October Term 1869.

Cross Examined for the Complainants

First Cross Interrogatory. Have you any means of distinguishing as to amount between work done in the old building, known as Barnum's Hotel, and the new building, known as McSaughlin's addition.

1 x Answer. I have not except by guess.

Second Cross Interrogatory. Have you any means of distinguishing as to amounts for work done in repairing and touching up and glazing and for work done on new improvements?

2 x Answer. No sir. I have not.

Third Cross Interrogatory. You speak of having done work in the front part on Calvert street, can you state whether such work was or was not confined exclusively to the outer walls and facings of said building, and if not so exclusively confined state to what amount work was done to the outer walls, and to what amount to the interior?

3 x Answer. The work was not confined to the outer walls and facings. I did several rooms inside, entirely, the whole rooms, but I can't tell you how much the amount was or how much I received. I can only say I touched up the newly plastered places with two coats, then painted the whole front with two coats, and pencilled it, and painted the verandas.

First Interrogatory. State your age and occupation

October Term 1869.

1 Answer. I am thirty one years old, and am a paper hanger.

Second Interrogatory. Do you know the property usually called Barnum's Hotel fronting on Calvert street in the City of Baltimore, and if so, how long have you known it?

2 Answer. I have known it since boyhood.

Third Interrogatory. Did you ever do any work in the way of your business, at said hotel? If so, state when, the nature of said work, its locality in said hotel, and its costs.

3 Answer. I commenced work at Barnum's Hotel on the twenty eighth of February, 1868, and I have worked there, off and on, up to within three or four days. I worked all over the building, from one end to the other, in every room in the building, in some repapering, and in some for the first time, but principally new work. I furnished a very small quantity of the paper. The total amount for repairs I have done on the building would amount to about five hundred and eighty dollars, about three fourths of this was done east of the ladies' ordinary on Fayette street, in the old part of the Hotel, the balance was in the new portion on St. Paul's street.

Fourth Interrogatory. Were you paid for the work so done by you, and if so, by whom?

4 Answer. I was paid by Barnum and Company.
