. The cry of spurious tickets and fraud, comes with a bad grace from those persons who were engaged at that very moment in printing spurious tickets. It shows how much reliance can be placed in them where political considerations actuate them. We desire only to satisfy our friends on this subject as they might be misled by the hand-bill and impute some wrong to us if the matter were unexplained.

The International Magazine, for November, contains twenty articles, illustrated by 18 engravings, besides "Authors and Books," "The Fine Arts," "Historical review of the month," scientific discoveries, anecdotes, &c. Each number contains 144 pages of varied and interesting reading, and is beautifully printed. Published by Stringer & Townsend, Broadway, New York, at $3 per year, or 25 cents a number.

COMMERCE OF BALTIMORE.—The arrivals at the port of Baltimore during the month of October, foreign and coastwise, were 233—the foreign clearances 46.—The receipts from duties at the Baltimore Custom House during the month of October, 1850, were $74,370 04, and for the month of October, 1851, $97,819 42,—showing an increase in October, 1851, of 23,449 38. The balance in the depository at Baltimore on the 30th September, 1851, was $139,158 35, and on 31st October, $125,672 92.

INQUEST.—Justice John Ridgaway held an inquest over the body of a sailor, who floated ashore, last week, at Jones' Point, Bayside, on the farm occupied by Mr. Jno. Kinnamon. He was apparently about 20 years of age, and dressed in gray cassinett pants and roundabout, cotton shirt, with a guernsey shirt over it, cotton stockings and yankee shoes—all much worn. His face was much disfigured, and the flesh nearly eaten off; his throat was cut from ear to ear. Verdict in accordance with the facts.—Star.

HORRIBLE.—Yesterday evening, between five and six o'clock, two colored women, named Lucinda Curtis and Elizabeth Bias, had a quarrel at their residence in Happy alley, near Canton avenue, which was concluded by the latter throwing two buckets of scalding water over the former, dreadfully scalding her face, arms, breast and chest. The skin came off on the removal of the clothing. Dr. Thompson was soon in attendance and did what he could to relieve the sufferer. Officer J. Barnes started in pursuit of the guilty one, who fled after having done the deed. We have rarely seen a more distressing sight than this poor woman, writhing in agony.—She may loose her life.—Sun.

THE RESULT!—We congratulate the Whigs and independent Democrats, on the result of the election. A Clerk of the Circuit Court, Register of Wills, Sheriff, one Judge of the Orphans' Court, and two Commissioners on the independent ticket are elected. Although they are whigs, we do not claim it wholly as a whig victory, but to those Democrats who disregarded party and united with the Whigs, are these gentlemen indebted for their election. Every effort, was made to whip in these independents by the leaders of the Democratic party, and even threats of pecuniary loss were made, but it was useless. An almost superhuman effort was made to elect Mr. Bateman, and the most slanderous falsehoods were circulated about Mr. Hopkins, two or three days before the election, which lost him several votes to our certain knowledge, yet his majority is far beyond the expectation of the most sanguine—he has a clear majority of 94 over Messrs. Bateman and Way, and a plurality of 167 over Mr. Bateman. Mr. Donovan's majority is is 162, and Mr. Clark's 109—these majorities are unprecedented and were entirely unexpected. Mr. Townsend for the Orphan's Court, and Messrs. Hopkins, and Adams, for Commissioners, are also elected.

The majority of 28 for Mr. J. Ll. Martin is a meagre one, much below his vaunting in the county, prior to the Election. On many occasions we learn he claimed as high as 200 majority over Mr. Goldsborough. Rumor says he owes this meagre majority to his Whig personal friends, who saved him in the contest from utter defeat. Mr. W. B. Willis we learn is also indebted to his untiring exertions, and entreaties to his whig friends for his election. But for them he, too, would have been defeated.

But as Whigs we have cause for rejoicing—the average Democratic majority on the State and District ticket is only 46 and on the Legislature ticket 45. The Democratic majority in the county for the past four or five years, has been from 50 to 90. We give the official returns below:

Our New York Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3, 1851.

EDITOR OF THE GAZETTE:

Passengers who left San Francisco on the 1st. of October, intending to come by the Nicaraguan route, have not yet been heard from; although, according to Commodore Vanderbilt's representations of the superior advantages of that route, in point of time, as well as comfort, they ought to have arrived several days in advance of the Cherokee. The Commodore must hurry up his cakes, or else retire from the field.

It is not yet known whether the Whigs or Democrats have elected their candidate for Governor, in California. The steamer Ohio, will probably arrive tomorrow, when the question will, doubtless, be set at rest.

The U. S. Steamship, Franklin, which arrived yesterday, at noon, brings advises and files to Oct. 22nd, inclusive; but her news is of trivial importance.

Kossuth had not arrived at Southampton, when the Franklin sailed; but he was expected to arrive in the course of forty-eight hours. Austria is in a terrible sweat at the glorious receptions Kossuth is to receive in England and the United States.—Her minister at London as well as at Washington, has been ordered to demand his pasports as soon as the English or American government officially recognize the arrival of Kossuth on the shores of their respective countries. I don't know how the English government will act in relation to this matter; but, I trust that the authorities at Washington will cordially tender Chevalier Hulseman his passports and inform his masters at Vienna that they are deuced glad to close all intercourse with such a set of scoundrels. If the Chevalier does demand his passports, Mr. Webster ought to write him a letter that will go far towards securing his election to the Presidency.

I don't know how it is in other parts of the country, but the people of this city are becoming outrageously extravagant. Immense sums are daily lavished upon articles of taste and luxury; and the whole tendency of the age is towards unlimited extravagance. Messrs. Ball, Black, & Co., the celebrated jewelers in Broadway, are almost daily engaged by private, public, State & National committees, to make sets of costly plate, magnificent swords, massive goblets, &c. &c., for some "hero," or "gallant captain," or "enterprising and public-spirited citizen" They are now making nineteen gold-sheathed swords for the State of Illinois, which are to be presented to persons in that State, for services on the battle-field. During the last six months, they have made a magnificent service of gold plate for E. H. Collins, the steamship man; also a set of silver ware worth $7,000, for Erastus Corning, Esq., of Albany; another for Roswell B. Mason Esq., of this city, and they are now making another service for Wm. E. Rutter Esq, of Elmira.—These costly productions are presented to the gentlemen named, by their friends, as tokens of esteem, and I have no doubt, they deserve them; but the effect produced upon the donees, and their neighbors, by such gifts, is often positively injurious.—When a service of plate, worth from $5,000, to $20,000, gets into a man's house, it is very apt to ruin him, unless he has a long purse and a strong mind. The house and its furniture must be made to correspond with the plate; and nobody knows the expense of such an operation until he tries it

If anybody wants to enjoy a realizing sense of the sums paid for articles of bijouterie, &c., let him step into Messrs. Ball, Black & Co.'s establishment, (which he is welcome to do, at any time,) and if he don't see sights that will make him stare,—then I am no judge. Such piles of silver ware,—such resplendent clusters of precious stones,—such exquisite specimens of jewelry, are enough to make a hermit sigh. And these things are actually sold—$20,000 worth in one day, sometimes. The visitor may often see ladies at the counter, who, taken as they stand, would fetch $25,000; so richly laden are they with gold and diamonds; and yet they are buying more! The biggest "bear" in Wall st. failed, not long since; and his wife is said to have one hundred thousand dollars worth of jewelry in her boudoir! I don't know how much jewelry she has on hand; but, I do know that her hotel bill, at Saratoga, last season, was $9,000. No wonder that her husband failed. I am not finding fault, but only acting the part of a faithful chronicler of the signs of the times. I will leave you to point the moral for your readers, and give them good advice in relation to the matters touched upon.

I see, by the English papers, that Queen Victoria wanted to buy the Collins plate, (which has been on exhibition at the Crystal Palace,) but her royal wishes could not be gratified. The auriferous articles are now on their way back. On their arrival they will be exhibited, for a few days, at the manufacturers, and then transferred to Mr. Collin's sideboard; whence heaven grant they may never be ruthlessly snatched by Sheriff's hands.

[The remainder of the above letter is unavoidably omitted—it will be published next week.

HARRISBURG, NOV. 1.

Fugitive Slave Remanded.—The U. S. Deputy Marshal arrested Henry, the slave of Mr. Duvall, of Prince George's county, Md., in Columbia last night, and brought him here for examination before Commissioner McAllister. The proceedings were summary, and after the examination of two witnesses, who identified the party, the slave was remanded to his owner, and driven off in a close carriage; no disposition was manifested to violate the law, nor was any excitement produced.

PHOSPHATE OF LIME is recognised by many eminent Physicians as an important remedy in Scrofulous Diseases. A considerable amount of able testimony in its favor will be found in the London Lancet of July and September of this year. In Pulmonary affections it has proved very efficacious, especially in Suberculous Consumption.

Carefully prepared by

JAMES V'D. STEWART, Chemist,
