FUNERAL OF THE HON. JOHN GLENN.—The mortal remains of Judge Glenn were interred in the church yard at St. Timothy's near the village of Catonsville, in Baltimore county.—The deceased was accustomed to attend this place of worship, with great regularity during the summer months while residing upon his farm about a mile distant. It is well known that the neighborhood are mainly indebted to his liberality for the chaste and substantial Gothic edifice which has been erected there within a few years past. The funeral took place at sun-set on the afternoon of Saturday. It was strictly private; the family of the deceased and his near relatives alone attending. The time and place were in beautiful harmony with the occasion. His remains were borne into the church, which had been arranged suitably, with the drapery of mourning, where its solemn burial service was performed by the Rev. Libertus Van Bokkelen, a warm and intimate friend of the deceased.

It was not the least touching incident of the scene that he was carried to the altar, and then to his final resting-place, by his own faithful and devoted servants. Doubtless their offering of grief was not less pure and heart-felt than that of others. Rarely has been witnessed a more deeply affecting ceremony. Greatful hearts were present, and hearts full of affection, to pour into his coffin their tribute of tears. Those were present who knew the full measure of his worth, for they had shared freely of the abundance of his love. The clear deep tones of God's minister were heard: "Earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust;" and the last sad office was performed by those who had borne him to the tomb:

"In quietness they laid him down,
Gently as when a weary wave
Sinks, when the summer breeze hath died,
Against an anchored vessel's side."

AGAIN IN SLAVERY.—Mr. Orville Thomas, of Louisiana, while in Cincinnati recently, on his way to the North, liberated two of his servants, who were anxious to be free. A few days ago he returned to that city, and the two liberated slaves insisted on going back again into slavery, in Louisiana, in preference to being free in Cincinnati. They are now on their way to their old home in Louisiana. —Sun.

"Howell's Point" for Sale.

THE western portion of the above named valuable tract of Land will be offered at public sale, at the front door of the Court House in Easton, on Tuesday, the 26th of July, at 3 o'clock P. M.

It contains 175 ACRES of cleared and 59½ Acres of Wood Land, heavily Timbered.

The improvements are ample—the land unsurpassed in Talbot for fertility, and location one of the most desirable on the Eastern Shore. Extending into the broad waters of the Choptank, the frosts of spring early cease to check vegetation and render the point remarkably valuable for gardening purposes, while steamboats passing to and from Baltimore, afford almost daily conveyance for its products to market. The beautiful town of Cambridge is in sight and is also a fine market place.

Fishing for Shad and all other varieties of fish found in the Choptank may be successfully carried on a stone's throw from shore. In winter Wild Ducks and Geese are abundant and the Point is considered excellent as a gaming place.

THE TERMS are a credit—one fifth to be paid in ninety days from day of sale—balance in two instalments of eighteen and 36 months. Purchaser to have bond prepared at his own expense and to be approved by the Commissioners.

NEW
Stove, Tin, and Sheet Iron
MANUFACTORY.

THE subscriber takes this method of informing the citizens of Talbot and the adjoining counties, that he has opened in the room under the Sons of Temperance Hall, in the town of Easton, an establishment for the manufacture and sale of all the various articles appertaining to the TIN and SHEET IRON business, which for cheapness, quality and workmanlike finish, cannot be surpassed in either country or city. He respectfully solicits the liberal patronage of a generous public, and particularly those who buy to sell again, promising to make it to their advantage to deal with him. Roofing and Spouting, to which branches he pays particular attention, done at the most moderate rates, (costing little more than good shingles) in the best manner and satisfaction ensured or the money refunded. The attention of persons purposing to build is called to the fact that while metallic roofs cost but very little more, they make a much neater and safer covering and are much more durable than shingles; taking this into consideration, I solicit a call from all purposing to build, feeling assured that I can give them satisfaction.
